The diverting of these potatoes from the market should not only adjust supply to consumption but will also imprnve the quality of potatoes going on the market. Better quality in Michigan potatoes has long been the desire of leading potato growers of the state in order that their potatoes would command quality prices on markets.

Potatoes are valuablo as livestock feed but according to feeding tests, require the use of protein supplements. Potatoes can be used for part of the ration of swine, cattle, sheep or horses. According to Henry & Morrison about 420 pounds of potatoes cooked have the feeding value of 100 pounds of corn or barley as swine feed, and potatoes may furnish half the dry matter in the ration for fattening cattle and sheep, and one-fourth for horses.

The potato diversion program is a part of the program of the Agricultural Adjustment Administration, Division of Marketing Agreements, to improve market prices of potatous to growers.

MICHIGAN CITIZEN TO HONOR HUGH J. GRAY

Will Erect Cairn in Recognition of His Tourist Promotion Work

In recognition of his life work in developing Michigan's tourist industry, Hugh J. Gray of Grand Rapids, will he honored by the citizens of Michigan.

Crystallizing the sentiment of hundreds of citizens of this atate, a testimonial cairn will be unveiled at 2 p. m., Tuesday, June 28, 1938, adjacent to Traverse City. Michigan's eighty-three countios will be represented—each county contributing a stone characteristic of its particular mineral resource or prominent industry, with the name of the county cut upon it.

Charlevoix county's committee will have as its chairman, Gordon B. Todd, secretary of the Charlevoix Board of Commerce. Mr. Todd will appoint a county-wide committee to select the type of stone to represent this county.

CITY ASKED TO FURNISH RURAL ENERGY

TOP O' MICHIGAN ELECTRIC CO. MAKES REQUEST

Officials Seek Power Here for Charlevoix, Emmet, Otsego aod Antrim Counties

Formal application to the Charlevoix city council to furnish electrical energy to the Top O' Michigan Rural Electric Company was made Monday evening hy its officials.

Representing the Cooperative Company, which has been organized with authorization of the Federal Rural Electric Administration te erect and energize lines in Charlevoix, Emmet, Otsego and Antrim counties, were Leon W. Miller, Petoskey, attorney; Thomas A. Colter, Elmira, project superintendent; Robert White, Grand Rapids, project engineer, and B. C. Mellencamp, county agricultural agent, who has been active in the promotional work. Sidney Lumley and Leroy Hardy, prominent Deer Lake farmers accompanied the group.

Attending the meeting in addition to the councilmen were members of the citizens' electric committee, members of the Board of Commerce industrial committee and other interested individuals.

Details of the organization, its aims and purpose, were fully explained as well as the requirement that the company exhaust all possibilities of obtaining energy from either public utilities or municipalities within its territory before turning to manufacture of its own energy. Failing to obtain power elsewhere, the company officials stated thay would erect their own plant.

While city officials took the matter under consideration for future answer, it is obvious that Charlevoix will he unable to furnish electric energy for the rural project despite its attractiveness in developing both rural and resort areas of northern Michigan. A stipulation prohibiting municipalities to sell over 25 per cent of the total production of their plants forms the first barrier in view of the immediate and future requirements of the rural electrification project, and another even more formidable obstacle is the fact that Charlevoix now faces the necessity of installing additional equipment to produce its own requiromonts.

HOSPITAL BENEFIT PARTY A COLORFUL AFFAIR

Over Hundred Couple Enjoyed Party at Gym Monday Night

With over one hundred couples in attendance, the benefit dance given for Charlevoix Hospital at the school gymnasium Monday evening was a colorful holiday entertainment affair.

Decorations of beautifully lighted evergreens were in keeping with the Yuletide season and reflected credit upon the committee in charge. Howard Davenport's "Five Gentlemen of Swing" provided music for the event.

The committees in charge of the party desire to take this means of expressing their appreciation for the generous public support. While returns on ticket sales have not been completed a tidy sum for the hospital is assured.

MASONIC-ODD FELLOW CRIBBAGE JANUARY 3

Annual Winter Rivalry Will be Renewed at Masonic Temple

Rivalry between tha Masonic and Odd Fellow cribbage teams will be renewed Monday evening January, 3rd, the date set to start the annual winter series.

The annual hattle will commence at the Masonic temple and continue for ten weeks. At the conclusion, the losers provide a "feed" for the winners. B. Nickerson is captain of the Masonic team and Edward Goldstick leads the Odd Fellows, last year's winners.

GROCERY STORES TO REMAIN OPEN UNTIL 10 P. M. FRIDAY

To accommodate shoppers for the week end holidays, Charlevoix grocery stores will remain open until 10 o'clock Friday evening, December 31st, according to an announcement made through Gordon Todd, secretary of the Board of Commerce. The stores will be closed all day Saturday, New Years Day.

NEW FISHING LAWS EFFECTIVE JAN. 1

POSSESSION LIMIT ON GREAT LAKES PERCH

Fifty Legal Limit from Lake Michigan and Connecting Waters—Other New Laws Listed

Ameng new fishing regulations which become effective Saturday, January 1, is a catch and pussession limit on perch caught in the Great Lakes and connecting waters.

The perch limit is fixed at 50 while the maximum catch for pike-perch takan in the Great Lakes or connecting waters is held to 10. A limit of 10 white white bass also becomes effective Saturday for all waters of the state.

Another new requirement is a license for non-residents to fish in the Great Lakes and connecting waters except that no permit is needed to take perch, catfish, bullheads, blue pike, sand pike, ciscoes and carp from the waters by hook and line. However, license is required of non-residents for spearing.

The age limit for having a license to fish has been reduced from 18 to 17 years for non-residents as well as for residents.

Calico bass or strawberry bass have been added to the game fish list, sale of which is illegal.

The changes and additions in the fish laws required the addition of two more pages to the digest, copies of which have been distributed to conservation officers and license dealers throughout the state along with the 1938 licenses. The digests number 10 pages for 1938 as compared to eight for 1937.

CONG'L GROUPS WILL MEET WEDNESDAY

Ladies' Aid aod Missionary Societies to Hold Joint Session

The Congregational Ladies' Aid and Missionary Societies will meet at the church next Wednesday, January 5th, for a joint one o'clock cooperative dinner.

Following the dinner the monthly business session of both organizations will be conducted and the January missionary topic, "Turkey, A Moslem Country Awakened," will be presented by Mrs. Blackwood.

All women of the church are invited and each is to bring their own table service.

VACATION GUIOE READY FOR PRESS

RESORT ASSOCIATION WILL ISSUE 50,000 COPIES

Heavy Demand Reported by High J. Gray—Charlevoix to Have Usual Space in Resort Directory

Fifty-five thousand copies of Previews of Your Vacation the vacation directory published hy the West Michigan Tourist and Resort Association will he rolling off tthe presses shortly after the first of the year Hugh J. Gray, secretary-manager of the Association announced today.

"There is a greater early demand for the book than ever before in the twenty years history of the association" Mr. Gray pointed out. "We have already received hundreds of requests for the 1938 vacation directory."

"In assembling the material for the printer it is gratifying to note the splendid vote of confidence that the communities of West Michigan have given the association and this type of resort advertising literature," Mr. Gray said. "More communities and more resorts than ever before have taken advertising space in the book."

New West Michigan pictures have been assembled for the cover, which will he printed in four colors and the back cover will be given over to a full color presentation of the Flaming Forests of Michigan to give added impetus to the efforts of the Tourist Associatinn and many communities of the state which have brought thousands of tourists back to Michigan for the colorful Indian Summer days.

The 1938 directory will be the same size as last year, 12½ by 9½ inches, and will carry the same name and general theme of movie previews throughout the book. More detailed information on parks, ferry schedules, highway information, airports and tha like, which tourists demand to know, will be carried.

County maps and fishing charts of the various counties, which proved so popular last year, will be brought up to date and included in the directory.

In accordance with the new state law governing state printing the 1938 vacation directory of the West Michigan Tourist and Resort Association will bear the union label. The printing will be done by the Toren Printing Company of Grand Rapids.

The Charlevoix Board of Commerce and hotel interests combined will have a double-page spread in the directory again this year.

COUNTY OFFICERS HELD ANNUAL CHRISTMAS PARTY

County officers and deputies enjoyed their annual Christmas party last Friday afternoon at the court house. The usual exchange of gifts took place and the occasion was a very enjoyable one.

LEGION AUXILIARY APPEALS FOR CLOTHING FOR THE NEEDY

Seeking the cooperation of Charlevoix citizens, the American Legion Auxiliary sends out an urgent appeal for clothing to bo distrihuted among needy families in this vicinity.

Following investigation of several cases, Auxillary members have found some families with children unable to go out-of-doors because of the lack of proper clothing. The most urgent need is for socks and sweaters for boys, it was stated, although all articles of clothing are very acceptable.

Those having clothing to give may leave them at the homes of Mrs. Harrison Trimble or Mrs. Eva McGhan, or otherwise notify these persons who will see that the clothing is picked up.

LANSING LETTER

By GENE ALLEMAN

Field Manager, Michigan Press Association

Appointment of Richard Frankensteen, CIO leader, to the state emergency relief commission has brought several interesting developments.

Coming on the heels of the A. F. of L. endorsement of the governor's labor policy, as voted at a Lansing meeting called to formulate a labor relations bill policy, the Frankensteen appointment to a key position in the state relief machinery strengthened conviction of observers that Murphy will soon announce his candidacy for re-election.

Several days after the Frankensteen appointment was announced here, the CIO unions held a meeting in Lansing and passed a resolution asking the governor to call a special session of the legislature to "give immediate assistance to the state's unemployed."

IN MEMORIAM

The fateful crew
Of the Marold Two
Sailed out from Charlevoix Bay.

The sea was light;
No ice in sight;
Tho t'was on a New Year's Day.

Northward they sailed.
The land was veiled
In a haze of uncertain hue.

A sound was heard.
"On", was the word.
"To the wreck," said the doomed crew.

"To the tanker B'yde,
With 'ile inside.
We'll pilfer her bounteous store.

Our barrels will hold,
Of this liquid gold
Ten thousand gallons or more."

Hog Island now
Was on her bow.
They had but an hour to run.

The engines strain
With might and main,
And soon the hour is won.

Tied along side
Of the tanker B'yde
They go to work with a will.

Some on the deck;
Some on the wreck;
There are plenty of barrels to fill.

"Cigarettes out,"
The leaders shout
"We want no calamity.

A little light
Might soon ignite
This fumous volatility."

The day soon goes.
A light wind blows.
A seagull hovers around.

Can his eye see Catastrophe,
Where the tanker went aground?

A Charlevoix guard
Is staring hard
At a pillar of smoke and fire.

At Epoufette,
All eyes are set
On the column mounting higher.

They see the flames
From off Saint James.
Can their sons have come to grief?

They mutely stare
In dumb despair
At the blast from Simmons Reef.

At Mackinaw,
The coast guards saw
That the sea had claimed its toll.

Charlevoix'a out.
Yet there's great doubt
If they can save a single soul.

They all stand by
As flames mount high.
They dare not approach this hell.

Then morning light
Brings to their sight,
A scene no pen dare toll.

Ere they returned,
Two bodies burned
To a crisp, were taken away.

They knew that three
Would never be Found on this wretched day.

Old Captain Hill,
His body still
In this wreck's consumed by fire.

A Captain he
Full eighty-three.
In a week he was to retire.

For many a year
The engineer
Had promptly answered the bells.

The captain's son
His work is done
When the water over him swells.

The sea takes toll
Of Everett Cole
His business was in oil.

They wonder why
He had to die
When his life was eager for toil.

The sailors say,
His brother Ray
Was a wonderful engineer.

His life that day
Was snuffed away;
His body burned and sere.

Could not Death wait?
Could not have fate
Passed Bruce McDonough by?

A Captain fine
At twenty-nine
He was too young to die.

Who knows the grief
From Simmon's Reef,
The anguish and the woe?

The mothers wail,
The sisters pale,
The wives are stricken low.

At fortune's side
These boys have died
Their memories are alive.

Good friends had they,
Who from that day,
Will mourn this dauntless five.

The fateful crew
Of the Marold Two
Sailed out on New Year's Day.

Their journey done
When half begun
Was the price too much to pay,

THE SOCIAL-SECURITY HOAX

The following are a few paragraphs from "The Social Security Hoax," written by the late Ogden L. Mills for the American Mercury.

"The Government collects the payroll-taxes, and in return, undertakes to pay annuity at some future date. In the meantime, the Government spends for current expenditures all that it collects in payroll-taxes, and places its own obligations in the Old-Age Reserve Account.

"This Reserve is not a true reserve in the sense of added security. No new wealth comes into being—It adds nothing to the nation's ability to pay future annuities. When the payroll taxes have been dissipated in current expenditures, there is nothing to show for them except a book entry.

"But it is said that the Fund will at least earn interest—Just one more fiction. By 1980, for instance, the benefits then being paid will be covered to the extent of 60 per cent by payroll taxes, and 40 per cent by interest. The interest, however, is interest on Government obligations, and must be financed through general taxation. What does this mean? It means that that particular generation will be paying for old-age benefits in part through payroll taxes and in part through general taxation. Whatever benefits it receives, it will pay for in full. Its burden will in no way have been lightened by the Reserve Fund.

"With no benefits paid until 1942, this financial chicanery will enable the Government by that time to put its hand on $3,000,000,000 without any offsetting cash outgo — all of which would be impossible without this fictitious Reserve. For twenty years thereafter, taxes will each year exceed benefit payments, and by 1980 the Reserve Fund WILL HAVE REACHED THE STAGGERING TOTAL OF FORTY SEVEN BILLION DOLLARS."

JUST PLAIN IDIOTS?

An Associated Press news dispatch from Lansing a few days ago declared that 709,854 bushels of the best grade of potatoes raised in Michigan during the past summer will he destroyed or fed to livestock. This, it is reported, is in keeping with the "government crop control" program. State Agriculture Commissioner John B. Strange said his department had requested federal assistance, and as the result the government will pay to potato growers $107,000 and take away from hungry men, women and children of Michigan nearly three fourths million bushels of potatoes. This price is not enough to pay the farmer for his seed and planting.

Wouldn't it be a million times better for the farmers of Michigan if these public officials paid the growers some where near the prevailing market price for their crops and then turned the potatoes over to the professional social welfare workers to deliver to those in distress? By peddling potatoes to the needy as they rumble about the state in their automobiles at five cents per mile of tax pennies these "degree" social workers would be doing something at least to earn the thousands of tax dollars they collect in salaries every month.

Crop destruction in times of widespread unemployment and when there are large numbers reported to be actually hungry just does not seem to be common sense. Is there any one except just the plain idiotic who would approve of such a thing?

Such news at a time when all Michigan should be rejoicing in the happiness of the Christmas season is almost beyond belief. Hungry little children look pleadingly into the faces of their parents, begging for food, while fool public officials dump hundreds of thousands of Michigan's best potatoes into gullies to ROT!

What is our self-advertised "great humanitarian Governor" thinking of to permit such a thing to happen in times like these? He dares NOT say that he is without authority to prevent such a wanton destruction of food when actual hunger faces so many of our good people.

Oh yes, it was perfectly alright for Lansing officials to plan to dip their hands into state funds a while back and take out a hundred thousand dollars or thereabouts to buy a "mansion for the governor". Now in times of real emergency not one of the whole mess apparently has a thought as to a most beneficial way to spend state funds to relieve actual suffering and at the same time help the farmers.

STOP this fool thing of destroying food. Take the public funds that are flowing into the pockets of needless public job holders and indolent welfare workers, and buy potatoes from the farmers at a price they are ENTITLED to get for their crop! Then see to it that the hungry receive the food that our officials plan now to let ROT in the fields or feed to hogs.

OIL

More than a half century ago a notable geologist made the public prediction that this country's oil supply would be completely exhausted in about seven years. Yet, today, authorities claim that there is enough oil in the United States to last for many years.

In addition, such scientists as Kettering say that a substitute will be forthcoming when the necessity arises. In fact, Germany announced within the past few weeks that it would soon be producing all its fuel oil and gasoline from coal.

Motors can also be run with alcohol, and fuel alcohol can be made from almost anything that grows. In any event, there is little danger that America, or the world, will ever have to give up the internal-combustion motor.—Saturday Evening Post.

In order for us not to lose sight of those principles upon which true Democracy rests its case, we are taking the liberty of quoting you some of the statements made by Mr. Norman Thomas in an article written for the December issue of "The Commentator":

"Few words mean more different things to more different people than that good, but shopworn word 'liberal'.

"Probably the most popular definition of a liberal in politics would identify him as a middle-of-the-roader; a man who is neither conservative nor radical, but who believes that political wisdom is to be found in balance.

"The true liberal is, or ought to be, the man whose mind is free, who respects himself and his neighbor, who believes that government has something to do with reason, fair play, and the free discussion of issues. The true liberal neither fears ideas because they are new, nor rejects them because they are old. He is vitally concerned with the integrity of the Bill of Rights, with the preservation and increase of what we call civil liberties, 'the right to know, to utter, and to argue freely according to conscience' in Milton's noble phrase. More specifically, with the right to immunity from arbitrary arrest, to fair trial, to freedom of speech, the press, and of conscience; the right of association with one's fellows in churches, unions, cooperative societies, and social organizations. Thus understood, liberalism is descriptive of an attitude toward life rather than a set of political beliefs."

It is strange, we will admit, that a man of the calibre of Mr. Thomas can question these liberties named above, in a manner which denies they exist for us here in America, but that is exactly what he is doing. He cites specific incidences wherein these liberties were violated in our country and finishes his article in this manner:

"Here, then, is my challenge: Let us show our faith by our works, and each of us justify our respective claims to liberalism by our zeal in protecting and increasing those liberties which have been the inspiration of the most glorious chapters of the political history of our own country and of mankind."

MINISTERIAL ASSN. MEETS HERE MONDAY

The January meeting of the Little Traverse Bay Ministerial Association, representing the upper counties of the lower peninsula, will be held in the parlors of the Baptist church on Monday, January 3.

Following a 1 o'clock luncheon, Harold F. Lamb, administrator of the Charlevoix and Antrim county Relief Commissions, will give a talk on the present set-up of welfare and relief work in the district.

Old Fashioned Dance, I. O. O. F. Hall, Friday night. Two steps, waltzes, square dances. 40c per couple. —Adv. 52t1.

TWO HOLIDAY DANCES SCHEDULED THIS WEEK

Two holiday dancing parties are scheduled for this week.

Stan Cole's "Merry Makers" will play for a mid-week holiday party at The Argonne (tonight) Wednesday, and another party is being sponsored by the Odd Fellows at the I. O. O. F. hall Friday evening.

Be sure to read "The Five Musketeers", the first in a series of complete, breathtaking stories by SAX ROHMER, starting next Sunday in "This Week" Magazine, with The Sunday Detroit News.

STATE DEPARTMENT BEGIN SAFETY CAMPAIGN

Copies of "Rules of Road" to Be Available February 1st

Three state departments have joined an extensive traffic safety program by starting distribution of 2,000,000 copies of drivers' "Rules of the Road".

Michigan State Police, who about February 1 will begin supervising written examinations for driving license applicants were making "Rules of Road" available to residents at city and state police and sheriff's offices. Five hundred thousand are to be sent to schools by Eugene B. Elliott, state public instruction superintendent; and copies are to be distributed through the Secretary of State's department with all 1938 automobile license plates.

Police, in their examinations of applicants, will require a "reasonable skill" in operating automobiles and "an appreciation of responsibility in the matter of public safety." Physical tests also will be given.

CHRISTMAS TREE HAS INTERESTING HISTORY

Planted by Pilgrim Circle Ten Years Ago for Yuletide Decoration

The evergreen in Memorial Park, used this year for the first time as the community Christmas tree has an interesting history.

In February 1927, a play written by Zona Gale entitled "The Neighbors," was given by local talent under the auspices of the Pilgrim Circle of the Congregational Ladies' Aid Society.

It was optional with church organizations producing the play whether they pay a royalty or plant a Christmas tree. The latter offer was accepted. The Charlevoix County Nursery donated the tree and city employes planted it.

Ten years' growth had made it unable for this purpose for which it was intended.

COUNTIES ARE GIVEN STATE WELFARE CASH

Michigan Caseload Exceeds That of 1936 for the First Time

Michigan counties themselves were being granted "relief" today as the state boosted previous January emergency welfare allotments to carry generally increased caseloads.

George F. Granger, acting state relief administrator, said about $150,000 of the $767,000 the administrative board made available last week for welfare had been promised hard-pressed county relief commissions as additions to January allocations.

The funds, he said, would permit counties to care for relief clients at least until January 12, when the state relief commission meets here again "to study the whole picture."

RAYDER-ALUMNI CAGE TILT WEDNESDAY NITE

Charlevoix's Red Rayders to Compete Against Former C. H. S. Stars

Contrary to earlier announcements, the Varsity vs. Alumni basketball game will be an entertainment feature of tonight (Wednesday) at the school gymnasium.

If the group of former high school caga stars have retained the caliber of play they produced when playing for C. H. S., the fast-stepping Rayders will have plenty of trouble on their hands. Included in the alumni line-up will ba such former stars as Jack Foster, Norm and Lyle Ance, Emerald Chew, Ed. Radle of the 1936-37 team and numerous others.

The main contest, to be called at the usual hour, will be preceded by a preliminary between high school reserve teams, it is understood.

BAPTIST CHURCH
W. H. Rauch, Pastor

The old year is gone; let it go! With all of its mistakes and all of its heartaches. Let it die! We stand today on the threshold of the new! It is man's "second chance". The past is gone beyond redemption. We cannot recall or amend all its blunders. However, we can profit by them if we are wise. God grants to each of us another opportunity. Dismiss the haunting failures of the past. Forget the black memories of yesterday. Behold the whiteness of today. The glory of life is not behind us, but before us.

as it immediately followed an announcement by George F. Granger, assistant emergency relief administrator, that funds available for relief work in January would fall $906,000 short of anticipated needs.

Another development is the almost unanimous belief that the legislature will be called back for a second special session early in 1938. February 1 is a date frequently mentioned.

Session topics:

1. Unemployment relief.
2. Labor relations board.
3. Minimum wage. (Dependent on congressional action).
4. Immediate benefits from unemployment compensation instead of waiting until July 1, 1937, the date set by the legislature when payments can be made to jobless workers.
5. Housing authority amendment so that municipalities of 10,000 population or more can qualify for federal housing loans.

Recession Slackens

Despite the recent recession of business which hit the industrial centers first, particularly those in the automotive field, signs are in evidence that the bottom has been reached.

Business Week, a national publication, reports that the upturn has taken place and that the recession is now in a period of convalescence.

The national business map, as compiled from federal reserve statistics, shows that Michigan still enjoys a better-than-national average for business. Times are not as good as they were expected to be, but on the other hand they are ahead of 1936, and we can all be thankful for that.

Upper Peninsula Sports

An extensive program of winter sports has been mapped for the Upper Peninsula under the leadership of the Upper Peninsula Development bureau.

The first sky club in the Lake Superior region was organized at Ishpeming on January 24, 1887. You may be interested to know that the treasurer had the choice name of Ole Rye.

Ishpeming is the birthplace of many skiers who have won national renown. It is the home town of the famous Bietila brothers — Anselm, Leonard, Roy, Ralph, Walter and Paul. When he was 15 years old in 1933, Paul Bietila established the boy's world record by jumping 196 feet on "Suicide Hill" at Ishpeming.

The Ishpeming winter carnival will feature the Upper Peninsula sports program this season. Other towns will send their winter sports queens to compete for the Upper Peninsula title.

Towns which are planning winter sports carnivals are Escanaba, Houghton, Munising, Iron Mountain, Ironwood, Gladstone, Iron River, Sault Ste. Marie, Menominee, Calumet, Marquette, Alston, Negaunee and Crystal Falls.

Escanaba boasts of the largest outdoor skating rink in Michigan. Menominee goes in for ice boating. Munising and Iron Mountain favor tobogganing as well as skiing.

Bank Receiverships

The state banking department, headed by Charles T. Fisher Jr., reports continued progress in its campaign to liquidate assets in closed state banks or affiliated trusts. Of the 22 terminations on record so far for 1937, in 10 of them the depositors received a 100 per cent payoff. The total will run close to $15,000,000.

"This year's record is a forerunner of a great many more receivership or trust terminations next year and the year thereafter," said Mr. Fisher recently. "We are getting down to the dregs of the assets now. The measure of our success in this field will be gauged in the future, not so much by dividends paid, as by terminations and consolidations of receiverships to decrease expenses and duplication of effort."

"Handcuffing" Laws

Industrial leaders in Michigan maintain that they have cooperated fully to advance the welfare of the worker.

Here is a quotation from an address by L. C. Uptoo, president of the Michigan Manufactorers' association and president of the Nineteen Hundred Corp. of St. Joseph:

"State legislative enactments have not crippled Michigan industry. The association has cooperated with the Administration and the Legislature in the enactment of laws for the protection of the health of workmen, and for the compensation of those who have acquired diseases in their employment.

"We have opposed the enactment of labor laws that would create further unrest, that would deprive men of the right to work, and that would deprive the individual of his right to contract with his employer. That kind of one-sided legislation, we believe, has reacted to the detriment of the worker."

New Hospital Idea

State hospitals should extend their services to the communities within the territory they serve.

For example, each state hospital should sponsor and maintain a system of out-clinics which would cooperate with physicians, the courts, social welfare agencies and individuals.

Hospitals should afford facilities for training and research in mental hygiene and psychiatric nursing.

Dr. Barrett envisions an educational campaign, sponsored by the state and the physicians, whereby residents would be acquainted with early signs and symptoms of mental diseases and told what should be done.

$13.38 Per Diem

A fifth of Governor Murphy's salary for 1937 is involved in an unexpected legal problem which Lieut. Gov. Leo J. Nowicki dumped unexpectedly upon the lap of Auditor General George T. Gundry.

The state constitution reads: "The Lieutenant Governor or Secretary of State while performing the duties of governor, shall receive the same compensation as the Governor."

Michigan's governor gets a per diem pay of $13.38. He also receives a like sum as a member of the state administrative board.

When Nowicki sent in a bill for 72 days' pay as presiding goveroor for a total of $999, capitol observers again wagged their heads. Pressmen ran the news of Murphy's trips to New York, Washington, Florida, West Virginia, Boston, Connecticut and California. Nowicki's claim had all the effects of a powerful sock to the chin.

CHRISTMAS SEALS

One of the year's most intensive campaigns is the Christmas sale of tuberculosis seals. Individual volunteers conduct local drives in postoffices, stores, office buildings, theaters, railway stations, etc.

From this seal sale, funds must be obtained to support 2000 tuberculosis associations. This disease, called "the great white plague," was the most feared of all illnesses twenty-five years ago. At that time it headed the list of causes of death. Today it has dropped to seventh place in the list through the intensive efforts of the associations' employes and its volunteer workers. The funds collected for 1936 totalled four and a half million dollars.

Sincerely we trust that the new year brings health, happiness and prosperity for everybody in this community—a year that will live long in your memories.

CASE WARNS AGAINST CURRENCY IN MAILS

Motorists who send currency thru the mails to the Department of State, do so at their own risk, Leon D. Case, secretary of state, has cautioned.

The warning was sounded on the heels of the recent statement by Case that investigators from his department, and from the United States postal service, are attempting to solve the mystery of cash stolen somewhere between points of mailing in the state, and the capitol.

Thousands of dollar bills are received annually in payment of fees for operators' licenses; if currency is lost, applicants have no receipt for their payments, Case stresses.

Money orders should be made payable to the Secretary of State at Lansing. Orders made payable at the office of issuance, require payment of an additional fee for which the Department of State has no funds. Such money orders are returned to their senders.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE SOCIETY

Sunday morning service, 10:45.
Sunday school, 12 o'clock.

Meets first Wednesday evening each month at 7:45 p. m.

"God" will be the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Christian Science churches throughout the world on Sunday, January 2.

The Golden Text, from Psalm 77:-13, is "Thy way, O God, is in the sanctuary: who is so great a God as our God?"

Among the Bible citations is this passage (Isaiah 45:22): "Look unto me, and be ye saved, all the ends of the earth: for I am God and there is none else."

Correlative passages to be read from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy, include the following (p.275): "The starting-point of divine Science is that God, Spirit, is All-in-all, and that there is no other might nor Mind.

AT THE MOVIES

Jane Begins Where Wild West Leaves Off In "Wild and Woolly"

A wild buckaroo out where the West begins, "Ginger" Jane Withers begins where the wild West leaves off in her grandest Twentieth Century-Fox comedy, "Wild and Wooly", which opens January 2 at the Palace Theatre. Riding runaway trains, getting her gun-toting grandpop, played by Academy Award winner Walter Brennan, into a duel, scaring the wits out of tenderfoot pals in a graveyard at midnight, chasing city gangsters on a careening stagecoach, and roping young lovers into romance, Jane makes Bucalo Bill look like a softie.

Completely surrounded by her greatest cast, in the most hilarious show these pandemonium-makers have ever been in, that Jane Withers girl learns the ways of the West from her old-timer grandpop, but what the West learns from Jane makes hilarious comedy.

"Conquest" Most Lavish Garbo Drama Ever Made

Humanizing history has been met with all the resources of a major studio in the filming of "Conquest", the story of Napoleon and the Polish Countess who was his great love, in which Greta Garbo enacts the tragic Marie and Charles Boyer the Emperor, forced to desert her to marry a Hapsburg princess for reasons of state. This is the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer film which is to be shown at the Palace Theatre for two days, January 5 and 6.

SUNDAY DINNER SUGGESTIONS

By Ann Page

Parties and more parties usually mark the week between Christmas and New Year's. That means careful shopping and budget stretching for most housewives. Many factors favor her this week. Meats are cheaper, eggs are less expensive than usual at this season and butter prices dropped last week. Large crops of apples, the various citrus fruits and nuts mean that these important items are reasonable. Menus for a New Year's Eve midnight buffet supper, New Year's dinner and Sunday dinner follow.

WALL PAINTINGS

It is said that the government now finds it practically impossible to erect a federal building without a mural squabble. It is certainly true that the public is becoming more and more conscious, as more and more post-offices acquire them.

Some or the buildings are suitably designed with a mural wall in a position to give the public the proper view, perspective and light. Others are entirely unsuited, according to artistic opinion, and still they are awarded murals.

SUCCESSFUL FAILURE

The reports from Washington concerning the Special Session of Congress which just adjourned, would indicate it was pretty much of a do-nothing get-together. However there is one thing they did not do and for which we believe they should be given much credit. It was their failure to pass the wages and hours bill as requested of them by the Executive. Had they done this, they would have further tightened the rope which is already noosed snugly around the neck of free American enterprise. They did not do it; and probably by not complying with the wishes of the "boss", they undoubtedly lost plumbs of patronage a plenty. We may find fault with their other failures, such as not taking back the purse strings of government spending into their own hands again, but surely it would be rank ingratitude not to be appreciative of their failure in this one respect.

LOST UTOPIA

From Soviet Russia comes a report of the success of central-government control of children, supplanting the love of parents! Even the average height and weight of the newborn babies is greater.

This humanitarian and fatherly government interest is a little conflicting with the blood-curdling facts written by Eugane Lyons in his book "Assignment in Utopia". And, by the way, Mr. Lyons went to Russia a confirmed believer in Communism, and after spending six years there, disillusioned, he says this, in part.

"Fine mathematical successes in agriculture had no place for the famine cadavers, liquidations, death edicts, the conquest of 100,000,000 peasants.

"When famine threatened the 40,000,000 inhabitants of the Ukraine and Northern Caucasus, the Kremlin neither imported food nor permitted an appeal to the world's charitable instincts. A few million dollars spent from Russia's gold reserves would have bought bread enough to head off the famine. During this period, the government stopped the publication of vital statistics, and how many millions died will never be known. But estimates made by foreigner and Russians range from three to seven millions.

Upon leaving Russia, he said, "I had the sense of leaving behind me a nation trapped. Trapped physically, with blood hounds and machine guns guarding the frontiers, with a passport system to prevent them from moving freely within their own country. Trapped intellectually, with every thought prescribed and mental curiosity punished as heresy. Trapped spiritually through the need of practicing hypocrisy as the first law of survival."

LEGAL GAME HUNTING SEASONS ARE CLOSED

Ten Species Classed as Fur-Bearers May Yet Be Hunted

Michigan's big game, bird and small game seasons are over for another year, but there still are a number of animals which may be hunted in the state.

With the closing of the coon season December 15 and the rabbit season in the lower peninsula December 31, the only game animal which may be hunted after this month is the snowshoe hare, in the upper peninsula.

However, there are ten other species, classed as fur-bearers rather than as game, which may be hunted. These include the mink, weasel, opossum, badger, fox, wolf, coyote, bobcat, skunk and lynx.

Ground and red squirrels also may be hunted but the fox squirrel is protected by action of the last state legislature.

Opposum and badger may be hunted only through January 31. Rabbits may be hunted through January 31 in the upper peninsula but not after December 31 in the lower peninsula.

FARMERS PLANT LESS FALL WHEAT, REPORT

Twelve Percent Reduction in Acreage from Last Year

Growers in Michigan have reduced the acreage sown to winter wheat by 12 percent from the near record plantings of a year ago.

The 904,000 acres sown to wheat this fall for harvest in 1938 is still 18 percent above average seedings for the 5-year period 1927-1931, according to V. H. Church of the Michigan Co-operative Crop Reporting Service. A year ago farmers planted 1,027,000 acres to wheat, which was the greatest area devoted to this crop since 1922.

With the exception of last fall's seedings, the acreage this fall is the largest since 1926.

SALES TAX REVENUE GREATER THIS YEAR

Increase of Eight Million Is Expected Over 1936 Returns

Sales tax collections for the past year will surpass the 1936 figure by approximately $8,000,000, according to an estimate made by Draper Allen, managing director of the state board of tax administration.

Allen based his conclusion on the receipts up to the middle of December when collections had already risen $6,000,000 higher than they were during the entire preceding year. If the ratio is maintained through the remainder of the month the total for the year will amount to slightly more than $58,000,000.

FEED THE BIRDS

The conservation department today asked sportsmen's associations to play Santa Claus to snow-bound birds.

"The snow and ice on most of Michigan has covered the birds' source of food," Director P. J. Hoffmaster explained. "Conservation officers, especially in the lower half of the lower peninsula, have been instructed to feed the birds, but it will help a lot if sportsmen and all other persons interested put out grain or other food in convenient places."

Last year the department spent $1,000 for bird feed.

THREE MOOSE, ELK ARE KILLED DURING SEASON

Tabulation Shows Number Protected Aoimals Killed by Huoters

Final tabulations on the illegal kill during the 1937 deer season show that three moose and two elk are known to have been shot down.

Both moose and elk are protected at all times in Michigan.

Illegal deer killed and recovered by department of conservation workers numbered slightly more than 1,000. The largest recovery was made in the Baldwin and Mio districts where 230 and 200 respectively, illegal deer kills were discovered.

Twenty-five names appear on the charter recently received by the Charlevoix County Post No. 1153 Veterans of Foreign Wars.

Harlan McGhan is the first member and the other twenty-four names are as follows: Sam King, Caryell Sevrey, Herbert Wakefield, William Goss, Lee Allard, Ernest Nowland, Walter Moore, Clarence Coblentz, Janies Coblentz, Conrad Sternberg, Chas. Martini, Arthur Nettleton, Frank Coatta, Oscar P. North, Harold F. Lamb, Jack K. Ypma, Dolphus Newman, Forest Plumm, Stanley Cole, Wm. Taylor, Lewis Brant, Albert W. Sutton, Oscar Nelson and Paul Kullander.

The V. F. W. was founded in 1899 and includes those who have fought America's foreign wars on land and sea.

The public is urged to help us keep the United States from again sending young America to fight on foreign soil. There isn't one of us who would hesitate to defend our flag and country, but, we also know that propaganda is powerful and the profits are huge for those who promote wars. The World War (to end wars) should have been a lasting lesson to us but the powers of greed and conquest are again on a rampage. Let's stay and defend our own homes. Let foreign powers fight their own battles.

COMMISSION DEFENDS OPEN SEASON ON BEAR

Deny Claim They Are Harmless and Show Numbers Are Increasing

The state conservation department today defended Michigan's law which permits deer season licensees to kill black bear.

Officials denied that the open season was decreasing the state's population or that bears were altogether harmless.

"Reports we receive indicate black bear are increasing right along," Farley Tubbs of the game division said. "They are more prevalent than last year. And it isn't true they're harmless. They're a nuisance, and particularly in sections where farmers have bees and small stock they cause a lot of damage."

Substantiating Tubbs' assertion black bears constitute a nuisance were 59 damage claims the department has approved since the 1937 legislature voted to reimburse persons for losses caused by bears.

The claims, totaling more than $2,210, range from $3.50 approved for veterinarian's fees after a bear had gored a horse to $452 for destruction of a Gogebic county apiary, including 20 hives and 48 superframes.

Listed among approved claims were damages for loss of 97 sheep; 17 pigs; five additional bee and honey items; two bulls; a cow; two heifers; a calf; 12 apple trees; and a milking goat. Included also were claims for loss of 30 pounds of pickled pork feet; more than 40 pounds of ham; 25 pounds of cheese; salt pork and bacon; butter; flour, coffee, and salt; three mattresses; clothing; and windows and screens.

* * * AMERICAN LEGION ACTIVITIES * * *

Some very interesting discussions are being had at Legion meetings these winter nights. All those attending have not only been entertained but have received a great deal of useful information.

On December 21, Dr. Douglas Nettleton gave a talk on the origins and practice of dentistry. Many interesting things about the profession were brought out. We hope to have this talk repeated at a later date when other members will have a chance to hear it.

Fenton R. Bulow gave a talk December 28 on the work of the county clerk. It was very interesting. Most of the members were astonished to learn of the vast amount of detail which passes through the office of the county clerk. Everyone profited by this short course on county government.

Floyd Supp, who is arranging the various features promises other interesting evenings and it is hoped that all members who can be present will attend.

RAYDERS DIVIDE COURT CONTESTS

DROPPED CLOSE TILT TO ALUMNI 20 TO 18

Defeated Petoskey's Northmen Second Time by 42 to 11 Score—Play Harbor Springs Next

Charlevoix basketball fans probably will not see a better game, nor get a bigger surprise this season, than they did last Wednesday night when the varsity bowed to the alumni by a 20 to 18 count in an overtime contest.

One certainty is apparent from the result. When Coach Ray Kipke coaches a team they "stay coached," for the players he tutored in former years still remembered enough basketball to handle the fast-stepping 1937-38 outfit. The winning combination was Lyle Ance, Bob Pearl, Jack Foster, Ed. Radle and Leslie Shapton, with Charles Carey, Keith Nickerson, Robert McCall, Junior Supernaw, Norman Ance and Dean Davenport as substitutes. When it is remembered that Ance, Pearl, Foster and Radle were members of a team which won district, regional and state honors a few years back, it can readily be seen the caliber of players the varsity bumped up against.

Closeness of the contest is indicated by the score. The count was tied 4-all at the quarter, 6-all at the half, 12-all at the third intermission and 18 to 18 at the close of regulation play. Ance's goal in the overtime period won for the alumni.

For the varsity, Richardson and Gallagher scored six points each. Carey, high scorer for the season thus far, was bottled up and limited to a pair of goals in the second half. For the alumni Ance was high with eight points, Pearl scored six, McCall, Radle and Foster two each.

Two high school reserve teams played a close preliminary contest which ended with the score 21 to 19.

Charlevoix's Red Rayders scored their second victory of the season over Petoskey last Saturday night, winning 42 to 11 on Petoskey's court. The reserves dropped a 11 to 10 decision, their first defeat of the season.

Like in the previous meeting of the Rayders and Northmen on the local court, the initial period was close. Charlevoix led 6 to 2 at the first intermission. They extended their margin 23 to 5 at the half and were out in front 30 to 6 at the close of the third period. Coach Kipke substituted extensively, using twelve players during the contest.

Carey led Charlevoix's scoring with 15 points. Gallagher scored 10, Richardson 6, Brown 7, and Pearl and Bergman two each. Vincent and Billideau each had three points for Petoskey.

In the reserve contest Charlevoix held Petoskey scoreless in the first period to lead 4 to 0. In the second Petoskey gained a 6 to 4 margin. Charlevoix reversed the advantage 8 to 7 in the third quarter but was out-scored four points to two in the final session. Driggett and Bissell had four points each to lead the scoring.

The Raylers play away from home this week. They go to Harbor Springs, Friday, and then return to their home hardwood for games two consecutive weeks.

RURAL ELECTRIC HAS SIGNED 300 MEMBERS

Farmers Desiring Service Told to Contact Various Fieldmen

The Top O' Michigan Rural Electric Company now has obtained about 300 members who have signed up at meetings held in various communities, it is reported by Leon W. Miller, attorney.

It is important that all interested persons who have not attended any of these meetings should get in touch with the survey men at once and take out their memberships, as those communities which show the most member interest will undoubtedly receive the first consideration in the construction of lines.

Contact should be made with the office at Boyne City if by mail. The following men are authorized to receive memberships: Thos. A. Colter, Martin E. Schaff and Herman Flott of Elmira, LeRoy Hardy of Boyne City, Calvin J. Bennett of East Jordan, Frank Sluyter and Dr. Christian G. Jensen of Petoskey, and Peter Wieland of Ellsworth.

MRS. HUGH L. BRADY IS TAKEN BY DEATH

Well known Local Woman Died Thursday; Funeral Held Saturday

Charlevoixans were grieved Thursday by the sudden death of Mrs. H. L. Brady, a well known resident of this city for the past thirty years.

Laura Alice Friend was born in Indiana in 1868. She was married to Hugh L. "Dad" Brady, present caretaker of the Charlevoix auto camp, in 1885. The couple celebrated their golden wedding anniversary two years ago. They moved to Charlevoix in 1907.

Deceased is survived by her husband, a daughter, Mrs. W. F. Meyer of Charlevoix, and a son, M. Roy Brady of Benton Harbor; four brothers, Orley Friend, Will Friend and George Friend of Bellaire, and Jim Friend of Detroit; also ten grandchildren and one great grandchild. A daughter, Mrs. Etta Baker, and son, Homer Brady, preceded their mother in death.

Funeral services were held Saturday afternoon at the See Funeral Home, Rev. John Alexander officiating. Burial was at Bellaire.

REQUEST SKATERS TO OBSERVE RULES

REGULATIONS SET UP AT MUNICIPAL RINK

Measures Taken to Provide Most Pleasure for Rink Users—Ask Cooperation of Public

With the aim of making possible the fullest use by the most people of the municipal skating rink, sponsored jointly by the city and board of education, rules governing skating have been established.

Signs, upon which are printed the following rules, have been put up at the rink:

All skaters, at all times, should so conduct themselves so that they will not hinder the enjoyment and safety of others.

Fast skating, playing tag and cracking-the-whip make for unsafe conditions and is prohibited.

Profane language is forbidden on the rink and in skate house.

The use of tobacco by minors is forbidden.

Persons without skates are not permitted on the rink or in the skate house.

The rink will not be used before 3 p. m. on school days.

School students below the ninth grade shall vacate the rink at 9 each evening. Upper classes will be permitted to skate until 10 p. m.

At times during which the ice is soft or has been sprinkled and not yet frozen, red flags will be displayed. At such times stay off the rink.

Cooperation in observing the rules will make skating a greater pleasure for all and will be greatly appreciated by those in charge.

ODD FELLOWS WINNERS FIRST CRIBBAGE GAME

The annual winter series of cribbage contests between the Odd Fellows and Masons got under way Monday night at the Masonic temple.

The Odd Fellows took the lead in the initial contest, scoring 18,133 points to 17,680 for the Masons, an advantage of 453. Glenroy Ikens and John Curtis were high scorers for the winners with cards of 668, while John Macey led the Masons with 926. Ten tables were in play.

The next contest of the series will be held Monday evening, January 10th, at the I. O. O. F. hall.

TAX PENALTY DEADLINE EXPIRES NEXT MONDAY

WILL OPEN FEDERAL FISH HATCHERY

OPERATION BY NEXT SPRING IS ANNOUNCED

Federal Bureau of Fisheries and State to Cooperate in Rearing of Trout

While details regarding future operation are still lacking, information that the federal fish hatchery located in Charlevoix will be reopened for rearing trout is contained in a letter received by Mayor Arthur Bergeon from E. R. Widmyer, U. S. Bureau of Fisheries superintendent at Northville.

Mr. Widmyer's letter reads in part, as follows:

"It is noted from letter of District Supervisor Culler, under date of September 25, 1937, that the Charlevoix station would appear to be of no further service to the Bureau and requests you to advise if your city would be interested in taking over the building.

"In the above connection will inform that it is now the intention of the U. S. Bureau of Fisheries, through cooperation of the State, to use the building for rearing trout and it is quite probable that it will be placed in readiness for operation this coming spring.

"It is understood that the hatchery roof is in very poor condition and that it will be necessary to reshingle the building during the coming year. It is quite likely that WPA labor will be sought for this work and any assistance or cooperation that you might extend in this undertaking will be much appreciated.

"The Charlevoix residents have frequently expressed their desire for the station to be operated and it is hoped that this will be an item of great interest to them at this time."

The above information will be received with enthusiasm by local citizens. In addition to the employment furnished by the hatchery and the fact that Bureau and State employes made their headquarters here, the benefit to commercial fishing through the release of reared trout in local waters is a tremendous value.

Cooperation of city officials and the council within any reasonable limit will be offered, it is understood.

MAIL PILOT ANSWERS SECOND EMERGENCY CALL

Took Stricken Beaver Island Woman to Escanaba By Plane

Answering the second emergency call from Beaver Island in a week, Russell Carnes, Kalamazoo, who Sunday took over the Charlevoix-Beaver Island airmail route, was called Thursday morning to St. James to take Mrs. Richard Lafreniere, island resident seriously ill, to a specialist in Escanaba.

Last Thursday Carnes was called from Kalamazoo to take Daniel Green, suffering with sinus trouble, to Chicago marine hospital. Green's serious condition prevented removal and, although now improved, he is still unable to stand the trip.

SOILS PROGRAM IS OUTLINED FOR 1938

FOUR OBJECTIVES SOUGHT BY FEDERAL SET-UP

Charles D. Shepard, Chairman of Agricultural Committee, Advises Farmers Regarding New Plan

A brief summary of the 1938 Agricultural Conservation program has been outlined by Charles D. Shepard of the Charlevoix County Agricultural Conservation Committee.

This farm program, designed to bring about the conservation of the national resources of soil fertility and a better balance of agricultural production carries the following provisions:

For each farm there will be established:

1. A soil-depleting acreage goal for all soil-depleting crops.
2. Special crop acreage goal for potatoes.
3. A soil-building goal.
4. A maximum payment for such farm.

Any farmer will qualify for the maximum payment for his farm if he—

1. Does not exceed his farm goal of depleting crops.
2. Does not exceed his farm goal for potatoes.
3. Reaches his soil-building goal by carrying out certain soil-building practices which are beneficial to his soil type.

Deductions will be made from these maximum payments if the farmer does not meet the above provisions. These deductions will be based on the extent of his failure to meet the provisions as they apply to his farm.

In setting the goals for any farm, according to Mr. Shepard, consideration will be given to the needs of the soil on the farm and the uses to which the soil is adapted, and also to the land-use history of the farm.

Payments will be divided between the landlord and renter, somewhat as in previous programs.

Every effort is being made to have the information available to each farmer as to what the different goals are for his farm, in time for him to make plans for 1938 plantings before spring work begins.

LAKE CHARLEVOIX DEVELOPMENT IS STARTED

Build Cottages and Tourist Cabins on South Arm Frontage

A real estate development of considerable proportions has been started on the east side of the south arm of Lake Charlevoix north of East Jordan.

A large block of lake frontage purchased by Carl Stroebel of Dearborn, is being improved. Several cottages and tourist cabins will be built. Contracts for cement foundations and road work have been let and some of this work has been started.

Mr. Stroebel, for many years in the hardware business at East Jordan, is well known in Charlevoix.

TRAPPING NOW LIMITED TO PREDATORY ANIMALS

Predators are now the only animals which may be trapped in Michigan.

Closing of the muskrat and mink season December 31 leaves only wolves, coyotes, bobcats, skunks, fox, weasels and woodchuks, the non-protected fur-bearing animals, as legitimate quarry for trappers.

CHOOSE MICHIGAN WINTER QUEEN JANUARY 19

Northern Michigan Cities Are Invited to Present Candidates

The Michigan Winter Queen for 1938 will be chosen on the stage of the New Temple at Petoskey Wednesday evening, January 19, it has been decided by members of the Petoskey Winter Sports Club. The Petoskey entrant will be selected just one week earlier at the same place.

Wilson McDonald, secretary of the Petoskey Winter Sports Club, stated that contestants are expected from Grand Rapids, Alpena, Harbor Springs, Cheboygan, Indian River, Traverse City, Escanaba, Boyne City, East Jordan, Charlevoix and Ludington.

C. L. Johnson and Norman Wells head the queen committee; William H. Maus is chairman of transportation and promotion and Donald Barnes in charge of the national amateur skating meet to be held February 5 and 6.

The first snow train from Grand Rapids is scheduled for January 9, according to Arthur Hinkley, president.

KIWANIS OFFICERS INSTALLED TUESDAY

ROBERT F. SLOAN TAKES OVER PRESIDENCY FOR 1938

Regular and Special Committees Named to Carry Out Comprehensive Civic Program

With O. P. North, Robert Bridge and Floyd A. Supp acting as installing officers, the bell and gavel were turned over to Robert F. Sloan, newly elected president, who succeeds M. A. Levinson. As a token of appreciation for his efforts in behalf of Kiwanis during the past year, Mr. Levinson was presented with a past president's pin.

Other officers installed for the ensuing year were: vice-president, Harold Hallett; secretary-treasurer, William F. Moyer.

Aiming at a comprehensive program of civic activities during the year, Mr. Sloan named regular and special committees to carry on the work. The following chairmen head the various committees:

Public affairs and business standards, Clarence F. Wood; club meetings and attendance, C. S. Webster; house committee, Otto Krueger; classification and membership, Martin Block; rural relations and agriculture, Clarence H. Meggison; boys' and girls' and vacation guidance, Harry E. Bingham; under-privileged children, Dr. Carleton Dean; inter-club relations, O. P. North; music, Max Smith; publicity, Harold Hallett; program (January to May), Frank F. Bird, (May to August), Robert Bridge, (September to January), Rolle L. Lewis.

Special committee chairmen named were: Cleaning up beaches and scenic highway, E. J. Kibbe; harbor and dockage, Ray S. Hamilton; airport, Floyd Brown; county court house, Frank F. Bird; higher educational colleges, Dr. F. F. McMillan; landscaping and scenic development, Floyd A. Supp.

BEST TOURIST YEAR COMES TO A CLOSE

1937 SEASON CLAIMED TO ECLIPSE 20-YEAR RECORDS

Hugh J. Gray of Tourist Association Makes Report on Twelve Months Just Closed

Michigan's greatest year in the tourist and resort industry is the appraisal of the twelve months just closed made by Hugh J. Gray, secretary-manager of the West Michigan Tourist and Resort Association and dean of the tourist business in the state.

"During the year just closed the state has forged far ahead of any previous high mark in the twenty years history of the association," Mr. Gray said. "According to estimates made of the national tourist business Michigan was rated as doing $315,000,000 tourist business during 1936, the largest of any state in the nation. A conservative estimate of the business done in 1937 shows a 15 per cent increase over 1936, which would bring the total volume of business for the year to $362,250,000, or roughly 8 per cent of the national volume."

Gray went on to point out that traffic counts conducted by the State Highway Department showed a 30 percent increase over 1936; the number of tourists stopping for information at the tourist rest lodges at the states' borders showed a similar 30 per cent increase and that the traffic crossing to the Upper Peninsula on state ferries went up some 50 per cent.

"Almost without exception the resorts of the state reported the best business in their history and with very few exceptions they stood well ahead of 1929, the previous peak year," Gray continued.

Asked why Michigan has made such forward strides in the resort business Mr. Gray said, "because we have consistently aimed our advertising at our nearby market. The year 1937 marked a continuation of the policy on the part of the Tourist Association which has been instrumental in raising Michigan to the first rank among the tourist states of the nation. Ninety per cent of our advertising appropriation went for newspaper advertising in the territory which twenty years of experience has shown us provides us with 89 per cent of our tourist and resort population."

"During the year 1937 the association has spent, roughly, $45,000 in advertising, of which amount the state participated to the extent of $22,000 and the tourist association $23,000. According to the terms of the advertising appropriation bill the state pays 80 per cent and the association 20 per cent, but the above figures readily show that the association has matched the state funds on even more than a fifty-fifty basis.

ASK COOPERATION

In order to aid the city street department in its snow removal operations on Bridge street, a request has been made by city officials asking the public to refrain from parking cars on the street throughout the night. Parked automobiles interfere with the work inasmuch as a complete job cannot be done. While the city has no ordinance prohibiting parking on Bridge street at night, one will be adopted unless cooperation is received upon this request.

LANSING LETTER

By GENE ALLEMAN

Field Manager, Michigan Press Association

Like Alice in Wonderland is the conclusion just voiced here by Verne H. Church, statistician of the state department of agriculture, that Michigan's farm income went up 14 per cent during 1937 or $31,000,000 while its agricultural crops brought $27,000,000 less cash in the market than did 1936 crops.

And while you are scratching your heads, here is the answer—and it is of interest to Main Street.

The situation is parallel that of one year ago when the 1937 farm income went up sharply due to marketing of holdover 1936 crops. In fact, this hold-over selling was chiefly responsible for the 14 per cent increase.

The bird-in-the-hand is this: Michigan farmers have had 14 per cent more money to spend.

AT THE MOVIES

Colorful Story of Annapolis on Palace Program

Acclaimed by naval officers the most authentic story ever written about the historic United States Naval Academy, "Navy Blue and Gold" opens Saturday, January 8 at the Palace Theatre.

The novel, steeped in colorful traditions of the institution, was written by George Bruce who also adapted it to the screen.

It portrays the poignant devotion of cadets pledged to their country's service, the heartaches of stern, character-building discipline, the thrilling sportsmanship of the Navy's titanic football games, and the love of two players for the sister of their quarterback pal.

Prison Car Fore-Runner of Modern Railroad Coach

The "grandfather" of the steel air-conditioned cars used on the crack streamlined trains of America is now playing a dramatic part in a motion picture. This is the armored steel car used on American railroads to transport prisoners to penitentiaries.

Some years ago, government agents designed the prison car. Constructed wholly of steel, with steel gratings at each end for guards, its windows are steel-shuttered. The car is impregnable. It was originally designed to prevent attempts to rescue gangster leaders after several plots by gangs for mass attacks on trains had been discovered.

Another great thriller by Sax Rohmer, author of Dr. Fu Manchu, appears in This Week, the colorgravure magazine with next Sunday's Detroit News. If you like daring and adventure, read "Count D'Ambro's Window".

CALIFORNIA PUTS BAN ON MICHIGAN APPLES

Petoskey News Writer Tells How Xmas Shipment Was Stopped

In view of its local interest, we are reproducing an article from the Petoskey Evening News relating how a box of apples, shipped to California as a Christmas gift, were refused entry into the Golden State. The article follows:

"California greets residents of the other 47 states with open arms. The residents of that western state take our dollars as if the money always had belonged to them. They urge us to spend more of our dollars for their very good fruit and other products. But a Michigan apple grower can't send a box of his prize-winning fruit to a friend in California.

"We don't pretend to know anything about quarantines, fruit diseases and schemes hatched up by growers to protect their crops. Probably there is a good reason for denying shipments of infected fruit. But it seems as though we ought to be able to send a friend a box of apples for Christmas whether he lives in California or Michigan.

"A few weeks ago H. Burr Lee, of Petoskey, wanted to send a box of apples to his son, Hebert, at Salinas, California. He asked Douglas Tibbits, well-known Charlevoix county grower, to try to get the shipment past the California inspectors. The apples were nailed in a box and labeled "canned goods".

"Back came a letter from Hebert Lee. The shipment had been intercepted by an inspector at Salinas who agreed they were beautiful apples, free from infection. But he confiscated them. Mr. Lee pleaded that he be allowed to chop them up for applesauce. The inspector was adamant. 'If I was sure those apples were burned, I might not be quite so mad,' Mr. Lee wrote to his father. 'But I have a sneaking suspicion that some of the fruit inspectors in this region had some beautiful apples for Christmas while I ate oranges.'

"Mr. Lee wasn't the only one who was aroused. Mr. Tibbits sent the apples for more than one reason. He wanted to see if California would stop Michigan fruit while the California packers are sending trainlonda of their fruit to Michigan. He found out that California doesn't reciprocate. One of Mr. Tibbits' activities is his job as state representative from the Charlevoix-Leelanau district. He is planning to call the discrimination to the attention of the legislature at the next session and see if something can't be done about it.

"Some interests in other states are also aroused. Hebert Lee sent his father paragraphs from the Produce News, published in New York, which read: "When it comes to a matter of rights, California has no more right in the New York City market than New York has in the San Francisco and Idaho potatoes have no more right to the Cincinnati and Cleveland markets than to Ohio or Maine potatoes. Some of those western notions of reciprocity in trade leave one with the suspicion that they somehow have been evolved from the cold deck and shell game of the brave frontier days.'

"As we said above, the mysteries of fruit quarantines and diseases are past us. But it seems that adequate inspection services would protect California against infection. It hardly seems necessary that Christmas presents be destroyed. It hardly seems necessary that tourists surrender all fruit in their cars as they enter California as has happened to several Petoskey residents who took along a bag of Michigan apples on their visit to the west coast.

"We can't help adding this note. Mr. Lee's apples were stopped. But two other boxes slipped past the vigilant inspectors. Wallace Beery and Lon Wertheimer had Michigan apples on Christmas."

BEDDING OF CATTLE ELIMINATES DISEASE

Michigan State College Dairy Expert Advises Bedding Animals

Proper bedding for Michigan's million dairy animals is one of the most neglected and yet most valuable pointers in proper dairy herd care, reports A. C. Baltzer, extension dairyman at Michigan State College.

Deep bedding of from 12 to 16 inches in depth is his recommendation. Most successful dairymen enrolled in cost records find that they usually charge up about $3.50 annually to each animal for bedding. Yet these same dairymen agree with the college staff that proper bedding pays in the form of less disease, more comfortable animals, cleaner cows, and greater conservation of manure.

"Disease alone is a problem. Proper bedding can reduce the possibility of mastitis by 25 to 30 per cent," Baltzer declares.

Many types of bedding are being used in dairy barns. Most popular likely is straw because it usually is available as a homegrown product. Five pounds an animal for each 24 hours is recommended. The year's supply thus is about one ton for each cow.

Oat hulls, flax straw, peanut hulls, sawdust, baled shavings and corn stover all can be used. Bean pods, swamp hay, peat and buckwheat hulls also are used.

These materials differ in their ability to absorb liquid manure. Where it takes five pounds of oat straw for 24 hours for each animal, estimates places requirements of 12½ pounds for sawdust, about four pounds of corn stover and 4.4 pounds of shavings.

CHILD CLAIMED POOR PLAYMATE FOR PUPPY

Famous Author Doubts Wisdom of Giving Puppies to Children

"The average puppy is an ideal playmate for any child, but the average child is a HORRIBLE playmate for any puppy," says Albert Payson Terhune in the January issue of Woman's Day, the new magazine available in all A&P Stores January 6.

Terhune literally came out of retirement to write his article "Should a Child Own a Pup?" About a year ago he announced that he was through forever with the writing of books or articles, except for an occasional radio broadcast or his syndicated stories. He decided to write this article because, in his own words, "it deals with a theme on which I am slightly rabid."

Though Terhune began a highly productive and successful career in writing as early as 1896, it was not until 1919 that he went to the dogs for subject matter. In that year he published his highly successful "Lad: a Dog". Among the books that followed were "Bruce", "Bluff: a Collie", "His Dog", "Wolf", "Treve" and many others—all about his famed Sunnybank companions. "Just now," he says, "I have no puppies here at Sunnybank. Most of my collies, surviving, are old and ragbaggy ex-champions enjoying a drowsily happy old age at Sunnybank!"

DISTRICT HEALTH UNIT

Diet of the Growing Child

Many physicians are now advising parents to allow their children full choice of both kinds and amounts of food from the family table. It has been stated that when this advice has been followed from infancy most food difficulties have arisen, but when other methods have been employed, a re-education of both parents and child has to be undertaken. It is often advisable for the parents for a period of time to keep tract, without the child's knowing it, of the food that they eat. Experience has shown that mothers often are still getting food into their children. This is due to the fact that they have been advised that certain foods must be taken regularly. Evidently they believe that food is to be prescribed and given the same as drugs, medicines, etc. The mother always desires to feed someone, some of them believing that many if not all the ills can be prevented with proper food.

With a good diet a healthy child is more able to resist disease than an undernourished child, still if the mother is not careful she will build up an antagonism within the child which will defeat the very purpose for which she is striving. Most mothers worry because their children do not eat satisfactory. When questioned concerning the methods used to get a meal down which satisfies parental anxiety, the report indicates that the child is unable to take his mind off his food.

Nearly every healthy child will eat an adequate diet if it is provided for him and if his food education is carried on along reasonably sound lines. Few mothers realize that the components of a balanced diet need not all be eaten every day. They must be assured that a commonly taken and necessary food should be omitted without opposition and desire whenever the child tires of it; the child's body has abundant stored up supplies to draw on during the holiday and when he needs the food he will take it gladly.

Malnutrition has been over emphasized until it has become a menace to the peace of minds to mothers. The slender child with excellent build and development for his age is labeled under-weight by comparison with standard tables too frequently. Physicians can be of great service by carefully studying these children and reassuring the anxious mother.

Next week a further discussion on the diet of preschool child will be published.

KITCHEN HEIGHTS DIFFER FOR JOBS

Aches and pains that make many jobs hard to complete in Michigan rural and city homes often are caused by having working surfaces at incorrect heights.

There can be as much as 10 inches difference in the average preferred height for such a job as cutting cloth and one for such work as can be done on a kitchen planning desk. Studies of working surfaces have been made by Irma H. Gross, professor in home management at Michigan State College.

She finds that for rolling dough the average preferred height is 33.7 inches from the floor. For cutting cloth the height which makes the work easiest to complete is 35.4 inches. For beating, 31.6 inches; for dishwashing, 32.3 inches; for ironing, 32.6 inches, and for the surface of a kitchen planning table, 25 inches.

Less energy is required to do these jobs of homemaking when the posture of the body is correct rather than when reaching up or stooping.

It's old fashioned to disregard the problem and say that it just can't be helped because individuals differ so. Probably most chores and jobs of home work have been done on working surfaces that were too low, Miss Gross points out.

STATE'S ADVERTISING CAMPAIGN UNDER WAY

Expenditure of $70,000 for Magazine, Book and Radio Advertising

The state's campaign to advertise Michigan as the nation's summer playground is in full swing following a finance committee recommendation that the administrative board authorize expenditures of $70,000.

Norman H. Hill, executive secretary to Gov. Frank Murphy and chief of tourist publicity, said about $40,000 would be spent for advertisements in 16 national magazines; $10,000 for booklets; $10,000 for radio broadcasts nnd contingents; and $10,000 for publicity. Hill said abont $30,000 already had been spent.

The 1937 legislature appropriated $300,000 for advertising in 1938 nnd 1939. A total of $200,000 is divided among the Upper Peninsula Development Bureau; West Michigan Tourist and Resort Association; Eastern Michigan Tourist Association; and Southeastern Michigan Tourist Association.

FEWER DEER LAW VIOLATIONS DURING 1937

Record Past Season Lower Than During Two Previous Years

Completed tabulations show that fewer deer law violations were committed during the 1937 season than in either 1935 or 1936, although the total number of arrests in November, lnst year, wus higher than in either of the previous two years.

Total arrests for 1937 during November were 562, compared to 559 for November, 1936, and 482 during Noventher of 1935. Fines in 1937 totalled $7,912, compared to $7,817 in 1936, November, and $5,173 in November, 1935.

Deer law violations during the 1937 season were only 121, as contrnsted to 168 for the 1936 deer season, and 156 for the 1935 season.

HUGE LAKE TROUT IS CAUGHT AT TRAVERSE

Fish Weighing 54 Pounds Taken by Commercial Fishermen

A real whopper, the grand-daddy of all the Mackinaw trout in the Grand Traverse Bay region, was cnught off Northport Wednesday afternoon by Wilson Brothers, commercial fishermen of that village, who pulled in a 54-pound battler in their nets.

Largest Mackinaw trout ever pinced on record in this region, the old scrapper totaled 47 inches in length and had a girth of 32 inches. Previous to this catch, the largest known trout caught here was taken by Justus Smith of Beulah, who landed a 43-pounder on hook and line.

NEW RECORD SET AT THE STRAITS

TRAFFIC ON FERRIES SHOWS INCREASE OF ONE THIRD

Ferry Receipts Totalled $490,823 During 1937 — Many Improvements to Better Service

An all-time annual record for vehicular nnd passenger traffic across the Straits of Mackinac was set in 1937, the State Highway Department reported Tuesday.

A total of 274,673 vehicles and 467,891 persons were transported on the state ferries last year compared with 206,085 vehicles and 353,139 passengers in 1936, depurtment records reveal. Total receipts lnst year were $490,823 and $365,700 in 1936.

The three items showed an average gain of 33 per cent over the previous year, as Commissioner Murray D. Van Wagoner predicted last June.

A new one-day traffic record at the Straits wus set July 4, only to give way to n higher record volume September 4 when 3,955 vehicles were transported. Deer season traffic was up 59 per cent over the previous year.

The only boat operating at the icy Straits now is the ice crusher "Sainte Marie" It was pressed into service early last year to meet the emergency created by the grounding of the "Chief Wawatam" on Grahsm Shoals. The leased "Sainte Mnrie" will operate at least until the thaw in mid-April, Van Wagoner said. The four stnte-owned ferries which ply the Straits hefore the ice comes now are docked at St. Ignace and will remnin there throughout the winter.

The latest addition to the fleet was the former railroad ferry "Ann Arbor 4", purchased during the summer for $25,000 and launched as the "City of Cheboygan". Last fall a $1,625,000 bid for construction of n streamlined boat was rejected as "excessive", the second time a bid wns refused for the same reason. The depnrtment now probably will buy a boat and remodel it, rather than pay to have one built.

Besides improving the ferry service, the highway department has begun a $400,000 improvement program at Mnckinaw City pier. October 27 the Price Brothers Company of Dayton, Ohio, submitted a low bid of $199,920 for dredging and filing the breakwater extension of the pier.

Some steel work already has started, but dredging will not get underway until next April. A total of 275 feet will be added to the 1,400-foot breakwater. Widening will start at US-23. The channel will be dredged to 18 feet.

The ultimate plan is to construct a 40-foot concrete roadway on the dock for use of northbound traffic. Southbound traffic will use the present 20-foot road. The 200-foot space between will he used for parking. The additionnl work is expected to cost ahout $200,000 and he completed next summer.

SUNDAY DINNER SUGGESTIONS By Ann Page

Cheaper meats, cheaper butter, inexpensive fruits and vegetables characterize early January markets. Beef, lamb and fresh pork cuts are all reasonable. Butter prices have continued to drop and eggs are again lower.

Oranges, both navel and juice, grapefruit and apples are among the most attractive fruit values. Lettuce, other salad greens and fresh tomatoes are inexpensive. Potatoes are a cheap food as well as a most nourishing one.

Seasonable foods make up the following menus:

Low Cost Dinner
Chopped Beef and Pork Roast
Mashed Potatoes
Creamed Diced Turnips
Bread and Butter
Apple Crisp
Tea or Coffee Milk

Medium Cost Dinner
Pot Roast of Beef, Tomato Gravy
Potatoes Glazed Celery and Onions
Green Salad
Bread and Butter
Coconut Custard Pie
Tea or Coffee Milk

Very Special Dinner
Grapefruit
Roast Loin of Pork with Cinnamon Apples
Sweet Potatoes New Cabbage
Tomato Salad
Bread and Butter
Ice Cream Cake
Coffee

* * * * * * * * * * * *

The V. F. W. National Home

The veterans of Foreign Wars of the U. S. is the only national veterans' organization that maintains a home for the widows and orphans of deceased or totally disabled veterans. The V. F. W. National Home, on an estate consisting of 612 acres, was founded in 1925 and is located near Eaton Rapids, Michigan. This project constitutes a community of individual homes where children are given privileges and opportunities characteristic of the average American family environment. Underlying the development of the V. F. W. National Home is the principle of keeping brothers and sisters and mothers and children together. All children of school age receive a complete education in the public schools of Eaton Rapids. There are no uniforms, no dormitories and no military discipline.

The V. F. W. National Home has been maintained and financed without levies or assessments upon the individual members of the organization or appeals for public charity.

The V. F. W. National Home represents the V. F. W. ideal of stewardship and the V. F. W. method of keeping faith with those who sleep in martyred graves.

Keeping Well vs. Getting Well--

Getting well may be a slow, costly procedure. But keeping well is merely a matter of observing common sense precautions. At the first "danger signal" consult your physician—and bring his prescription here. Our registered pharmacists are skilled and sincere; our pharmaceuticals always fresh and potent. And we fill each prescription exactly as the doctor orders it.

GIVE RULING REGARDING STATE SALES TAX

Installment Payment by Merchants Is Authorized by Starr

Payment of sales tax to the state on the installment plan has been authorized by Attorney General Raymond W. Starr.

Starr ruled that a retailer doing credit business need pay the state only as he (the retailer) was paid and offered an example to the state board of tax administration which requested the opinion.

"For example," Starr explained, "when A sells a radio to B on credit for $100 with no down payment, A immediately becomes indebted to the state for $3 tax. Under the new method, however, if B pays A only $10 a month, then A will have to pay the state only 30 cents. It all adds up the same and is a convenience to the merchant," he said.

The attorney general also ruled that a merchant will have to pay the full amount of sales tax, although an article is repossessed. Resale would mean payment of sales tax again, he pointed out.

Another sales tax question confronted Starr. In a legislative council session, Rep. Chester B. Fitzgerald, D., Detroit, charged that it was possible to pay more than six per cent instead of three per cent tax and asked Starr for an opinion on tax bracketing.

"By paying a penny on each 15-cent purchase you can pay six cents for purchases of 90 cents," he declared. "I think tax should not be paid on articles costing less than 17 cents."

Starr ruled last fall that retailers could begin collecting a cent on a 15-cent purchase as long as the retailer did not collect more than three per cent on a dollar and paid the state that amount. He pointed out then that purchases of under 15 cents tended to equalize tax collections.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE SOCIETY

Sunday morning service, 10:45.
Sunday school, 12 o'clock.
Meets first Wednesday evening each month at 7:45 p. m.
Reading room open Saturday, 3 to 5 p. m.
We cordially invite the public to our service and reading room.

"Sacrament" will be the subject of the lesson-sermon in all Christian Science churches throughout the world on Sunday, January 9.

The golden text, from I Corinthians 10:10, is: "The cup of blessing which we bless, is it not the communion of the blood of Christ? The bread which we break, is it not the communion of the body of Christ?"

Among the Bible citations is this passage (John 14:21) "He that hath my commandments, and keepeth them, he it is that loveth me; and he that loveth me shall be loved of my Father, and I will love him, and will manifest myself to him."

Correlative passages to be read from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures", by Mary Baker Eddy, include the following (p. 4): "To keep the commandments of our Master and follow his example, is our proper debt to him and the only worthy evidence of our gratitude for all that he has done."

S'MATTER POP— This Work Has Gotta Be Done Just So

By C. M. PAYNE

agriculture adds cheer with the announcement that the nation's farm income—and most of this money is spent on Main street in small towns—is estimated at NINE BILLIONS for 1937. Well, this is a lot of money. There is still money to be spent and made on Michigan's Main streets.

State Income Tax?

New sources of public revenue are constantly being sought by politicians. Michigan's legislature enacted a "use" tax on outstate purchases and expects to pick up two million dollars during 1938. The legislature authorized an increase of the state's "profit" in liquor sales—three millions to he applied annually on improvements of state hospitals.

Now and then the cry is raised: Tax the income!

Thirty-six states have income tax laws at present, Colorado and Maryland being the latest to join the list in 1937.

Twenty-eight states have sales taxes—Alabama and Kansas enacting such laws in 1937.

Many home governments in Michigan declare that the 15 mill tax limitation on local property taxation leaves them but one alternative: Go to the state for more money.

Thus during 1937 the legislature was asked to appropriate money for township roads, local schools, local libraries, local snow removal, and so on. The list is long and impressive.

The administration at Lansing thus is between the devil and the deep sea; Either induce local governments to "lay off" the legislature or find new revenue sources to pay the increasing cost of centralized state government.

According to the United States Chamber of Commerce, one-fifth of the national income in 1938 will he paid in taxes. Last year saw state legislatures pass about 1,100 new tax laws.

What is the answer? It is a problem worthy of every citizen's attention. And when the legislature reconvenes, probably in February, it will pay you big dividends to keep a watchful eye on your legislators.

Disrespect for Labels

Recent appointments made by Governor Murphy continue to reveal the executive's general disrespect for party labels.

While partisans and legislators in particular were chafing at the bit, Murphy reached out to California for a man to direct the new civil service commission and to New York for a physician to supervise the state hospitals. He reappointed Oscar Olander as commissioner of state police, despite the fact that Olander was first named to the job by a republican governor. He went to Dr. Thomas Parran, United States surgeon-general, for recommendation as to the best man available as commissioner of the state department of health, and on Parran's recommendation he chose Dr. Lon W. Gudakunst, deputy Wayne county health commissioner, to succeed Dr. C. Slemons, commissioner since 1927.

Then the governor issued strict orders that department heads were not to fire state employees, holdovers from the Fitzgerald administration, just before the civil service regime went into effect January 1, 1938.

All of this has been confusing, to say the least, to partisan Democrats who subscribe to the good old practice of letting the victor get the spoils. There are many partisans who would not shed one solitary tear if Murphy decided suddenly not to run again or unexpectedly accepted a federal appointment to the Virgin Islands.

Civil Service Begins

After months of advance publicity, Michigan's civil service law went into effect January 1 and approximately 16,000 state employees are now being governed by its regulations.

The phrase "civil service" has been glorified into a label of righteousness, smacking almost of being a cure-all or preventative for political spoilism.

Actually, the state laws means just this:

After a state employee has passed a qualifying examination and has been regularly appointed to the classified civil service, he may be dismissed at any time. Cause for dismissal: That the good of the state is being served.

If the employee suspects that the dismissal was unfair, he may appeal to the civil service commission. The commission's authority is limited to that of transferring the dismissed employee to another department within 30 days if a vacancy exists and if the employee is capable of performing the new duties.

If a department head wants another worker, he requisitions the civil service commission and the worker is assigned.

The new law can easily be abused. It can become a mere excuse for genuine civil service. Results will be determined chiefly by the administrative leaders and the commission, the director of which is William Brownrigg, lately of California.

Alcohol and Politics

Mixing alcohol with gasoline is dangerous. And so is mixing alcohol with politics.

The recent hubdub in Lansing over the disclosure that various state officials and employees received "gifts" of liquor at Christmas—the said "gifts" being charged to the accounts of distillers and distributors—has served to remind the public that state control of liquor is a double-barreled problem.

First the state must control the liquor business.

And then the public must control the state that controls the liquor business.

When distillers received a letter from Irving Huston, secretary of the liquor commission, advising them that the liquor had been distributed as gifts to deserving parties and had been charged against their accounts here, newspapers published a sensational expose of the whole mess. It's just another chapter in the thrilling continued serial: "Demon Rum vs. the State of Michigan".

Good Credit Risks

Michigan farmers are a good credit risk.

Such is the conclusion of a survey of rural banks just completed by Michigan State College through its economics department.

The average Michigan farmer pays his bank debt within 12 months, despite drought, floods and other weather factors which affect crop production. Furthermore, the farmer's loans are well planned and sensible for the most part. In other words, the loans are for the purpose of better farming — machinery, stock, equipment, and so on.

These facts are of importance in view of the newly enacted Bankhead-Jones act which provides long-term loans to tenant farmers for purchase of farms.

MICHIGAN BELL REDUCES PHONE RENTS

Start First of Year Complying With Utilities Commission Order

The Michigan Bell Telephone Company has accepted an order issued at the close of the year by the Michigan Public Utilities Commission eliminating the charge of 15 cents per month for the handset telephone and a charge of ten cents a month in certain rural areas for the desk type telephone.

Acceptance of the order was indicated in a statement by George M. Welch, president of the company.

The order also reduces the charge for changing the type of instrument at the time of establishing residential service, if an instrument is already in place, and reaffirms the charges in the company's filed tariffs of rates in all other instrument change cases.

Mr. Welch's statement follows:

"This is not a good time for the Michigan Bell Telephone Company to face a reduction in its revenues. With the sharply increased cost of operation during 1937 which this company experienced in common with other concerns, the revenue was no more than was required. With a continuation of present business conditions even for only the early part of the year, it is certain that our net income for 1938 will be less."

Of the total Michigan apple crop, summer varieties comprise 16 per cent, fall varieties 22 per cent and winter varieties, 62 per cent. The ten year average percentages are: Summer, 20; fall, 27; and winter, 53. —American Fruit-Grower.

The questionnaire conducted by the New York and New England Apple Institute shows that although baked apples and apple pie are perennially popular, the favorite dish of the whole apple family is plain old-fashioned apple sauce.

THIS WEEK'S RECIPES

"Apple Snow"

Here is an apple recipe that came from an old-fashioned grandmother's cook book. It is called "Apple Snow" and isn't it a good way to dress up your dish of apple sauce?

Peel and core 12 well-fluvored apples. Cut them in pieces and cook slowly in very little water until tender and nearly free from juice. When cool, force through a sieve, sweeten the pulp to taste. Whip the whites of two eggs very stiff. Fold lightly into the apple pulp and pile on a pretty glass dish. Just before serving, sprinkle the "snow" with finely chopped nuts, or some tiny cubes of red jelly and a whiff of ground cinnamon.

Firestone

Install a Set of Firestones and Your Tire Troubles are Over

It is true there are many kinds of tires. Some of them look good when first purchased but soon go to pieces when put to the stress and strain that most tires get through driving on all kinds of roads. Others give fairly satisfactory service but the price is more than a motorist should be expected to pay. That is why FIRESTONE truly stands as the peak of perfection in the manufacture of tires. They look good when first bought and still look good after having been driven many thousands of miles. The price is low so that anyone who owns a car can easily afford to buy this famous tire. And the most attractive feature is that they go on mile after mile, month in and month out, always giving dependable service on all kinds of roads.

The reason is simply this—the manufacturers of FIRESTONE tires have always been determined to produce the best possible tire at a price anyone can afford to pay who owns a car. The knowledge they have gained through the years in their technical departments and research laboratories in tire construction and the tremendous volume of sales they enjoy each year have combined to enable them to fulfill this desire. All of which means just this—when you buy FIRESTONE you buy the best and when you drive on FIRESTONE you get the best service that can be expected from a tire.

After having driven your car during the past several months don't delay an inspection of your tires. Look for worn and weak spots in the casing. These are the danger signs against which every motorist must guard. Now is the time to install new tires and be prepared for enjoyable motoring days ahead.

OLD AGE ASSISTANCE GRANTS HIT NEW PEAK

Sixty Thousand Michigan Residents Now Receiving Benefits

In a year-end check of his depactment's books Auditor General George T. Gundry today revealed that slightly more than sixty thousand aged residents of Michigan are now receiving old age assistance. This is an increase of twenty-three thousand over the number alded by the state at the end of the fiscal year last July 1st. At that time the increased uppropriation set by the last legislature became available and was matched by additional funds by the Federal government. When the additional funds became available the ago limit of those eligible for assistance was lowered from seventy to sixty-five years.

"The bill for old age assistance now amounts to $1,200,000.00 per month, with the state paying fifty per cent, or $600,000.00 and the Federal government the rest," Mr. Gundry said.

The auditor general further explained that the state treasury pays a monthly bill of $22,000.00 for burial of aged people, who huve no near relatives. This item is paid entirely by the state.

Gundry stated that the averngo cost per funeral was $100.00 and that because of the high mortality rate of those on the assistance lists, new applicants were being added continuously to replace those who had passed on.

COUNTY ROAD PROGRAM OUTLINED IN MICHIGAN

Counties Must Match Federal Funds to Obtain Construction

State Highway Commissioner Murray D. Van Wagoner planned to submit to the U. S. Bureau of Public Roads this week a program of construction on county roads throughout the state.

Under the secondary road program, $1,136,910 will be spent on county road construction while $420,502 will be expended on secondary trunklines. The commissioner said projects will be announced as soon as the program is approved by the Bureau of Public Roads.

The commissioner, praising the cooperation of the counties in getting the program under way, said that only 16 of the 83 had declined to submit projects. Counties submitting projects must be prepared to match Federal funds available to them for this work.

Projects submitted hy 56 counties were approved by the commissioner immediately. Further negotiations were necessary with 11 counties which originally submitted projects that did not qualify on the program.

A well-rounded construction program is indicated from the approved projects. Of the various types of construction, base preparation and gravel surfacing is the most prevalent on the program. This treatment puts a road in condition for future surfacing with oil aggregate.

Oil aggregate surfacing is the next most prevalent type with bridges third. Concrete pavement and grade separation construction ure proposed in the metropolitan area.

"The counties have done a good job in submitting their projects," the commissioner said. "In a number of cases, the counties apparently got together to submit projects on interconnecting roads. Projects which obviously would not qualify on the program were not submitted such as strictly municipal work. I feel that the program is off to a good start as a result of this cooperation."

FISH DEALERS MUST OBTAIN A LICENSE

Wholesalers Come Under New Regulation on Janeury 1st

For the first time in Michigan's history, wholesale fish dealers are now required to obtain state license to operate.

The new requirement is embodied in an act which was adopted by the last state legislature to provide closer regulution of the wholesale fish trade, especially in transportation, importation and the keeping of records of purchases und sales.

Main provisions of the act ure thut all shipments of fish must be labeled so as to show the number of pounds ef each kind of fish contuined in the package or parcel; all wholesale fish dealers must maintain records which shall be open to inspection by the department of conservution; all wholesule dealers must obtain licenses annually, the licenses expiring on each December 31. The license fee is $5.

A wholesaler is legally defined as anyone who "sells goods in gross to retailers who sell to consumers". Retail fish peddlers are not regulated by the uct. Wholesale deulers who purchase lsh at different points in Michigan are required to obtain a license for each of their sub-stations.

The new act is expected to aid in preventing the importation and sale in Michigan of fish below the size and weight limits required under this state's fishing laws. Difficulty on this score has arisen in the pust, partly because of a difference in the fishing laws of other states and Canada, from those of Michigan.

Revecation of license is one of the penalties upplicable for violation of the new act.

TOURIST ASSOCIATION STARTS WINTER ADS

Tell of Winter Carnival Attractions in Mid-West Newspapers

Advertising of winter sports in Michigan has been started by the West Michigun Tourist and Resort Association. The first ads were carried in Chicago newspapers, dealing principally with the all-expense winter sports tours being run from Chicago to St. Joseph and Watervliet on Paw Paw Lake. These tours will run each week end until March 26.

Later the association's program calls for advertising in the metropolitan newspapers calling attention to the Michigan Winter Carnival at Petoskey February 4 to 13, during which the National Amateur Speed Skate Championships will be held, and to the winter sports programs at Ludington, Traverse City, Cadillac und the other communities featuring snew sports.

JURY DISAGREES OVER JUSTICE COURT TRIAL

Boyne Falls Beer Tavern Case Will Come Up for Retrial

Due to disagreement by a jury in Justice H. R. Fowler's court, retrial of Ott Lawson, Boyne Falls, charged with assault and battery, is pending.

Warrant for Lawson wus signed by Mrs. Metro Skop, operutor of u beer garden at Boyne Falls, who alleges Lawson hit her over the head with a chair when she refused to sell him more beer. Clark Fruley, Lawson's companion, was charged with being disorderly. Fruley once served a prison term for shooting John Sulter, Boyne City nightwatchman.

Jury trial for Dewey Hausler, East Jordan beer parlor operator, on a forgery charge, was postponed Thursday due to Hausler being ill. He is alleged to have given worthless checks for beer purchased from the Zaiger Beverage Co., Petoskey.

DISCUSS FARM INCOME, SOILS PLAN

CROP ROTATION BRINGS SOIL BACK TO FERTILITY

Agricultural Adjustment Administration Points Out Baeefits of 1938 AAA Program

Effects of a low farm income un land and how the goals set up the 1938 agricolturnl conservation program are planned to help farmers realize a better income was outlined today by Charles D. Shepard, chairma nof the Charlevoix county committee.

A bulletin issoed by the Agricultural Adjustment Administration points oot that when farm production is excessive and crop surpluses pile up, the farm income goes down. Farmers thon are onable to buy as many city goods. Business slows down and unemployment in cities follows. Unemployment in cities means lack of buying power for farm products, and the prices received by farmers and the farm income are pushed further down.

Under the pinch of low income, farmers are forced to overcrop their soil by keeping every possible acre in cash crops which deplete the soil and subject it to erosion.

It is estimated that land permanently roined by erosion within the past 100 years is equal in aren to all the farm land in two of the large midwestern agricultural states. If all this soil destruction had occorred in those two states, the ruin would have been more impressive but not less costly to the natiun.

The practice of cuntinually growing a single cash crop with rarely a compensating soil-building crop in rotation, or as a eover crop, has so reduced the fertility of some farming nreas that it is impossible for the farmers in those areas to maintain a decent standard of living.

Goals provided in the 1938 AAA program are planned to bring about a better balanced system of farming and to promote conservation of the aoil. These goals, in the form of definite acreages of soil-depleting crops and a definite amount of soil-building practicea, will provide abondant supplies of all crops, both for domestic needs and export, without the largo surpluses that ruin prices, and at the same time encourage practices to conserve soil fertility. The new conservation program, like previous programs of the Agricoltorni Adjustment Administration, is expected to raise and sostain farm income in the following ways:

First, by indirectly influencing the volome and therefore, the prices of farm prodocts; second, by encouraging more extensive use of efficient farming methods; third, by providing conaervation payments to farmers; and fourth, by making the land able to prodoce more when and if needed.

As in the past, the Agricultoral Adjustment Administration will be assisted in carrying out the 1938 program by the state, county and community committees of farmers.

MARRIAGES AND DIVORCES DECREASED; BIRTHS SET RECORD

For reasons onexplained, marriages and divorces both decreased in number in Charlevoix county doring the year 1937. This information is the opposite in one instance from 1936, when marriages increased and divorces decreased.

County Clerk Fenton R. Bulow reports Dan Cupid managed 122 love matches during 1937 as compared to 131 in 1936, and that divorces last year numbered nineteen, a drop of one from the previous year.

Statistics obtained from the city clerk's office showed 103 births in Charlevoix doring 1937, which is over dooble the 52 registered in 1936. Deaths doring 1937 were 62, 12 less than 1936.

Court activities during 1937 showed a general increase over the previous year. Eleven chancery cases were started, the same nomber as in 1936. There were 32 issoes of fact and law, compared to 20 last year, and 17 criminal cases against 13 in 1936.

HIGH SCHOOL GIVING ASSEMBLY ENTERTAINMENT

Davies Light Opera Compeoy to Appear Hare Jenuery 19th

Charlevoix high school this year is sponsuring assembly programs from the Northwest Assembleys of Chicago. Two numbers have been given and four more will follow. The programs are usually given doring the day, which makes the cost very nominal to students who have purchased aeason tickets.

On January 19th at 8 p. m., Davies Light Opera Company will present their musical program at the gymnasiom. This entertainment should be of interest to all people, including adolts. The company is composed of four persons with costumes. The group enacts a phase of the "Student French." The first part of the program, in concert form, cunsists of solos, doets and quartettes, with excerpts from light operas such as "No, No, Nanette," "Of Thee I Sing," "Rio Rita," "Vagabond King" and "Naughty Marietta." The public is invited.

During March, April and May the attractiuns include Bob Hanscom, character creator; Geraldine Westbaby, traveler; Francis Onderdonk, architect.

COUNTY'S SURPLUS POTATO QUOTA SET

12,000 BUSHELS WILL BE FED TO LIVESTOCK

Fred F. Foltz, Petoskey, Named Inspector for District Including Charlevoix County

The appointment of Fred F. Foltz, Petoskey, as inspector to serve under direction of J. W. Branch, supervisor of Traverse City district to fulfil the provisions of potato diversion contracts signed during 1937 was announced today by R. C. Lindstrom, federal supervising inspector. Checking of potatoes for the purpose of finding if they meet requirements of diversion contracts and the actual diverting will he accomplished by the Traverse City district staff, according to Lindstrom.

Diversion records disclose that diversion contracts, involve 125,700 boshels of potatoes in the Traverso City district. After these potatoes have been checked as to grade requirements and woighod, they will be dyed with violet vegetable dye. After certification by the inspector, the local coonty office will prepare voocher for payment in accordance with the terms of the contract.

Sopervising Inspector Lindstrom warned that if farmers expect payment onder the diversion program that they must not divert their potatoes in any other fashion, that the inspection of potatoes is necessary for payment. No fee is to be charged for inspection of potatoes incident to their diversion into livestock feed.

Traverse City District, J. W. Branch, sopervisor. Inspectors—Fred F. Foltz, Petoskey, Mich., Roy S. Finch, Fife Lake, Mich., Otto Grambau, Metz, Mich. — 910 contracts—125,700 bushels of potatoes. RAYDERS TURN IN ANOTHER VICTORY

DEFEATED HARBOR BY 40 TO 15 SCORE FRIDAY NIGHT

Reservas Hung Up Fourth Victory With 26 to 19 Win—Play Mancelona Here Friday Night

Pointing to a second Top of Michigan class C conference basketball championship, Charlevoix's Red Rayders defeated Harbor Springs by a 40 to 15 score at Harbor, Friday night. It was their fifth conseeutive victory.

Charlevoix set the pace from the start and led all the way. They were out in front 11 to 2 at the quarter, 24 to 5 at the half and 32 to 11 at the third intermission. Coach Kipke substituted freely, osing ten players during the contest. Harbor was helpless against the first-string line-up.

Carey and Richardson divided scoring honors, the former with 18 and the latter with 17 points. Brower, Harbor captain, was high for the losers with 10 points.

The line-ups:

Charlevoix (40)	FG	FT	P
Richardson	8	1	2
Bergmann	0	1	1
Carey	7	4	0
Brown	0	0	2
Gallagher	1	1	1
Pearl	0	1	1
	16	8	7

Harbor (15)	FG	FT	P
Hanna	0	0	2
Shepard	1	0	1
Brower	4	2	4
King	0	3	1

The Rayders play the first of two home games Friday night. They meet Mancelona on the local court this week and next week take on East Jordan in what will be their last home stand for four games.

COUNCIL APPROVES NEW BATHING PIER

WILL CONSTRUCT TWO ON LAKE CHARLEVOIX

Extension of Thirty Days on Wioter Tax Deadline Is Greoted—Renew Highway Maintenance Contract

Additional bathing facilities on Lake Charlevoix for the 1938 sommer season were assored Monday evening by action of the city council in authorizing the constroction of two bathing piers.

Tho piers, filling a long-felt requirement as well as complying with a petition presented by north side sommer residents last year, will be built at the foot of Chicago avenoe north of the railway bridge, and off Ferry avenoe on property owned by the city south of the bridge. While constroction details have not been fully decided upon, it is expected the piers will be of stone with either concreto or wooden top, six feet in width and extending beyond the channel bnnk. The work will be under supervision of the council's park committee and will be started at once to provide winter employment.

The council, following costomary action, extended the limit for payment of winter taxes without penalty ontil February 9. The original deadline was January 10th, allowing an extension of thirty days.

Renewal of a contract for maintenance of state and federal tronk line highways within the city was approved and Harry F. Hooker was named maintenance superintendent for the city.

In all probability the council will conveoe in special session doring the week to consider estimates of cost on the proposed installation of a new deisel unit at the municipal electric light plant. Following action of the council, the proposal will be submitted to taxpayers at a special election. In view of the time required for installation in case the proposal is approved, early sobmission to the voters is important.

HATCHERY OFFICIALS HERE FOR INSPECTION

Seek Repair and Operating Figures on Hatchery Opening Proposal

Further progress on a proposal to re-open the federal fish hatchery on a federal-state cooperative basis for rearing of troot is anticipated following a visit here Monday of hatchery officials.

E. R. Widmyer of Northville, sopervintendent of Michigan federal hatcheries, and Ernest S. Batterson, architect of the Michigan Conservation Department, Division of Fisheries, went over the hatchery for the porpose of obtaining cost of necessary repairs and to obtain figores on operating expenses. These costs, it is onderstood, will be a determining factor in the approval of the proposed plan.

Mr. Widmyer declined to go into further detail regarding the proposol, reserving forther information for future announcement pending approval.

SALES TAX REVENUES HIGHER PAST YEAR

Increase of $7,694,180.83 Ovar 1936 Shown By Raport

The Michigan sales tax produced $7,694,180.83 more revenue for the state during 1937 than it did in the preceding year, it was disclosed by figures released by Draper Allen, managing director of the state board of tax administration. The total yield for the year jost closed was $57,936,450.41 as compared with $50,242,269.58 for the calendar year of 1936.

Collections in the Detroit office rose proportionately with those over the entire state, the total for the year amoonting to $25,191,177.09, a gain of slightly more than $3,000,000 over the 1936 figure of $22,189,014.05.

The receipts for the month of December were more than $600,000 less than doring November, reflecting for the first time the slomp in business conditions. Starting in September the sales tax collections made a steady climb durlog the late fall months, reaching a peak of $5,117,096.84 in November. In the final month of 1937, however, the general business recession made itself felt in tax payments and collections fell off to $4,491,011.97.

BANK OFFICERS CHOSEN TUESDAY

TWO LOCAL INSTITUTIONS HELD ANNUAL MEETINGS

Substantial Gain in Deposits and Generally Healthful Financial Conditioo Shown by Both Banks

Officers and directors for 1938 were elected by Charlevoix's banking institutions, the Charlevoix County State Bank and the Charlevoix State Savings Bank, at their annual stockholders' meetings Tuesday.

Two changes were made in the officers of the Charlevoix County State Bank. Charles Carey socceeds M. A. Levinson as vice-president and Elmer D. Hawley was named cashier. The officers are: President, Robert Bridge; vice-president, Charles Carey; cashier, Elmer D. Hawley. Directors are Robert Bridge, J. M. Foster, Charles Carey, M. A. Levinson and E. J. Hiller.

No change was made in the set-up of officers and directors of the Charlevoix State Saviogs Bank, who are as follows: President, Harry A. Crnig, vice-presidents, Dr. F. F. McMillan, F. S. Myers; cashier, A. L. Livingston. Directors are the above named and Martin Block.

Both institotions, in financial atatements issoed this week, enjoyed a sobstantial gain in commercial and savings deposits. Total resources of the Charlevoix County State Bank as of December 31, 1937, were shown as $479,738.01, compared with $424,720.28 on the same date a year ago, a gain of $55,017.73.

The Charlevoix State Savings Bank showed comparative resources for the years ending December 31st of 1936 and 1937 of $281,575.13 and $328,649.84, respectively, a gain of $47,074.71.

SOCIAL SECURITY IN SECOND YEAR

TRAVERSE CITY OFFICE REPORTS PROGRESS

Sixty-Five Claims for Benefits Paid to Date — Urge Eligibles to Make Claims at Once

The old-age insurance program onder the Social Security Act goes into its second year this month with more than 28,000 applications for participatioa in the program already received from the residents of this area, Clifton H. Little, manager of the Traverse City field office of the Social Security Board announced today.

For the country as a whole, he added, the Social Security Buard has received more than 36,000,000 applications for social security account numbers. "The initial intensive work of assigning account nombers has given way to other activities. For the past few months, there has been a marked increase in the number of claims we have been receiving for lump-sum payments under the Social Security Act.

"These payments, he explained, "are not to be confused with the major program of monthly retirement benefits, which goes into effect in 1942 and under which eligible retired workers will receive lifetime monthly payments, the amoonts depending on the total amount of wages they receive.

The lump-sum payments are to workers who are now reaching 65, and to the estates or relatives of workers who die before that age. They are made on the basis of the wages the worker received since January 1, 1937, in employment covered by the Act, and amount to 3½ per cent of those wages."

Tu date 65 claims for such payments have been submitted to the Social Security Board from the area served by the Traverse City field office,, Mr. Little announced. However, he stated there are many eligible claims for lomp-som payments which have not been filed yet, and he orged that soch claims be sobmitted at once. Claims forms, and assistance in filling them out properly, may be secured at the Traverse City field office he stated.

"Although claims activities are rapidly developing in this area," Mr. Little pointed oot, "oor work of assigning account numbers still goes on. This is a continoing phase of the old-age insorance program.

Mr. Little concloded his report of the first year's progress of the Federal Old-Age Insorance program by urging foll use of the Traverse City field office by all interested resideots of this office's service area.

GRANT STREET HILL IS DESIGNATED FOR REGULATED COASTING

Upon authorization of the city council, Grant street hill has been designated as Charlevoix's coasting hill for the winter.

Coasting will be under the sopervision of National Yooth Administration workers, who will keep the hill in condition, allow its ose doring regolated hoors and guard barricades at the intersection of Antrim and Grant street.

The poblic is reqoested to take notice of the designation of the coasting hill and to drive with caution when they approach this intersection. Unregolated coasting has resulted in numerous near accidents this winter and these precautionary measures are being taken to avoid mishaps to the many children osing the slide.

Henry Ford successfully defied the "Blue Eagle" during NRA days. He continoes to display the same defiant fighting spirit in his present battle with the National Labor Relations Board.

You will recall that 21 years ago, back in 1914, he precipitated a revolution in American industry by doing the simple and astounding thing of paying his workers a minimum daily wage of $5. At a time when the machine age "speed op" was allegedly retiring workers at a progressive rate of early age, Ford did the opposite—he increased the average age of workers doring each decade of the centory.

This year bids well to bring a showdown in the labor fight between Ford, the motor independent, and the CIO which views with considerable envy the rich fields of potential memberships in Ford's many factories.

Preston Scheile and Emerald Gallagher are visiting on the mainland this week.

Mrs. Rae Gilden returned to Chicago last week after several months' visit on the Island.

Mrs. Mary Briggs left here Friday for Traverse City, where she will visit for several weeks.

Victor Gallagher and Ed. Gallagher returned to Grand Rapids Sunday after spending the holidays with their parents, making the trip by aeroplane from St. James to Charlevoix.

Mrs. Vernon Lafreniere entered the sanitorium at Gaylord Thursday, making the trip by aeroplane to Escanaba first. She was accompanied on the trip by her husband. Charles Pischner was a passenger on the trip also

The passing of Michael J. McCann on January 8th removed from our midst one of the Island's most distinguished business men and it will be many a day before his memory will have vanished down the "avenue of forgetfulness."

Although he had been ailing for some time, his condition, however, was not considered serioua and his unexpected death came as a shock to his many friends and relatives.

Mr. McCann was born on Mackinac Island, July 3, 1873. In 1884 he came with his parents to Beaver Island, where his father, the late James McCann, opened a general merchandise store in the J. H. Dormee building on North Point. In 1900, Mr. McCann purchased the Eliza Day property on the west side of the harbor, which included the present commercial dock. Here "Mike," as he was familiarly known, grew to manhood. Upon reaching his majority, he entered a partnership with his father and an elder brother, the late John McCann, in the commercial fishing business. In 1902 he received the appointment as postmaster and conducted the office in connection with his merchandise business until the fall of 1922, when he resigned the postmastership.

On February, 1906, he was united in marriage to Miss Anna Donlevy. To this union were born five children: a daughter, Mrs. A. C. Pischner of Two Rivers, Wis., and four sons, Omer of Kalamazoo, Edwin, Aelred and Giles of St. James. They were with him at his death. In addition to the widow and children other survivors include two grandsons.

Mr. McCann was practically a self-educated man, an excellent penman, also a competent accountant. He lead an exemplar married life, adored by his wife and children. He was a modest, even-tempered man and never quarrelsome. He always had an academic mind and would be sure to reason himself ont of all difficulties, whether financial or otherwise. He was a man of sterling qualities, upright and honorable in his dealings with other men. His impeachable character inspired the confidence and esteem of this community. For more than thirty years he had held some minor office in Saint James township and at his death was a director of McKinley school, which office he had held for 25 or 30 years.

A requiem high mass was celebrated at Holy Cross church, Rev. Eugene R. Fox officiating at 9 a. m. Monday, January 10. Interment was in the family plot at Holy Cross cemetery.

Those from out-of-town attending the funeral were Mrs. Earl Miller, Ulysses and Emmett McCann of Charlevoix, and Andrew Gallagher of Chicago.

Film Co-stars Lombard and J. Barrymore

Reunited for the first time since they made motion-picture comedy history in "Twentieth Century", Carole Lombard and John Barrymore appear in Paramount's new comedy-drama, "True Confession", which opens next Saturday, January 15, at the Palace Theatre, with Fred MacMurray co-starred with them.

Thrills of the racetrack form the background for a dramatic story of childhood friendships and loyalties in "Thoroughbreds Don't Cry", which offers an intimate glimpse into both the hearts of youngsters and the machinations between scenes in turfdom. The picture opens Wednesday January 19, at the Palace Theatre.

Introducing Ronald Sinclair, Hollywood's latest find in British boy actors, teamed with Judy Garland, child singer and actress, the veteran Sophie Tucker, both of whom scored in "Broadway Melody of 1938", and Mickey Rooney, young Sinclair appears in his first important role.

Lynne Overman In New Thriller

Lynne Overman, popular comedian of the frog voice, appears in a leading role in the forthcoming "Night Club Scandal", the new mystery film which will open Wednesday, January 19th at the Palace Theatre. Overman plays the part of a newspaper reporter, Russell Kirk, in the picture.

The cast of "Night Club Scandal" is headed by John Barrymore, and includes, besides Overman, Charles Bickford, Louise Campbell, Harvey Stephens, J. Carrol Naish, Evelyn Brent, Elizabeth Patterson, Cecil Cunningham, Harlowe Borland and John Sheehan.

MICHIGAN POTATOES SET A CROP RECORD

This State Second Higher Producer in Nation for 1937

Michigan's most important cash crop, potatoes, set a record for production in the state last year with 30 million bushels that ranked the state as second in the nation.

To help consumers appreciate this crop, Michigan growers and distributors this month are participating in a show in Detroit January 21 to 30 when a queen for the state is to be selected from four district potato queens.

Cooperation with the Michigan Quality Potato association has been assured by the state department of agriculture, Michigan State College and the Detroit Agricultural club. Sponsors of the show hope to interest more Michigan consumers in eating up the record crop and in purchasing these rather than those shipped in from out of state.

Detroit alone probably consumes five million bushels of potatoes in a year, says H. C. Moore, poultry specialist at Michigan State College.

Through efforts of Moore, high school students from all sections of the state again this year are participating in a poster contest. The chief requirement of the posters is that they indicate reasons for using Michigan potatoes and stress the quality of the crop.

New varieties are showing up in the markets. One of these is the Katahdin, good Indian name for a modern Michigan vegetable growing where tepees once marked Indian villages. A newer one is the Chippewa, sister to the Katahdin and not yet produced in much volume.

DISTRICT HEALTH UNIT

The Diet of the Growing Child

The first step in the solution of any problem is a clear understanding of the problem to be solved. This experience is true of behavior problems which have in them so many variables of hereditary unknowns of environment. Therefore, if it can be done without harm to the child, he should for a time be allowed to direct his own behavior while the parents become observers and confidential informers. At the end of the observation period the problem has either disappeared or has lost enough variables and unknowns to fall within the means of a fairly simple solution and one has gained good working knowledge of the foods that make up the family diet. This furnishes a basis of constructive criticism as it is needed and for sound teaching of such fundamental dietetics as:

(1) For practical purposes, one vegetable is as good as another; that, after all, a carrot is only a root vegetable, while spinach is only one of many leafy ones. That raw vegetables, which many children prefer, may wholly or in part supplant cooked ones with no loss except the energy which the more complete digestion of cooked food makes available, and that this loss has no importance in a diet which contains such energy producing foods as meat, fish, eggs, and milk; that vegetables should be cooked in the least possible amount of water and no water discarded; that having eaten a large vegetable salad, the child need not then eat the vegetables served in the course; or that a mealtime, other than breakfast, or for that matter days spent without a morsel of vegetable passing the lips is not altogether lost if only the child does not come to cry out with those wandering children of old, "my soul abhoreth" vegetable.

(2) That meat is a valuable food for which fish is the only complete substitute; while broth has no value except as a vehicle for other foods, and that cheese adds nothing to the diet except milk content.

(3) That cereals served in the much advertised form of hot mushes do not gain any values not present in them when served as bread, as crackers or as ready to eat, packaged dry cereal, preferably sufficiently "whole grain" to retain their vitamin B complex.

(4) That not every child needs a quart of milk daily and that he should be given credit for the milk he takes with other food as well as that drunk.

(5) That a diet too high in fat not only decreases appetite but prevent digestion, absorption and consequently growth; therefore cream should not be used too freely and cod liver oil should be given in amounts and forms prescribed by the child's physician.

(6) That temporary loss of appetite may mean nothing except that the child is not hungry, while a more prolonged absence usually is the first symptom of illness and the most dependable symptom of the need for a careful physical examination.

(7) And especially that the father's duty is only to earn the money to buy food and the mother's to put it in suitable variety and form on the table.

Buy Christmas seals now.

NEW FARM BILL LITTLE AID IN MICHIGAN

Commissioner Strange Acts to Obtain More State Benefits

Commissioner John B. Strange of Department of Agriculture, in a telegram to Congressman Prentiss M. Brown of the 11th district, pointed out that the proposed ever normal granary farm bill will provide Michigun farmers with less aid than average for nation, because of the State's limited acreage of wheat and corn. The agricultural department head suggested that some assistance be offered to bean growers and to producers of non-carry over crops such as potatoes, apples and grapes.

Commissioner Strunge said in his wire to the members of Michigan congressional delegation, "In view of the fact that the proposed ever normal granary farm bill offers less to the farmers of Michigan on account of our limited acreage of wheat and corn, would suggest that some provisions be placed in the bill to assist those farmers who are engaged in the production of beans and non-carry over crops such as potatoes, apples and grapes of which we have a large surplus. An arrangement of this kind would more nearly equalize with other states the benefits received through government payments. Under the present proposed arrangement, Michigan farmers could expect less than average for nation."

It is a paradox that we find every dictator who has ascended to power has climbed on the ladder of free speech and free press. — Herbert Hoover.

Illegal Seizure

Ford's latest maneuver against the National Labor Relations board, in appealing its recent verdict, is predicated on the extraordinary conditions which prevailed in Michigan during the sitdown strikes of 1037 when workers seized plants illegally and "got away with it".

The motor company in its petition maintains:

"The policy adopted and openly avowed by the CIO and UAW was that, in the very midst of an era of production and prosperity, the workers in a plant should not merely lay down their tools and cease to work, but should occupy the plant and prevent those who desire to work from doing so.

"In the epidemic of CIO and UAW sit-down strikes that swept the State of Michigan, industrial plants were seized by force and their production suspended. Men wishing to work were forcibly prevented from doing so and even forcibly restrained from leaving the seized plants. The Governor of the State of Michigan announced that ordinary agencies of law enforcement could not or would not function. Whether the Governor was forced to this by the action of the CIO or whether the fault was his own, is not the question here.

"The important fact here is that industrial plants were in fact seized and their production was in fact suspended, that men wishing to work were thrown out and their families placed on relief, that the treasury of the State was in fact depleted to pay for the relief and that purchasing power was destroyed."

Issue in Campaign?

Whether the Ford defense, as set forth, will be an issue in the coming gubernatorial campaign is yet to be revealed.

It is certain, however, that if the issue is raised, it will not be of the Democrats' choosing. And it is equally certain that the state administration, for many months, has been preparing an answer for it in the form of newspaper headlines of the Chicago labor riots and other blood-spilling battles. "Such did not happen in Michigan" will be the strategy, as reported at Lansing.

Ford's appeal statement raises a point of factual accuracy which apparently needs clarification. Here is a quotation:

"To cite but a single instance, at Flint, Mich., there was a pitched battle between police and pickets, at which shots were fired and men killed, while workingmen, who were unlawfully occupying the plant itself at the instigation of CIO and UAW, tore up machinery and hurled it as missles through the windows."

"Men killed" are two words of devastating power.

Labor Relations Bill

The sitdown strikes of 1937, repudiated months after by Secretary of Labor Perkins, were responsible as much as anything for the attitude of the democrat-republican conservative coalition in the State Senate which led to downfall of a labor relations bill in the first special session.

The senate coalition did not retreat from its position.

And Governor Murphy, having vetoed his own bill after the CIO and A. F. of L. attacked it, was left without any mediation machinery to employ in future strike trouble.

At Monroe where citizens took law in their own hands to prevent illegal blockading of access to a steel plant —the mayor, Daniel Knagg, was re-elected by an overwhelming vote.

When the special session of 1938 convenes at Lansing, it will be interesting to observe the fate of a labor relations bill in the Senate. There have been few developments to indicate that the conservative coalition has changed its attitude which "jelled" at the time of the 1937 sit-down strikes.

"Fascist Nativism"

Michigan's 'law and order' leagues, which sprung up during the 1937 sit-down era, represented to a minor degree the Fascist tendencies which inspired the recent Black Legion in Michigan.

While civic law-and-order groups sought only to mobilize public opinion against future labor lawlessness, the Black Legion went all the way.

According to Elmer Akers of the University of Michigan's department of sociology, the Black Legion reflected "Fascist tendency to substitute force for reason, the policy of liquidating the enemy. The violence of this outbreak of vigilante nativism was in keeping with Fascist policies in the world today—a natural resurgency of the perennial nativism found in most rural and small town communities of the Americas."

It is estimated that the Detroit industrial pool contains 100,000 Southern whites, few of whom ever intended to make Detroit their permanent home. Living in a "social vacuum", they respond without usual inhibitions to such "vigilante nativism".

Professor Akers warns that another depression will bring a revival in Michigan of this fascism probably in some new form.

Billion Bounty

The national farm income was the best since 1929.

Michigan's income increased 14 per cent, due mostly to marketing of holdover crops and despite a sharp decline in 1937 crop prices.

National receipts were almost double those of 1932.

With an eye to 1938, it is worth noting that all records will be broken in 1938 when more than a billion dollars is scheduled to flow from the Treasury in Washington into direct aids for agriculture.

A total of $1,035,000,000 will find their way into pockets of farmers; one out of every seven dollars of taxes collected by Uncle Sam. This is more than the annual cost of our Army and Navy.

Regardless of what happens to business in 1938, farmers are assured of a billion bounty from Washington. Business in small towns is dependent, for the most part, upon prosperity on the farm. In view of this fact, we dare a prediction that business in 1938 will not be bad on Main Street.

GRADE PUPILS GIVEN DENTAL EXAMINATION

Children's Fund and Child Health League Are Cooperating

On Monday and Tuesday of this week, all children from the kindergarten to the eighth grade had their teeth examined by Dr. Nelson of the Children's Fund of Michigan.

Results of the examinations, where corrections will be needed, will be given to the parents.

In the third grade ten more cases need attention before the objective of 100% correction will be realized. It is expected this will be completed during the next few weeks.

Funds raised through a tag day last summer by the Child Health League are being used in this work where necessary.

POSTOFFICE RECEIPTS INCREASE THREE YEARS

Income Gain Since 1935 Topped by $567.17 for Year Just Closed

While not large, a steady increase during the past three years of receipts of the Charlevoix postoffice is reported by Postmaster J. M. Foster.

Receipts for 1935 are shown as $18,435.17. In 1936 the figure increased to $18,512.32, a gain of $77.15, and for the year just closed the income was $19,089.49, an increase of $567.17 over the previous year.

PARTY COMING IN FEBRUARY FOR WINTER FUN

John Knight and Group of Belvadere Summer Residents to Arrive Feb. 3

A communication from John Knight carries the information that a party of at least fourteen persons will come to Charlevoix on February 3 and 4 for winter sports.

Mr. Knight states that some of the party, like the Leathermans, Morrows and Dennigs are Belvedere Club summer residents and most of them have never seen much snow. The party will take in the Petoskey carnival, but most of the time will enjoy themselves in Charlevoix.

Gordon B. Todd, activities director of the Board of Commerce, is arranging equipment for the group. Every effort will be made to provide the most in entertainment for the visitors.

MAKE ISSUE WILDERNESS PARK HIGHWAY

Emmet Delegation Before Conservation Commission Friday

Delegations supporting and opposing a proposal to construct a scenic drive through Wilderness state park are expected to appear before the State conservation commission at its meeting on Friday.

Petitions for and against the proposal have been circulated by interested persons. One group wants the park opened to motor-traffic to permit visitors to view the stand of virgin timber with comfort; the other is protesting the road as an invasion of a remaining wilderness.

The park is located north of Harbor Springs in Emmet county.

LIQUOR COMMISSION RESTRICT LICENSES

Earlier Renewals Give Local Governments Time to Study Situation

The Michigan Liquor Control Commission is arranging to grant renewals of liquor licenses of all types some two months earlier this year than usual, and advises local governing boards that where there are too many existing licensees, the opportunity now presents itself for a weeding-out process.

"This is the proper time for the local governing bodies to analyze their licensing situations, and if it has licensees unqualified to be relicensed they can be eliminated," Edward W. McFarland, chairman of the commission, states. "If there are too many licensees in a community or section of a city, it is the time to select those best fitted and endorse them for the coming year."

The chairman said that overcrowding of licensees tends toward unhealthy competition. This results in lowered standards and as a result violations such as selling to minors and intoxicated persons take place.

May 1 is the date set as the limit for renewals, but the commission this year desires to have greatly simplified renewal applications in the hands of the licensees by February 15.

FINAL DEADLINE FOR TAX PAYMENT NEARS

Delinquents Have Until May 2nd to Pay Taxes, Penalty, Interest

With the final deadline rapidly approaching, Auditor General George T. Gundry today called upon the taxpaying public to check their tax receipts to ascertain if they are delinquent.

Explaining that better than one and one-half million property descriptions still remain delinquent, the auditor general said he was fearful that many tax payers did not yet realize that their taxes are in default and liable to public sale next May 3rd.

Mr. Gundry said the taxes, together with penalty and accrued interest to date, may be paid any time up to May 2nd, at county treasurers' offices. He again called attention to the fact that even though taxes are paid, they may appear on the published list as delinquent but will be withheld from sale by the County Treasurer.

FERRY IMPROVEMENTS STARTED AT MACKINAW

Addition to Ferry Dock Begun By State Highway Department

About fifty trucks are employed hauling stone and gravel to build the new addition to the State Ferry dock at Mackinaw City.

They are building a rough wall of stone about 350 feet away from the south side of the dock. It runs parallel with the dock and will extend out to where the water is 16 feet deep and then be built across to join with the outer end of the present dock, thus forming a rectangle. This will later be filled with sand and gravel dredged from the channel, and will be the foundation for the new addition.

AUTO TAG DEADLINE FINAL, CASE WARNS

If the motor vehicles now registered in Michigan are to "get under the wire" by March 1,—the deadline for purchase of 1938 license plates or half-year permits, an average of 34,100 motorists a day will have to buy their plates after January 15, it is estimated by Leon D. Case, Secretary of State.

"Thousands look for extension, despite the fact the law gives no state official authority to order one," said Case, pointing out the possibility that thousands would be unable to buy their plates by March 1, if they wait much longer. The date for the placing on sale of half-year permits has not been determined as yet.

The 1938 plates which went on sale last October 28, have been selling at the rate of less than 1,500 a day; total plates sold by mid-January are estimated at 118,600, with total registration at the highest on record—1,649,108.

"It would tax the department to issue 34,000 sets of plates a day, but if the bulk of applications come in during the last two or three weeks, everyone can't be served," Case said, adding: "The deadline is March 1, but if too many people wait for it, it simply won't be possible to handle the business. Making an application for plates means nothing in the eyes of the law. You have to have the plates on your car."

TEMPERANCE UNION MEETING FRIDAY AFTERNOON

The Woman's Christian Temperance Union will meet at 2:30 p. m. Friday, January 14, with Mrs. Floyd W. Ikens, 203 Antrim street. Mrs. H. J. Pulsipher will speak on "Alcohol, a Hazard". Tea will be served and members are asked to each invite a guest.

PRESIDENT'S BALL

I desire at this time to give definite assurance that partisan politics will not mar the President's Ball at The Argonne on January 29, for the benefit of infantile paralysis victims.

The next step in the preliminaries will be the appointment of committees upon which prominent Republicans will be invited to serve. Every effort will be made to make the party a success both socially and financially.

I am sure the President's last thought in connection with this great charity would be politics, and that is the way we feel about it.

Arlo Wickersham,
Chairman.

TRY OUR D-X SERVICE!

We are now located at 200 Antrim Street and are equipped to furnish complete Lubricating, Battery and Tire service.

It is necessary to have a good, full-charged battery to start your car these cold mornings. Many motorists do not stop to think, or perhaps don't know, that a battery has 40% less power at zero weather than at 32 degrees above. Then, with a cold, hard starting motor, the battery cannot turn it and also furnish current for spark unless the battery is fully charged.

We have a full wave charger which will bring the battery up over night. Also a portable charger which we can take to your garage to boost up your battery over night without taking it out of your car if your garage is wired.

Our D-X Gas is the latest in motor fuel. A high grade heat-resisting oil is mixed with it at the refinery. D-X gasoline lubricates the top of the cylinders, thereby saves wear on cylinder walls, valves, pistons and rings. It seals compression and quiets the motor. It tends to prevent sticking valves—reduced repair bills.

Call D-X Service for satisfactory service. We deliver gasoline, kerosene and fuel oil. D-X Service, A. C. Hansen, phone 18.—Adv. 2tf.

MOWER LAKE CHARLEVOIX SITE PLATTED

Will Develop Half Mile of Lake Frontage South of Ironton

W. S. Mower, well known Ironton resident, has announced that he is platting a half mile of lake frontage on the south arm of Lake Charlevoix preparatory to subdividing the property next summer.

The property lies south of the Mower home on the west side of the lake. Mr. Mower's development is but one of several on Lake Charlevoix, indicating a renewal of interest in lake front property on Lake Charlevoix which has been more or less dormant for several years.

One of These Days...

THROUGHOUT the week of January 17 to 23, the nation will celebrate the fact that there is nothing like thrift—saving part of what you earn through careful management—for gaining peace of mind, security and the good things of life. Don't think thrift depends entirely on income; it is a viewpoint, a habit. One of these days during National Thrift Week, start this habit. Open a savings account at this Bank... add to it each payday... and make 1938 the year you started to get ahead.

PROGRAM DESIGNED FOR MICHIGAN ORCHARDISTS

Michigan Horticultural Society Meets February 24-25 at Grand Haven

A program designed particularly fur fruit growers will feature an annual spring meeting of the Michigan Harticultural Suciety in South Haven February 24 and 25, H. D. Hootman, secretary, announced today.

Hootman said he intended to engage for the convention authurities on problems of peach, applo, pear, and small fruit producers.

The society's summer meeting will consist of a two-day orchard tour in Southern and Eastern Michigan during July or August. Delegates probably will inspect farms near Albion and Ann Arbor and may travel as far north as Genesee county, he said.

An annual winter convention will be held in Grand Rapids.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE SOCIETY

Sunday morning service, 10:45.

Sunday school, 12 o'clock.

Meets first Wednesday evening each month at 7:45 p. m.

Reading room open Saturday, 3 to 5 p. m.

Wo cordially invite the public to our service and reading room.

"Life" will be the subject of the lesson-sermon in all Christion Science churches throughout the world on Sunday, January 16.

The Golden Text, from John 1:1,4, is: "In the beginning was the Word, and the Word was with God, and the Word was God . . . . In him was life; and the life was the light of men."

Among tthe Bible citations is this passage (Matthew 6:31,33): "Therefore take no thought, saying, What shall we eat? or, What shall wo drink? or, Wherewithal shall we be clothed? But seek ye first the kingdom of God, and his righteousness; and all these things shall be added unto you."

Correlative passages to be read from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures", by Mary Baker Eddy, include the following (p. 228): "If wu follow the command of our Master, 'Take no thought for your life', we shall never depend on bodily conditions, structure, or economy, but we shall be mastera of the body, dictate its terms, and form and contrul it with Truth."

BOYNE MARKETING ASSN. BUILDING IS DESTROYED

A $30,000 fire Saturday levelled the warehouse of the Boyne City Marketing Association, nt Boyne City.

About 11 o'clock Satorday morning the fire started near the newly-installed furnace. The fire department responded to the call promptly but found hydrants frozen. Before water could be forced through the pipes, the warehouse was lost. Attention of the firemen was directed to saving other buildings.

UNMASK FABRICS TO AID BUYERS

Masquerades are all right for parties but for those out to purchase rayon goods the unmasking that now is being asked of manufacturers is labeled a benefit to housewives.

Crepe, chiffon, velvet, taffeta or satin do not always indicate silk, says Miss Margaret Partlow, instructor in textiles and clothing at Michigan State College.

Now federal trade commission rulings have been made that trade names for rayon must be accompanied by the word rayon in letters as large and as conspicuous as the name itself. Buyers will be less likely to be "mixed up" in making purchases Miss Partlow contends.

Most troublesome to manufacturers and retailers is the provision which requires telling the fiber content of the cloths. This is the provision, however, the consumer groups have sought and now have obtained.

Whenever rayon or fibers mixed with rayon are used, the fiber content must be made clear. If a garment or fabric is made of rayon with some wool and silk, the principal fibre must be stated first and the other contents in order of proportion. Thus it might be rayon, wool and silk, or a cloth might be labeled rayon and silk, but if mostly of silk, then the label will read silk and rayon. Manufacturers are working out details of how the labels can be prepared and standardized for use so that consumers will be able to tell what they are purchasing.

EDITORIAL

DELUGED AND DELUDED

There is now a sum in the U. S. Treasury termed frozen assets, which the Secretary of the Treasury is attempting to keep intact in a budget-hamnering effort.

There are plenty of other leaders and spenders of the Administration who harbor no such business-like ambition and they will talk the money out and into their hands.

For four years the New Deal PLANNED a spending orgy to spend us out of a depression. At the end of that time, with our national budget billions and billions out of balance, we face a depression. A depression due to the spending orgy and to the equally mad ideas for controlling all business of this country. Taxes were levied indirectly, invisibly and visibly on everything. They have been particularly crushing to small business. And in addition, nationalistic plans for government control have destroyed public confidence. Individuals as well as business organizations must have assurance that their business efforts will bring a reasonable return on their work and investment. Such prospects, however, are still vague and cloudy.

The special session of Congress, called at a time when everyone is conscious that a recession is in progress, has spent six do-nothing weeks in Washington while business waits patiently for assuring actions. If the President means to help business, why hasn't he directed congressional efforts as he as so diligently in the past when business was attacked?

It is reported that if business does not take a hand now in getting us out of the recession, then the President will direct another spending campaign to spend us out again. But two wrongs do not make a right.

REFORMS

It is the faults which exist within the ranks of organized labor which makes it doubly hard for these organizations to get, and hold the sympathy of the general public. Numerous times in this column we have listed some of these faults such as their refusal to become incorporated within the law and thereby subject to its jurisdiction; their apparent inability to live up to the contracts they make with various employers; their inability too, to rid their ranks of militant agitators. But this time we wish to bring to their attention their failure to rid their ranks of those men who prey upon them as well as upon the employer. They are the leaders who control various unions and threaten to lead these unions out on strike unless they are paid a certain sum of money by the employers of the men they control. It is this type of gangsterism within the ranks of the unions which will always find space on the front pages of nearly every paper in the country and it is this type of union leader the unions must divorce from their ranks.

The daily papers are carrying a story now about practices of the nature just mentioned which have been taking place in one of the big cities of the country. It is appalling the amount of tribute the leaders of this union exacted from certain employers upon their promises not to call their unions out on strike providing they got what they asked. And now they are indicted before a court of law and if found guilty, will be sent to prison. But that isn't the point. Nobody cares about whether or not these men go to prison for fraudulent practices. But people do care about the unions having men of this calibre within their ranks and then at the same time crying down the courts when in the course of their duty they must find the union itself a lawbreaker. The courts are not for the protection of any class of people. They protect all alike. And when the unions clean their own ranks, they will perhaps be more justified in crying "unfair" if the court rules against them in some legal technicality in the future. And certainly it will be true that more and more people will be inclined to sympathize with their efforts if these reforms take place immediately.

COAL, IRON, AND OIL

Not long ago we heard a spenker say that Italy, Germany, and Japan did not have enough of the three commodities named above. He continued by saying they were going to be willing to wage wars in order to get them. Japan is demonstrating this fact already, and it will not be long before Germany and Italy will do the same thing. For two years England has been feverishly preparing for the time when these latter two countries take it upon themselves to step out toward their goals. She was caught unprepared for the coming event and today regrets her lack of foresight. Italy and Germany are Dictatorships, set up under a totalitarian system of government which has had to exist for years on a rearmament program or fail as governments. In doing this they have already built vast armies and navies, and air fleets. They must use them or all their building has gone for naught.

It is the same old story in Europe; hatred, jealousy, and a thousand little intrigues between those nations which make it practically impossible for them to live together peaceably. They want to entangle us in their embroglios, and every effort is being made in this direction now. Some schools of thought insist that sooner or later we must become aligned with one side or the other. We say wait. Once was enough. We know now that war is not the solution. Instead the solution lies in the ability for all men to live together in this world without maintaining the trade barriers which have existed in the past. The ever present law governing the economic situation in all countries throughout the world, is that men must now trade even in order to create a like prosperity everywhere. Unless this is done we will never erase the jealousies which exist in many countries because their living conditions are far beneath those we may be able to enjoy. For a while we may have to suffer in order to bring about this change, but in the end it will bear fruit a thousandfold. For, until men learn they must abide by the Golden Rule between nations as well as between individuals, we can expect wars. And when this truism is realized, a great peace will come over mankind.

PHOTO CONTEST OPEN TO ALL IN MICHIGAN

Seek Best Photo Depicting Phases of Michigan Rural Life

Announcement of a camera contest open to any resident in the state is being made by the publications department at Michigan State College, East Lansing.

The best pictures depicting phases of Michigan rural life are to be selected soon after the last of them is received. The deadline for mailing has been set for midnight, Wednesday, February 9, and envelopes postmarked after that date will not be considered.

Best pictures submitted will be made up for use by newspapers in the state, with credit to those who take the snapshots. No actual cash prizes are being offered. Material will be returned to contestants after the quality is judged.

Conditions around which the contest is based are simple:

1. Must be taken by amateurs.
2. Must be submitted by person who took picture.
3. Send negative with picture.
4. On additional paper submit name and address, when and where picture was taken within the state.
5. Mail not later than midnight, Wednesday, February 9, to Publications Department, Michigan State College, East Lansing.

Purpose of the contest is to stimulate not more pictures, but better pictures. They help preserve memories, help business and industry by advertising and illustration. Pictures tell stories that words sometimes cannot. Pictures can help enhance the value of the tourist business, or private farming enterprises and the sale of farm products.

The publications department at Michigan State College is using the college radio station WKAR each Tuesday afternoon this month at 3:15 to give pointers on better camera usage.

PUBLISHERS ARE PLANING "SAFETY CLINIC"

Will Be Feature January Meeting of Michigan Press Assn.

The Michigan Press association, Inc., of which the Charlevoix Courier is a sustaining member, announced this week that newspapers of Michigan will sponsor a "safety clinic" at their 63rd annual meeting January 27 to 29 at Michigan State College, East Lansing.

Michigan's growing highway accident toll and how it can be reduced will be the theme of talks by Dr. Eugene B. Elliott, superintendent, state department of public instruction; Murray D. Van Wagoner, commissioner, state highway department, and Oscar Olander, commissioner, state police department.

One authority declares that women will completely rule the world in another thousand years. Who's been bossing us around for the last generation or two?

MAKING INSURANCE PAYMENTS EASY

Many men find the payment of insurance premiums difficult because they fail to PLAN in advance for them.

Here's a good plan: Divide the total of your premiums into twelve equal parts and deposit this amount in the bank each month. Then you'll always have funds for paying the premiums when they fall due.

LOCAL STUDENT MAY COMPETE FOR $800 JERSEY SCHOLARSHIP

An opportunity for a high school student from Charlevoix to study in the east, at no expense whatever, is described in an announcement which has just been received by local school authorities from New Jersey College for Women.

To commemorate its twentieth anniversary, which will take place in the fall, New Jersey College for Women has created an $800 Twentieth Anniversary Scholarship, open only to students who live outside of New Jersey. This scholarship, renewable from year to year, is sufficiently large to cover all the expenses of the girl who wins it.

Local students may also compete for many other scholarships, offered by New Jersey College for Women. More than 100 in all are available for incoming freshmen. March 1st is the final date by which application must be made for the Twentieth Anniversary Scholarship, while girls may apply for other scholarships until April 15.

A folder containing complete scholarship information may be secured from the Secretary, Scholarship Committee, New Jersey College for Women, New Brunswick, N. J.

PROMINENT SUMMER RESIDENT IS DEAD

L. S. Rupert Died at Bloomington; Scatter Ashes on Lake Charlevoix

Charlevoix has lost a prominent summer resident in the death of Leicester Sargent Rupert on Saturday at his home in Bloomington, Ill.

Mr. Rupert, active as a farmer and livestock feeder for many years, was born December 10, 1855, at Louisville, Ky., the son of Elton W. and Lucy Sargent Rupert. In March, 1877, he moved to Illinois and settled on a farm near Low Point, in Woodford county. On November 5, 1879, he married Katie M. Danforth.

In the sping of 1883, he and his family moved to Normal, and later into Bloomington, where he had lived since. Katie D. Rupert died in Philadelphia October 9, 1899, leaving one daughter, now Mrs. Gordon Cole. On January 29, 1908, he married Miss Caroline Flatt at Champaign.

Surviving are his wife; one daughter, Mrs. Gordon Cole, and one granddaughter, Mrs. Robert P. Tate.

Mr. Rupert served for a number of years on the board of directors of the Brokaw hospital and the Unitarian church.

While Mr. Rupert always maintained his home in Bloomington, Ill., he and Mrs. Rupert spent their summers in Charlevoix, where for years they were residents of the Belvedere Club. In 1912, Mr. Rupert purchased the ground adjoining Belvedere on the south, which he developed into one of the most beautiful places in Charlevoix.

Mr. Rupert loved this northern country, particularly Charlevoix, and it is understood that he has requested his ashes be scattered on the waters of Lake Charlevoix.

CHARLEVOIX BEREFT OF PIONEER WOMAN

Mrs. Oscar Smith Died Sunday; Funeral Wednesday Afternoon

Charlevoix lost one of its earliest pioneer women in the death at 7:30 Sunday evening of Mrs. Oscar Smith at her Antrim street home. She had been in ill health for several months.

Deceased was born near Romeo, September 19, 1854, and was 83 years of age at her death. In 1864, when but a girl, she came to Charlevoix with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Warren Thompson, who settled on a homestead in Marion township. Warren Thompson was a brother of Mednd Thompson, one of Charlevoix's first settlers. Together with her parents, she experienced the hardships pioneer life held for the early settlers of northern Michigan, which in those days, 73 years ago, was virgin forest.

She was married on December 25, 1882, to Oscar Smith, who is a native of Beaver Island and numbered among this region's pioneers. The couple have resided in Charlevoix with the exception of seven years spent in Grand Rapids. They observed their 55th wedding anniversary last Christmas Day.

Surviving besides the husband, is a son, Byron O. Smith of Grand Rapids; two sisters, Mrs. Hattie Meggison, this city, and Mrs. David E. Hawkins of Bellville; a brother, Bert Thompson, residing in Washington; two nieces, Jane E. Smith of Chicago, and Mary Elizabeth Smith of Ann Arbor. A son, Lnwell, died in 1928.

Funeral services will be conducted Wednesday afternoon from the See Funeral Home, Rev. W. H. Rauch officiating.

SMELTANIA HIGHWAY MARKERS ARE SET UP

Evergreens Mark Way to Smelt Fishing Grounds at Boyne City

Smeltania needed a highway. So Bill Smith went out and did it.

That long line of evergreens that guides the smelt-fisherman back and forth from his fishing grounds is the work of none other than Bill Smith, dean of Boyne City fishermen.

Because of the fact that Bill set out for his shanty the other evening in the middle of a great big snow storm and after several hours of walking found himself trying to get into the Advance grist mill instead of his own cosy little fish shack, he decided that something nught to he done about the situation.

Now that a well-defined trail has been made to Smeltania, everything possible should he done to preserve it. Hundreds of winter tourists will be in Boyne City this year to take part in the smelt fishing and if the lane, a hundred feet each side of the trail is kept free of fish shanty holes it will ensure visitors of a safe lane of traffic for their cars or walking purposes. Every citizen of Smeltania should get behind the movement to keep a clean trail out to smelt town. —Boyne Citizen.

The Department of Agriculture predicts that hams will be higger next year. They should be, it's congressional election year.

BOTH HUSBAND, WIFE NEED TROUT LICENSE

$1 License Does Not Include Both; 50c License Does Though

Director P. J. Hoffmaster of the state conservation department today cited a law in answer to requests that wives be permitted to use trout fishing licenses issued to husbands.

A 1937 statute requires that both husband and wife can use a 50-cent non-trout license, but that to fish for trout, except mackinaw trout, every person must buy a $1 license. Although the $1 license permits fishing for all species, the wife also must purchase one.

"We have received many requests," Hoffmaster said, "that a wife be permitted to use her husband's higher priced license. However, the law states she cannot. The legislature has the power to change the statute. All this department can do now is enforce it."

A total of 646,388 fishing licenses were sold in 1936 when the fee was 50 cents for all kinds of fish.

Russia has furnished additional proof that it is not a democracy. Six public officials have been shot for wasting tax money.

PROGRAM WINTER SPORTS OUTLINED

EVENTS LISTED FOR JANUARY 17 TO MARCH 1st

Activities Spoosored Jointly by Board of Commerce and WPA Recreatiooal Leaders

A concentrated winter sports program for the period of January 17 to March 1, has been worked out cooperatively by the Board of Commerce, and WPA recreational leaders.

The tentative program is planned, not for the purpose of commercializing winter sports, but solely for the benefit of the local community, although visitors and guests will be invited to participate in any activity. The main objective of the program is to provide supervised activities for children. Local recreational leaders will alternate between Grant street coasting hill and Mt. McSauba in order that constant supervision is provided during the hours of coasting. Maintenance work on the hill will be supplemented by NYA workers.

One of the best toboggan slides in northern Michigan is being prepared at Mt. McSauba, featuring torch light sliding at night. The ski jump and slide will be in readiness and promises to be faster than ever before. In addition, special events will be held on successive week ends, climaxed by a winter carnival ball which will be sponsored by the Board of Commerce. The tentative date for the ball is March 1.

The WPA recreational leaders in charge of activities are Franklin Left, Robert Pearl and Ed. Radle, who have been devoting a great many voluntary hours in order that Charlevoix citizens and visitors may enjoy a fine winter sports program.

Saturday, Jan. 22—9 a. m. to 12, novelty treasure hunt (on skiis) for boys and girls ages 10 to 15 years; 1 p. m. to 5 p. m., novelty treasure hunt (on skiis) for adults over 16 years. Prizes will be offered in each class not to exceed one dollar. The toboggan slide will be open in the afternnon.

Sunday, Jan. 23—1 p. m. to 5 p. m., toboggan slide and ski hill at Mt. McSauha, coasting on Grant street hill; 3 p. m., ski jumping exhibition at Mt. CcSauba (no prizes).

Monday, Jan. 24 to Friday, Jan. 28—Beginning Monday nf this week a snow modeling contest will be held. The number of prizes to be awnrded will depend upon the number nf entries. This contest will be open to two age groups of hoys and girls, 7 to 13 years and 14 to 18 years, inclusive. Group one may select nny animal they wish to model such as dog, bear, elephant, etc. Group two will have a definite assignment such as a model of "The City of Charlevoix" or "An Ideal Winter Sports Playground." The winter spnrts committee will act as judges for the snow modeling contest. In addition to the contest, cnasting, ski and toboggan hills will he available.

Saturday, Jan. 29—Starting at 9 a. m., an all-day hike on skiis for boys up to 12 years. Ski and toboggan slides at Mt. McSauba open at 10 a. m. Supervised coasting on Grant street hill continuous from 9 a. m. to 5 p. m. (No coasting Saturday night).

Sunday, Jan. 30—Beginning at 2 p. m. a "community toboggan day" will be held. There will be rides for children on a specially constructed slide. Competitive events will include slide for time, slide for distance, novelty races. 4 p. m., judging snow modeling contest, place to be designated.

MASONS AGAIN WINNER IN CRIBBAGE CONTEST

Reduced Odd Fellow Lead to 17 Points in Monday Night's Session

Winning for the second consecutive session of the annual cribbage contest series, the Masons trimmed 61 points off the Odd Fellow lead of 88 Monday night to trail by a margin nf 17 points.

With nearly fifty players out, results of the third contest gave the Masons 20,692 points to 20,631 for th Odd Fellows. The winners were led by Perry Smith's score of 947 while Glenroy Ikens had the evening's high score of 956 for the Masons.

ROY RANGER PRESIDENT OF SPORTSMAN'S CLUB

Named to Succeed C. S. Webster at Annual Meeting Wednesday

Roy Ranger was named president of the Charlevoix Sportsman's Club for the ensuing year at the annual meeting Wednesday night. He succeeds Clair S. Webster.

Other officers named were: Vice-president, Earl W. Miller; secretary, Clarence F. Wood; treasurer, Harley I. Ochs. P. D. Campbell was chosen a member of the hoard of directors.

Mr. Ranger's selection is a deserved recognition of his efforts in behalf nf the organization since its founding, and as a further recognition he was presented with a fine fly rod and reel.

While the Club made no definite plans for the coming year, it is understood the program of constructing concrete sidewalls along the Stover Creek rearing ponds will be continued as far as finances permit and the usual extensive fish rearing program will be continued.

BIRTHDAY BALL WORKERS NAMED

ALL COMMUNITIES OF COUNTY REPRESENTED

Plans Nearing Completion for 5th Roosevelt Birthday Ball at The Argoooe, January 29th

Plans for the 5th annual President's Birthday Ball, Charlevoix county's means of providing a contribution to the nation-wide fight against infantile paralysis, are reaching completion, according to Arlo Wickersham, county chairman.

The entertainment, a dancing party at The Argonne, is scheduled for Saturday evening, January 29th. The function is a county-wide affair and, in view of the worthiness of the eause for which it is sponsored, warrants the cooperation of every citizen. To this end, every civic organization in Charlevoix county is invited to lend its aid.

As a means of spreading interest and bringing about the participation of citizens in all parts of the county, Chairman Wickersham hns appointed as members of the committee individuals from other communities to assist in the work. Those who have been named are Mrs. George Hanson and Mrs. Roy Myers of Ironton, Percy Penfold, Frank Crowell and Calvin Bennett at East Jordan, Roy Winegnrden and Mayor Pat Mitchell at Bnyne City, and Mrs. Leo Allard and Dan McCann at Charlevoix. This group forms the ticket cnmmittee.

"In view of the epidemic of infantile paralysis which swept the nation last summer, the need of funds to combat the disease is very evident," Mr. Wickersham states. "As in the past, funds raised by the Birthday Balls are to be devoted to both local and national aid to victims of the disease. In other words, 70 per cent nf the proceeds of each Birthday Ball will be kept in the community for the treatment of local victims, and the remaining 30 per cent will be turned over to the national committee for the Georgia Warm Springs Foundation."

The price of admission to the party is fifty cents per person. Any individual or organized groups wishing to contribute to the cause may do so by getting in touch with members of the committee.

CHARLEVOIX DISPLAY DETROIT EXPOSITION

Trolling Camp and Board of Commerce Join in Advertising Effort

Charlevoix this year will be represented with an exhibit at the Detroit-Michigan Exposition to he held February 21-30 in Detroit.

A wildlife exhibit in the West Michigan Tourist & Resort Association space is being arranged by Don Clothier, owner and operator of the Charlevoix Trolling Camp, with the Board of Commerce cooperating. The display will occupy 16½ feet and will show game and fish life of this region in mounted specimens, as well as provide distribution of literature and personal contacts.

Mr. Clothier and Gordon Todd, secretary of the Board of Commerce, will be present. The Exposition draws thousands of visitors and Charlevoix's dlaplay should produce beneficial results.

Office supplies of any description may be obtained quickly through this office. Charlevoix Courier.—Adv3tf

CITY REACHES OUT FOR CONVENTIONS

PERSONAL CONTACT PLAN IS INAUGURATED HERE

Charlevoix Resort Attractioos to Be Shown Before Thousaods by Gordon Todd, B. of C. Secretary

Charlevoix's attractions as a summer resort and convention city will be revealed hy word and picture to thousands in mid-west cities during the next three weeks.

Launching the first effort to attracting summer visitors by personal contact, a plan sponsored by the city council and Board of Commerce, Gordon B. Todd, secretary, left Tuesday on a trip which will take him to Grand Rapids, Ann Arbor, Detroit, Michigan City, Chicago and Cincinnati, O., for appointments to appear before executives and members of over forty firms and corpnrations which are at this time of year laying plans for summer conventions.

The reels of beautiful colored movies of scenic Charlevoix, its summer activities and recreatinnal facilities will be shown and literature will be distributed, as well as personal contacts made.

Appointments have been made for meetings in Grand Rapids with the Chamber of Commerce, Advertising Club and West Michigan Tourist and Resort Association. Detroit contacts include several Kiwanis groups, the Chicago, Duluth & Georgian Bay Transit Co., General Electric Corp., Dnal Brith Lodge, Detroit National Insurance Co., Heber, Fuger Wendin Co., Manufacturers' National Bank group, to mention a few, together with representation at the Detroit-Michigan Exposition. In Chicago, Mr. Todd will meet with the Advertising Club, Western Fuel Co., Chicago Insurance Exchange, Continental Illinois Bankers' and Legion Post meeting, a gathering of 3,000 persons, and many other groups.

In Cincinnati, through cooperation nf Hubert McCann, former local youth, a place has been given Charlevoix on a 2-hour Crosley Radio Corporation program, a meeting with its staff, the staff of the Cincinnati Times-Star and a display room at the Hotel Sinton.

The trip will also combine efforts to attract industries to this city and several interviews of this nature have heen arranged.

The trip is looked upon as Charlevoix's most important bid for summer business other than through the customary channels and is expected to produce great results.

SPECIAL SPEAKER SUNDAY, BAPTIST CHURCH

Rev. Walfred Danielson to Address Evening Service at 7:30

Rev. Walfred Danielson and Rev. Drury Martin of Lansing, will have charge of the evening service Sunday at the Baptist church.

Rev. Danielson, who comes from Assam, and is now associate secretary of the American Baptist Foreign Mission Society, has had experience as a christian teacher on both the foreign and home fields. He also served on the teaching staff of Bethel Institute, St. Paul, Minn., from where he was sent to Jorhat Assam, serving there five years.

Rev. Danielson will bring a helpful service and all are invited to hear him.

RAYDERS WINNER OVER MANCELONA

SCORED SIXTH VICTORY BY 43 TO 13 COUNT FRIDAY

Play East Jordan Here Friday Night In Last Home Appearance Until February 18th

Continuing their winning stride, Charlevoix's Red Rayders defeated Mancelona by a 43 to 13 count at the local gym Friday night to annex their sixth victory of the season.

Mancelona was never ahle to solve Charlevoix fast-breaking and tricky offense, nor could they crack the local defense. They were limited to three points in the first period while Charlevoix scored 14, and managed one goal in the second quarter to match 12 points. Charlevoix led 27 to 5 at the half. Mancelona scored three goals against a substitute lineup in the third period for an advantage of 0 points to 5, but were buried 12 points to 2 as the first-stringers re-entered the game in the final quarter.

Carey and Richardson again led the scoring, the former with 18 and the latter with 9 points. Dickinson was high for Mancelona with 5 points.

The line-ups:

Carey	9	0	0
Brown	0	0	1
	20	3	6

Mancelona (13)	FG	FT	P
Turnipseed	1	0	4
Epperson	1	0	0
Hardy	1	0	1
Dickinson	2	1	0

Charlevoix's reserves kept pace with the varsity, turning a 19 to 10 victory for their fifth of the season. Driggett was high scorer with 12 points.

The Rayders meet East Jordan on the home hardwood Friday night for their last home stand until February 18. The road trips will take them to Boyne City, Gaylord, East Jordan and Grayling in successive weeks. The contest against Boyne City's undefeated class C outfit on January 28 will provide the first real test for the Rayders this season and no douht will decide the northern Michigan class C leader.

HEAVY PINE PLANTING BY WOLVERINE CCC CAMP

Eleven 40-Acre Plots in Charlevoix County Received Plantings

Enrollees of CCC Camp Wolverine planted 468,800 Norway Pine and Jack Pin seedlings within the boundaries of the Hardwood State Forest during the 1937 fall tree planting program.

The planting included eleven 40-acre plots in Chandler township, Charlevoix county, located midway between Clarion and Wolverine; and fifteen 40-acre plots in Springvale township, Emmet county, 12 miles south and east of Petoskey.

During the year Camp Wolverine also continued the development and operatinn of the Hardwood State Forest Nursery, where many species of hardwood tree seedlings are grown for transplanting in state game areas to provide wildlife food and cover.

NEW LAWS GOVERNING GREAT LAKES ANGLING

Non-Residents Must Have License to Take Certain Species

Non-resident fishermen who try their luck in the Great Lakes this year will come under one regulation which includes two fine distinctions.

The regulation is among the changes in the state's fishing laws which have been effective since January 1.

Under the new regulations, non-residents are required to have a license to fish in the Great Lakes. There are exceptions, however. No license is required of them to fish for perch, catfish, bullheads, blue pike, sand pike, ciscoes and carp.

The other distinction in the regulation is that the no-license-needed provision applies only for taking the fish with hook and line. A license is needed for spearing the same species which are excepted from the hook and line regulation.

The minimum age for having a license has been reduced for non-residents, as well as residents, from 18 to 17 years.

GAME FISH PLANT IN COUNTY SHOWN

OVER MILLION FISH RELEASED DURING PAST YEAR

Wide Distribution Shown in Report By Guy Lincoln, Supervisor Oden State Hatchery

Encouragement for the hnpe of all anglers for still better fishing in Charlevoix county in 1938 and succeeding years lies in the fact that not only were more fish planted in 1937 than in 1936 but more of them were adult size.

The stocking of lakes and streams with yearlings and adults was increased last year by the fish divislon of the department of conservation in the belief that the percentage of survival from predators, environment deficiencies and other limiting factors will be much greater among the larger fish than among fry.

The following report of fish planted in Charlevoix county during 1937, released by Guy Lincoln, supervisor of fisheries operation, district No. 3, is not inclusive of fish planted by local sportsmen's organizations:

Brook trout 18 months old, 600; brook trout seven months old, 40,000; brook trout eight months old 36,200.

Brown trout two years old, 2,250; brown trout 20 months old, 1,200; brown trout 18 months old, 3,000; brown trout eight months old, 6,300; brown trout 6 months old, 44,000; brown trout 9 months nld, 26,000.

Rainhow trout 2 years nld, 2,250; rainbow trout 1½ years old, 2,800; rainbow trout 8 months old, 2,000.

Largemouth bass 3 months old, 1,300.

Yellow perch 7 months old, 10,000.

Pike perch, fry, 785,000.

Bluegills, 3 months old, 65,000.

Lake trout fry, 134,000.

EAST JORDAN MAN FREED ON CHECK PASSING CHARGE

Tried before a jury in Justice H. R. Fowler's court Friday afternoon, Dewey Hausler, East Jordan beer parlor operator, was exonerated on a charge nf passing worthless checks.

The warrant for Hausler's arrest was issued upon request of the Zaiger Beverage Company of Petoskey, to whnm it was alleged Hausler gave worthless checks for beer purchases.

The Girl Scouts will hold a Baked Goods sale on Saturday, January 22nd, at Wood Bros.—Adv. 3t1pd.

UTILITY PROPOSAL GOES TO ELECTORS

SPECIAL ELECTION IS SET FOR TUESDAY, FEBRUARY 8

Bond Issue of $98,000 Sought for New Diesel, Plant Exteosioo and Needed Improvements

As the result of action taken Tuesday night at a special meeting by the city council and citizens' committee, a proposal to install a 500 k. w. diesel unit at the municipal electric light plant will be placed before Charlevoix electors at a special election on Tuesday, February 8.

The proposal had the unanimous vote of council members and approval by the citizens' committee composed of Robert Bridge, Martin Block, Allen Campbell, W. E. Goss and Clarence F. Wood, who were named by local civic groups to work with the council to determine the city's pressing need for additional electric producing equipment.

The proposition calls for the installation of a 500 k. w. diesel engine, construction of an addition to the present electric light plant necessary to house the unit and purchaso of required auxiliary equipment. Estimates furnished by the Grand Rapids engineering firm of Hamilton & Weeber, retained by the city and citizens' committee, place the estimated cost at approximately $92,000.00. To this amount has been added $6,000 for improvements recommended for the Bellaire hydro plant by the engineers, making a total bond issue of $98,000, to be raised by the issuance of self-liquidating revenue bonds, payable from electric light revenues.

Tuesday night's action came after numerous meetings of council and citizens' committee members and an exhaustive and painstaking study of the city's need for additional electric energy. The proposal is aimed to remedy a production shortage which has placed the city in a precarious position for several years in event of break-down of any present producing units, and to place the electric system, particularly the Bellaire hydro unit, in first class condition.

As an example of the necessity of additional equipment, it was established that present units had a combined capacity of 970 k. w., while the peak summer load for a period of at least two months was 840 k. w. A break-down in any single unit, a calamity which only good fortune has prevented, would have placed the city in the embarrassing position of not being able to produce sufficient current for consumption needs. With the resort and hotel industry and at least 75% of local business institutions depending upon electricity for operation, one can readily vision the dangerous situation.

It is with gratification that the unanimous approval of the council and citizens' committee on the proposal can be reported and it is to be hoped that electors when voting upon the proposal will act from the standpoint of protecting their own and the city's welfare.

BOYNE FALLS ASSAULT CASE IS DISMISSED BY JUSTICE

Following failure of Mrs. Metro Skop, Boyne Falls beer parlor operator, to provide costs, the case against Ott Lawson, charged with assault and battery, was dismissed by Justice H. R. Fowler.

A justice court jury disagreed after the original trial and the case was to have been re-tried.

The case against Clark Fraley, Lawson's companion, charged with being disorderly, was dismissed also.

LANSING LETTER

By GENE ALLEMAN

Field Manager, Michigan Press Association

Happy news of the march of automobile workers back to their jobs has cheered Michigan from the uppermost toe of the Keweenaw peninsula on Lake Superior down to the Indiana state line. It has been highly heartening to business-men and farmers alike, as it signals a rise of hopes that the current recession is nearing an end and that good times will soon be back to stay.

Michigan's ace salaried man, Alfred P. Sloan, chairman of the General Motors corporation, has pledged full cooperation with the federal government.

And with General motors' vast surplus—it totaled $419,000,000 last September 30—this pledge has great significance.

If the public now regains its confidence and is willing to buy used automobiles so that dealers can accept more cars on trades for new machines, the wheels of production will keep turning.

High Wages, Low Prices

NYA DINNER MEETING A SUCCESSFUL AFFAIR

Aims of Administrations Outlined at Hotel Charlevoix, Thursday

The dinner and business meeting of the National Youth Administration, held Thursday evening at Hotel Charlevoix, was a successful affair.

Twenty-four persons attended, representing the NYA staff, superintendents of schools and co-sponsors of NYA work projects. The principal speaker was Mr. Bradshaw, state NYA director, who discussed the need of vocational training schools for unemployed youth. Many questions were answered regarding NYA student aid and work projects.

Among those present was Mrs. Meads, Cheboygan District No. 1 NYA representative.

PETOSKEY CHOOSES ITS WINTER QUEEN

Miss June Hagle Named to Compete for Michigan Title Honor

June Hagle, 17-year-old blonde, is Petoskey's Snow Queen for 1938 and will seek the honor of serving as Michigan's Winter Queen.

The beautiful high school student was elected Wednesday evening at ceremonies in the Temple Theatre from a field of 10 contestants. A crowd of 400 attended the event.

Cutworm baiting in 1037 paid high dividends on the 37,030 acres on which the materials were spread. Estimates for 21 counties indicate crops saved from the pests were worth $233,000.

Bait consisted of a combination of materials. Poison, bran, molasses, banana oil and sawdust were commonly used. The sawdust used was up to one-third of the amount of bran. This cut bait costs and served as a conditioner, making the bait easier to handle.

County agricultural agents worked with farmers through the aid of extension entomologists at Michigan State College. The latter have compiled estimated results of this campaign. As it followed the baiting program set up to cut down the grasshopper population, some areas could only make estimates as to when the hoppers were succeeded at the bait feeding by the cutworms.

In Berrien county 12,000 acres were baited. The poison bait weighed 180 tons but saved $120,000 worth of fruits and vegetables.

Bait cost 15 to 50 cents an acre, but the saving on each acre protected in the state apparently cut $0 from the bond bill that cutworms would have presented to crop producers. One of the results of the campaign, still not measured, is the effect the 1937 baiting program will have on the cutworms ready to come out to battle crops this year.

NATURAL GAS FOR PETOSKEY IS PREDICTED

Drillers Hit Gas in Oil Operations Three Miles from Vanderbilt

The possibility that natural gas will be available for Petoskey residents in the future has been advanced by F. D. Barton, of Saginaw, who is drilling a well near Vanderbilt.

"We struck what I consider commercial gas at 640 feet," Mr. Barton said. "We are continuing the shaft to explore the oil possibilities and will go to 1,300 feet where we expect to hit the Dundee formation.

"If we don't find oil, we'll concentrate on the gas possibilities. The well is only 18 miles from Petoskey as the crow flies, being located three miles from Vanderbilt. I believe that we will be ready to offer natural gas to Petoskey sometime next summer."

LESS THAN TWO WEEKS' LEFT FOR MINK HUNTING

Season Closes January 31st Until November Next Fall

Mink can be hunted only during the months of November, December and January and they can be trapped only during the regular muskrat trapping seasons which include the month of November in the upper peninsula, from November 15 to December 15 in the northern half of the lower peninsula and the month of December in the southern half of the lower peninsula.

WOMEN INVITED TO MSC FARMERS' WEEK

Special Programs Are Designed for Event January 30 to February 4

Special programs designed for rural women of Michigan are being prepared for presentation to visitors when Michigan State College offers its 23rd annual Farmers' Week program at East Lansing, January 31 to February 4.

Some of the women will be participating in the program. One of the highlights of the week will be the annual rural drama contest in which finalists from different counties will present plays Friday and Saturday, February 4 and 5. The special home economics program officially runs Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday of that week.

Buying tips on foods, textiles and home equipment are offered in the home economics building Tuesday, February 1. Wednesday's program offers problems of personality, safety in the home, child care and training and more food preparation. Thursday features fabrics, farm security and a talk by Marta Dalen, student at the college, about her home life in Sweden.

Fashions, in which rural women can get clothing tips, will be paraded for the visitors. Tuesday afternoon there is to be a showing of costumes made by students in classes at the college.

The annual home economics session banquet will be held Tuesday evening in the Union Building. Dr. Hazel Kyrk, associate professor of home economics, University of Chicago, is to address the women on the subject of "Improving the Farm Standard of Living."

DIVERTED SPUDS MUST BE FED TO LIVESTOCK

Farmers Cannot Get Payment Merely By Destroying Potatoes

Commissioner John B. Strange of the Department of Agriculture, today issued a warning to farmers that the program for diverting No. 2 potatoes to livestock feed, requires that the potatoes be fed to livestock and that no farmer will be able to qualify for diversion payment for the destruction of potatoes.

"The official diversion authorization forms," according to Commissioner Strange, "specify that the potatoes must be diverted to livestock feed and that farmers must submit proof of such diversion before payment will be made. In making application for payment, farmers must certify and have notorized a certificate of performance stating that the potatoes were diverted to livestock feed. There will be no payments made for destruction of potatoes."

HUNT LICENSES NOT NEEDED WITH REPORT

Small Game Licenses Don't Expire Until Sept.—Should Be Kept

Small game hunters who send their licenses to the department of conservation along with the report cards which they are required by law to turn over by February 15 are relinquishing something they will need if they want to hunt or obtain a gun permit between now and next September 30.

A considerable number of hunters have evidently assumed that their licenses should accompany the report cards. In the case of deer hunters, the misapprehension is not important because all deer hunters will have to obtain new licenses for the 1038 season anyway. But small game licenses do not expire until the end of September and are needed between now and then by anyone who wants to engage in such activities as shooting crows or target practice. The licenses are the evidence required by law for obtaining a gun permit.

The department of conservation has been returning the licenses by mail, but hunters are requested not to send them in with their reports. With only about three weeks remaining before the deadline, hundreds of hunters have not yet reported on their luck. The year ended with only about 60,000 deer hunters having sent in the report cards which were attached to all licenses issued in 1937, but since then the rate of return has increased, especially from small game hunters whose season did not close until December 31.

"Through 12,000 Miles of Barbed Wire"

This is the title of a remarkable, startling series of articles by H. R. Knickerbocker, America's most celebrated foreign correspondent, now daily in The Detroit Times. Knickerbocker, after a journey which took him half way around the world, discloses startling findings of terror—yellow and red — threatening the world.

Mr. Mussolini makes a red hot speech announcing that Italy is leaving the League of Nations. Which is a good deal like moving out of a house after the roof has fallen in.

LANSING LETTER

the "American system," under the existing order of things, probably more so than the average state.

It was the automobile industry, led by such men as Henry Ford, Chrysler, Olds and others, that attained the greatest degree of success in constantly lowering prices for the consumer, while constantly increasing wages for the worker.

The automobile that sold 30 years ago for $1,500 can be purchased today for half of that sum. And it is a far better product, giving far greater satisfaction to the man who owns it. Michigan men and Michigan plants have made this possible.

Today, according to Sloan, the most important problem before business is "the worker in industry."

Sticking close to the old formula, Michigan's Sloan recently declared: "If to increase wages means to increase selling prices, little is gained and perhaps much is lost. To increase wages and at the same time to maintain, or still better, reduce selling prices, is the true road to more things for more people—to a higher standard of living."

How to maintain a happy balance of wages and prices has always been an enigma, a constant challenge to advocates of a "planned economy."

As Leon Henderson, economist for the WPA who, one year ago, forecast the present business tailspin, pointed out in a radio talk on New Year's Day, "consumers in the ordinary course of events have got to have low prices and sustained income."

What Labor Wants

As the time nears when the governor is expected to call the state legislature back for a special session, organized labor is mobilizing their best minds in an endeavor to agree on what labor wants in the way of state laws.

The two labor camps, the American Federation of Labor and the CIO, have been at armed points in Michigan as in other states.

In recent weeks, the leaders of each group have met at Lansing in an endeavor to formulate a program of legislative desires.

Here is the CIO program, which if adopted by the legislature, would bring about the following:

1. A "little Wagner act" for Michigan. This would be administered presumably in much the same manner as the National Wagner act is handled by the National Labor Relations board. The national act accords to workers in interstate commerce the right of collective bargaining for betterment of their wages, hours and working conditions. It exacts no responsibilities from labor, as does the British system of recognized collective bargaining by unions along with recognized public responsibility by unions.

2. Licensing private detectives and police agencies through state registration. This is obviously to curb the "industrial spy" abuse.

3. Anti-injunction law, curbing the power of the courts to restrain labor from violation of contracts, illegal seizure of plants, etc.

Civil Liberties

4. Civil liberties law, forbidding local authorities from prohibiting distribution of pamphlets, mass meetings, parades, etc. The United States district court recently upheld the city of Dearborn in a test suit over an ordinance prohibiting the handing out of handbills at certain designated traffic points (gates to the Ford factories, etc.)

5. Limit power of sheriffs in appointment of deputies. The number of deputies would be limited, and their qualifications would be defined by law. This is obviously aimed at such cases as the one existing in Monroe where Mayor Daniel Knaggs, recently re-elected by an overwhelming vote, deputized many Legionnaires to help maintain the public peace.

6. Minimum wages and maximum hours; a law for Michigan business and commerce patterned after the federal wage-hour bill now before Congress. This would put a floor on wages and a ceiling on hours. If the stand of the National CIO on the federal measure is any guide to what Michigan might expect in a state law, we would have a minimum wage of $16 a week and a maximum hour limit of 40 hours.

Babson has pointed out that English trade unions approve a minimum wage of $10 for women. He also points out that the 40-hour idea has not worked out well in France or Belgium because production was lowered and prices were increased beyond the consumer's ability to pay.

Income Tax Here?

Recently when the Governor of Texas wrote to the Governor of Michigan regarding our sales tax which produced some $56,000,000 last year, Governor Murphy replied in words of profuse praise. Draper Allen, managing director of the state tax administration, said to interviewers at Washington that he doubted that Murphy would try to substitute an income tax for the sales tax that is paid by rich and poor alike according to their ability to spend.

The first sign that the administration was veering in the direction of a state income tax came recently when George Schroeder, speaker of the house, dropped a hint to pressmen. Then the governor, speaking at the Jackson $25-per-plate dinner in Detroit, commented favorably on a state income tax.

When announcement was made by Chairman John N. Fegan, following his successful court test with former Chairman McPherson, of the appointment of Charles Darwin Rosa as special tax consultant, the pieces of the jig-saw puzzle began to fit together.

"The sales tax is the worst tax there is," he told pressmen at Lansing.

Four times the voters of Michigan have rejected a state income tax.

Will the legislature, waiving possible constitutional objections, pass such a revenue law at the special session?

As pointed out in this news letter on January 0, the coming legislative session holds many interesting potentialities.

It has to be BIG!
The people of Michigan make an average of 3,245,000 telephone calls a day over the lines of the Michigan Bell Telephone Company—about 2250 every minute. It's a big job to keep this enormous tide of conversation flowing smoothly back and forth . . . to keep good service available at all hours. This job takes 3,816,000 miles of wire. It takes 653,000 telephones. It takes 326 buildings. And it takes a working force of 9300 men and women. In short, it takes a big company to do a big job!

O. I. Gregg, Landscaping Specialist, To Give Lecture

O. I. Gregg, landscape extension specialist in Michigan for eleven years, tells the story by means of beautiful slides taken in natural color by himself. These pictures are of homes from all over the state, several from this county included, that have followed his advice. In addition there are several slides on special subjects including flowers and special shrubs.

This lecture, free to all interested in making their homes more attractive, will be given in the Boyne City Library on Friday afternoon, January 28 at 2:30 promptly. You will find his lecture most instructive to say the least. By means of colored slides you can readily assimilate the fundamentals of landscaping.

During the past 10 years many homes in this county have followed Mr. Gregg's outlines and their beauty and attractiveness will attest his knowledge of landscaping. Don't forget Friday afternoon, January 28 in the Boyne City Library at 2:30 p. m.

4-H Club Leaders to Have Training Meeting and Banquet

The second training meeting and banquet for the winter season of 1937-38 will be held at the Marion Center Grange on Monday night, January 24, promptly at 5:30 o'clock. A. G. Kettunen, state club leader, and Miss Olga Bird, assistant state club leader, will be present to discuss the features of the 1938 4-H club program. The banquet will be pot luck with meat and drinks furnished by the club department. Mrs. Sally Blake, teacher of the Marion Center school, and the club members will act as hosts and are making the final plans for this enjoyable occasion.

Elsewhere in the paper will be found a list of the club leaders and projects throughout the county. Just stop to realize how worth while those projects are in the development of citizenship and character, and over 400 of these splendid farm boys and girls are scattered throughout the county, each one having a specific project to complete along with definite responsibility.

Tuberculosis Attacks Youth

In spite of all activities for the control and for the prevention of infections of tuberculosis at least 10-60% of the population show evidence of its presence when maturity is reached. Segregation of carriers remains the only measure of approach to all contagious diseases. Here we are often limited because of the difficulty in obtaining isolation. On the other hand there is evidence indicating that in an appreciable number of adults with clinical tuberculosis a history of contact, usually of continuous and prolonged type, is obtained. Not long ago in a study of slightly over 1,000 children under 15 years of age of which approximately one-half were contacts and one half were not, tuberculosis of the adult type was found in eleven of the contacts but not in a single instance was it encountered in the non-contacts.

Eliminating some of the factors it might be said for the present that the problem resolves itself to the avoidance of infections with large doses of tubercle bacilli by early discovery of frank cases of tuberculosis and by the application of appropriate therapeutic management of the abacillary cases not necessarily under isolated conditions, but of all open cases under segregation.

It is not possible for the physician under ordinary circumstances to discover all early cases of tuberculosis. Physical signs in minimal and early moderately advanced disease may be entirely wanting or so indistinct as to give no clue of the presence of pulmonary changes. In other words, assuming that the patient consults the physician soon after symptoms manifest themselves and that the physician in turn is alert enough to think of the presence of tuberculosis, the disease by that time has already passed in its earlier stages but awaiting the development of the symptoms is not possible because of the slowness of onset.

It is apparent therefore that the finding of early cases of tuberculosis depends upon more extensive case-finding program, the wider use of the x-ray and less attention to physical examination. This is so especially for patients who consult physicians for symptoms that even in the remotest way suggests the possibility or probability of tuberculosis. Having tuberculosis the physician must exert all his influence and personality and the confidence in the patient in him to examine all contacts or arrange for free examination when economic conditions forbid otherwise. Without the family physician this work cannot be successful. Unless he is convinced of the importance of such studies work cannot be of the greatest lasting or even of immediate benefit.

DEPARTMENT OF STATE NEWS BULLETIN

Some Seek Drivers' Permits Too Soon

Indications that many motorists of Michigan are seeking to evade the coming examination for operators license are offered from applications received from persons whose present license will be valid for some time to come.

Leon D. Case, secretary of state, has warned that the state's licensing act prohibits the issuance of a license to any applicant whose present license does not expire in less than six months. Several thousand premature applications have been returned to applicants in the past few weeks.

This process adds to the cost of administration of the license law because of the involvements of the procedure. Credit of 15 cents to local governments for each license, has already been posted on departmental books when applications are checked; in instances where applications are rejected, such credits must be withdrawn. The entire refunding process to the counties is slowed up by the increasing volume of such operations.

THIS WEEK'S RECIPES

Chocolate-Coated Candied Apples

3 tart, firm apples, 1 cup sugar, 1 cup honey, ½ cup water, ¼ teaspoon salt, chocolate for dipping.

Boil together the sugar, honey, water and salt for a few minutes. Wash, core and pare the apples, cut into half moon shaped pieces about half an inch thick, drop into the syrup, and cook rapidly until the apples are transparent and practically all the syrup is absorbed. Lift onto waxed paper to dry. Break up cake chocolate made especially for dipping candies, and put into a shallow dish over hot water. As soon as the chocolate begins to soften, remove from the hot water, and stir the chocolate with the fingers until it is all melted. Dip the pieces of apple into the melted chocolate until well coated, and place on waxed paper to dry. Pack the apple candies in layers between sheets of waxed paper.

"Blushing Apple Salad"

Select firm, tart apples, pare, and core. Cook in a covered pan in syrup made in the proportion of 2 cups of water and 1 cup of sugar. Use enough syrup to cover the apples and add enough red cinnamon candies to make the apples rose color. Drain the apples, chill, and fill with cottage or cream cheese. Or form the cheese into balls, roll in ground nuts, and place beside the apples. Serve on lettuce with mayonnaise or French dressing.

Place a thin layer of spiced apple butter on baked pork chops or smoked ham slices. Add the butter about fifteen minutes before the meat is removed from the oven.

OWNERS REPORT
22 TO 27 MILES PER GALLON!

22 to 27 miles per gallon of gasoline! That's what many owners are reporting for the 60-horsepower Ford V-8.

That's real economy. And you'll like everything else about this Ford V-8 "60." It's smart looking. Interiors are trim and there's plenty of room for both passengers and luggage. The 85-horsepower engine is available if you want its extra power.

The Ford 60-horsepower V-type 8-cylinder engine was introduced last year. More than 300,000 people have bought it. That gives a pretty good idea of its popularity. Besides its amazing economy, the thrifty "60" is dependable and can take the beating of continued hard farm use.

For those folks who want a bigger, finer car with all the traditional Ford economy and dependability—there's the De Luxe Ford V-8. It is built on the same sturdy 112-inch wheelbase chassis but it is equipped with the 85-horsepower engine only.

Economy

The watchword of the day at this session of Congress is economy. Appropriation bills are coming in slashed to the bone. The CCC suffered to the extent of $130,000,000 and fifty thousand boys will have to look elsewhere for a livelihood. The cut in CCC funds provoked a lively battle. But the administration won out on the floor when an attempt was made to restore the camps to their original status. Not only is the Bureau of the Budget putting huge cuts into effect, but when the bills are under consideration by the sub-committees still more reductions are made. Take the item covering third-class post offices in the appropriation for the postal department—the department asked for $8,083,000. The Budget Bureau cut it down to $7,250,000 and the sub-committee slashed another $200,000. And so it goes. All the way through the various departments. None are escaping the economy axe.

Item Veto

Congress is about to revolt because of an amendment which was slipped into the Independent Offices Bill which gives the President the right of vetoing in whole or in part any item he sees fit to do so. The amendment is one of those mysterious things which wasn't considered by the committee and found its way on to the floor of the House when only a handful of congressmen were present. Chairman Woodrum of the sub-committee which handled the bill has taken sole responsibility for the amendment. What is feared is that Congress is giving its right away to make appropriations and that such action may result in the Chief Executive using the veto power as a club over the heads of any member who strays off the reservation or otherwise. The arguments which have been made against it hinge on those two points. However upwards to 20 states, including Michigan, give the power of item veto to their executives and no such abuses have happened. But the House is in a surly mood and an effort will be made to eliminate the item veto feature when the bill gets to the Senate.

The President

10:30 a. m. — Aubrey Williams, Acting Administrator of WPA came to discuss relief problems.

11:00 a. m.—The conference with utility men, including Daniel C. Green, president of the Central Service Corporation; A. B. West, president of the Nevada-California Electric Corporation; and John Carpenter, president of the Texas Power and Light Company.

12:00 Noon—Senator Glass headed a delegation to invite the President to speak at the occasion of the hundredth anniversary of the founding of Virginia Military Institute, November 11, 1939. The President accepted.

12:10 p. m.—Holbrook Smith, a Republican, came to discuss conditions abroad.

12:45 p. m.—Senator Reynold of Tennessee and Congressman Weaver of North Carolina, called to discuss the acquisition of property by the Government for the Smoky National Park.

1:00 p. m.—Governor Murphy of Michigan called for luncheon and discussed the automobile labor situation with the President.

2:00 p. m. — Postmaster General Farley, and Chairman of the Democratic National Committee, called with an unannounced purpose.

3:00 p. m.—Press conference.

5:00 p. m.—A delegation of business leaders, consisting of Alfred P. Sloan of General Motors, Ernest Wier of National Steel, Louis Brown of John-Manville, M. W. Clement of Pennsylvania Railroad, and Colby Chester of the National Association of Manufacturers, called to canvass the causes and possible cures of the business recession.

DECEMBER KILL OF PREDATORS IS LARGE

Conservation Department Reports 454 Animals Were Destroyed

Four hundred and fifty-four predators were eliminated from competition with game animals during December, bounty records of the department of conservation show.

Coyotes made up the largest haul, a total of 143 including 219 males, 206 females, 12 female pups and six male pups. In addition six male wolves and one female adult and one male wolf pup were taken during the month.

COUNCIL PROCEEDINGS

January 17, 1938

The common council of the city of Charlevoix met on the above date with Mayor Bergeon presiding.

Aldermen present Cartier, Erber, Hooker, Kibbe and Ranger.

Minutes of previous meeting were read and approved.

AT THE MOVIES

Frank Morgan and Laugh Cast In Palace Feature

Genial, laughable Frank Morgan of the quivering eyebrow and uncertain mein, is lifted to top billing in "Beg, Borrow or Steal," hilarious feature comedy which opens at the Palace Theatre Wednesday, January 26th for n run of two days.

"Beg, Borrow or Steal" is described as a mad comedy in the vein of "My Man Godfrey" and "Libeled Lady", in which unabridged nonsense reigns supreme and Morgan is complete master of the humorous situation.

4-H CLUB ENROLLMENT HIGH LEVEL

OVER FOUR HUNDRED PARTICIPATE IN COUNTY

List of Clubs and Club Leaders Given in Report Presented by County Agent O. F. Walker

(By O. F. Walker)

Interest in 4-H club work in this county has increased to such an extent that over 400 boys and girls have enrolled in handicraft, clothing and hot lunch projects. Practically all the members are also carrying a supplementary 4-H club health project that consists of checking their personal habits, general health habits and food habits six times during the year.

The success of any 4-H club program is based on the voluntary efforts of the local leaders in the various communities. These leaders spend considerable time and give much valuable information to the boys and girls while they are working on their projects.

Handicraft: Advance school, Kenneth Rehkopf; Bay Shore, Ivan Thomson; Clarion school, Donald Dow; clark school, Wm. Parsons; Horton Bay, Dorsey Leckrone; Hopyard school, Mrs. Florence Novotny; Lakeside school, Elvin Leckrone; Marion Center, Bob Straw; McGeah school, Wm. Cooper; Phelps school, Fred Falting; Ranney school, Mrs. Alida Hutton; Tainter school, Melvin Somerville; Undine school, Gould S. Pinney; Walloon Lake school, Wm. Loughlin; East Jordan school, Lester Walcutt.

Clothing: Bay Shore school, Mrs. Ivan Thomson; Clark school, Mrs. Anna Warner; Clarion school, Martha Reidel; Horton Bay school, Irene VanHoesen; Hopyard school, Mrs. Florence Novotny; Lakeside school, Mrs. Paul Skornia; Marion Center school, Mrs. Ida Cellner; McGeagh school, Mrs. Mildred Ochs; North Bay, Mrs. Evelyn Kuteskey; Murray, Mrs. Thelma Johnson; Phelps school, Mrs. Effie Francisco; Ranney school, Mrs. Alida Hutton; Tainter, Miss Lucille Stanek; Undine, Mrs. Gould Pinney, Walloon Lake, Mrs. Addie March.

WILLARD ALBON SMITH VICTIM HEART ATTACK

Sudden Death Jan. 14 at Dalton, Ga., a Shock—Funeral Today

Charlevoix citizens paid their last respects to Willard Albon Smith, well known local resident, at funeral service conducted by Rev. G. R. Parker from the See Funeral Home at 2 o'clock Wednesday afternoon.

Mr. Smith's sudden death from heart attack occurred January 14 at Dalton, Ga., while he, together with Mrs. Smith, Mrs. Louisa Elston and Mrs. William Taylor were enroute by motor to Clearwater, Fla. His passing was a severe shock to his family and friends.

Willard Albon Smith was born in Charlevoix, August 24, 1874, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Willard A. Smith, the former founder of the Charlevoix Sentinel, one of northern Michigan's first publications. Mr. Smith followed his father as a printer and was associated in the business many years. He also spent considerable time sailing on the Great Lakes and on vessels operating from this port. Mr. Smith had been inactive for the past couple years following injury while employed by the city of Charlevoix.

Mr. Smith was married to Molly Mooney of St. James, on January 4, 1906. Surviving him are the widow and two sisters, Mrs. Florence Adams, now of Detroit, and Mrs. H. O. Smith of Toledo, O. A sister preceded him in death.

DIG UP HISTORY FOR NEW WILDLIFE CONTEST

Essays to Promote Michigan Game Sought in M. S. C. Proposal

Who remembers that native of Michigan, now extinct,—the passenger pigeon, or the game fish grayling that once was so abundant and now is found no more?

Throughout Michigan school children in two classes from first through the eighth grades und from the 9th through the 12th grades are being told they are eligible to compete for prizes in a statewide essay contest designed to promote interest in wild life restoration in Michigan.

P. A. Herbert, head of the forestry department at Michigan State College and general chairman of the Michigan wildlife restoration week committee, is issuing the challenge to the school children.

"Go back to your elders," he advises, "and find out what the state once had that is no longer abundant in wild life. Some were valuable, others would still be a menace. But we want to know more about old time wildlife history of the state."

Trophies and medals are being prepared for the winners and in some communities special local prizes are being offered. Essays must be submitted to school principals by March 1, to county school commissioners by March 7. Three winning essays in each county are to be in the hands of the Superintendent of Public Instruction, Lansing, by March 14. Winners are to be announced in the finals Monday, March 21.

Leaflets describing the contest are being distributed in schools throughout the state.

PLEA FOR WILDERNESS PARK HIGHWAY FAILED

Conservation Commission Voted 5 to 1 Against Request Friday

The State Conservation Commission last Friday denied a petition of Petoskey, Harbor Springs and Mackinaw City residents that a road be opened through Wilderness State Park.

"We rejected the proposals because the park is the last uncommercialized area below the Straits of Mackinac," Conservation Director P. J. Hoffmaster said. "We want to preserve the park in its natural beauty."

The delegation from the three cities asked the commission to permit construction of an 18 mile highway in Emmet county because, they argued, it would make the park available for a greater number of people.

The commission pointed out that 45,000 persons visited the park in 1937 and claimed that the natural wilderness of the park was responsible for the large attendance.

It was the third time in the last 10 years that the commission has denied similar petitions.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE SOCIETY

Sunday morning service, 10:45.

Sunday school, 12 o'clock.

Meets first Wednesday evening each month at 7:45 p. m.

Reading room open Saturday, 3 to 5 p. m.

We cordially invite the public to our service and reading room.

"Truth" will be the subject of the lesson-sermon in all Christian Science churches throughout the world on Sunday, January 23.

The Golden Text, from Psalm 86:-15, is: "Thou, O Lord, art a God full of compassion, and gracious, long-suffering, and plenteous in mercy and truth."

Among the Bible citations is this passage (Psalm 25:5): "Lead me in thy truth, and teach me: for thou art the God of my salvation; on thee do I wait all the day."

Correlative passages to be read from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures", by Mary Baker Eddy, include the following (p. 272): "The spiritual sense of truth must be gained before Truth can be understood. This sense is assimilated only as we are honest, unselfish, loving and meek."

SALES TAX HEAD WARNS ABOUT MISREPRESENTING

Following several complaints from various sections of the state that persons had been misrepresenting themselves as sales tax employees, Draper Allen, manging director of the state board of tax administration, today warned merchants not to open their sales tax books or make sales tax payments to anyone who could not properly identify himself as a member of the department.

EXCUSES

It is well to be tolerant of other people's short-comings, but it never pays to overlook those of your own. Be harsh in your judgment of yourself, for your own sake. You may often be justified in making excuses for another, never for yourself.—Ex.

NO CHANGE IN SOCIAL TAX RATE UNTIL 1940

Traverse City Office Gives Instructions Relative to Payments

There is no change in the 1938 rate of contribution for old-age insurance, it was announced today by Clifton H. Little, manager of the Traverse City field office of the Social Security Board.

"This year and next the employee and employer continue to contribute one per cent each for old-age insurance," Mr. Little said.

"One percent is deducted from the wages of all persons who are employed in occupations covered by the Social Security Act. A like amount is added by the employer, the combined contributions being sent to the United States collector of internal revenue each quarter, instead of monthly as heretofore.

"Contributions for the first three months of 1938 are due not later than April 30 under this arrangement," Mr. Little added.

He said the Social Security Act provides for an increase in employer-employee contributions to 1½ percent starting January 1, 1940. Contribution rates under the various unemployment compensation laws reach their maximum this year, Mr. Little reported.

In Region V, which is the social security unit under which the Traverse City office is operated, are three states, Michigan, Ohio and Kentucky. The unemployment compensation law in Michigan provides for a 3 percent contribution rate in 1938. A contribution of three-tenths of one percent of the payroll is also payable to the United States collector of Internal Revenue.

Mr. Little further advised employers that they should make certain that their temporary employees report their social security account numbers before leaving employment. It was pointed out that employers must have these numbers when filing reports of workers from whose wages taxes have been deducted under the Social Security Act.

"Employees must report their numbers to employers, also," Mr. Little added, "if they are to receive full credit in their social security accounts for wages earned.

EXPLANATION POTATO DIVERSION PROGRAM IS GIVEN IN DETAIL

There has been some misunderstanding by both farmers and people who are not farmers in regard to the potato diversion program according to Charles D. Shepard, chairman of Charlevoix County Agricultural Conservation Committee. The principle of diverting excess potatoes into livestock feed rather than allowing them to become a direct loss underlies the entire program and no payment will be made in case the potatoes are wasted or destroyed.

Michigan's 1937 potato crop of 28,634,000 bushels is about 2½ million bushels larger than the 1936 crop and about 5¼ million bushels larger than the average for the period 1928 through 1932. Michigan's livestock diversion represents about 15 percent of the increase in production in 1937 over the 5-year average.

The payment of 15c per bushel is made to encourage this principle by the potato producers with the thought, that with this encouragement they will feed their lower grades of potatoes and put on the market their best potatoes of which there is an ample supply. The criticism that farmers should not feed their potatoes is just as unjust as it would be to criticise a farmer for feeding wheat or corn to his livestock or surplus milk to his hogs.

To get this payment the farmer must apply to the County Agricultural Conservation office. After his application has been approved he must inform the county office of the date he will have his potntoes ready for inspection, and where the potatoes are located. To prepare for inspection the potatoes that are intended for feed must be separated from any potatoes he expects to sell, eat or plant and be in a bin or container in such manner that the bushels may be computed. A licensed inspector will inspect for grade and amount, and dye all eligible lots. The dye used in this connection is not a poison and is applied in such a manner that no harm can come from its use.

AMERICAN LEGION ACTIVITIES

February 1, 1938 at 8:00 p. m. there will be a joint meeting at the Legion hall of all service organizations. Gold star mothers and their husbands are invited to attend.

There will be a short program consisting of musical numbers. The Legion hungry five is expected to be there. An attempt is being made to secure motion pictures of the recent Legion National Convention. The talk of the evening will be given by Rev. Alexander, on alliances between nations, following which refeshments will be served.

MR. AND MRS. DAN WILLIAMS DIED 28 HOURS APART

Were Born on Mackinac Island and Associated With Early History of Northern Michigan

Charlevoix today mourns the death of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Williams, whose passing within almost a 28-hour period ended 63 years of wedded life and two careers closely associated with the early history of northern Michigan.

Mr. Williams died at 12:30 o'clock Sunday morning and Mrs. Williams at 4:30 o'clock Monday morning. They had been under the constant care of nurses for a year.

Both were born on Mackinac Island, Elizabeth Whitney on June 24, 1844, and Mr. Williams on May 13, 1851. Her father, Walter Whitney, a ship builder, served in the Seminole wars. Her mother, who lived to be one hundred, was the daughter of British parents, her father having served in the garrison there.

The family lived on various islands, their habitate being determined by the work the father could find. They lived on Beaver Island shortly after "King" James J. Strang established his Mormon colony. Faced with the choice of joining the Mormons or leaving the island, they moved to Pine River (now Charlevoix), returning to St. James following "King" Strang's death.

It was at St. James that the then Elizabeth Whitney married a man named Van Riper, a school teacher at Garden Island and later appointed keeper of the Beaver Harbor lighthouse. He lost his life by drowning while engaged in rescuing sailors from a sinking ship. His wife was appointed to succeed him as lighthouse keeper.

On September 10, 1875, the then Mrs. Van Riper and Daniel Williams, who was a cooper by trade, and was engaged building fish barrels on Beaver Island, were married. She continued as lighthouse keeper at Beaver Harbor until 1884, when she was transferred to Harbor Springs as keeper of the Harbor Point lighthouse on Little Traverse Bay. Mr. Williams operated a photographic gallery at Harbor Springs during their residence there which terminated in 1906 when Mrs. Williams retired after 43 years with the government lighthouse service. The same year the couple moved to Charlevoix, their residence since.

FIVE THOUSAND EXPECT TO TAKE STATE TESTS

Many Applications Received for Civil Service Exam. Feb. 12

The state civil service department has predicted 5,000 persons will take the open competitive examinations for various clerical positions Feb. 12.

These exams will be precedent making in Michigan. For the first time, vacant clerical positions in all state departments will be filled from eligible lists established by these competitive tests. All applications for these examinations must be postmarked before midnight January 29, the department warned.

CHARLEVOIX - FLINT CLUB PARTY FEB. 25

All Former Charlevoix County Residents Invited to Attend

In an effort to attract a larger attendance at annual Charlevoix-Flint Club party, an early announcement of the date for the event has been made by officers.

The party will be held Friday, February 25th, in the I. M. A. recreational rooms, seventh floor, with a potluck supper at 6 o'clock, followed by entertainment.

An invitation is extended not only to just former Charlevoixians now residing in Flint, but to any former Charlevoix county resident. The party was not held last year and the present effort is to bring about a reorganization of the group and revive interest in the annual party.

Those planning to attend are requested to communicate with Mrs. Howard Bennett, Flint phone 31872, or with Mrs. Dan Bacot or Mrs. John Lawrence, whose telephone and address may be obtained from the Flint directory.

PRESIDENT'S BALL SATURDAY EVENING

FIFTH ANNUAL COUNTY EVENT AT THE ARGONNE

Support Solicited Through National Slogan: "Millions Will Dance So Others Can Walk"

Charlevoix county's fifth annual President's Birthday Ball, sponsored in connection with a nation-wide effort to raise funds for the fight against infantile paralysis will be held Saturday evening, January 29th, at The Argonne.

Arlo Wickersham, chairman of the county committee, stated this week: "It is most gratifying that the ticket sale for the President's ball has met with such a generous response. While many persons have not yet been contacted, it appears that attendance and contrihutions this year will far exceed the past.

"Those who wish tickets may obtain them from members of the committee composed of Mrs. Leo Allard and Dan McCann of Charlevoix, Mayor Pat Mitchell and Roy Winegarden of Boyne City, Mrs. George Hansen and Mrs. Roy Meyers of Ironton, and Frank Crowell, Percy Penfold and Calvin Bennett of East Jordan."

Infantile paralysis is no respector of age, though it is most common among young people with a full life before them. In 1936 there were 2,036 cases reported. In 1937, up to October I, this total had jumped four times to 8,450. Unless there is a universul fight carried on to stop this increase, one of the worst ravages of mankind, it will increase by leaps and bounds.

Patriotic citizens are asked to either attend the ball or contribute their financial support.

Most of the warm-water game fish, as those of the sunfish family (black basses, crappies, sunfishes, gluegills, etc.), tolerate water of surprising warmth (90 to 95 and even 100 degrees fahrenheit), providing it is relatively pure and well aerated.

WINTER BLIZZARD STRIKES MICHIGAN

REGION DIGS OUT OF WORST STORM OF SEASON

Train Service Cancelled, Highways Plugged Throughout District As Crew Battle Drifts

Charlevoix and northern Michigan is today digging out of its portion of a state-wide blizzard, the worst of the winter and termed the most severe in recent years.

Reports from the upper peninsula and down-state indicate this region was dealt with generously in comparison with conditions in other sections.

The worst highway and street conditions in recent years resulted when slowly descending temperatures Tuesday changed a steady 24-hour rainfall, which followed Sunday's heavy thaw, to snow. Upon highways and streets deep with water which could not drain uway due to frozen ground and faulty drainage, came several inches of snow, transforming them into rivers of slush.

Changing from east to northwest, the wind increased to blizzard proportions Tuesday afternoon. Highway maintenance crews were able to keep trunk lines passable until late in the night, but early Wednesday morning U. S. 31 was blocked both north and south for a short time. Traffic to Petoskey was opened by mid forenoon and plows were winning the battle on the route south this afternoon. Several days will likely be required to widen the trunk lines out. Similar conditions existed on the Charlevoix-Boyne City road, and M-66 to East Jordan, while other county roads are impassable.

Rural mail carriers failed to make their routes Tuesday and Wednesday. The star route mail truck from Grand Rapids was unreported at noon Wednesday and train service over the Pere Marquette was cancelled for the day. As a result this city was without mail service Wednesday.

Highway conditions Tuesday afternoon are well indicated by the report of one traveling man who stated his car was towed out nine times between Traverse City and Charlevoix.

The upper peninsula was hard hit. School busses were marooned with pupils as mountainous drifts plugged highways. Three buildings were burned in a business block at Marquette. Manistique was without electric service when power lines went down. In southern Michigan highways on the west side of the state were generally blocked north of Grand Rapids. The east side of the state escaped the brunt of the storm. Trains out of Chicago were running three hours late, according to reports from Grand Rapids.

BOYNE CONSERVATION DISTRICT ENLARGED

Administration of Otsego County Added to District Office

Conservation administration in Otsego county since the first of the year is lodged in eighth district headquarters at Boyne City.

Formerly a part of district nine, which also includes Presque Isle, Montmorency and Alpena counties, the transfer was made to permit closer fire supervision of large forest areas, the Black Lake and Presque Isle. Ninth district headquarters are at Atlanta.

Now included in district eight are Antrim, Charlevoix, Emmet, Cheboygan and Otsego counties.

TWO FISH TUGS SINK OFF PIER ENTRANCE

ATTEMPT TO REACH OPEN WATER ENDS IN DISASTER

Ernest Smith Tug Bonnie, John Cross Tug Edna, Crushed by Ice Late Tuesday Night

Two local fish tugs, the Bonnie, owned by Ernest Smith, and the Edna, owned by John Cross, sank two hundred feet south and shoreward from the Lake Michigan piers at 11 o'clock Tuesday night.

Loss of the boats was the result of an unsuccessful attempt to reach open water before ice floes driven by a northwest gale closed the harbor entrance late Tuesday afternoon. The boats left the harbor at 4 o'clock. They were unable to penetrate the ice and within a short time movement of the floes carried the hoats south of the pier entrance.

Although unable to operate their boat in the ice, coastguardsmen under Capt. Oscar Smith fastened lines to the tugs from the pier and, with a half mile of ice between the boats and open water to protect them from wave action, they were thought safe. Shift of the ice floes southward, opening the bay to the north, however, allowed heavy seas to set the fast diminishing protecting ice into action, and with the boats crammed against solid shore ice, they soon became damaged and sank.

When open water made possible operation of the power boat, coast guardsmen attempted to replace lines which had previously broken. The effort failed due to the fact crews had already abandoned the boats, making contact difficult, and the possibility of towing the tugs out of danger was abandoned.

Sinking of the boats is a severe financial loss to the owners. Both were recently built and well equipped. It is doubtful if either can be salvaged.

MRS. FRANK RICHARDSON TAKEN BY DEATH MON.

Norwood Community Mourns Death of Beloved Woman—Funeral Wed.

The Norwood community was saddened Monday by the death at Charlevoix Hospital of Mrs. Frank Richardson, a beloved and highly respected woman of that district.

Libbie Wagner was born in Hudson, Mich., August 21, 1861. When a young woman she came to Norwood and made her home with her brother, Henry Wagner, until the time of her marriage to Frank Richardson. To this union was born a son Cecil.

Surviving her besides the husband and son are one brother, Henry Wagner; three step-children, Merrill Richardson of Norwood, Mrs. Jack McCall of Traverse City, Mrs. Glenn Brennan of South Bend, Ind.; a niece, Mrs. George Light, and nephew, Floyd Wagner of Norwood; also twelve grandchildren.

Mrs. Richardson was a kind and loving mother and a friend to all who knew her. She will be greatly missed in the community.

Funeral services were conducted in Charlevoix from the See Funeral Home, Wednesday afternoon, Rev. J. C. Matthews of the Norwood Methodist church, officiating. Interment was in Norwood cemetery.

BOYNE GIRL MICHIGAN WINTER QUEEN

Delphine Stackus, 16, Chosen from Group of Nine Contestants

Boyne City's winter queen, 16-year-old Delphine Stackus, will rule over the 1938 Michigan Winter Carnival, February 4 to 13, as the Michigan Winter Queen.

Miss Stackus, a beautiful brunet with a most charming manner, will succeed blonde Dorothy Lustig, of Petoskey, who ruled over the 1937 carnivul.

Three down state judges watched the nine contestants for the honor at the Winter Sports Park Wednesday afternoon, met each one personally and then viewed them as they appeared on the stage of the Temple Theatre.

The judges were: C. W. Hungerford, advertising manager of the Michigan Bell Telephone Co.; Sam McCool, of the state highway department, and Kendrick Kimball, of the Detroit News. After retiring backstage to see the girls at close range again, they unanimously selected the Boyne City candidate.

ADVERTISING RESULTS EXCELLENT

TOURIST ASSN. REPORTS ON ITS 1937 CAMPAIGN

Figures Indicate 81% of Tourists Who Answer Ads Become Visitors in Michigan

Eighty-one percent of the people who inquire for Michigan information in answer to newspaper advertising actually spend their vacation in Michigan, according to figures released by Hugh J. Gray, secretary-manager of the West Michigan Tourist & Resort Association, on a survey conducted by his organization.

The most optimistic statements of an advertising media salesman would be hard pressed to measure up to these figures of the Resort Association but they tell only part of the story of the success of the Association's advertising program. A survey of the vacation habits of the American people, conducted in 1936 by the AAA, reveals that almost 40 percent, 39.8%, of the vacationers select their trip because of a previous visit. The second largest group, 26 percent, come because of the recommendation of friends.

Those figures show repeat business and word of mouth advertising amounting to two thirds of those who came originally in response to the Association's newspaper advertising program.

"This amazing total of repeat business has taught our resort operators a valuable lesson in catering to the vacationers of the nation," Mr. Gray

CHARLEVOIX WINS EAST JORDAN TILT

SCORED 48 TO 16 VICTORY HERE FRIDAY NIGHT

Meet Undefeated Boyoe City Team This Week in Contest Which Will Decide Conference Leadership

Northern Michigan class C basketball supremacy will be decided Friday night at Boyne City when Charlevoix's Red Rayders and Coach Brotherton's eagers, both undefeated teams, meet in the first of a home-and-home series.

The situation is a parallel to last ear when these two unheaten teams met. Charlevoix won both games, the first 21 to 20 and the second 26 to 25. In the latter game Carey broke his ankle und, without his services, Charlevoix fell before Boyne in the district tournament. Boyne went on to win the regional tournament and reach the quarter-finals in state class C competition.

Both schools have veteran teams. Boyne's 1936-37 line-up is intact with the exception of Kujawski, center, while Charlevoix has Carey, Richardson and Gallagher of last year's squad. Both teams have impressive records so far this season, although if scores mean anything, Charlevoix has made more points than Boyne against the same opponents. In seven victories to date, the Rnyders have scored 312 points to 99 for their opponents.

The first-stringers ran up a 13 to 3 advantage in the first period and a substituted squad extended the advantage 29 to 6 in the second period. Charlevoix led 36 to 12 at the close of the third period. Coach Kipke used several combinations during the game and all proved effective, at least in preventing East Jordan from scoring.

Richardson with 16 points, and Carey with 15, led Charlevoix's scoring. Gallagher, whose feeding of the hall has been responsible for much of the Rayder's scoring success, played his usual good game.

The line-ups:

Charlevoix (48)	FG	FT	P
Carey	6	3	3
Allison	1	1	1
Pearl	2	0	0
Brown	2	0	1
	22	4	10
East Jordan (16)	FG	FT	P
Saxton	2	3	2
Bulow	1	1	1
Isaman	1	0	3
Gibbard	1	2	2
Holly	0	0	1

Charlevoix's reserves kept pace with the varsity, winning a 24 to 16 victory over the Jordan second-stringers. Driggett with 8 points, and Bissell with 6 points, were the high scorers.

"That Watkin's Girl," a comedy in 3-acts, will be given at the Barnard Grange Hall, Monday, January 31, at 8 p. m. This play is given by the Hilton School and community.—Adv. 4t1.

Jean Zeitler Is Named Michigan Potato Queen

Local Girl Honored in Contest Finals at Michigan Exposition in Detroit

Miss Jean Zeitler

Miss Jean Zeitler, 19-year-old attractive local girl, was honored with the title of Michigan Potato Queen at Detroit, Sunday evening.

Miss Zeitler, a brunet and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Zeitler, received her crown in a ceremony which was the highlight of a program at the Detroit and Michigan Exposition in Convention Hall at Detroit.

She was picked as the Michigan Potato Queen over three other contestants who were regional winners and included Leona Tonsignant, 19, of L'Anse; Alice Tracy, 20, of Edmore; and Patricia Homer, 16, of Burnside.

Last fall Miss Zeitler entered the Charlevoix county contest and was picked as this county's representative in competition at East Jordan. She won regional honors at the Top O' Michigan potato and apple show held at Petoskey and went to the finals in state competition at Detroit.

Charlevoix Physician Honored By Kiwanis

Grand Rapids Press Feature Relates History of Dr. Robert B. Armstrong

(By Fred E. Cartier in Grand Rapids Press)

To Dr. R. B. Armstrong, pioneer Charlevoix physician, goes the honor of receiving the first life membership to be conferred by the local Kiwanis club. It came as a birthday anniversary surprise to the doctor and was awarded following a mock trial in which all county officials took part, with the general membership as witnesses.

Most of the "witnesses" testified regarding personal contacts with the doctor in his practice here the last 45 years. They described major operations performed on dining room or kitchen tables and of long night drives in pouring rain, and trips through blizzards and deep snowdrifts in subzero temperatures.

In those days, it was recalled there were no hospitals, no automobiles, no plowed highways, no X-ray machines and few telephones to assist the country doctor. His horse and buggy or cutter were the only means of travel.

A sidelight of the "trial" was the story of a mother who wanted a boy so badly that she told Dr. Armstrong that if her baby was a girl he could take it back with him. The astute physician solved the problem by requesting the privilege of naming the baby, and leaving a card with the name Billy to be handed to the mother. The baby was a girl but she was well satisfied with her name.

DISTRICT HEALTH UNIT

Public Health's Strive to Conquer Syphilis

At the present time the subject of syphilis is the great question of the day. It is now a question of prevention of eradication, of the protection of the well against the contamination of the sick. It is a question for the sanatorium, the philanthropist, the legislator, the statesman. It is one of public health and public health is striving to meet it. We can no longer close our eyes to its severity. But we must deal with it precisely as we do with other evils that effect the health of the people. Syphilis at the present time is included in the great family of contagious or communicable diseases and it is subject to the same laws and regulations that we possess for their management. But we still hold a more important method of securing the decrease in the amount of infection and that is an aroused public sentiment.

Each year more than 500,000 new cases occur in which medical care is sought. According to our best estimates 60,000 children are born each year with congenital syphilis. The disease causes from 10 to 12 per cent of all deaths from heart disease.

We know what treatment will accomplish. From the standpoint of spread, treatment is prevention. Physicians must look for syphilis in their general practice. Every pregnant woman must have a serodiagnostic test in as routine a matter as urinanalysis. Every hospital admission, every case, every case of doubtful diagnosis, every physical examination, every life insurance examination should include a serodiagnostic test. Medical examination before marriage should be required by law. One to five men and three to five women coming for treatment were unaware of their disease until it was recognized in the course of some other examination.

Every physician who undertakes the treatment and examination of syphilis owes two general responsibilities to the patient: (1) He must either inquire diligently concerning the source of the infection and contacts, get them under treatment and inform the health officer that he has done so, or (2) he must permit the Health Department itself to do this essential public health job. The patient who continues treatment faithfully need not have his privacy invaded as much as a scarlet fever patient for example. The syphilis patient who stops treatment while still potentially infectious, however, violates all privileges of privacy. Syphilis is kept alive and spreads in a population by a series of small epidemics.

LANSING LETTER

After making a steady "buildup" on the fairness of a state income tax, administrative leaders have decided not to inject this issue into the 1938 Michigan merry-go-round. Instead it will be kept for possible warming up next year when the legislature convenes in regular session.

George Schroeder, speaker of the house, first mentioned the income tax. Then the governor proclaimed its merits at the Jackson Day dinner in Detroit. About that time the tax commission's new consultant, Charles Darwin Rosa, a Wisconsin progressive added his views by denouncing the sales tax and asserting that Wisconsin's income tax had not hurt business and industry.

Thirty-six states have income tax laws in effect.

Michigan's constitution, however, requires a uniform base of taxation, permitting no graduations and no exemptions as to children and so on. Four times the plan was submitted by referendum to the voters, and four times it has been defeated. To have some substitute for a graduated income tax would be obviously unfair for the low wage-earner who is already paying more than his fair share in sales taxes.

$12,000,000 Tax Relief

By substituting indirect forms of taxation, such as the sales tax, for the property tax as a main source of its revenue, the state government gave tax relief to corporate property in Michigan to the tune of from $12,000,000 to $18,000,000 each year since 1933.

Representative Vernon J. Brown, editor at Mason and past chairman of the house taxation committee, points out that industrial corporations pay no retail tax or very little. The 15 mill tax limitation on corporate property, plus the substitution of the sales tax for the state property tax, have benefitted industry more than it has home owners and farmers.

As Representative Brown points out, "Home owners, farmers, smaller business concerns have been relieved of some property taxes but they have paid more, much more in sales tax than they have saved in property . . . Some new form of taxation applied to physical corporate property, the revenues to be used to provide exemptions for home owners, would do much to promote justice."

It would also serve as a stimulus to home ownership, to home building, to modernization and improvement, Mr. Brown adds.

Six in Taxation

Michigan ranks sixth among the states in the amount of taxes collected.

The first five states, in the order, are New York, Pennsylvania, California, Ohio and Illinois.

On a per capita basis, Michigan residents pay $23 of which $5 comes back to the home communities. Ohio retains about $10 per capita for state expense, and Michigan spends $18.

These figures were gathered by the Tax Policy League, an interstate institute for the study of taxation matters.

Although the sales tax virtually exempts industrial corporations and imposes a heavy load on the small wage earner, the 3 per cent payments bring approximately $56,000,000 to the state treasury in a normal year. The state income tax, rejected four times by the electorate, is still far distant as a possibility for Michigan.

Newsprint From Straw

Michigan State College has received a $500,000 endowment to further research in the utilization of farm waste material for industrial products.

Our movement of farm chemurgy was born in Michigan under the protective wing of Henry Ford.

It promises new income for agriculture.

As an example of possibilities, an announcement has just been made at Pittsburgh of a revolutionary method for the manufacture of newsprint out of straw.

Whereas wood pulp newsprint now sells for $50 a ton, the newsprint from corn stalks, weeds and hay could be produced and sold for $30 a ton, according to the inventor, Dr. Frederick W. Hochstetter.

The inventor is a former associate of both Thomas Edison and David Steinmetz. The process for the synthetic newsprint permits the development also of a substitute cotton.

Michigan Agriculture

Dairying is the most important farm enterprise in Michigan. There are 1,237 creameries and milk plants in the state.

Grains and forage crops are second.

Poultry ranks third. Since last fall Michigan eggs have been graded by the state and federal governments at three points in the state, and Michigan graded eggs are now commanding the highest market price in Chicago and eastern markets.

Michigan grows more cherries than any other state—cherries for pies and cocktails.

Michigan was first last year in onions—shipping 7,000 cars to the market.

In potatoes Michigan will ship 25,000 cars of table stock spuds to the market; one million bushels will be used for potato chips alone.

Diversified

That Michigan agriculture is unusually diversified is quite apparent from examination of facts as recently given to the public by John B. Strange, commissioner, state department of agriculture.

In Benton Harbor is located the largest fruit and vegetable market in the world, doing an annual business of four millions and shipping truckloads to 36 states.

Yet, due to a lack of grading, Michigan fruit and vegetables do not command top prices with the public. Michigan is a top bean producer, yet Idaho-grown beans sell from 30 cents to 40 cents more per hundred weight in Chicago than Michigan-grown beans.

From Maine and Idaho come thousands of cars of potatoes each year—over 800 cars to Detroit alone—because buyers had confidence in federal-state inspected and graded potatoes.

Western apples command higher prices than Michigan apples. Washington licenses every apple grower and collects a tax of 1 per cent per bushel on all apples sold commercially. This tax is used for advertising. New York state has a fund of $400,000 for advertising milk. Idaho's new law providing a 1 cent per hundred-weight tax on prunes, apples and potatoes for advertising was challenged and upheld by its supreme court.

Surplus Crops

And while Michigan is importing potatoes, apples and other foodstuffs from other states, the federal government is buying surplus stocks of potatoes, apples and beans to relieve the price-depressing surplus in Michigan.

These purchases are made by the Federal Surplus Corporation in car load lots.

To make sure that none of the surplus potato stock of second-grade will be used for human consumption, the federal-bought spuds are to be colored violet and then fed to livestock.

This subsidizing of surplus prompted the Lansing State Journal to propose editorially that the federal government buy used automobiles and junk them to help solve the surplus of used cars today and thus encourage purchase of new automobiles. From a standpoint of logic, the newspaper's idea is just as reasonable as the government's practice in buying up surplus food stocks.

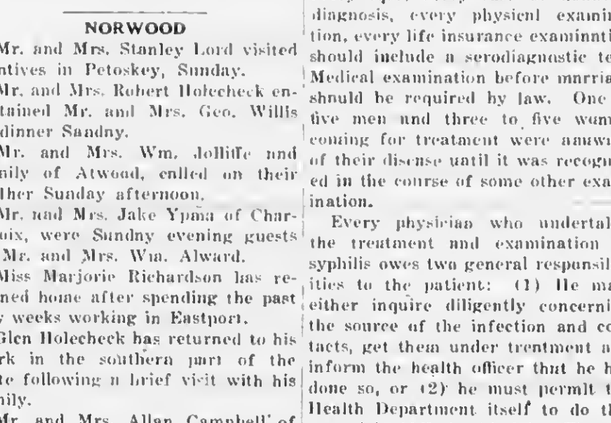
Controlled production is yet a dream for the reason that Mother Nature, like old Lady Luck, is fickle in her whims. She keeps us guessing.



NEW $300,000 ADDITION FOR THE SCHMIDT BREWING COMPANY

To better meet the demand for their rapidly increasing business, The Schmidt Brewing Company, Detroit, announces an expansion program involving the expenditure of $300,000. This work is being started immediately in order to give employment to additional labor that will be required for this construction. The sale of Schmidt Beer has grown so rapidly as to make this program necessary.

Ground is being broken for the building of a complete new bottling works on the easterly side of the Grand Trunk Railway, extending one block from Wilkins to Brewster street. When completed, The Schmidt Brewing Company will have the largest bottling unit in Michigan and the most modern, improved automatic equipment in America. Inasmuch as this is the latest large brewery installation in the country it represents the last word in design and efficiency.

The building will consist of a basement and two stories, size 70x200 feet and will be built of face brick, equipped with elevators for use in loading and unloading materials or stock from a private siding immediately adjacent to the building. The interior walls will be of salt glazed tile and a complete up-to-the-minute conveying system will provide adequate and efficient movement of finished bottled stock.

This new bottling plant assures a bottling capacity of practically double the present output and one ample to provide the public adequately during the peak season. The new facilities will likewise enable distributors and drivers to load and unload with much greater dispatch and without any delay during the rush season when their time is such a valuable factor. The completion of the new building is scheduled for May 1st, and the cost will exceed $300,000.

Hurley and Ellington are the architects and George W. Auch Company the General Contractors.

WHAT EVERY DRIVER MUST KNOW

STOPPING AND TURNING

You may be asked about stopping and turning when you apply for your new Michigan driver's license.

The only hand signal required or permitted in Michigan is given by extending the arm straight out from the left of the car. Mechanical and electrical signals are permitted. If you use your stop light for a signal, press the brake pedal lightly several times. Start giving the signal at least 100 feet before turning or stopping. Be sure you are clear of traffic, then get into the right lane to turn right. To turn left, use the lane nearest and to the right of the centerline.

NEW STATE GAME FARM PROPERTY PURCHASED

Tract Near Lansing Bought for Propagation Game Birds

Purchase of 765 acres of land and several farm buildings for the establishment of an additional project in game bird propagation and experimental and demonstration wildlife work has been approved by the state conservation commission.

The property, which has been under option, is located seven and a half miles from Michigan State college near M-78 and will be bought at a total price of $34,750. It includes lake frontage and is made up of four parcels of land all contiguous and cornering with 240 acres of muck land already owned by the college. The college cooperated with the department in soil mapping the area which is known as the Park lake project.

The new project will be used to increase propagation of such game birds as the Hungarian partridge and sharp-tailed grouse. The state game farm at Mason is being used to capacity and more land is needed for expansion unless pheasant propagation is to be reduced, H. D. Ruhl, chief of the game division reported to the commission. Mr. Ruhl also stated that he believed better results could be obtained by having additional lands to permit longer rotation periods for the fields and that by having a separate but nearby area for use, better control of game farm diseases could be arranged than on similar lands adjacent to the present farm.

A site as near as possible to the college, the Mason game farm and the Lansing offices of the department was considered desirable so that cooperative projects with the college and the Biological Survey can be initiated and so that work could be supervised relatively easily by the superintendent of the Mason farm and from the department's Lansing offices.

STANDARD TO DISTRIBUTE QUAKER STATE OILS IN MICHIGAN

Arrangements have been completed between Standard Oil Company of Indiana and Quaker State Oil Refining corporation under which the Quaker State oils and greases will be distributed by Standard in addition to the regular line of Standard products.

The arrangement will be effective throughout the territory in which the Indiana company is operating and to some extent in the territory of subsidiaries. Retail distribution of the Pennsylvania lubricants through the Standard Oil dealers will begin February 18, 1938.

Announcing the new policy, Standard officials stated that the move was made in recognition of a definite preference on the part of many consumers for a Pennsylvania crude oil base lubricant. Although the mid-continent base oils and greases which have been the regular line at Standard dealers' stations will continue to be handled and featured as before, the customer will be able to obtain the Pennsylvania product if he prefers it.

Standard will recommend the Quaker State products to dealers and customers as the highest quality Pennsylvania lubricants, best advertised nationally, most widely distributed and favored with the best public acceptance of any such products on the market.

DEPARTMENT OF STATE NEWS BULLETIN

Special Car Tags Called 'Democratic'

Leon D. Case, secretary of state, approaching the end of the annual season when special automobile license plates are requested by thousands, today defended the practice of issuing them, as "democratic".

"Any citizen of Michigan who has wanted some special number, for any reason whatever, has always had the privilege of making his request," Case said, as the supply of 30,000 specially numbered plates was reaching its end. "The making of these plates involves not a dime extra—part of the time of less than half a dozen clerks in the department thruout the state, accounts for the handling of these requests," the State Department head observed.

Case has followed the custom of several of his predecessors in office by reserving in advance license plate numbers for citizens, regardless of political affiliation, who have held them for some years in the past. "There are relatively few of these, and for the balance, anyone may ask for any combination we have, and if it's available, they get it. It's a matter of first-come-first served," Case said.

He added: "I believe that as more special plates are made to meet the demand, fewer people will want them in the future. So long as people can be made happy with certain combinations of numerals and letters, I'll be glad to accomodate them, so far as I can."

So many people are in such a tremendous hurry all the time and do not accomplish much, after all.

FROM THE CYPRESS CASKS OF GOEBEL

JOHN L. WAS RIGHT!

A Boston waiter once served John L. Sullivan a lobster with one claw missing. "Why the cripple?" growled old John. "He lost it in a fight, sir", said the waiter, tactfully. "Then bring me the winner", thundered Sullivan! And, of course, he was right. Why accept second best when the best can be had at the same price? Goebel wins on all counts—tang, taste, lift, body, wholesomeness—because it's fully aged and thoroughly mellowed in the famous Cypress Casks. You'll find it a grand brew! And you'll like every bottle because every bottle's alike.

RADIO-ELECTRIC APPLIANCE CO. NEW QUARTERS

Local Firm Moves to South Portion of Brown Building

An advertisement elsewhere in this issue carries the announcement of Lynn J. Falconer of the moving of the Radio-Electric Appliance Co., located in the Elston building, to quarters in the south portion of the Brown building.

The new quarters, Mr. Falconer states, has needed space to provide facilities for more complete radio and electrical repair work, as well as larger displays and stock of radios and electric appliances of all kinds.

Probably a week will be required to place the new store in shape and Mr. Falconer has extended an invitation to the public to visit the new quarters.

CAMP KALKASKA HAS A FINE PLANTING RECORD

Set Out 520,800 Norway and Jack Pine Seedlings on 651 Acres

Although the 1937 full tree planting program was interrupted for a full month when the white junior company moved out and the former Camp Wolverville colored junior company moved in, enrollees of CCC Camp Kalkaska planted 520,800 Norway Pine and Jack Pine seedlings on 651 acres of state-owned land in Lake township, Kalkaska county, this fall. The planting area covered a part of the old DeWard timber tract, once famous for its giant cork pine.

BOYNE CITY WILL GET CO-OPS. DIESEL PLANT

Allotment of $55,000 to Rural Electric Company Announced

Funds for construction of a Diesel power plant at Boyne City for the Top O' Michigan Rural Electrification Co. have been released at Washington, according to word from Rep. John Luecke.

Leon Miller, attorney for the company, received a telegram from the congressman this morning, advising that $55,000 had been made available by the Rural Electrification Administration for construction of a plant.

Mr. Miller said that the company will now accept Boyne City's offer of property and a building for the power station. Boyne City has offered the building which was formerly occupied by the power plant of the cooperate company there.

Mr. Miller added that estimates for repair of the building and purchase and installation of the Diesel plant totalled $80,000. It is the usual procedure in governmentul projects to make a preliminary allocation of funds and then make the money available in smaller portions as it is needed.

Work on the power plant and construction of transmission lines will be started in February.

LICENSED CARS LAST YEAR SET NEW RECORD

With the largest number of automobiles licensed in the history of the state, Michigan last year collected a record-breaking $30,723,953 from its 3 cents per gallon gasoline tax, the state daptrtment reports.

License plates were issued for 1,649,108 passenger cars, trucks, motorcycles, trailers and dealers' automobiles last year. This broke the 1936 record of 1,502,580, and the 1929 mark of 1,435,587.

Sale of license plates produced more revenue in 1929, however, due to a lowering of fees in 1934. Last year motorists paid a total of $19,690,631 compared to $717,759,230 in 1936 and $21,704,193 in 1929.

The gasoline tax produced $30,723,953 last year compared with $26,882,277 in 1936.

SEARCH FUTILE FOR MISSING FISH BOAT

St. Ignace Craft With Crew of 3, Unreported Since Dec. 10

Uncounted acres of windrowed ice and rolling banks of mist have prevented coast guards from determining whether the fishing tug "Walter J." which has been missing in Northern Lake Michigan for more than a month may be disabled near Beaver island.

Zero visibility prevented an aerial search of these waters planned by division coast guard headquarters at Chicago.

The coast guard lookout at St. James said that a black splotch which he sighted in the ice near Gray's reef light 18 miles east of Beaver island was too distant to be identified definitely as a boat.

Commercial fishermen on the Leelanau peninsula expressed scant hope Friday that the tug ever would be found. They said that even assuming supplies held out, the tiny craft was in for terrific punishment if caught in the grinding Lake Michigan ice. No strange fishing tugs have been reported in the vicinity of North or South Manitou islands.

Meanwhile coast guards on Beaver island and the mainland maintained a sharp watch and the cutter Escanaba was held in readiness at Grand Haven for the trip north. The cutter put out into the lake briefly Friday afternoon to test its engines preparatory to making the trip.

The "Walter J." left St. Ignace for Racine, Wis., December 10. Coast guards were advised she last fished out of Printey, Mich. Aboard the tug were Walter Kudeun, 40, the owner, and his father Herman, 80, both of Milwaukee, and Chester St. Onge, 40, of St. Ignace.

USE GOOD FEED TO INSURE GOOD LAMB CROP

Rations During January and February Very Important

Harvest time is approaching for the careful flockmaster. The bulk of Michigan's lamb crop is born in March. Care given the flock during the next two months has much to do with the success of the lambing season.

From now on, the flockmaster who is not studying his animals carefully and increasing the quality of the ration to meet the increased needs of the ewes in developing the unborn lambs, will have trouble and perhaps some losses.

Each year at this time, members of the animal husbandry department at Michigan State College receive many complaints of paralysis or so-called "pregnancy disease" in breeding ewes. This trouble is not a disease, but rather is caused by a lack of sufficiently nourishing feed to meet the needs of the breeding ewe and the requirements for the development of the unborn lambs. At this season of the year the quality of the ration should be increased by feeding more leguminous hay, such as clover or alfalfa. Any members of the flock, which for any reason are losing in weight or appear thin, should be separated from the remainder and given extra feed.

In many sections of Michigan, even the leguminous hay is of very poor quality this year due to the heavy rainfall during the hay making season. Careful flockmasters thus will find it desirable to add a small amount of some protein supplement to the grain ration fed. Grain, should, by all means, be fed to the extent of one-half pound per head daily the last 30 days preceding lambing. This year it would be advisable to add enough linseed meal, cottonseed meal or soy bean meal to the grain so that each ewe gets one tenth pound per head daily.

Where cull beans are available, they may be fed in place of the above protein supplements, allowing one-third of the grain ration to consist of cull beans.

NEW HALF-YEAR PLATES TO BE RECEIVED SOON

Local Officers Expect Consignment From State Department

Guy C. Euleston, director of the local automobile license bureau, announced today that shipments of half-year license plates are being made throughout the state now and word from Lansing officially approving their release is expected shortly.

According to word received from the secretary of state's office, when all bureaus in the state have been supplied with their quotas of 1938 half-year plates, which are metal this year rather than windshield stickers used in previous years, their issuance will be approved by telegram. Since March 1 has been set as the deadline for using 1937 plates and it has been announced that there will be absolutely no extension of time, only slightly more than a month's time remains in which car owners will be able to purchase half-year licenses following their release.

To avoid the congestion and delay caused by the usual last minute rush at the bureau here, Mr. Euleston has asked that those persons who intend to buy full-year plates do so as soon as possible and motorists who expect to purchase half-year plates buy them as soon as they are released.

The game fish species of the pike family, including the muskellunge and the northern pike, all spawn along marshy borders, in sluggish inlets or outlets or in marshes tributary to the inlets or outlets.

Representative Fish of New York, points an accusing finger at the administration in connection with the recent business recession. Fish says real causes of the setback are the administration's economic fallacies, attacks on business and the supreme court, and destruction of confidence.

Once three storks decided to call at the same time in one neighborhood and they kept the doctor busy running across back yards and alleys. In the darkness he fell into a water main trench 6 feet deep.

One event in his career brought him front page headlines throughout the nation. It occurred about 25 years ago, when the airplane still was in its infancy. A boy's skull had been fractured by a falling tree on Beaver island. There was no doctor available and the island was isolated by treacherous ice floes and open water.

An appeal to the government brought orders to Selfridge field that started three planes to Charlevoix. Two were grounded by adverse weather. The third, an open two-seater, flew the doctor to the island and back. The boy recovered.

Dr. Armstrong was born in Ormal, N. Y., and once was a chemist at the New York state experiment station. He was graduated from Michigan Medical school in 1894, and soon moved to Charlevoix. He has held many civic positions in the city and region, and was mayor of Charlevoix in 1907.

CONSERVATION OFFICERS ATTEND MEETING HERE

Sportsmen Petition for Exceptions on "Pike" Lake Ruling

A most interesting conservation meeting was attended by a large body of local sportsmen at the council chambers last Wednesday evening.

Contributing primarily to the interest was the presence of Fred Westerman, head of the fish division, Department of Conservation, Don Rochester of the educational division, Harry Aldrich, supervisor of the Boyne City district, Conservation Officer Ed. Deuell, Capt. Charles Allers of Michigan Patrol Boat No. 1, and Robert Thompson, a department official.

Mr. Westerman's explanation of fishing regulations was highly informative. Mr. Rochester outlined the principal accomplishments of the Department during the past year in a very interesting talk and showed two excellent movie reels on fishing in Michigan. Others of the visitors responded with talks.

Purpose of the meeting was a protest against a legislative act which designates Round lake and Lake Charlevoix as "pike" lakes, closing them to fishing for all species with exception of lake trout from March 1 to May 1. Petitions requesting exception of perch and smelt from the order are being forwarded to the Conservation Department and legislative officials.

LINCOLN DAY BENEFIT PARTY AT BOYNE CITY

Red Cross to Be Recipient of Funds Raised at Dancing Party

Charlevoix county Republicans will be host at a Lincoln Day birthday dancing party for benefit of the Red Cross, to be held at Hotel Dilworth, Boyne City, on February 12.

The event, sponsored by the Young Republican Club and County Republican Committee, is to be a non-political gathering staged for the purpose of assisting local Red Cross organizations.

Dancing will start at 9 p. m. A special buffet luncheon will be served at 10 o'clock and a full half hour floor show will be presented at 11 o'clock. A special radio hook-up will bring all the important Lincoln Day addresses to non-dancing attendants who wish to gather in the lobby to listen to the national Lincoln Day programs.

The affair will be informal with dancing until 1:00 a. m. The sponsoring clubs wish to emphasize the fact that the party will be primarily a benefit and that no politics will be connected.

MASONS TAKE LEAD IN CRIBBAGE SERIES

Outscored Odd Fellows Monday Night to Obtain 70-Point Advantage

Winning for the third consecutive session Monday night, the Masons wiped out the Odd Fellow lead in the annual winter cribbage series and are now out in front by a margin of 70 points.

The eleven and a half tables in play gave the Masons a score of 20,726, compared to 20,639 for the Odd Fellows, and put them in the lead for the first time. John Macey, with a perfect score of 968 points, led the Masons, while Fred Bergmann's score of 950 was high for the Odd Fellows.

CHARLEVOIX TUG SAFE AFTER 2 DAYS ON LAKE

Joe LaBlanc Boat "Ada" Towed Into Harbor at Leland

The fishing tug Ada of Charlevoix was towed into Leland harbor Friday night after a day and night off the Grand Traverse light where she had gone Thursday morning to lift nets. An engine breakdown caused delay in her return and fears had been expressed for the safety of Joseph LaBlanc, owner, and his 2-man crew.

The Ada was towed in by the Northport fishing tug Margaret A, owned by Albion Anderson and Edwin Carlson. The Margaret A was on the way to Leland from Northport when the Ada's distress signals were seen.

WALGREN-NEFF WEDDING PRETTY SATURDAY EVENT AT CHICAGO

The home of Mr. and Mrs. David Bergstrom in Chicago was the scene of a pretty wedding on Saturday, January 22, when Katherine Julia Walgren, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gustaf Walgren of Chicago, was united in marriage to Gordon Neff, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lance Neff, this city.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. Joseph Parkhander before a gathering of sixty-five guests. The wedding music was furnished by David Cottrell of the Chicago Conservatory of Music.

The bride, given away by her father, wore a lovely gown of duchess lace cut on princess lines with a high necked jacket and veil which was attached to a juliet cap trimmed with small rosebuds. She carried a shower bauquet of white roses and lilies of the valley.

Attending as maid of honor was Miss Eleanor Bergstrom who wore a gown of peacock blue chiffon and a shoulder veil of pink tulle. She carried a colonial bouquet of sweetheart roses and sweet peas.

The groom's brother, Rahert Neff, attended as best man. The guests were received by Mr. and Mrs. Roland Gustavson of Chicago. She wore a gown of royal blue chiffon velvet.

A dinner was held later attended by sixty-five guests. The tables were laid in white with appointments of white mums and silver candelabra and ivory candles tied with bows af satin ribbon which held sprays of lily of the valley.

Out of town guests were Mr. and Mrs. Lance Neff, Detroit; Otto Nelson, Detroit; Robert Neff, Detroit; Mr. and Mrs. John Kling, Charlevoix; Mrs. Sam Sarenson, Charlevoix; Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Kling, Bangor; John Geer, Charlevoix; Leroy Zelly, Charlevoix; Mrs. P. BEANS, POTATOES ARE BOUGHT FOR THE NEEDY

Twenty-Eight Carloads Distributed In State Since January 7th

Since January 7th, according to Commissioner John R. Strange of the Department of Agriculture, the Federal Surplus Commodities Corporation has purchased in Michigan, for distribution through welfare outlets within the state, 13 carloads of beans and 15 cars of No. 1 potatoes. Purchases are being made in accordance with suggestion made December 9th by Commissioner Strange.

Beans, according to Surplus Commodities Corporation, are being purchased upon a bid and acceptance basis while potatoes purchased to date have been purchased at market. The later were purchased after an ansaccessful attempt had been made to purchase No. 2 potatoes, no satisfactory offers being made to the corporation.

MICHIGAN DEER LURE OUT-STATE HUNTERS

Ohio Largest Contributor—Eighteen Others Are Listed

Michigan game lured hunters from at least a score of other states during the 1937 season, the largest number of non-resident nimrods coming from Ohio, Indiana and Illinois.

Tabulations of approximately 126,000 hunters' report cards received at the department of conservation up to the middle of this month disclosed that Ohio was represented by the largest number of visiting hunters. Included in the reports were 380 from hunters residing in the Buckeye state, 229 from Indiana and 210 from Illinois hunters. Eighteen other states and the District of Columbia also were represented in the reports.

"You're Only Young Once"
Has Warm, Human Quality

Lewis Stone, always master of character analysis in a screen portrayal, again reaches the heart in his latest role as head of a typical American family in "You're Only Young Once," which opens Wednesday, February 2, at the Palace Theatre.

Cecilia Parker and Mickey Rooney handle the romance end of the new comedy drama. Others in the cast are Fay Holden, Frank Craven, Ann Rutherford, Eleanor Lynn, Ted Pearson, Sara Haden, Charles Judels and Selmer Jackson.

"You're Only Young Once" is the graphic and humorous story of any smalltown American family awny on vacation, with its tendency to throw off the restraints imposed by familiarity and find a new meaning in life.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE SOCIETY

Sunday morning service, 10:45.

Sunday school, 12 o'clock.

Meets first Wednesday evening each month at 7:45 p. m.

Reading room open Saturday, 3 to 5 p. m.

"Love" will be the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Christian Science churches throughout the world on Sunday, January 30.

The Golden Text, from I John 4:16, is: "We have known and believed the love that God hath to us. God is love; and he that dwelleth in love dwelleth in God, and God in him."

Among the Bible citations is this passage (Jeremiah 31:3): "The Lord hath appeared of old unto me, saying, Yea, I have loved thee with an everlasting love: therefore with loving kindness have I drawn thee."

Correlative passages to be read from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy, include the following (p. 302): "God is Love. He is therefore the divine, infinite Principle, called Person or God."

CONOCO CREDITS NEWSPAPERS FOR SUCCESS

Banner Year in 1937 Results Effectiveness of Advertising

Giving due credit for the best year in its history to the heavy use of newspaper advertising, the Continental Oil Company today announced that its 1938 advertising appropriations for newspaper space will be increased by 17 percent over the 1937 expenditures.

Continental during the coming year will allot to the daily and weekly press about 65 percent of all that is to be spent on consumer media and will place advertising in approximately 1250 newspapers. The new advertising will continue to deal with Conoco Bronze Gasoline and Conoco Germ Processed Motor Oil and the action of this lubricant, due to the presence of a product of the research laboratories, in forming an abnormally tough film that stays on metal surfaces even while the motor is idle, instead of draining off.

1938 TROUT PLANT NOW HATCHING FROM EGGS

Michigan Purchases 7,800,000 Eggs for Stock Coming Season

Brook trout which will grace many a skillet during future open seasons now are emerging from eggs in hatcheries maintained by the state.

January is the hatching season for brook trout and by February most of them will be well-launched in a career that should have a noble ending.

Brook trout eggs are not produced in the state's hatcheries, but are purchased in Pennsylvania and Massachusetts. A total of 7,800,000 eggs was contracted for in anticipation of the present hatch.

Production of More Electric Current a Necessity!

ON TUESDAY, FEBRUARY 8, CHARLEVOIX ELECTORS WILL BE ASKED TO VOTE ON A PROPOSAL TO BOND IN THE SUM OF $98,000.00 TO PROVIDE FUNDS FOR THE PURCHASE OF A 500 K. W. DIESEL ENGINE TO SUPPLEMENT PRESENT EQUIPMENT AT THE MUNICIPAL ELECTRIC LIGHT PLANT, FOR NECESSARY EXTENSIONS AND ADDITIONS TO THE BUILDING TO HOUSE THE UNIT AND FOR REQUIRED AUXILIARY EQUIPMENT. THE PROPOSED EXTENSION IS A NECESSITY IN VIEW OF THE FACT PRESENT EQUIPMENT BARELY PRODUCES THE NECESSARY CURRENT FOR PEAK CONSUMPTION AND PROVIDES NO SAFEGUARD WHATEVER FOR AN EMERGENCY SUCH AS A BREAK-DOWN OF ANY OF THE PRESENT PRODUCING UNITS DURING THE PERIOD OF PEAK CONSUMPTION WHICH COMES DURING JULY AND AUGUST, PRINCIPAL SUMMER RESORT MONTHS. THE CONDITION IS NOT NEW, BUT ONE THE CITY HAS CONFRONTED FOR SEVERAL YEARS. MIRACULOUSLY THE SITUATION HAS BEEN MET WITHOUT SERIOUS INTERRUPTION OF SERVICE. SUCH GOOD FORTUNE CANNOT GO ON FOREVER, AND ADDITIONAL EQUIPMENT IS THE ONLY ANSWER TO A PROBLEM CONSTANTLY THREATENING A MAJOR CATASTROPY IN EFFORTS TO PROPERLY SERVE OUR SUMMER VISITORS AND LOCAL CITIZENS AS WELL.

BRIEFLY THE SITUATION IS THIS....

PRESENT PRODUCTION CAPACITY		PRESENT HIGH PEAK LOAD		IN CASE OF BREAKDOWN		A NEW 500 K.W. UNIT WOULD GIVE—
		840 K.W.
Diesel	450K.W.	Capacity	970K.W.	Steam	400K.W.	Diesel (new)	500K.W.
Steam	400K.W.	Load	840K.W.	Hydro	120K.W.	Diesel (old)	450K.W.
Hydro	120K.W.			Capacity	520K.W.	Steam	400K.W.
TOTAL	970K.W.	MARGIN	130K.W.	Diesel	450K.W.	Hydro	120K.W.
				Hydro	120K.W.	TOTAL CAPACITY	1470K.W.
				Capacity	570K.W.	Providing a safe margin in case of a breakdown of any single unit.

IT IS THE POLICY OF ANY PUBLIC UTILITY TO HAVE IN READINESS RESERVE EQUIPMENT CAPABLE OF PRODUCING THE CAPACITY OF ANY SINGLE UNIT OPERATING TO PRODUCE ORDINARY PEAK CONSUMPTION. IT IS THE ONLY MANNER BY WHICH UNINTERRUPTED SERVICE CAN BE GUARANTEED. CHARLEVOIX IS IN THE UTILITY BUSINESS. ITS RESIDENTS ARE ITS CUSTOMERS. THEY EXPECT AND ARE ENTITLED TO UNINTERRUPTED SERVICE. ONLY BY HAVING NECESSARY EQUIPMENT CAN SATISFACTORY SERVICE BE MAINTAINED. NINETY PER CENT OF CHARLEVOIX'S BUSINESS PLACES WOULD BE CRIPPLED BY ANY LENGTHY SHUT-DOWN OF THE ELECTRIC LIGHT PLANT. A SHUT-DOWN WOULD BE DISASTROUS DURING THE RESORT SEASON. A MAJOR BREAK IN MACHINERY OF EITHER THE PRESENT DIESEL OR STEAM UNITS DURING JULY OR AUGUST WOULD PRODUCE A CALAMITY WHICH THIS CITY HAS BEEN LUCKILY SPARED.

Bond Issue Based Upon Engineer's Estimates

IN ARRIVING AT THE CAPACITY AND COST OF A NEW DIESEL UNIT, THE CITY COUNCIL AND COOPERATING CITIZENS' COMMITTEE HAVE EMPLOYED THE SERVICES OF A RECOGNIZED AND QUALIFIED FIRM OF ENGINEERS. THE PROPOSAL IS BASED UPON THE RECOMMENDATIONS OF THESE ENGINEERS AND THE JUDGMENT OF THE COUNCIL AND COMMITTEE. IN ORDER THAT ELECTORS MAY FULLY ACQUAINT THEMSELVES WITH THE FINANCIAL DETAILS OF THE PROPOSAL, THE COMPLETE ENGINEER'S ESTIMATES ARE PRODUCED HEREWITH:

The Honorable Mayor and City Council,
Charlevoix, Michigan
Gentlemen:

Complying with your instructions of December 7, 1937, we have prepared an estimate of cost of the installation of a 500 KW Diesel engine generator unit complete with necessary auxiliaries, switchboard improvements and building additions.

The total estimated cost, shown in detail on the accompanying estimate is $92,304.

ENGINE GENERATOR UNIT

The price for the Diesel-engine generator unit was obtained from a manufacturer and is for the unit erected on the foundation ready to run, complete with necessary auxiliaries.

ENGINE FOUNDATION

To insure a safe foundation for the engine, we have included encasement of the sub foundation in steel sheet piling. With foundation piles this will reduce the possibility of settlement and vibration to a minimum.

SWITCHBOARD

The switchboard additions and changes include two new switchboard panels to match the present board; one generator voltage regulator panel and one generator and exciter panel. The regulator panel includes one voltage regulator for the new unit and one voltage regulator for the present Diesel unit. The generator panel includes the necessary instruments and switches for control of the new unit. The new panels will be set into the present switchboard.

The changes also include new mountings for the present circuit breakers and other improvements.

Prices for switchboard equipment were obtained on December 15, 1937.

BUILDING

The building is layed out to accomodate the proposed 500 KW unit and an additional unit up to 900 KW capacity which can be installed when conditions require it. It will be much more economical to make the building large enough for two units now than to make a second addition in the future.

BELLAIRE PLANT AND TRANSMISSION LINE

We have not included any item for the improvement of the Bellaire hydro plant or for the transmission line, though we believe improvements should be made.

Respectfully yours,

McDONOUGH-CARTIER WEDDING AN EVENT OF FRIDAY, JAN. 21

Of especial interest to Charlevoixana is the announcement of the marriage at Summit, New Jersey, on Friday, January 21st, of Stanley J. Cartier, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred E. Cartier, this city, and Miss Marguerite Leone McDonough, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Vesty V. McDonough of St. James.

The couple were attended by the groom's brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Cartier of New York City. The bride wore an ensemble of azure blue with navy accessories.

Following a honeymoon trip, Mr. and Mrs. Cartier will be at home at 7 Ashland Road, Summit, N. J.

Mr. Cartier is a graduate of Charlevoix high school and Mrs. Cartier of a nurse's training school in Chicago. Their many local friends will join in extending congratulations.

NEW ELECTION LAW EFFECT THIS YEAR

VOTERS NEEDN'T DECLARE PARTY AFFILIATION

County Clerk Fenton R. Bulow Explains Working of New Rulings Primary Elections

Elimination of the necessity of declaring one's political affiliations by asking for a party ticket marks a major change in the primary election system, County Clerk Fenton R. Bulow explains. The enabling law was passed at the last session of the state legislature.

Becoming operative this year and effecting two primary elections scheduled to be held during the year, the law deals a death blow to the ancient and honorable game of "bet you a dime that Joe Doakes voted democratic this year." The bet was usually settled by dashing up to the county clerk's office and pouring over the election records.

The new law does not change the actual primary ballot which remains the same as those used in previous elections, each party's candidate being named on a separate ballot. The ballots, however, will be in the pad form perforated or gummed at the top to make removal easier. The voter will merely select his party ballot and vote, disregarding the remaining ballots.

Instead of designating his party ticket, the voter will merely ask for a ballot. He will be handed a pad of ballots containing all of the party ballots. Stepping into a booth, he will then select the ballot of his choice. This he will hand to the proper person to be deposited in the sealed ballot box and the others he will hand to another person who will deposit them after tearing off the ballot number in the presence of the elector, in a sealed box marked, "Blank Ballot Box".

To avoid possible election fraud by voting more than one party ticket, each of the ballots on the pad will bear the same number, only one of which may be used. The number will be recorded against the voter's name as in the past. Inasmuch as each ballot on the pad bears the same number, it will be practically impossible to determine how John Public cast his vote.

The spring primary, if held, is scheduled for the first Monday in March with the spring election due to be held on the initial Monday in April. The fall primary is to be held on the second Monday in September with the fall election to follow on the second Tuesday in November.

said. "They have long realized that they must provide good accomodations, good food, at a fair price and be constantly un the alert to look after the entertainment and well being of their guests. The fact that so many thousands of guests return year after year to the same resort certainly shows that Michigan's resort operators are alive to the value of this vast repeat business."

"Twenty years of experience," said Mr. Gray, "has taught the Tourist Association valuable lessons in the choice of advertising media. The Association spends ninety percent of its advertising budget in newspaper advertising and it has constantly directed that advertising to its primary trade territory, from which 89 percent of our tourists and resorters come."

"With the advantage of that twenty years of experience we are planning our 1938 advertising program along the lines of those of past years that have been so successful in raising Michigan to first rank among the tourist states of the nation, doing an estimated business in 1937 of $362,250,000."

EPWORTH LEAGUE RALLY AT BOYNE CITY PLANNED

AGED CHARLEVOIX COUPLE SUCCUMBS

Mrs. Williams gained prominence as author of the book, "Child of the Sea, and Life Among the Mormons," which gave the impressions of life beginning with the early '80's and coming down to the present century. It was an accurate account of early northern Michigan history, gathered through Mrs. Williams' personal experiences as one of the oldest native-born Michigan residents.

Mr. and Mrs. Williams were well known as musicians, this accomplishment resulting no doubt from the necessity of providing their own entertainment during long hours of lighthouse vigil. In the early days they were in great demand to furnish music for dances, many times at distant points, and Mr. Williams often related fiddling at northern Michigan's first 4th of July celebration at Cheboygan. Mrs. Williams played the piano and mouth organ together, and Mr. Williams was equally proficient with the violin, accordian and numerous reed instruments. Until ill health prevented, they entertained hosts of friends with their music.

Mr. Williams is survived by a brother, Milton, residing in California. Mrs. Williams is an aunt of Harry Gebeau and Mrs. Floss Ripley, this city.

Double funeral services were conducted at 2 o'clock Tuesday afternoon from the See Funeral Home by Rev. G. R. Parker. Burial at Brookside cemetery.

CHARLEVOIX WINS FROM BOYNE CITY

SCORED 34 TO 19 VICTORY FRIDAY NIGHT

Win Pushed Boyne Out of Deadlock for Conference Leadership— Reserves Defeated 29-17

Any doaht existing in the minds of fans regarding Charlevoix's superiority in northern Michigan class C basketball circles was dispelled Friday night when Coach Kipke's Rayders polished off Boyne's undefeated team by a 34 to 19 count.

Meeting under conditions paralleling those of a year ago, the Rayders shoved Boyne out of a deadlock for the conference leadership, only this year by a decisive score instead of the margin of a single point registered last season. Boyne's gym was packed for the contest and fans who came looking for the outstanding court tilt of the northern Michigan basketball season saw a thrilling game.

With both teams concentrating on defense and bothered to no small extent by nervousness, the score was close in the first two periods. Charlevoix led by a single point, 6 to 5, at the close of the first quarter. They extended their margin 12 to 8 at the half. Boyne tallied six free throws and a goal during the first two periods, while Charlevoix netted six goals, two each by Carey and Richardson and singles by Brown and Gallagher. Play was in Charlevoix's territory for the most part, but the Ruyders seemed unable to locate the meshes on their many chances.

Charlevoix's offense really clicked during the last two periods. With Carey leading the way, the Ruyders tallied 10 points while holding Boyne to a single free toss during the third quarter and in the fourth they outscored Boyne by a margin of 12 to 10.

Carey's 16 points was the high individual score. Richardson tallied 8 before going out on fouls and Gallagher followed closely with 7. Shaeffer was high for Boyne with 10 points.

ABOUT THE WEATHER

Weather has been a timely topic hereabouts for some time back, for that's about all there has been to talk about, and plenty of it—quality, quantity and all.

To last Tuesday's record snowfall which plugged highways generally has been added 15 inches during the past week, bringing the total for the winter somewhere within the proportions "old timers" tell about back in the "good old days." Fifteen inches of snow is only 1½ inches of rain—but it's 15 inches of snow just the same.

While other sections of the country and those close to home as well, have been shivering in sub-zero temperatures, the lowest reading at the official Coast Guard Station thermometer registers at 1 above last Thursday. Following are the readings from January 26 to February 1, inclusive.

	High	Low
Wednesday	16	13
Thursday	12	1
Friday	19	6
Saturday	25	18
Sunday	26	13
Monday	8	3
Tuesday	16	5

The temperature has risen from 10 above early this morning to 26 above.

ABRAHAM NOWLAND, PIONEER, TAKEN BY DEATH

Funeral Services Monday for Resident Here Over Seventy Years

Charlevoix lost a pioneer resident Thursday night in the denth of Abrahnm Nowland, 77, who died at the home of his son, Irving, following an extended illness.

Funeral servlees were conducted Monday afternoon from the See Funeral Home by Rev. H. J. Palsipher nnd burial was at Brookside cemetery.

Mr. Nowland was born at Flat Rock, Mich., in 1861. He came to this city with his parents at the age of four years and resided here until his death.

He married Miss Amy Gibson, who preceded him in denth. To this union were born eight children, seven of whom survive, viz: Ernest and Irving Nowland, Mrs. Snrah McClanaghan, Mrs. Lydia Coblentz, Mrs. Alba Holm, Mrs. Jennie Houghton and Mrs. Hazel Smith. A sister, Mrs. Jane Root of Portland, Ore., nnd 29 grandchildren and 15 great grandchildren survive also.

CANDIDATES FILE FOR CITY OFFICE

ROBERT BRIDGE OPPOSING BERGEON FOR MAYOR

Three-Way Contest for Alderman of 2nd Ward—No Democratic Slate for First Time in Years

City political activity, unusually dormant in view of the approaching primary, emerged Tuesday afternoon with the filing of Republican petitions for nominntion in March.

Presented for electors is a mayoralty contest between Arthur Bergeon, incumbent, and Robert Bridge, president of the Charlevoix County State Bank, past Kiwanis president and prominent in local civic affairs. Other candidates for city office are unopposed.

In the second precinct, E. J. Kibbe, incumbent alderman, has two opponents. In the third ward the petition of Russell Pat Curtis has been filed in opposition to J. J. Hallett, incumbent alderman, hut it is understood verbal notification of Curtis' withdrawal has been received. In the first ward Alderman Arthur Ranger did not file for re-election, while the petition of Clarence F. Wood, a former alderman from that ward, was filed.

For the first time in several years no Democratic slate was filed. Following is the complete slate:

For Mayor—*Arthur Bergeon, Robert Bridge.
For Clerk—*Ray S. Hamilton.
For Treasurer—*F. V. Tyler.

First Ward
Supervisor—*E. E. Cross.
Alderman—Clarence F. Wood.

Second Ward
Supervisor—*Darwin F. Meech.
Alderman — *E. J. Kibbe, Lewis Brant, Charles Heise.

Third Ward
Supervisor—*Clarence B. Meggison.
Alderman — *J. J. Hallett, Russell Pat Curtis.

*Present office-holder.

ODD FELLOWS GAINED LARGE CRIBBAGE LEAD

Pile Up Biggest Score of Season—Bob Miles Holds Perfect Hand

Breaking a losing streak of three successive weeks and piling up the largest margin since the winter cribbage series opened, the Odd Fellows trimmed their Masonic opponents by 765 points Monday night to gain an advantage of 695 points.

Incidentally the first perfect cribbage hand in seven years of play was held by Bob Miles of the Odd Fellows. Bob held three 5's and the Jack of Diamonds and had the five of diamonds turned, giving him 29 points.

Monday night's team scores gave the Odd Fellows 21,177 points to 20,412 for the Masons. Floyd Ikens turned in a perfect 968 score for the winners, while Oscar Nelson, with 958 points, was high for the Masons.

The series will continue Monday evening, Februnry 7, at the I. O. O. F. hall.

TOWNSEND CLUB MEETING THURSDAY EVENING

A meeting of the local Townsend Club is scheduled at the usual hour Thursday evening, February 3rd, at the court house. All members are urged to attend.

AN EDITORIAL

Charlevoix electors will go to the polls of a special election next Tuesday, February 8th, to vote on a proposal of great importance to this city's future welfare.

Their vote will determine whether or not the city council is vested with authority to issue revenue bonds of the municipal electric lighting system in the amount of $98,000.00 to provide funds for the purchase and installation of a 500 k.w. diesel unit at the electric light plant, for required building extension to house the unit and for improvements to the Bellaire hydro plant.

The proposal is the result of a survey of Charlevoix's need for additional electric energy conducted by the city council and a citizens' committee composed of Robert Bridge and Martin Block, representing the Kiwanis Club, Clurence Wood und Allen Campbell, representing the Board of Commerce, and W. E. Goss, representing the American Legion. The decision of the council and citizens' committee after numerous meetings, consultations with engineers and careful study, is embodied in the proposal.

An advertisement appearing on page 7 of this issue, completely explains the situation. The capacity of present units is shown along with peak consumption figures, showing clearly the dangerous situation the city faces if any single unit becomes inoperative for any lengthy period. The engineer's estimates, showing in every detail how the money is to be spent, is revealed with exception of improvments to the Bellaire plant which were decided upon after the engineer's estimates were presented.

The Courier would respectfully call attention of its readers to a few salient facts:

If the new equipment was not sorely needed, it would not be asked for.

There has been no attempt to approach the problem blindly. The proposal is the result of careful consideration by the city council and a representative group of citizens whose sole purpose was to protect Charlevoix's welfare.

There will be no increase in taxes. There will be no increase in electric light rates. Income from the system is ample to retire the indebtedness.

The Courier is whole-heartedly in favor of the proposal because this institution, along with 75% of the others in Charlevoix, faces a critical situation as long as the danger of an electric system incapable of guaranteeing constant service, confronts us.

We ask voters to bear these facts in mind—to remember they have their personal welfare in their own hands—when they go to the polls next Tuesday.

TEN SCHOOLS COMPETE AT DISTRICT TOURNEY

Officials Are Named for Cage Meet Here February 3, 4 and 5

Ten schools will compete in the district basketball tournament scheduled to be held in Charlevoix on February 3, 4 and 5, according to school athletic officials.

Competing for class C honors will be Charlevoix, Boyne City, East Jordan and Harbor Springs. Class D contenders include Alanson, Boyne Falls, Mackinaw City, Wolverine, Indian River and Pellston.

Officials named for the tournament are C. W. Tabraham of Cadillac, and Robert M. Cornell of Petoskey.

WINTER IS OVER?

If that myth concerning the weather procrastinating groundhog is true, winter is over. Today, February 2, he was supposed to come out of his den, look the landscape over, and if he saw his shadow — "Presto" — six more weeks of winter. He didn't see his shadow today, folks, so if you believe in myths, winter is over. Just as a matter of suggestion, however, it would be a good plan to keep the snow shovel handy for a few weeks yet.

There will be a benefit dance held February 5th at the I. O. O .F. hall. Admission 35c per couple. — Adv. 5t1pd.

PRESIDENT'S BIRTHDAY PARTY A FINE SUCCESS

Tidy Sum for Infantile Paralysis Fight Raised at Argonne Party

Termed the most successful affair of its kind ever held in Charlevoix county, the fifth annual President's Birthday Ball, an event of Saturday evening at The Argonne, drew an attendance of over two hundred persons.

Every community in Charlevoix county and northern Michigan generally was represented at the gathering. Stan Cole's orchestra furnished music for dancing.

Net proceeds of the party, approximately $100, will be turned over to the national organization for the fight against infantile paralysis. Seventy per cent is available for use in this county.

Arlo Wickersham, county chairman, speaking for the county committee, desires to take this means of expressing appreciation for the splendid public support given this most worthy cause.

LIQUOR STORES CLOSED ON FEBRUARY 12 and 22

Under orders of the Michigan Liquor Control Commission, all state liquor stores will be closed on the birthday anniversaries of Abraham Lincoln and George Washington, February 12 and 22, respectively.

HALF-YEAR PLATES ON SALE HERE LAST FRIDAY

Warning of No Extension Again Issued by State Department

Half year motor vehicle license plates were placed on sale throughout Michigan Friday.

The permits have black numerals on a white background and are effective for six months.

With the placing of the licenses on sale, Secretary of State Leon D. Case warned that after February all motor vehicles must have 1938 plates or the new metal half year permits.

Case also emphasized that under the new motor licensing act there will be no extension of the deadline after February 28.

"Judging from the present number of applications there are going to be a great many motorists who will be unable to operate their automobiles after March 1," Case warned.

"We are going to have a bad jam the last few days before the deadline unless motorists start buying licenses. It will be physically impossible for the department to sell more than 1,000,000 plates in a short time."

STATE TAX SALES TO AFFECT MANY

DELINQUENT PROPERTY LIST PRINTED THIS WEEK

Tax Burdened Property May Be Saved from Sale Yet If Prompt Action Is Taken

It is indicuted that the holdings of many Charlevoix county taxpayers will be involved in the state tax sale of next May.

Publication of the entire list of descriptions to be offered for sale in May this year has been authorized and is made in the Charlevoix Courier this week.

County Treasurer Lillis M. Flanders states that Charlevoix county property that is delinquent will be sold or the entire tax if any one of or all three installments of taxes due last September 1 under the state's first 10-year plan for payment of delinquent taxes of 1932 and prior years remain unpaid.

Taxes unpaid for the years of 1933, 1934, and 1935 also will bring property under the auctioneer's hammer. A second 10-year moratorium plan that was decreed by the 1937 legislature provided for installment payment of taxes for these years upon payment of the 1936 taxes in full. However, time has expired for retirement of these taxes on the 10-year plan. The deadline for compliance with the conditions of the second 10-year plan was last August 31st.

Property may yet be saved from going on sale, County Treasurer Flanders points out, provided all installments under the old 10-year plan are brought up to date, that is, the first three-tenths of the 1932 and prior years taxes are paid.

If the first one-tenth of 1933, 1934 and 1935 taxes have been paid under the second 10-year plan (the

TOO MUCH WINTER

The annual event was scheduled to open Sunday for two days, to be featured by the coronation of Betty Brown, pretty high school junior, as queen. The municipal rink is covered with drifted snow, however, and the event has been postponed to February 6 and 7.

CAMP CHARLEVOIX OBTAINS BACHMAN

SIGNS FAMOUS COACH FOR 1938 SUMMER SEASON

Michigan State College Mentor Will Give Fuotball Instruction at Charlevoix Summer Camp

"Charlie" Bachman, football coach at Michigan State college, has been signed to give football instruction to the boys at Camp Charlevoix, well known boys' camp on Lake Charlevoix, during the 1938 camping season, according to an announcement

CHARLES BACHMAN

Coach Bachman, one of the most snecessful coaches of the country, is known wherever football is known. His M. S. C. team playeds in the Orunge Bowl game against Auburn on New Year's day. His teams at State have been contenders for national championships for several seasons.

"Charlie," as he is called by men and boys alike, is a Notre Dame product. During the war he played center on the champion Great Lakes naval team. At the age of 25 he was head coach at Northwestern University and was known as the "Boy Coach" of the Big Ten. He coached at Kansas State eight seasons and five at the University of Florida. His record at M. S. C. is unequalled.

Having three husky sons of his own, Coach Bachman is keenly interested in boys and knows how to talk and teach football to that age. He has a welcome smile and is always the center of any group interested in the game. He will have charge of the special football period during the Camp Charlevoix season.

FIRST FUNDS RECEIVED BY RURAL ELECTRIC CO.

Weather Conditions Permitting, Construction Starts in 6 Weeks

Officials of the Top of Michigan Rural Electric Company have announced that the first installment of funds for construction of lines has been received.

With weather conditions permitting, it is hoped that construction can be started in about six weeks. Officials point out that it is highly important that those desiring service should sign up their membership application at once, as the first year's construction will take place in those communities where the largest number of members have signed.

Anyone desiring information should communicate at once with the office at Boyne City, or with survey men in their own vicinity.

LANSING LETTER

By GENE ALLEMAN

Field Manager, Michigan Press Association

Unheralded in the newspaper front page is a grim race of life and death between Michigan's medical science and Michigan's machine age as exemplified by high-speed automobiles.

The bombing of the American gunboat Panay with a loss of six lives is emblazoned in the headlines. Readers are shocked

Yet the mere announcement that a total of 1804 persons lost their lives in Michigan during the first ten months of 1937 leaves us somewhat indifferent. We lose the true value of proportions when we deal with the commonplace. It is the unusual, like the bombing of the Panay, that arouses us to heights of indignation.

The 1937 automobile death toll in Michigan exceeded the all-time record in 1936 by 22 per cent.

Verily, here is massacre on our highways!

Science Saves Lives

And while the modern motor juggernaut continues to roll onward, Michigan's medical science is scoring

FAIRVIEW BANKS

(Too late for last week)

Art Wiltse had a sick horse the past week, also Frank DeJong.

Some nice, clear, snappy and crisp mornings the past week, which are very healthy.

Our January thaw came last Saturday and Sunday, followed by rain Monday morning.

August VanDerArk of Ellsworth called on Harry DeGroot Monday afternoon last week.

The young people were entertained at the home of Mr. and Mrs. U. Seoneker Tuesday evening.

Mrs. Ed. Scott of Charlevoix was visiting relatives here and in Central Lake Wednesday and Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Postma were entertained at the home of Dr. and Mrs. VanDelleo in Ellsworth Sunday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Timmer and family were in Charlevoix Wednesday visiting with Mr. and Mrs. Peter Timmer.

Roy Rushton of Central Lake, "The Rawleigh Medicine Man", called on his customers in this neighborhood Monday.

Farmers are hauling saw logs to Ellsworth at present, to be cut into lumber. Mr. White will operate a saw mill there.

The Misses Kathryn and Cora Timmer were supper guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. William Timmer Thursday evening.

Martin Elzinga of the Mitchel District, who was taken to Charlevoix hospital for treatment a few days ago, is improving at present writing, and we hope will soon be home again.

BARNARD

Mrs. Clarence Beattie has been quite ill the past week.

Mrs. Frank Matchett has been quite ill but is better at present.

A. J. Holbies attended the supervisors' meeting in Lansing last week.

Mrs. Bolhuis visited her aunt, Mrs. Himebaugh, in Charlevoix a few days last week.

Harrison Waroer and Irving Drost spent the week end at their home, returning to CCC Camp Wolverine Sunday.

Mrs. George Willis underwent an operation at Charlevoix hospital last Saturday and we hear she is getting along finely.

The play which was advertised to be given Monday night by the Hilton school, was postponed on account of bad weather and roads.

Clayton Smith started for the west January 21st. The last report was from Texas with only three states to cross to his destination in California.

BEAVER ISLAND

Mrs. Bob Ashdon returned home from Charlevoix Thursday.

Pilot Russell Carnes spent Thursday night on the island, storm bound.

H. R. Pischner spent a few hours at home Sunday from his camp on Garden Island.

J. W. Green returned home Saturday after spending several days on the mainland on business.

Joe Ricksgers went to Charlevoix Friday morning to have dental work done. He returned the same day.

Bernard O'Donnell, Chicago, arrived home last week to visit his parents, Mr. and Mrs. James O'Donnell.

Vernon Lafreniere went to Gaylord Saturday to visit his wife, who is a patient at Northern Sanitarium.

Miss Marguerite Gallagher, Boyne City, spent a few hours here Saturday, visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Andy Gallagher.

CENTRAL LAKE

Quite a storm again the first of the week.

Our items lay snow bound in the mail box last week, but we'll try it again.

Mr. and Mrs. Jay Emery and children left for their home in Flint last week, and C. H. Marse is alone again.

Mr. and Mrs. Bob Mason are now living in Central Lake. She is the former Florence DeForest, recently married.

Mr. and Mrs. Vercil Mason have a fine seven and three-quarters pound girl born about two weeks ago at their home on the James Ison farm.

Wm. DeForest who died in Detroit was brought home last week, we are told, and funeral services held here. His mother, Mrs. Zibe DeForest, died a few weeks ago.

Mr. and Mrs. Lambert DeVries are sojourning in the south part of the state, not in Tennessee, as at first reported. They intend to come back to their farm here in the spring.

Rev. and Mrs. Liskum have a new radio, recently purchased to wile away the long winter hours. They got to town to church again Sunday as the snow plows came through again.

We are glad to see the Green River and Jordan River Sunday schools are continuing in the winter, and with so good attendances. The correspondents there are giving good reports. We hope to see news from Clam Lake soon.

Our sympathy goes out for relatives of Mrs. Frank Richardson who passed away last week. She was a much esteemed lady, and Rev. Kendal and the writer were entertained several times at her home during his pastorate at Norwood.

J. A. Triplett has returned from his trip to the south part of the state, and now Mrs. Triplett has gone, but is expected home soon. They have a new baby at the Lawrence DeVries home at Grandville where he has been doing electrical work.

Walter Bush writes from Wroxeter, Canada, that they are having lots of snow there, but not very cold. He is stopping with his cousin this winter, but will work for a greenhouse firm next summer. It is the largest greenhouse in the world, covering seventeen acres.

Quite a crowd assembled at the Grange Hall at Eastport, Saturday, to hear the new county agent, Mr. Kilpatrick, speak but he was unable to be present on account of a scheduled meeting at Charlevoix that day. People on the Farrel road had to wait until the snow plow came through from town, so it was too late for the dinner hour.

(Snowed in last week)

Nice summer rain Monday, flooding cellars.

Jay Emory has returned to Flint, and is on the 24-hour schedule.

Lyle and Ivan Morse made a business trip to Charlevoix last Saturday.

Miss Phyllis Swanson writes that she has a good position at Ann Arbor State Hospital this winter.

Mrs. John Dawson has been quite ill for the past two weeks, but is improving slowly at this writing.

Mrs. Allen Aardema R. N., is slightly improved in health since having her teeth extracted, we are glad to announce.

Lloyd Morse has moved his family and livestock to Wildwood, James Wilson neighborhood northeast of town, where he has a lumbering job.

Chas. Morse, who has been ill for several weeks, is able to be about again. His daughter, Doris, and children from Flint are stopping with him this winter.

Mrs. Gerald Drake, nee Elma Bradley, and husband from Grand Rapids, visited recently at the James Drake home here, and at Green River with her parents.

Paul Louiselle of Torch Lake visited over the week end at the Mosrs King home at Central Lake, and attended Pentecostal Sunday school last Sunday.

The Hayes family have been stopping with the Frank Zimmerman family since the burning of the Hayes home a few weeks ago on northeast side of town.

Henry Wynsma left a few weeks ago to see his wife at Ann Arbor hospital, who has been very low with pernicious anemia. Not much hopes are entertained for her recovery.

The Morse twins, Dorothy and Doris, of Central Lake visited over the week end with their cousins, the Knowles sisters at Bay View. They spent the time skiing and coasting.

Tom Wynsma had to have the local doctor call to give medical assistance to his baby boy who has been real ill with a cold. The rest of the family has been likewise incapacitated.

Wellington DeForest of Eastport has been around selling fruit trees for the Stark Nursery of Missouri. Trees are quite high in price again. East Jordan Canning company bought up quite a few cherry trees last fall for a number of the farmers.

Tom Alberts and Ivan Morse made a trip to Antrim Iron Company at Mancelona last week looking for work, but it appears to be pretty scarce for single men. In Indiana, it appears, young couples have to be married a year before they can get WPA help. A young mother of that state, 11 years of age, has applied for a widow's pension!

We see that the administration has had a conference with business leaders on what is holding back employment. Quite cleverly, the talk, instead of going at the real reason, the strikers refusing to work the last year, was shooted to "high pressure sales of cars ,and too much credit". Wonder who the high pressure salesman was that borrowed on credit of the government to the amount of 20 million dollars, and hasn't yet made the first installment payment.

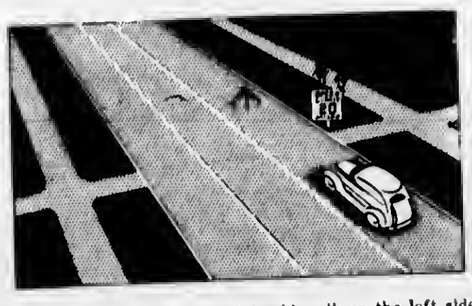
What Every Driver Must Know

PEDESTRIANS



This series of articles was written to provide Michigan drivers with a means of studying the traffic laws in preparing for their drivers' license examinations. Since pedestrian deaths account for about 40% of the annual accident toll, the series would not be complete without a discussion of the person afoot.

Pedestrians should exercise the same caution as drivers. They should walk on the left side of the road so they can see approaching traffic and avoid it. They should avoid all forms of jaywalking and be especially careful at interaections with stop and go lights to cross only on the Green. Children should not play where balls and toys will roll into the street. Increased cooperation and alertness both by drivers and pedestriane will help save human lives.

FORMER NATIONAL LEGION COMMANDER WILL TALK AT TRAVERSE CITY

Al Peck, commander of the Bowen-Holliday Legion Post No. 35 of Traverse City, announced today that James A. Drain, a member of the staff of the Bureau of Informational Service of the Social Security Board, would be the principal speaker at a joint dinner meeting of the Legion and Auxiliary on the evening of Tuesday, February 9, at the Legion Home in Traverse City. A cordial invitation is extended to the officers and members of other posts. Those planning to attend should communicate with Commander Peck.

General Drain is a past national commander of the American Legion and during the World War was the original ordinance officer of the First Division of the A. E. F. For his war services he was decorated with the D. S. M. by the United States; with the Legion of Honor, by France; and with the Cross of Italy.

During the period in which he was national commander, General Drain was instrumental in organizing the child welfare activities program of the Legion. Although a lawyer and publisher since that time, his attention has been centered to a large extent on child welfare activities and related subjects, making his interest in the Social Security Act and its objectives of long standing.

The General was secured as a speaker in Traverse City through the efforts of Clifton H. Little, manager of the local field office of the Social Security Board.

DEPARTMENT OF STATE NEWS BULLETIN

Used Car Owners Should Own Titles

People who must transfer titles of cars to themselves before purchasing 1938 license plates or half year plates should not delay this action longer, department of state officials have warned, as license plate sales continued to lag.

While a record for title transfers was established in 1937, there is every indication that thousands of people who have acquired used cars in the past few months, are still deferring title transfer until they are ready to buy their new plates or permits. As a rule, motorists defer this transfer in the belief they will evade the $1.00 fee for transferring license plates. However, this charge is collected regardless of the time of the title transfer.

Frank W. Carney, director of the motor vehicle division of the department of state points out, that those selling cars to subsequent purchasers should see to it that the titles are transferred. Legal responsibility for damages resulting from operation of a motor vehicle, rests with the recorded owner, Carney has observed.

Indications are that more than a million motor vehicles will lack 1938 pal tesro av-Dt etaoin shrdlu etaoin plates or permits on February 1, with the deadline fixed by law at March 1. Those who involve plate purchases with title transfer applications will not only slow down the whole process for themselves but for everyone else applying for plates, motorists are rominded.

UNMARRIED WOMEN HAVE HARDEST JOBS SAYS MARJORIE HILL

I take my hat off to single women," writes Marjorie Hillis in this month's Woman's Day magazine. "No," answers Vera Connolly in the same issue, "the married woman has the harder job."

It all started in the editorial steff rooms a month ago. Exactly nne-half of the women nn the magazine's staff are married — the nther half single. Words began to fly, at first good-natured jibes, but soon heated arguments.

"We'll settle it in public," said Mrs. Haydie Yates. She promptly engaged Marjorie Hillis, of "Live Alone and Like It" fame, and Vera Connolly, long champion of the married woman, to represent the two sides—on two facing pages of the February issue.

We cordially invite the public to our service and reading room.

"Spirit" will be the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Christian Science churches throughout the world on Sunday, February 6.

The Golden Text, from Ephesians 4:30, is "Grieve not the holy Spirit of God, whereby ye are sealed unto the day of redemption."

Among the Bible citations is this passage (John 4:24): "God is a Spirit: and they that worship him must worship him in spirit and in truth."

Correlative passages to be read from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy, include the following (p. 93.: "In Christian Science, Spirit, as a proper noun, is the name of the Supreme Being. It means quantity and quality, and applies exclusively to God. The modifying derivatives of the word spirit refer only to quality, not to God."

Figures of the state department of health show that the death rate in 1937 declined 3 per cent. It is 10.55 per 1,000 population compared with 10.87 the previous year.

Significant is the news that this slight difference saved 1,323 lives of Michigan citizens. And while fewer poople died, more babies were born—proof indeed that times aro getting better. The hirth rate, If you are interested, climbed from a depression low rate of 15.96 in 1933 to 17.73 per 1,000 population in 1937.

Heart disease and cancer came to a halt in 1937 and actually showed decreases. These two causes of death have heen increasing constently for a decade.

On the other hand, tuberculosis deaths increased slightly.

The long-fought battle against this plague is yet to be won.

Newspapers Get Advice

Last Friday afternoon, newspaper editors of Michigan were addressed at their 63rd annunl convention at Michigan State College by four state officials. Tho united theme was "Save lives in 1938 by reducing the highway massacre."

How the newspapers can aid the state in achioving this objective was the topic of talks by Dr. Eugene B. Elliott, superintendent, state department of public instruction; Murray D. Van Wagoner, commissioner, state highway department; Oscar Olander, commissioner, Michigan State police; and Leon D. Case, secretary of state.

That speed may be a major contributing factor to Michigan appalling highway toll was one conclusion advanced. State officials are inclining more and more to believe that a 50-mile-an-hour limit should be established on main traffic thoroughfares with provisions in the law to permit higher speeds over certain designated stretches of straight highway through sparsely settled territory.

25 Per Cent Drop

Michigan citizens may well expect to enjoy better health and have more time to enjoy life.

Take the problem of the deaths of mothers at childbirth. The American death rate for this single cause has been almost a national disgrace in contrast with improved conditions prevalent in Europenn nations.

It is a matter of pride to Michigan citizens to know that this state made remarkable progress during 1937. Deaths of mothers dropped 25 per cent in 1937—the greatest single decrease in recent years. Only 276 mothers died in childbirth during ten months of 1937, compared with 370 in the same period of 1936. A new all-time low was recorded also for infant deaths.

For the first time, public health nursing services were extended to 21 counties in Michigan.

Since social security funds became available in 1936, a total of 17 counties in the rural areas of Northern Michigan have been aided in organizing county or district health departments. These counties include Alger, Schoolcraft, Bay, Chippewa, Delta, Dickinson, Houghton, Keweenaw, Iron, Mason, Manistee, Mecosta, Oseeola, Menominee, Ontonagon, Baraga and Sanilac.

Syphilis Control

The past year marked the beginning of Michigan's peace-time war against the scourge of syphilis.

Curative drugs are being distributed to physicians, diagnostic laboratory services have heen expanded, and other steps taken to combat this disease. The antenuptial physical examination law and a law permitting social hygiene instruction in schools provide educational weapons for effective use.

Pneumonia, the fourth major cause of death, has prompted health authorities to inaugurate a research program to develop a cheaper and more potent serum for the treatment of this contagious disease.

The state, in behalf of the public health, now assumes the responsibility of providing free smallpox vaccine, scarlet fever antitoxin, rabies vaccine and tuberculin to physicians.

The state laboratories are performing free of charge approximately two-thirds of the tests for syphilis required by the new marriage law. Positive indications of syphilis have been found in approximately 1 per cent of all the specimens examined.

Occupational Diseases

The occupational disease law, which became effective in 1937, requires physicians to make a report on cases of occupational disease arising from conditions of work in industry.

General surveys are being made of foundries, paper mills, furniture factories, dry cleaning, stone cutting, and printing industries to study atmospheric conditions as to the quantity of dust and poison.

This law is yet in a stage of development.

It imposes upon industry a definite responsibility of maintaining healthful working conditions to prevent the occurrence of occupational diseases.

Need of Dental Care

Dental hygiene surveys in Michigan public schools indicate that 67 to 95 per cent of all school children are in the need of dental care.

It is of interest to note that social security funds, made available to Michigan, financed an extension of public health work to the tune of $301,835.

And still there are 27 counties in Michigan which lack modern health protective services.

Medical science, aided by an awakened public consciousness, has made encouraging gains.

How about the highway massacre? Surely something can be done in 1938 to reduce this shameful sacrifice of life on our public highways.

EASTERN SPORTSMEN TO FEED DEER HERDS

Montmorency and Alpena Clubs Join to Spread Hay and Cedar Browse

Sportsmen and deer hunting clubs of Montmorency, Alcona and Alpena counties have opened a campaign to provide food for deer in the snow-covered lower peninsula.

A plan to use WPA workers in spreading hay and cedar twigs for deer in the Alpena hunting area was advocated at a meeting last night presided over by State Rep. Henry Douville of Alpena.

Philip K. Fletcher, former member of the state conservation commission, said it would be necessary to kill between 500,000 and 700,000 deer annually to prevent an increase in state herds. He pointed out that deer concentrated in large numbers would starve.

VISION

There is a verse in Proverbs with which every man, woman, and child should be familiar. It is this — "Where there is no vision the people perish."

Reference is not made to physical vision, or to meatal vision, but to spiritual vision. Sad to say, the spiritual vision of present generations seems to be lacking.

This is certainly a materialistic age, and its materialism is causing "confusion worse confounded", destroying as it does all sense of values.

Unless we can see ourselves as we are, see our relations with one another, and our Maker, and recognize our obligations to all, including ourselves, we are certainly going to perish.

BEAVER TRAPPING SEASON DATES ANNOUNCED

Lower Peninsula Season March 17-31 In Designated Counties

Michigan's beaver trapping season for 1938 will be conducted under the same regulations as prevailed for 1937, the state conservation commission has ruled on the basis of the recommendations of the game division.

Accordingly, the season in lower peninsula counties will extend from March 17 to March 31, inclusive, and in upper peninsula counties from April 1 to April 15, inclusive. However, not all counties or sections of counties in either the upper peninsula or the lower peninsula will be open. In the lower peninsula, the trapping area is designated as north of town 16 and west of Saginaw bay, plus Montcalm, Mecosta and Midland counties.

CARELESS SMOKERS ARE CAUSE MOST '37 FIRES

Department Officials Claim 40% Loss Is Due to Sportsmen's Carelessness

Reports to the Michigan conservation department revealed smokers were responsible for more than 40 per cent of last year's fires, which burned 16,000 acres, a record low. Burning brush was listed as second place cause.

Smokers have held first place annually for the last decade, department attaches said, some years causing as much as 53 per cent of the fires.

WHO IS ABSENT VOTER

Section 1. ICE FISHING DELUXE IS OFFERED AT BOYNE CITY

Hotel Room With Fish Shanty as Extra Provided Visitors

When you stop at the Dilworth hotel in Boyne City you get, not only a room with a bath, but a room with a fish shanty. Alert to the growing importance of fishing thru the ice in Northern Michigan the hotel has built a fish shanty deluxe for the use of its patrons.

Boyne City is one of the smelt fishing centers of Michigan and recently has incorporated its fishing village on the ice of some 200 shanties as Smeltania with a mayor and complete set of city officials. The Dilworth deluxe is the finest house on the ice, with accomodations for six fishermen, completely equipped and heated so that no special equipment or clothing is necessary to enjoy an evening of fishing on the ice.

Boyne City is the scene of an annual spring celebration glorifying the lowly smelt and has announced the date for its Smelt Jamboree for March 24 and 26, when the annual spawning run of the toothsome delicacies is at its height in the Boyne River.

East Jordan, a few miles distant from Boyne City, also celebrates its smelt run which generally reaches its peak before the Boyne City run. This extends the time which the died in the wool smelt dippers may spend in the region.

TRAPPING VIOLATIONS MEAN LOSS OF CONTRACT

Bounty Trappers Held Under Department Restrictions

Loss of the contracts with the state which grant permission to trap for bounty is a penalty which awaits trappers found guilty of violating the game laws.

By order of the state conservation commission, the predatory animal contract of any trapper found ignoring the regulations is automatically terminated on the date of his conviction.

Two trappers have already felt the effects of this mandatory order. The first case was that of Victor Aho of Trout Creek who pleaded guilty to the illegal trapping and possession of beaver. He was assessed a $100 line plus costs of $7.80 with alternative of 30 days in jail. Rudolph Conrad of Bruce's Crossing pleaded guilty to setting traps on a beaver dam and drew a fine of $50 plus costs of $7.80 with a 30-day jail term the alternative.

son. Boyne had a narrow margin throughout, leading 7 to 6 at the quarter, 12 to 10 at the half and 23 to 16 at the third intermission.

Charlevoix 42, Gaylord 11

In the first of two conference contests scheduled for the present week, Charlevoix's Rayders romped over Gaylord by a 42 to 11 score for their ninth victory Tuesday night at Gaylord. The reserves chalked up a 25 to 19 win, their sixth for the season.

It was a typical Rayder victory. A substitute line-up played a good portion of the contest and were more than a match for the Otsego county team. Charlevoix led 15 to 6 at the half and with the regulars taking up the battle in the last two periods piled up a lop-sided score.

Keith Carey put on another scoring exhibition, accounting for 22 points. Bert Pearl contributed 8 and practically every player added to the total.

Tom Carey with 7 and Bissell with 6 points, led the reserves to victory.

The Rayders play Friday night at East Jordan and on February 11th play at Grayling before ending their current road tour of four games. Harbor Springs comes here February 18th and the Rayders will close their pre-tournament schedule against Boyne City on February 25th.

THIS WEEK'S RECIPE

Fried Apples and Bacon

Pare tart apples, and cut into cubes to make about 2 quarts. Fry bacon in a heavy skillet and when crisp, drain on absorbent paper, and keep in a warm place. Leave about 4 tablespoons of bacon fat in the skillet, fill it with the apples, sprinkle on one-fourth cup of sugar, cover, and cook slowly until the apples are tender. Then remove the cover, turn the apples gently so the pieces will keep their shape, and let them brown and become transparent. Serve on a hot platter with the bacon. If desired, use thin slices of ham or salt pork, or sausage.

Diced apples, especially with the red skins left on, are excellent in many kinds of fruit salads. The apples give the crisp texture often needed, particularly with canned fruits.

SHAKESPEARE CLUB ENTERTAINED DICKENS CLUB WITH MUSICALE

The scene, "A Day in the Court of Queen Elizabeth," was composed and directed by Mrs. Helen Kreighoff. The Pages, Margery Edwards and Louise Young, announced the arrival of the queen and her court. The Queen (Mrs. Helen O'Neill) requested her ladies-in-waiting—Mesdames Ethelyn Edwards, Marian Bridge, Lillian Swinton and Alice Bellinger—to entertain her with their music, instrumental and vocal.

Then William Shakespeare, a writer who was becoming popular in social circles, was called to entertain the queen—a command performance in reality. Mrs. R. B. Armstrong, graciously taking the part of Shakespeare, read to the queen the beautiful sonnets he had composed to her. Interspersed with the reading the musical numbers were given by members of the Shakespeare company, Mrs. Marguerite Swinton directing. Helen Kreighoff sang the beautiful solo, "Hark, Hark, the Lark." Nancy Price as the shepherd boy, gracefully gave the Shepherd's Dance.

The meeting was a delightful one and largely attended.

CONFIDENCE

Keeps the Wheels of Business Turning

A LARGE part of the nation's business activity is financed through bank credit. This steady flow of credit is possible because depositors bring their money to their banks for safekeeping.

It is easy to see how important confidence is to the maintenance of this credit structure. Depositors must have confidence in their banks. Banks must have confidence in business. Business men must have confidence in the future before they will embark on new enterprises.

This bank appreciates the confidence of its depositors, and pledges itself to continue the policies of sound, helpful banking that mean so much to the continued development of our community.

Prevent Exposure to Scarlet Fever

The germ of scarlet fever is contained in the secretions from the nose, throat and air passages and enters the body by the mouth and air passages. It is transmissive at any time but is most dangerous during the onset of the disease and during the rash and less so during the stages of peeling. Cases with a discharging ear, abscess or with throat trouble remain infectious a long time after convalescence, and must receive special care. This disease is not airborne except within the distance that a fine spray may be coughed, laughed or sneezed from the nose and throat.

A third person may carry the germ to other persons or on their clothes or in the nose and throat. Therefore, one may receive the infection by direct contact with the patient, by indirect contact through things used or touched by the patient, or by indirect contact through a third person. Direct contact, is the most important and most frequent method of transmitting scarlet fever.

Many cases of scarlet fever are very mild, perhaps nothing more than a passing sore throat but the germs producing the mild case in one child can produce a fatal case in another child. Hence, all children with sore throat should be excluded from school when scarlet fever is present or suspected to be present in a community. In schools a third or more of the cases may be of the mild type, but the disease is spread as easily by mild as by severe cases .

Children under ten years of age are the chief victims and nine out of every ten deaths from scarlet fever occur under the age of ten. Resistance to the disease increases after the tenth year and fewer cases as well as fewer deaths occur, although occasionally scarlet fever in adults proves quite serious. The moral is, scarlet fever should be avoided at all times but more especially before the tentb year, for each yesr adds to the chances of the child to miss it entirely or to recover after it is contracted. The period between exposure and the development of the disease varies from one to fourteen days but it is usually one to seven days.

1. Vomiting is very common. Convulsions are common, especially in young children. Fever is intense and may reach 104 degrees on the first day.

2. The skin is unusually dry, the tongue is furred with red edges, and the throat is dry.

3. Usually on the second day, sometimes even earlier, the rash appears, first on neck and chest but spreading rapidly. The rash appears as little red points on a general flush.

4. The "fur" soon disappears from the tongue and the "strawberry" appearance succeeds it.

5. The throat shows redness, with swelling of the tonsils and tissues around them. The tonsils often show little white spots or follicles and the throat is "sore".

6. The glands under the jaw may enlarge and "kernals" appear.

7. Very mild cases may show no rash nor severe symptoms. The only evidence may be the sore throat and "strawberry" tongue.

8. The most frequent complications are kidney trouble, inflammation of the joints, heart involvment and ear complications.

The necessary features of prevention are isolation and disinfection. It is important to recognize mild cases by inspection with a nurse or doctor if possible. This inspection should be made daily and exclude all children with colds and sore throats.

There is a method of protecting against scarlet fever by injection of five doses of scarlet fever toxin. This does not always protect and those who do gain immunity may lose it later.

In the country closing the schools is occasionally advisable, for the children are thus widely separated and dissemination of the disease over a wide area may be prevented. In the city where children live close together little is gained by closing the schools. Better results are obtained by daily medical inspection and exclusion of children with suspicious symptoms.

The extension of mercy to little children demands that protection from scarlet fever be given. Therefore, the State Department of Health has adopted regulations governing its control, which it is obligatory upon your doctor and health officer to enforce. Extend them your cooperation for they have only your interest and that of the community at heart. The essential requirements of these regulations are as follows:

1. The case must be reported to the health officer by the physician or family head.

2. The case must be quarantined as soon as suspected to be scarlet fever.

3. The period of quarantine is never less than three weeks and may be extended if necessary until recovery is complete and all abnormal discharges from the nose, ears and broken down glands have ceased.

4. The patient should not attend any public or private gathering until a week after quarantine is lifted and examination by the health officer demonstrates a continued normal nose and throat.

For exposed persons:

(1) Living in the house with the patient—Exposed adults and children who have previously had the disease may be released by the health officer to live elsewhere. The records of the health department shall be the only competent evidence to establish a claim of a previous attack of scarlet fever. Wage earners may come and go as usual provided that they have no contact with the patient and that their work does not bring them in contact with children or with milk or food supplies. Exposed suseeptible children may be released to live elsewhere. They shall be excluded from school for seven days from the time of last possible contact with the patient. They may then return to school if they have had none of the symptoms of the disease.

(2) Living apart from the patient—Exposed children shall be isolated for a period of seven days from the date of last exposure to the disease.

When a case of scarlet fever has attended any public, private or parochial school, all children and teachers in the schoolroom shall be carefully examined each day for the following seven days for any symptoms of scarlet fever.

School children, teachers, and other persons who have been living in quarantined premises may be required to remain away from school and not to have similar contact with groups or children for seven days after release from quarantine whether they have been sick or well.

Thunder Trapped on Rim of Canyon Recorded for First Time in Pictures

A motion picture location adventure has made possible, for the first time on the screen, an authentic and accurate recording of thunder, heretofore always a synthetic creation for screen drama.

Perfect thunder recordings were obtained by the sound crew on location at Kanab, Utah, for the filming of Wallace Beery's new picture, "The Bad Man of Brimstone," currently showing at the Palace Theatre February 5 and 6. The thonder was trapped an sound track on the rim of the Grand Canyon, eighty miles from Kanab.

Production of More Electric Current a Necessity!

ON TUESDAY, FEBRUARY 8, CHARLEVOIX ELECTORS WILL BE ASKED TO VOTE ON A PROPOSAL TO BOND IN THE SUM OF $98,000.00 TO PROVIDE FUNDS FOR THE PURCHASE OF A 500 K. W. DIESEL ENGINE TO SUPPLEMENT PRESENT EQUIPMENT AT THE MUNICIPAL ELECTRIC LIGHT PLANT, FOR NECESSARY EXTENSIONS AND ADDITIONS TO THE BUILDING TO HOUSE THE UNIT AND FOR REQUIRED AUXILIARY EQUIPMENT. THE PROPOSED EXTENSION IS A NECESSITY IN VIEW OF THE FACT PRESENT EQUIPMENT BARELY PRODUCES THE NECESSARY CURRENT FOR PEAK CONSUMPTION AND PROVIDES NO SAFEGUARD WHATEVER FOR AN EMERGENCY SUCH AS A BREAK-DOWN OF ANY OF THE PRESENT PRODUCING UNITS DURING THE PERIOD OF PEAK CONSUMPTION WHICH COMES DURING JULY AND AUGUST, PRINCIPAL SUMMER RESORT MONTHS. THE CONDITION IS NOT NEW, BUT ONE THE CITY HAS CONFRONTED FOR SEVERAL YEARS. MIRACULOUSLY THE SITUATION HAS BEEN MET WITHOUT SERIOUS INTERRUPTION OF SERVICE. SUCH GOOD FORTUNE CANNOT GO ON FOREVER, AND ADDITIONAL EQUIPMENT IS THE ONLY ANSWER TO A PROBLEM CONSTANTLY THREATENING A MAJOR CATASTROPY IN EFFORTS TO PROPERLY SERVE OUR SUMMER VISITORS AND LOCAL CITIZENS AS WELL.

BRIEFLY THE SITUATION IS THIS....

PRESENT PRODUCTION CAPACITY

Diesel	450K.W.
Steam	400K.W.
Hydro	120K.W.
TOTAL	970K.W.

PRESENT HIGH PEAK LOAD

840 K.W.

Capacity	970K.W.
Load	840K.W.
MARGIN	130K.W.

IN CASE OF BREAKDOWN

Steam	400K.W.
Hydro	120K.W.
Capacity	520K.W.
Diesel	450K.W.
Hydro	120K.W.
Capacity	570K.W.

A NEW 500 K.W. UNIT WOULD GIVE—

Diesel (new)	500K.W.
Diesel (old)	450K.W.
Steam	400K.W.
Hydro	120K.W.
TOTAL CAPACITY	1470K.W.

Providing a safe margin in case of a breakdown of any single unit.

Providing a Margin of Safety is the Only Sane Policy!

IT IS THE POLICY OF ANY PUBLIC UTILITY TO HAVE IN READINESS RESERVE EQUIPMENT CAPABLE OF PRODUCING THE CAPACITY OF ANY SINGLE UNIT OPERATING TO PRODUCE ORDINARY PEAK CONSUMPTION. IT IS THE ONLY MANNER BY WHICH UNINTERRUPTED SERVICE CAN BE GUARANTEED. CHARLEVOIX IS IN THE UTILITY BUSINESS. ITS RESIDENTS ARE ITS CUSTOMERS. THEY EXPECT AND ARE ENTITLED TO UNINTERRUPTED SERVICE. ONLY BY HAVING NECESSARY EQUIPMENT CAN SATISFACTORY SERVICE BE MAINTAINED. NINETY PER CENT OF CHARLEVOIX'S BUSINESS PLACES WOULD BE CRIPPLED BY ANY LENGTHY SHUT-DOWN OF THE ELECTRIC LIGHT PLANT. A SHUT-DOWN WOULD BE DISASTROUS DURING THE RESORT SEASON. A MAJOR BREAK IN MACHINERY OF EITHER THE PRESENT DIESEL OR STEAM UNITS DURING JULY OR AUGUST WOULD PRODUCE A CALAMITY WHICH THIS CITY HAS BEEN LUCKILY SPARED.

Bond Issue Based Upon Engineer's Estimates

IN ARRIVING AT THE CAPACITY AND COST OF A NEW DIESEL UNIT, THE CITY COUNCIL AND COOPERATING CITIZENS' COMMITTEE HAVE EMPLOYED THE SERVICES OF A RECOGNIZED AND QUALIFIED FIRM OF ENGINEERS. THE PROPOSAL IS BASED UPON THE RECOMMENDATIONS OF THESE ENGINEERS AND THE JUDGMENT OF THE COUNCIL AND COMMITTEE. IN ORDER THAT ELECTORS MAY FULLY ACQUAINT THEMSELVES WITH THE FINANCIAL DETAILS OF THE PROPOSAL, THE COMPLETE ENGINEER'S ESTIMATES ARE PRODUCED HEREWITH:

The Honorable Mayor and City Council,
Charlevoix, Michigan
Gentlemen:

Complying with your instructions of December 7, 1937, we have prepared an estimate of cost of the installation of a 500 KW Diesel engine generator unit complete with necessary auxiliaries, switchboard improvements and building additions.

The total estimated cost, shown in detail on the accompanying estimate is $92,304.

ENGINE GENERATOR UNIT

The price for the Disel-engine generator unit was obtained from a manulacturer and is for the unit erected on the foundation ready to run, complete with necessary auxiliaries.

ENGINE FOUNDATION

To insure a safe foundation for the engine, we have included encasement of the sub foundation in steel sheet piling. With foundation piles this will reduce the possibility of settlement and vibration to a minimum.

SWITCHBOARD

The switchboard additions and changes include two new switchboard panels to match the present board; one generator voltage regulator panel and one generator and exciter panel. The regulator panel includes one voltage regulator for the new unit and one voltage regulator for the present Diesel unit. The generator panel includes the necessary instruments and switches for control of the new unit. The new panels will be set into the present switchboard.

The changes also include new mountings for the present circuit breakers and other improvements.

Prices for switchboard equipment were obtained on December 15, 1937.

BUILDING

The building is layed out to accomodate the proposed 500 KW unit and an additional unit up to 900 KW capacity which can be installed when conditiona require it. It will be much more economical to make the building large enough for two units now than to make a second addition in the future.

BELLAIRE PLANT AND TRANSMISSION LINE

We have not included any item for the improvement of the Bellaire hydro plant or for the transmission line, though we believe improvements should be made.

Respectfully yours,
HAMILTON & WEEBER,
By E. R. Weeber

MICHIGAN'S WINTER QUEEN

MISS DELPHINE STACKUS

On the evening of Friday, February 4, Governor Frank Murphy will crown Miss Delphine Stuckus, of Boyne City, as the Michigan Winter Queen for 1938. She will be attended by snow queens from a number of other Michigan cities during the ceremonies which inaugurate a 10 day winter carnival. The National Amateur Outdoor Ice Speed Skating Championships on Saturday and Sunday afternoons will provide the feature attraction of the carnival.

MICHIGAN WINTER CARNIVAL FEB. 4TH

BIG PROGRAM FOR 11th ANNUAL PETOSKEY EVENT

National Amateur Skating Championships One of Many Features on Outstanding 10-Day Program

Michigan's eleventh annual Winter Carnival is all ready to open at Petoskey February 4, to continue until February 13. The big event of the opening day is the coronation of Michigan's Winter Queen, Delphine Stackus of Boyne City, on Friday evening, with Governor Frank Murphy crowning the queen.

A picturesque Old English setting has been built for the coronation and the skating ballet which has been built around the crowning of the queen will be on an Old English Theme.

The big attraction of the carnival will be the National Amateur Outdoor Speed Skating Meet on February 5 and 6, which will attract the leading speed skaters of the nation. The first day of the races will see twenty-five events, with the feature attraction the finals in the senior men's two mile race. The skating events will be interspersed with figure skating exhibitions.

On Sunday the feature event will be the five mile championship for Senior Men. Finals in all other events will be held. The skating races will open each afternoon at 1:30 p. m.

RADIO BEAM INSTALLED FOR STRAITS FERRIES

Sainte Marie Operates on New Wave; Installed on Other Boats

The icecrushing state ferry Sainte Marie is now operating on a radio short wave beam at the Straits of Mackinac, the state highway department announced this week.

Radio direction finders have been installed not only on the Sainte Marie, the only boat in service at this tife, but the other four ferries owned by the stute, the announcement said.

The control beacon is located at Mackinaw City. The short wave radio connection aids ships in steering a correct navigation course between that point and St. Ignace, particularly during foggy weather. Radio contact is expected to be especially beneficial in navigating the Gruham Shouls uren where the railroad ferry Chief Wawutam grounded last year and was out of operation for a month.

Commissioner Murray D. Van Wagoner plans to equip all five boats before the beginning of the spring schedule with two-way radio telephones so as to permit not only ship-to shore but also ship-to-ship communication. This is expected to increase general efficiency of ferry movement at the Straits.

Cost of the radio direction finders including instullation approximated $500, the department said.

LOWER PENINSULA DEER HERDS REPORTED SAFE

Heavy Snow Believed Too Late to Affect Yarding Areas

Lower Peninsula deer will not suffer because of last week's snow storms, reports to the state conservation department indicate.

H. D. Ruhl, head of the game division, said yards in the Alpena area were in satisfactory condition after a packing rain and light snowfall.

"Deer there have passed the crisis," Ruhl said. "So far as I know the same conditions prevail in other Lower Peninsula districts."

Ruhl said his department had received no recent reports from Upper Peninsula conservation officers. The department's radio facilities have been used to aid in transmitting "mare important" messages during the severe storm thut isolated many communities.

STATE TAX SALES TO AFFECT MANY

1936 tax must have been paid in full) those years taxes will not be in tho sale, or if ALL are paid, those years will not he in the sale.

Final Deadline For Tax Payment Nears

With the final deadline rapidly approaching Auditor General George T. Gundry called upon the tax-paying public to check their tax receipts to ascertain if they are delinquent. Explaining that better than one and one-half million property descriptions still remain delinquent, the auditor general said he was fearful that many taxpayers did not yet realize that their taxes are in default and liable to public sale in May.

Mr. Gundry said the taxes, together with penalty and accrued interest to date, may be paid any time up to May 2nd, at county treasurers' offices. He again called attention to the fact that even though taxes are paid, they may appear on the published list as delinquent but will be withheld from sale by the county treasurer.

Preparation of List Huge Job

Complicated by the installment plan of tax moratorium, the preparation of the rolls is supposed to be the biggest job of its kind in the history of the state. It must be completed by March 1st in order to give county treasurers time to make their own preparations.

Approximately 1,500,000 descriptions are to go on sale in the state. Such a task means about 9,000,000 entries. It has been necessary for the auditor general's office to put on a large number of extra employees who occupy every available room in the capitol and space in other Lansing buildings. Night shifts are being used to hurry the work.

MANY HUNTERS YET TO REPORT SEASON'S KILL

Questionaires Must Be Mailed to Lansing Before February 15

An estimated 89,000 deer-bear and 295,000 small game hunting licensees have yet to report their luck—or lack of it—during the 1936 and 1937 seasons.

State conservation department officials said only 71,000 deer-bear and 105,000 small game report cards had been returned by today. Reports from all license holders are due February 15.

STATE OF MICHIGAN

In The Circuit Court for the County of Charlevoix
In Chancery

In the matter of the petition of George T. Gundry, Auditor General of the State of Michigan, for and in behalf of suid state, for the sale of certain lands for taxes assessed theroon.

To the Circuit Court for the County of Charlevoix, in Chancery:

The petition ef George T. Gundry, Auditor Goneral of the State of Michigan, for and in behalf of said State, respectfully shows:

1. That the list of lands sot forth in Schedule A contained in the Tax Record annexed to this petition, contains a description of all lands in said county of Charlevoix upon which taxes were assessed for the years mentioned theroin, and which were returned as delinquent for non-payment of taxes, and which taxes havo not been paid and have remained unpaid for more than ono year after they were roturned as delinquent, togethor with the total amount of such taxes, with interest computed thereen to the first day of May, A. D. 1938, and a collection foe of 4% extended separately against each parcel of land as provided by law.

2. That pursuant to Section 69 of Act 200 of the Public Acts of 1893, as amended by Act 325 of the Public Acts of 1937, said Schedulo A includes all of said lands delinqnent for taxes for the years 1933, 1934 and 1935, and lands delinquent for any installment of taxes under Act 129 of the Public Acts of 1933, as amended, including the interest and collectien fee provided by law.

3. That said lands were returned to the Auditor General under the provisions of said Act 206 of the Public Acts of 1893, as smended, as delinquent for non-payment of said taxes for said years respectively, and that said taxes remain unpaid; except that lands included in said schedules of said Tax Record for taxes of 1890 or prior years were returned to the Auditor General as delinquent for said laxes under the provisions of the general tax laws in force prior to the passage of Act 209 of the Public Acts of 1891, and which taxes remain unpaid.

4. That in all cases where lands are included in said schedule for taxes of 1899 or of any prior year, said lands have not been said for said delinquent taxes or the sale or sales so made have been set uside by a court of competent jurisdiction, or have been cancelled as provided by law.

5. That in all casos where lands are includod in said Schedule A, as aforesaid, for taxes of 1935, ar any prior year, said lands have not been sold for said taxes or have heen horetofore sold for said delinquent taxes and the sale, or sales, so made have been set aside by a court of competent jurisdiction or by legislative action, or have been cancelled as provided by law.

6. That the taxes, interest and collection fees included in the computations set forth in said Schedule A, as aforesaid, are a valid lien on the several parcels of lands described therein.

7. That the said taxes on the said described lands have remained unpaid for more than one year after thoy were returned as delinquent; and the said taxes not having been paid, and the same being now due and remaining unpaid as above set forth, your petitioner prays:

A. That, within the time provided by law, this court make a final decree in favor of the State of Michigan for such taxes, interest and charges as shall be valid, and as computed and extended in said Schedule A against the several parcels of land contained therein, and determine the total amount thereof chargeable against each parcel of land, and that this court order and decree that such parcels of land shall severally be sold as the law directs.

B. That pursuant to law such decree be considered as a several decree in favor of the State of Michigan against each parcel of land for each tax included therein.

C. That such final decree be entered in the chancery record for recording the decrees of this court, and be in substance and form as that provided by Section 67 of Act 296, Public Acts 1893, as amended by Act 114, Public Acts of 1937.

D. That your petitioner may have general relief in the premises.

And your petitioner will ever pray, etc.
Dated December 29, 1937.

GEORGE T. GUNDRY
Auditor General of the State of Michigan, for and in behalf of said State.

RAYOERS WINNERS AT EAST JORDAN

SCORED TENTH VICTORY BY 37 TO 21 SCORE FRIDAY

Conclude Road Tour This Week—Play Harbor, Boyne City at Home in Last Pre-Tournament Tilts

Continuing their winning stride, Charlevoix Red Rayders nipped East Jordan by a 37 to 21 score Friday night on Jordan's court. It was their second victory over East Jordan and tenth win of the season.

The Rayders held Jordan scoreless while piling up 11 points in the first period. They stretched the margin 18 to 5 at the half and were out in front 28 to 12 at the third intermission. Jordan matched Charlevoix's 9 points against a substitute line-up in the final period.

Carey, Richardson and Gallagher divided scoring honors, the former high with 16, Richardson scored 10 and Gallagher had 8:

THAWS HINDERING ICE HARVESTING WORK HERE

Charlevoix Coal & Ice Co. Began Annual Harvest Last Week

Hindered by unfavorable conditions created by high temperatures and subsequent thaw, ice harvesting operations of the Charlevoix Coal & Ice Co. are under way.

A field has been opened off the company's storage house in the old beet sugar factory. Operations started last week were discontinued Saturday and Monday due to thaw. The harvest was resumed Tuesday and is now about half completed, it is understood.

Operations by D. J. Eckinger and Allen Campbell, who put up ice for local hotels and private interests, have not been started yet, although preparations are under way.

THIS WEEK'S WEATHER

All the variations of a most unusual winter have been the experience in Charlevoix the past week. Wednesday night's seven-inch snowfall, added to 15 inches the previous week, gave way to rainfall and thaw. Temperatures dropped somewhat Sunday, but spring-like weather followed Monday and Tuesday.

Temperatures for the period of February 2 to 8, inclusive, are furnished by courtesy of the U. S. Coast Guard station:

INDEPENDENT CAGERS BOOK EAST JORDAN "5"

Undefeated East Jordan Canners Here for Contest Thursday Night

Local basketball fans will have an opportunity to see the undefeated East Jordan Canners in action here Thursday night in a game with the Charlevoix Independents.

The East Jordan aggregation, with a string of twelve consecutive victories this winter, will stack up against such local stars as "Chuck" Carey, Ed. Radle, Bob Pearl, Emerald Chew, Junior Supernaw, Joe Smith and Norman Ance. Despite their formidable record, the Jordanites are expected to have a contest on their hands.

The main game will be played at 8 o'clock. It is probable a preliminary contest will be arranged.

STATE LIQUOR STORE HOURS ARE REVISED

Revised state liquor store closing hours were in effect throughout Michigan today.

E. A. Sackerman, state store supervisor, said that, with designated exceptions, all outstate stores would be open from 10 a. m. until 7 p. m. Mondays through Fridays and until 9 p. m. Saturdays.

CHARLEVOIX GETS FINE ADVERTISING

TODD'S VISIT IN CINCINNATI PRODUCTIVE

Telegram from Hubert McCann Reports Success of Board of Commerce Effort in Ohio City

Indication that Charlevoix is receiving a great amount of valuable and favorable advertising through the efforts of Gordon H. Todd, secretary of the Board of Commerce, is indicated in a telegram from Hubert E. McCann, assistant manager of the Hotel Stinson in Cincinnati, Ohio.

"Wish to advise Gordon is showing pictures to many fine groups, organizations and clubs in Cincinnati. He is being interviewed on radio station WCPO Thursday, 12:15 noon. Newspapers are cooperating in splendid style. This publicity is mighty fine for Charlevoix. Todd is using every effort in putting this across and I feel folks in Charlevoix should know of his tireless work while here. Best wishes to the home town for a successful season."

Mr. Todd's presence in Cincinnati is part of an itinerary of interviews and meetings in Grand Rapids, Ann Arbor, Detroit, Cincinnati and Chicago, worked out prior to his departure on January 18th. He is showing the beautiful colored movie reels of Charlevoix's attractions before many organizations, clubs and meetings of corporation executives in a direct contact program aimed to attract conventions particularly, and resorters generally to Charlevoix.

If Mr. Todd's success as indicated by Mr. McCann, former local young man, is as marked along his entire route as in Cincinnati, the Board of Commerce may feel well repaid for the effort.

FATHER AND SON BANQUET ON FEBRUARY 24

Rev. Glenn Frye, Traverse City, to Be Speaker at Annual Event

The annual Father and Son banquet, sponsored each year by the Literrary and Sewing Club, will be held Thursday, February 24th, at the Methodist church.

The speaker this year will be Rev. Glenn Frye of Traverse City, Methodist district superintendent, who will no doubt bring an interesting message. Other program features are being arranged by the program committee.

The banquet will be held in the church basement and reservations, which this year will be limited, are requested in advance.

STATE AWARDS TO COUNTY GROWERS

EXHIBITS PLACE HIGH IN LANSING COMPETITION

Elmer Hott, East Jordan, Winner Kathadin Prize—4-H Club Display Tops Other Exhibits

(By B. C. Mellencamp)

Charlevoix county potato growers were again awarded high honors in state-wide competition at the state seed show held in connection with "Farmers' Week" at Michigan State College.

Elmer Hott, East Jordan, took first with a beautiful peck sample of Katahdins. The same sample won first in a strong field at the Top O' Michigan show held at Petoskey. In adults competition, Curtis Nicloy and Mrs. Ed. Kownlski won third and fourth with pecks of Russet Burbanks.

Accomplishments of the 4-H Club deserve high praise. A group of five samples exhibited by the Peninsular Potato Club placed first in strong competition. In addition, the Russet Rural samples exhibited by Einar Olstrum, Wilbur McDonald and Raynor Olstrum won blue ribbons. Howard McDonald's sample won a white ribbon.

The Smith Hughes group from East Jordan high school had a fine exhibit. Samples were shown by John Ter-Avest, Donald Shepard and Roland Holland. The fourth sample shown by Curtis Nicloy was placed in the adult deparment, winning third place. In Smith-Hughes competition no other school could approach this exhibit and it won by a big margin.

The State Seed Show this year was the best ever held. Not alone the quality, but the quantity, was most excellent. It is seldom any county can point to such a splendid record as made by Charlevoix county's outstanding potato growers in 1937.

COAST GUARDS SALVAGING CROSS FISH TUG

Nets Removed, Will Take Motor and Other Equipment from Wreck

Salvaging of John Cross' fish tug Edna, which sank the night of January 25th along with the tug Bonnie, owned by Ernest Smith, is under way by local Coast Guards under Capt. Oscar Smith.

The boat, almost completely wrecked by its buffeting in the ice, was located several hundred feet south of the south pier in about eight feet of water. Ten boxes of nets have been recovered, making a total of twelve out of fourteen aboard the boat. Efforts are being continued to salvage the motor, net lifter and other equipment.

The tug Bonnie, as yet not located, will be salvaged also.

SPRING'S HERE?

Floyd Rice's report Tuesday of a caterpillar sunning himself on the steps of the electric light plant keeps this city in line with the unusual incidents resultant from the warm spell of the past few days.

He Studied Not in Vain

NAME COMMITEE ROOSEVELT RALLY

MANY TO ATTEND MEETING FEB. 11 AT TRAVERSE

Charlevoix Republicans Organized to Provide Local Attendance at Big Political Get-togather

A large number of Charlevoix county Republicans are planning on attending the "Teddy" Roosevelt rally to be held in the high school gymnasium at Traverse City, on February 11, when Col. Theodore Roosevelt Jr. will open the Republican campaign in Michigan.

Clarence B. Meggison has been named chairman of the arrangements committee in Charlevoix, with Dr. F. F. McMillan as assistant. P. D. Campbell has been named chairman of the publicity committee for this city and will be assisted by Marjorie Jean Carey. Floyd A. Supp is chairman of the local transportation committee, with Norman Ance and Fay A. Bradley assisting. This committee is planning on a caravan of automobiles and anyone desiring transportation is requested to communicate with any member of the committee.

Col. Roosevelt, former Governor-General of the Phillipines and son of the illustrious "Teddy", is one of the most forceful speakers in the United States today. Since his World War service he has been very active in the American Legion which he helped to organize in Paris as well as the Veterans of Foreign Wars and the Disabled Veterans Organization.

Like his father, young "Teddy" is a scrapper. He is plunging into the Republican campaign to assist in defeating his cousin, Franklin D. Roosevelt in 1940.

Plans for this affair call for an open meeting for which there will be no charge or collection. Col. Roosevelt himself vetoed plans for a banquet in his honor asking that the meeting be open and that no one be kept away because of an admission charge.

This region is exceedingly fortunate in securing the services of Col. Roosevelt as this is his only public appearance in Michigan at this time.

BOAT ARRIVALS HIGHER DURING 1937 SEASON

Coast Guard Report Shows Increase Over 1936 Harbor Entries

Reflecting the marked upturn in the tourist and resort business of 1937 is an increase in the number of boats entered Charlevoix harbor, revealed in figures made available by Capt. Oscar Smith of the local Coast Guard Station.

Capt. Smith's report shows there were 1,898 boat arrivals and 1,875 departures during 1937, compared with 1,765 arrivals and 1,770 departures during 1936. The peak was hit during August when 387 arrivals were registered.

While tonnage and cargo value records are compiled by the U. S. Engineering department office in Grand Rapids, it is believed both increased here during 1937 in view of the larger number of excursion boats, establishment of the Charlevoix Terminal Co. with its shipments and the usual entry of coal carriers with cargoes for Boyne City and East Jordan.

DEATH TAKES RESPECTED CHARLEVOIX CITIZEN

Johannas Anderson Nordrum Victim of Heart Attack Sunday

Johannas Anderson Nordrum, well known and highly respected local citizen, died Sunday at Charlevoix Hospital from heart attack. His sudden death was a shock to his family and friends.

Mr. Nordrum was born April 11, 1869, in Larvik, Norway. He came to this country first in 1896 and returned to his home country. In 1902 he came directly to Charlevoix, his home since that time. Mr. Nordrum has been engaged in the commercial fishing business and for seventeen summers was employed by Logan Thompson as mate in the yacht "Sylvia."

Mr. Nordrum was married in 1901 to Inga Amalia Olsen, who preceded him in death in 1934. He is survived by three children, Mrs. Marie Hull and John Jr. of Charlevoix, and Mrs. Josephine McCarthy of Detroit; also a sister, Mrs. Amalia Varness of Larvik, Norway, and nine grandchildren.

Funeral services were conducted at 2 o'clock Wednesday afternoon from the See Funeral Home, Rev. H. J. Pulsipher officiating.

ELECTRIC PROPOSAL IS APPROVED

ELECTORS PASS ISSUE BY VOTE OF 285 TO 81

Necessary Majority Given In Light Vote at Special Election Held Tuesday

At a special election held Tuesday, Charlevoix electors approved by a vote of 285 to 81 a proposal to issue bonds in the amount of $98,000 for an addition to the municipal electric light system. A three-fifths majority was required.

The proposal calls for the purchase of a 500 k. w. diesel engine, necessary extension to the present electric light plant to house the unit and improvements to the city-owned hydro-electric plant at Bellaire. A proposal to install an 850 to 900 k. w. diesel was defeated last March.

Approval of the proposition will eliminate a hazardous situation. For the past few years the city has confronted a condition of being without reserve equipment in the face of electric consumption within a close margin of possible peak production during the summer season.

The city council will act immediately on the diesel purchase and plant construction. Necessary legal details will be taken a tonce and bids will be advertised on the equipment and construction work. It is planned to have the new unit in operation for the 1938 summer season.

In view of the importance of the issue, Tuesday's vote was extremely light. The three wards of the city voted as follows:

First Ward—Yes 57, No 16.
Second Ward—Yes 128, No 40.
Third Ward—Yes 100, No 25.

DOUBLE PARTY SATURDAY NIGHT AT ARGONNE

Stan Cole's orchestra will furnish music for the party and arrangements have been made for favors including hats, noise-makers, etc.

DISTRICT HEALTH UNIT GIVES REPORT

ACTIVITIES OF PAST YEAR ARE OUTLINED IN FULL

Adoption of Sanitary Code One of New Features of 1937 Program in Northern Michigan

(By Dr. Carlton Dean)

The past year brought many additional procedures into the health program of the District Health Department.

One of the outstanding features was the adoption of a saniary code for the purpose of regulating the sanitation of trailer camps, cabins, and resorts. This added health measure necessitated having an additional sanitary inspector who was granted our department for a period of three months through the courtesy of Dr. C. C. Slemons, state commissioner of health. With the coming of another resort season we hope to accomplish still more in the sanitation field relative to our resorts in this district.

Through the Bureau of Child Hygiene of the Michigan Department of Health we were fortunate in having the services of Dr. Berneta Block, who gave child care classes in Otsego and Charlevoix counties for a period of three months. Also, Miss Hutzel of the State Department of Health, was in our territory for two weeks lecturing to high school students.

Our dental corrective program was interrupted for a few weeks during the latter part of this year in Otsego county due to the revival of the dental health educational program in the schools whereby the dentist goes from school to school making dental examinations and giving dental health talks.

Nevertheless, with these additional programs, which all aid in broadening the health aspect in each community, much work was accomplished in the schools and homes. The staff of the District Health Department consisted of the director, a full-time dentist, six full-time nurses, one full-time sanitary inspector, who was aided by a part-time inspector, two clerks and a part-time bacteriologist.

The services accomplished in Charlevoix county by the former Charlevoix county nurse, Miss Deane Rinck, Mrs. Mary Muma and Mrs. Ethel Guggisberg assisted by Dr. Carleton Dean for nine months of 1937 are tabulated below. Mrs. Guggisberg assumed the vacancy left by Mrs. Muma on December 1st.

Vaccinations	748
Toxoid given under 5 yrs.	163
Toxoid given 5 yrs. and over	213
Total communicable disease visits	513
Tuberculosis home visits	317
Prenatal home visits	206
Postnatal home visits	141
Medical infant examinations	84
Infant home visits	546
Medical preschool examinations	291
Preschool home visits	985
Medical school examinations	889
School home visits	614
Crippled children home visits	57
Miscellaneous home visits	145
Total all home visits	3524

The services performed by Dr. A. R. Renwick, sanitary inspector thruou District Health Unit No. 3, constituting the counties of Antrim, Charlevoix, Emmet and Otsego and R. R. Lang, part-time sanitary inspector for 1937 were as follows:

Inspections of:

School buildings	415
Milk establishments	1113
Resorts	404
Water supplies	902
Excreta Disposal systems	1119
Other inspections	279

LANSING LETTER

By GENE ALLEMAN

Field Manager, Michigan Press Association

If a special session of the legislature is called by Governor Murphy, it will be to provide additional relief for unemployed rather than to enact labor legislation.

This is the present outlook at the state capitol where the picture has changed materially within the last six months. When the legislature adjourned last summer, the business barometer had not registered a tail-spin fall. Times were still good, and labor was yet in a mood to demand increased wages and betterment of working conditions. The need for labor relations mediation at that time had convinced the governor of the advisability of having a special session "in the fall", probably as early as October.

The peak of the labor sit-down strikes occurred at the peak of the 1937 business barometer. When jobs are plentiful and workers are in demand, labor finds its greatest opportunity to get what it asks for.

Reverse the order, and you have an entirely new situation. The picture has changed.

Mr. and Mrs. Peter H. Timmer of Charlevoix were supper guests at the home of their parents Tuesday evening of last week.

The young people were entertained at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Postma Wednesday evening.

Rain Saturday morning, which made our roads very slippery, and no doubt we will have some more snow.

J. W. Brown, H. J. Timmer and H. S. Peebles were in Central Lake Thursday attending the annual meeting of the Traverse Bay Telephone Co.

Mr. and Mrs. Dick Senneker of Grand Rapids are making an extended visit with their parents at present, as Mr. Senneker is temporarily out of work over there.

BEAVER ISLAND

Vernon Lafrendere returned home Wednesday from the mainland.

Several fish shantles went adrift on the ice from the harbor last week.

Garrett Cole, Nomad, returned to Chicago Friday to join his wife, who is visiting there.

Willard Barrett, a member of local coast guards, left Friday for a visit on the mainland.

D. Spielman of Chicago arrived here Friday for a two weeks' visit with Mrs. John McGerahl and family.

After a few weeks' visit with his parents in Penine township, Bernard O'Donnell returned to Chicago Friday.

We have more snow on Beaver Island this winter than we have had in years, too much for comfort or pleasure.

BARNARD

The Ladies Aid Society will meet Thursday of this week with Mrs. Clyde Smith.

Messrs. Ed. and Dick Potter and John Kloosler took a trip to Grand Rapids and Alma for a few days last week.

Dixon Warner and Ernie Brork motored from Detroit to spend the week end with their parents, incidentally taking in the Winter Sports Carnival at Petoskey.

News from Clayton Smith tells us that he arrived in Belleflower, Calif., where he is visiting his uncle, Otis Fusch, and family. He also visited with Mr. and Mrs. Carl Beattie at San Pedro.

PHELPS NEWS

We hope Mrs. Earl Balch will recover from her illness soon.

Lloyd Himebauch is working at the home of Clint Blanchard.

Snowy weather has brought men working on the road. They are shoveling banks and raising snow fences.

Mrs. George Everts was taken sick Saturday morning. Mr. and Mrs. Ervan Everts is staying with them. We hope she recovers soon.

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Balch are the proud parents of a 7 pound baby boy born on the president's birthday. His name is Kenneth Amos Jr..

CENTRAL LAKE

Nice spring shower Sunday that quickly changed to snow.

The Tom Wynsma children are better from their attack of flu, and Junior is back to school again.

The little Feltenberg boy, who was run into by a car while coasting, is improving from the injury.

The Arnold boys were home from Charlevoix, where they are attending high school, over the week end.

Miss Anna Boice, who has been in Detroit for some time is now spending the winter at her father's, the Floyd Boice home.

Mr. and Mrs. Jay Emory have returned to Flint after she and children visited this winter at her father's, the C. H. Morse home.

Mrs. J. A. Triplett has returned from Grandville, where she has been visiting her daughter, Mrs. Lawrence DeVries, who has a new baby girl.

Otho Mathias had to close school one day two weeks ago on account of stormy weather. He was absent one day to attend Farmer's Mutual meeting at Traverse City.

Frank Lakies, our road commissioner, is in the hospital at Grayling. Ora Johnson of Torch Lake is taking his place as manager. Hope Mr. Lakies will soon be out again.

Many friends of Vernon Blakely, formerly of Eastport, will miss his passing away at Detroit. He was a teacher at Creswell at one time and married his former teacher at Eastport, Miss Nellie Hartman of Grand Rapids, afterwards marrying the present Mrs. Blakely.

Guy writes that the Wm. Bowers family have arrived in Lakeland, Florida, and that he has visited them. He also has found Denny Yettaw's family, who are stopping at Clearwater, Florida. Mr. Morse says they have had a frost that destroyed gardens and some citrons fruit.

Mrs. Clark Taggart, who had a stroke, is stopping with her mother, Mrs. Mathers in Central Lake, where she is being cared for. Mr. Taggart is living in a cottage in town, having rented his farm east of town to Joe Devlin, whose house burned down some time since.

Joe Devlin and wife have moved from the Ona Vandenberg house to the Veril Carpenter place across the railroad track east. Mr. Devlin has a state position which takes him to different parts of the Grand Traverse region, and when near enough, he gets home occasionally.

James Wilson was a caller at the county seat last Saturday. He says snow is pretty deep at his home place, Wildwood, north of town. Lloyd Morse, who has a lumber job there and trucking his timber to Mancelona, is finding it quite difficult to keep the roads open. Mr. Wilson says his place is kind of a transfer station, changing from cars to sleighs.

Welford Davis, our rural mail carrier, intends to leave for Florida this week, for a five to six weeks' stay. Mrs. Davis has been ill with the grippe, but as soon as she is better, they will start. It will be quite a change from fighting snow and icy roads. Mr. Cahill has been his assistant, and also his son, Billy, in carrying the mail. We hope the Davis' have a good time, as Mr. Davis has earned it. He has always been a very accommodating and helpful mail man.

LOCAL GAMBLE STORE PRESENTS SENSATIONAL NEW ELECTRIC WASHER

A sensational new development in the washing industry, Gamble's Coronado Water Flex, is now on display at the local store, Bridge street, in the old Post Office building, according to the announcement of Mr. Robinette, manager. This amazing machine is revolutionary in the industry in that it has no agitator. There is no moving part in the washing compartment. Turbulent water alone does the work.

Many folks will remember the days when the family wash was done by pounding with a paddle and right on up to the present, the same principle has been maintained. Some type of mechanical agitator has been utilized in machines thus far. But now a new principle is presented.

This new Coronado Water Flex is the result of many years of scientific research by the Birdsell Manufacturing Company who have been creating fine machinery for 82 years. Coronado is licensed under the famous Birdsell Water Flex System patent.

Mr. Robinette states, "The most amazing thing about this new Coronado is the fact that it has NO AGITATOR. No moving or mechanical part touches the clothes. The remarkable cleansing ability of the Water Flex is due entirely to surging, turbulent water which is quite similar to the 'squeeze-wash, squeeze-wash', alternating action of washing by hand, the process recognized by women the world over as the gentlest possible means of cleaning fabrics. With no agitator to beat out dirt (and incidently the life of the clothes) this gentle, yet thorough cleansing method leaves dainty laces, lingerie or linens, as well as blankets and heavy garments, soft and clean, removing all dirt completely without harming the clothes. Expensive linens and fine fabrics can now be washed by machine.

"The Coronado Water Flex when in operation causes the water to flow up the sides and down to the center by a controlled whirl-pool action, alternately flexing and cleansing, carrying all dirt to the bottom. There are no moving parts to tangle or abuse clothes.

"The exterior and interior of the tub are gleaming triple coated porcelain for utmost sanitation and serviceability. The streamline design," explained Mr. Robinette, "is pleasing to the eye. Not only does the Water Flex introduce an entirely new washing principle, but it also combines many other Coronado features such as Lovell Deluxe Wringer with pressure adjustment and safety wringer release, power leg balanced construction, finest material and engineering excellence throughout as well as many other washer advancements."

The first of these washers has arrived at the local Gamble Store and is now on the sales floor for public inspection and demonstration. This new model offers the maximum in efficiency for a minimum expenditure.

The best way to climb higher is to keep absolutely on the level.

Words cannot describe the fine qualities of this Oil Heated Jamesway Brooder; tried, tested and accepted by poultrymen everywhere as "the brooder without an equal." Here is a brooder with the ease economical, dependable heating qualities of the best coal burning brooder combined with all the conveniences and advantages of oil heat. Jamesway is justly proud of this brooder. It is worthy of all the name and trademark Jamesway stands for in merit and value.

Thousands of these brooders are in use. Owners are delighted. They tell their friends and that endorsement alone has resulted in doubling the sale of this stove each year.

The Jamesway sets the pace because it has exclusive, [illegible] 8 gallon oil tank or supply high legs . . . raised chamber . . . automatic type filler . . . fire chamber . . . overflow pipe . . . [illegible] . . . air intake regulator . . . draft equalizer . . . [illegible] ventilators . . . coal [illegible] . . . [illegible] and pipe . . . radiator type [illegible] . . . pulverized burner and many other features that make it the ideal brooder and outstanding buy of the season.

We are authorized Jamesway Dealers and welcome the opportunity of demonstrating this stove to you. We also carry a complete line of Jamesway chick and mature flock equipment.

REVEILLE

In one of the annals of Californie history, there are these paragrephs:

"Turn now to the Northern coasts, to the Bay of San Diego, whose waters had lain for more thon a century and a half undisturbed by Europeon keel, whose shores had known no tread of iron heel since Sebastian Vizcaino was there. The native inhabitants yet preserved a traditional remembrance of white and bearded visitors, kept alive perhaps by on occasional rumor wafted overland from the southeast, and by distant glimpses of the white winged galleons which year after year bore its oriental treasure down past this port, which, so far as can be known, was never entered. And now the aboriginal solitude is to be forever broken.

". . . On the 29th day of April, 1769, the San Carlos, otherwise called the Golden Fleece, comes in sight.

" . . On board were Lieutenant Pedro Fages, with twenty-five Catalan volunteers* . . ."

* Pronounced Fah'hays.

CHAPTER I

It was autumo of the year 1783.

Senor Don Pedro Fages, Civil Governor of the Californias, Upper and Lower, drank o toast to his Most Catholic Majesty, King Carlos III of Spain, then filled his cup and raised it to the priest in Franciscan robe and cowl sitting opposite him across the hand-hewn table.

"To your Reverence!" he said. "To Fray Junipero Serra, pious priest, intrepid missionary, tireless traveler, aod if I may, good soldier!" He drained the cup, and wiped his short mustaches and beard with a brown hand.

Junipero Serra smiled slowly. "A thousand thaoks, Senor el Gobernador," he began ceremoniously. But Fages stopped him with a twinkle in his eye.

"No, no, Padre! None of that when we are here alone. You and I have enjoyed too many privations together, have gone thirsty and hungry, have eaten mule meat, or worse, too many times for us to stand on ceremony when we are by ourselves, even though you are Padre Presidente of the Missions in California, and I . . ."

"Governor of all the Californios," finished the priest. "But I had believed . . . that is, it had come to my attention, that his Excellency believed there were times when he was not greeted with the proper respect when he deigned to visit the Mission San Carlos at Carmel."

Fages laughed. "Oh, that! That complaint was simply necessary to show some of these priests that a healthier respect for the Crown was a desirable trait in them. That never applied to you, Padre."

"We are in a country where we are unable to demonstrate the recognition due your worthy person. The King himself would understand the lack of these ceremonies. He would not be displeased, however, but edified, I believe, ond he would rejoice to witness that what is possible to do is done."

Fages still smiled, though the other's tone implied a rebuke.

"Scold me, Padre, if you will. I deserve it, I suppose. But I hove been thinking of something . . . deciding something. And today I have sent messengers with the results of my decisions to the Viceroy in Mexico. And whot do you suppose the message is?"

The priest caught his breath and moved his fingers uneasily toward his beads. Although he seemed to be studying a corner of the brush ceiling over the Governor's head, he was reading Fages, and Fages knew it. Years of a wary comradeship had taught Serra to read every expression in the other's face.

He had seen it light with a strange inner fire when some vista of this new California unrolled itself before Fages; seen it grow lean and tense through long days of starvation and burning heat, or gray and drawn when the Governor's small company of Catalonian soldiers fell, one by one, prey to the scurvy. But he could never quite tell whether the lines that branched from the twinkling brown eyes came from squinting against the blazing sun, or from sudden rollicking laughter.

Now he realized he had never seen quite this expression before. He felt a little excitement communicated to himself from Fages' feverish eyes. A little excitement, and quite a little fear. This message—had it to do with him? Were some of his cherished plans for furthering the Church in California to be frustrated? He breathed heavily.

"I dare not suppose. You will have to tell me."

Fages pushed back his chair and began pacing back and forth down the dirt floor of the long room.

"I have been thinking, and I have decided that it is not well for man to live alone. That is natural, isn't it, Padre, and a teaching of the Church? Ah, yes. So I have this day sent word to the Viceroy that I wish to have my wife join me here."

Serra also rose to his feet. He remembered now that he had seen before the expression that smoldered in the Governor's eyes, but in the eyes of other men.

"Ah!" he said softly. "Ah! Your wife. I see. So you want her in California with you. Naturally."

He walked to the low door and stared thoughtfully at a group of Indian children, playing some absorbing game with a hoop and a dart while a circle of elders watched them lazily in the afternoon sunshine.

"Strange, Pedro Fages. I always think of you as a man among men; a soldier, an explorer. A man's man entirely. But of course you are married. It must be a long time since you have seen your wife, yes?"

"A long time," he answered in a low voice. "A long, long time. Eight years. I have a son, too, Padre. And the last time I saw him he was a few days old.

"Now that I feel I am going to stay here, somehow the need for that son and his mother has become more than I can bear. And needing them so I must talk to you about them. I think they can be happy here. I am. The living quarters at the presidio are not so bad, and oh, Padre, what a garden I have planted! Hundreds of peach trees, and figs, and pears. And I have a vineyard that is doing well in the sandy soil around the presidio. Yes, it is home to me, and must be to them."

"God grant that it may. And your wife—she is not used to pioneering?"

Fages frowned and began plucking his beard.

"That's the truth. She isn't. But I have written Viceroy Mayorga, and Felipe de Neve, to persuade her to come. She can not withstand them. The Dona Eulalia, my wife, is years younger than I, and when we married in Barcelona, she was a reigning belle. I never could understand why she married a rough old soldier like I am. But she did, and here she must come."

"Of course she must. And she will. 'Wives, submit yourselves to your husbands.' Ah, Senor el Gobernador! How easily your plans go forward. You have but to command, and lo, the deed you have commanded is done, while I . . ."

The Governor took the priest's arm, and the two walked out into the little garden in front of the priest's quarters. There was great activity all around the mission establishment. Indian neophytes were going and coming on various errands. Up from the orchard came a troupe of children, los pajareros, whose miniature bows and arrows had kept the predatory birds from the fruit. In the vegetable garden a few stooping Indian girls still dug weeds, while others, who had finished their stints, ran to join the hoop-and-dart game with their fellows.

Fages drew a deep breath as he looked about him and remained quiet. But the priest's eyes were upon him with an unspoken entreaty which he could not ignore.

"What worries you now, my good Father?" he asked affectionately.

The missionary folded his hands in the sleeves of his robe, and began speaking.

"It is this. The fall of the year is upon us. What crops we have will soon be gathered, the fruit will be dried, the corn stored. 'And the mountains shall drop down new wine.' A busy, happy time. But to me, a sad and thoughtful time. It is autumn, and nature prepares for sleep. And I am recalled to my long sleep, and my body's mortality. Ai, my poor old body!"

Don Pedro looked at him quickly. "You are not well? How is your ulcered leg?"

"That is nothing. Since the young mule driver put some of the ointment upon it that he uses on his beasts I have not thought much about it. But you must know I do not regret my miserable carcass its due infirmities. It is only that I fear I shall be called to my undeserved reward before I have finished the tasks I have set myself to do for the glory of God in California."

"Padre mio, if you should be taken from us this night, which God forbid, you have accomplished more than seems humanly possible for one man to do. You have performed miracles, wonders."

The other groaned.

"Nothing! Nothing! A few handsful of souls brought to salvation when there are still thousands wandering in benighted darkness in this [illegible] enough. Stronger [illegible] strength every day, every hour, I hear the command to bring in more souls. I seem to see whole armies of dark unsaved spirits, their arms lifted, begging, pleading, praying for the Church to rescue them from never-ending damnation!" He raised his clasped hands toward heaven, and gazed upward.

"Ah, my son," the father continued, "you love California. Why do you stand in the way of her further development? Why do you impede the progress of Mother Church? Why, oh, why, do you not lend your assistance, your influence to the founding of that mission on the Santa Barbara Channel which is so dear to my heart?"

Fages avoided the missionary's eyes, which met his only at moments like this, and which burned with fanaticism unfathomable to the soldier's understanding. He felt miserable, small; a shriveled, cringing monster groveling in the path of a flaming archangel.

He rolled his eyes helplessly for another point on which to rest them then upon the fervid missionary. A good, round soldier's oath would have helped him. He hesitated to mouth it, but whispered it to himself, gaining strength from its pungency.

"I can not promise you that mission," he replied shortly. "There is already a presidio established at Santa Barbara, and more soldiers can not be spared for a mission."

"There Are Still Thousands Wandering in Benighted Darkness in This California."

"And why not? Two soldiers out of a whole garrison! Only two, to establish a mission! What could be more important?"

Fages' patience fled.

"Good Father, you attend to your affairs of the Church, and I will attend to mine of the State! 'Only two soldiers' you say. I need every soldier in the province, and more besides to protect California."

The priest turned on his heel, and walked into his house. The Governor followed him firmly.

Pio, an Indian boy, was lighting the candles.

"Begone," ordered the priest.

The boy cast a frightened look at the angry faces distorted by the candlelight, and scuttled out. Priest and soldier faced each other across the table.

"You know well I am a good churchman," continued the Governor. "I am not a pious man by nature, but in my lenience with you Franciscans in California I have almost overstepped my authority. Why, in Mexico, they call me a frailero, a priest lover!"

"No more than you do. I have done what I could for the Church, and for these worthless Indians, who, in my mind, seem better off in their native savagery than living under the yoke of slavery which the Church has laid upon them."

"Heretical words! How dare you speak so? Is it not to the glory of God that these pagans have been taught decency, cleanliness? That they have been taught the word of God? And that they have learned it is the lot of man to labor and toil honestly to produce a living from the soil in the sweat of their brows? Can you refute that?"

"'Consider the lilies of the field,'" he quoted, "'they toil not.' Can you refute that?"

"I shall not try to. You but mock such inspired words."

"No, you will not try to, because you know you can not. You know that before these poor savages came into the Church they were at least healthy. Look at them now! Diseased!"

"And who is responsible for that? Can you tell me? Yes, but you will not. It is the soldiers, your soldiers, the King's soldiers! They have seduced the poor Indian women, and given them the loathsome diseases of the Europeans. They are dying of it, like flies."

"No, that is what you have brought them!" Fages rejoined.

GARAGE ROOF COLLAPSED AFTER HEAVY SNOWFALL

Heavy Damage to Auto Electric Service Garage Thursday Morning

Giving way under the weight of a seven inch fall of wet, heavy snow, a portion of the Auto Eltetric Service garage on Antrim street collapsed early last Thursday morning.

The front wall and a portion of the roof on the southeast side of the structure gave way. A small coupe, a truck and wrecker car were damaged by the falling timbers.

TWO OF HUNDRED EIGHTY-SIX ARCHERS KILLED BUCK

The state conservation department announced 184 residents bought licenses for the bow and arrow season; and two non-residents. One camp permit also was issued. Only two bucks were taken.

JANUARY SALES TAX COLLECTION THIRD HIGHEST

Sales tax collections during January were $5,150,713.36, the third highest month in the history of the tax, according to figures released today by Draper Allen, Managing Director of the State Board of Tax Administration.

The January receipts were $659,701.49 higher than December, an increase of 14.7 per cent over the previous month, when collections dropped off considerably after a steady increase during the fall months.

COURIER IS CARRYING STANDARD '38 SERIES NATIONAL ADVERTISING

The Charlevoix Courier is one of the 1,700 newspapers which will carry Standard Oil's advertising in 1938 according to word from Wesley I. Nunn, advertising manager. Most of the Standard advertising appropriation is being devoted to newspaper space, Mr. Nunn has announced, and careful selections of media have been made in an effort to secure the best possible distribution of and attention to the company's messages.

During the early months of 1938, the Standard advertisements will continue featuring the theme, "Just Like That! Standard Red Crown Starts Your Car." With large illustrations, but few words, the slogan will be illustrated by a finger-snapping gesture dramatizing the idea and indicating the rapidity of the fuel's starting action. The ads were planned, according to Admanager Nunn, with the idea of telling the people outstanding important fact about the product at this time of the year, without taking so much of their time to do so.

STABILITY

In this world of hustle and hustle, we admire a man who mentally and morally remains today the same as he was yesterday. We say of him that he has "both feet on the ground."

We admire such a man because he is master of himself, is not swerved by changing public opinion or conditions of any sort, but remains steadfast in conclusions and purpose in life.

We like him because we know where to find him when we lose faith in the human weather vanes, spun by fads, fancies, notions, and isms and schisms.

More of us might be carried off our feet if we had not in our midst, men of stability who set for us examples of thought, action, and conduct, which square with facts and truth.—By Frank B. Craig.

OLD AGE PENSIONS IN MICHIGAN ON INCREASE

66,710 Persons Drew Average Payment $18.97 During December

Michigan's old age pensioners increased to 66,710 last month, according to figures released by State Welfare Director James G. Bryant.

The pensioners received an average of $18.97 each during the month for a total of $1,266,238. While their numbers increased from 63,316 in December their average checks were only one cent higher and the total cost was boosted only $65,423.

Granger said that the peak load that can be accepted under the present $8,000,000 state apropriation was nearly reached. He placed it at 70,000 pensioners.

"This may take from three to six months," he said. "The grants have just about leveled off."

ODD FELLOWS INCREASE CRIBBAGE CONTEST LEAD

The Odd Fellows defented the Masons by a margin of 42 points Monday night to increase their series lead to 737.

With 13½ tables in play, the largest gathering since the winter series opened, the Odd Fellows scored 24,282 points to 24,240 for the Masons. Sim Baker turned in a high card of 952 for the Odd Fellows, while Engle VanAllsburg's 947 was the best Masonic individual score.

SUNDAY DINNER SUGGESTIONS By Ann Page

What to serve for Sunday dinner is no longer a brain-racking, purse-stretching enterprise for the woman on a budget. She can choose steaks, chops or roasts of beef, lamb or pork and still have money for vegetables and a nice dessert. She may even find special values in poultry, smoked meats or veal which are basically less good values.

Vegetables, salad greens and fruits are also easy to choose, for they are in general plentiful and inexpensive.

Strawberries at present are delicious, firm, ripe and fragrant, a real winter treat, and at the same time very moderately priced.

Seasonable foods make up the following menus.

Low Cost Dinner
Shoulder Pork Chops
Creamed Potatoes
Mashed Yellow Turnips
Bread and Butter
Apple Brown Betty
Tea or Coffee Milk

Medium Cost Dinner
Broiled Beefsteak with Mushrooms
Baked Potatoes Spinach
Bread and Butter
Orange Bavarian
Tea or Coffee Milk

Very Special Dinner
Appetizer Salad
Radishes Carrot Sticks
Roast Stuffed Turkey or Baked Ham
Sweet Potatoes Broccoli
Cranberry Sauce
Rolls and Butter
Strawberry Cream Tarts
Coffee

In addition to routine inspections of schools, dairies and resorts, monthly bacterial counts are made on milk supplies from the various dairies in these four counties. Three days a month are alotted for this laboratory work which is performed by a part-time bacteriologist. There were 405 plate counts taken on raw supplies and 14 plate counts on pasteurized supplies. Sedimentation tests were also performed on these supplies, a total of 570 being taken, to determine the cleanliness of these supplies.

The dental corrective program was carried on by Dr. J. P. Nelson, Children's Fund dentist, throughout the four counties, allowing three months for each county. The following corrective work was accomplished in Charlevoix county:

Total clinic visits	803
Number cases completed	24
Total extractions	552
Total fillings	1085
Total prophylaxis	44
Total dental examinations	445

It is the desire of the health department to aid in maintaining each county as free from disease as possible, and with the excellent response and cooperation we have had from the communities we look with confidence towards a most healthful 1938.

McMILLAN-ARVILLA WEDDING UNITED POPULAR LOCAL COUPLE SATURDAY

Lila Pearl McMillan, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. F. F. McMillan, and Joseph M. Arvilla, son of Mrs. Marie Hull, were united in marriage in a pretty ceremony conducted at 8:30 o'clock Saturday evening, February 5th, at the Methodist Episcopal church.

The church was lighted with many candles along the sides and palms, yellow and white flowers and lighted tapers were massed in the chancel where the Rev. John Alexander read the wedding service.

The bride was attended by her sister, Mrs. Theodore Shupick. The bride's brother, Albert McMillan, was best man and the ushers were Richard Edwards and Carl Bogart.

The bride entered the church on her father's arm to the Lohengrin wedding march played by Mrs. Fred Dagwell of Cheboygan. She wore a gown of deep blue velvet and carried yellow roses. She also wore yellow roses in her hair.

The matron of honor wore pink with Juliet cap of blue, and carried pink roses and blue sweet peas. The bride's mother was dressed in royal blue crepe and wore an arm corsage of roses and carnations.

Out-of-town guests included in the large assemblage were Mr. and Mrs. Fred Dagwell and Mrs. E. E. Cluff of Cheboygan, H. R. Dagwell of Indian River, and Albert McMillan of Ann Arbor.

The bride graduated with high scholastic honors from Charlevoix high school and Albion college. The groom, also a local high school graduate, attended Olivet and graduated from Central State Teachers College, Mt. Pleasant. They left Sunday for an indefinite stay in Pontiac.

FORMER LOCAL WOMAN DIED LAST THURSDAY

Mrs. Maria Denton Passes At Harbor Springs—Burial Here

Funeral services for Mrs. Maria Deaton, widow of the late Chester Deaton, both former local residents, were held Saturday afternoon, at 1:30 o'clock from the Erwin Undertaking parlors at Harbor Springs, with the Rev. Arthur Cruickshank, of the Presbyterian church in charge. Burial was made in Charlevoix following services.

Mrs. Denton was born at Nicholville, New York, on December 17, 1844 and passed away at the home of her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. E. F. Martindale, of East Third street, Harbor Springs, early Thursday afternoon, where she had made her home for 25 years. She had been ill about two weeks preceding her death.

She was married to Mr. Denton at Nicholville in 1867 and they came to Michigan 69 years ago and settled at Norwood where they lived for 21 years. They then moved to Charlevoix where they made their home for 23 years, Mr. Denton passing away here. Mrs. Denton then went to Harbor Springs where she had since made her home.

She was a member of the Charlevoix Baptist church, a member of the Women's Relief Corps in which she was an ardent worker as long as her health permitted, and was a charter member of the Order of Eastern Star. She was active in church circles.

Surviving are two children, Mrs. Martindale of Harbor Springs and Ira Martindale of Albion. Three grandchildren and one great-grandchild survive.

"I will keep an accurate record of my expenses"

When George Washington accepted the post of Commander-in-Chief of the Continental Army, he promised the nation that he would keep an accurate record of his expenses, and be repaid only for them. In building his own considerable fortune, too, Washington kept accurate records of his transactions. Patriot, soldier, and statesman, he was likewise a sound businessman.

Keeping an accurate record of your expenses will undoubtedly help you to effect economies in your business or family finances. The efficient way to keep that record is with a checking account . . . here!

Relief Now Paramount

Whereas social justice legislation was uppermost in the mind of the governor six months ago, the needs of welfare relief have come to the front.

The state budget was left $17,000,000 ont of balance when lawmakers left Lansing.

Last fall the prospective deficit was reduced to approximately $5,000,000 through executive action in trimming legislative appropriations.

Today, the fiscal deficit threatens to rise to $10,000,000, according to Budget Director Harold D. Smith in a mid-January estimate. And ten million dollars in the red is something to worry about.

The budget problem is complicated by the fact that the Michigan relief burden has doubled in the past four months, jumping from 37,530 in September to 87,023 in January. On January 31 the state had $3,000,000 remaining in its welfare appropriation. The January-February allotment has already been increased $760,000 over the amount anticipated by the legislature.

More Spending, More Taxes?

For the past five years under administrations of both parties the state government each year has spent more money.

The state has undertook new responsibilities, most of them at the insistence of folks back home. The 1937 general session of the legislature was a good example of how home communities implore Lansing to come to their aid in appropriating more money for their own local needs.

Disbursements of the state government for the fiscal year ending last June 30 showed that nearly 50 per cent of state monies went to local governments. Whereas the state spent $81,987,000 for its own needs, it also sent $80,539,000 back to local governments. The 81 millions for state needs were exclusive of the liquor control commission's expenditures for liquor stocks.

In annual totals, here is the factual record for the past five years:

1934	$15,184,838
1935	$17,197,319
1936	$19,711,884
1937	$23,485,319

And the curve in state expenditures has continued to go upward since June 30 of last year. In fact, the records show that the state spent during the last six months of 1937 approximately $14,000,000 more than it took in. Expenditures from June to December totaled $121,483,000. The disbursements for the same period in the previous year were $103,322,000.

This matter of tax spending represents a definite steady trend in state government covering both republican and democratic administrations. Where will it end? Already the drums are being beaten for an income tax. Here is a serious problem, worthy of every citizen's attention.

State Fair in Black

Through the energy of a Detroit business man, Michigan's state fair has been taken out of the red into the black.

To Frank N. Isbey, fair manager, is due the credit for the successful showing in Detroit last fall when receipts exceeded expenses by $62,269. The 1935-1936 fairs incurred a net loss of $101,924. The accumulative deficit was $369,853 by 1937.

Attendance figures for 1937 were 520,282, as compared with 203,246 for the previous year.

Although the state fair is not centrally located and is more accessible to Detroit residents than to citizens upstate, Manager Isbey believes that it can be built into a truly state enterprise that will attract thousands of Michigan citizens from upstate communities to the motor metropolis.

Apple, Potato Surplus

Michigan's improved health, as shown in declining death rates, may be due to the apple surplus—maybe.

At least, one wag remarked that if an apple a day would keep the doctor away, Michigan ought to be in good shape for many months to come.

The apple crop last year was a bumper.

The Michigan Apple Institute has undertaken an ambitious program to make the consumer "apple conscious".

Another apple merchandising week is being sponsored by apple growers in more than 100,000 retail stores throughout the nation. Large stocks of fruit still remain in storage for movement into consuming channels.

With the fruit priced very attractively, Michigan citizens can afford to enjoy baked apples for breakfast, luncheon and dinner — every day. Maybe the doctors won't like it, but the household budget will.

Lower Farm Income

Although the federal government's farm bounty in 1938 will soar past the billion mark, the Michigan prospects are that farmers will have a lowered cash income, according to R. V. Gunn, research specialist in agricultural economics at Michigan State College.

The domestic demand for products is likely to decline, while prices of commodities the farmer has to buy is apt to go up.

The outlook, in brief:

Wheat—Acreage the same, income lower.

Beans — Acreage reduced, prices better.

Sugar beets—Acreage "likely to be considerably increased".

Apples—Production fairly stationary.

Peaches—Trend upward.

Pears — Production at near-high level.

Cherries — Production apt to increase steadily.

Strawberries — Acreage likely to increase sharply due to high prices in 1937.

Dairying—Most favorable winter since 1930.

Live stock—Consumer demand to be less favorable.

POTATO COOKERY LABELED AN ART

If Michigan can consume more than 17 million bushels of its best saleable potatoes, prices will remain reasonable next year and growers will be stimulated to produce better quality and package the crop more attractively.

In the recent Detroit exposition a potato show helped many thousand consumers vision wider usage. Instead of the three traditional forms, boiled, baked and fried, the exhibits indicated potatoes escalloped, in pancakes, cookies, bread, cake, candy, soup and chips.

Efforts of the Michigan Quality Potato Growers association are behind the movement to make Michigan families want to eat more Michigan potatoes.

Specialists of Michigan State College are cooperating in the project. They vision benefits beginning with the producer and winding up with the consumer, aiding labor and industry as well by the consumption of food grown within the state.

Here's what the grower can do. By using better seed a start is gained toward better table stock production. Earlier and closer planting aids the crop. By digging earlier the grower avoids chilling the potatoes. Care in harvest to avoid injury and bruises and then careful grading and packaging are further steps toward easier and more profitable sales.

TAKE STEPS ENFORCING NEW SEED LAWS

Department of Agriculture Lining Up Seed Dealers

Necessary steps for the enforcement of Michigan's truth-in-feed law, as amended by the 1937 legislature, placing new restrictions upon manufacturers and giving additional guarantees of quality, are being taken by the Department of Agriculture, according to Commissioner John B. Strange today. Many manufacturers have already qualified under the law, which makes it necessary to register all feeds other than unmixed whole grain feeds, feeds processed for farmers and liquid by-products from creameries and cheese factories.

"The act," according to Commissioner Strange, "seeks to eliminate fraudulent products from the market, to establish fair trade practices and square dealing among manufacturers and to protect consumers by enabling them to purchase quality merchandise honestly labeled and represented."

Under the law, each commercial feeds manufacturer must register with the department and pay license fee of $20.00 per year for each brand. In lieu of the payment of full license, the manufacturer is permitted at the beginning of each year to satisfy the registration by the first payment of $1.00 and then 25 cents on each ton manufactured and sold. To comply with the section, the department is issuing stamps in six denominations that may be affixed by the miller to the feed container. This section is provided to aid the small miller, according to Commissioner Strange.

"Each sack," pointed out Commissioner Strange, "no matter how large or how small must be properly labeled, declaring the true contents of the package. Constant check will be made at the state laboratories of the feeds offered against the declared contents as displayed by the label."

BETTER TO SPEND TO LEARN SAVING

To give a child money "to save" is not giving him money at all, according to child guidance specialists, who point out that the way to learn how wto use money wisely is by handling money early in life. A five or six year old with five cents allowance per week will be on the road to learning how to handle larger sums later.

Mere doling out of money to the child has no magic for teaching the "value of money". If he merely handles money and gives so much to Sunday school, and puts so much in his bank under the direction of a grownup, it may be convenient but cannot be confused with learning to spend wisely.

"But I don't want my child to waste money on foolishness," objects one mother. Another reported her worries since her 10 year old son spent 50 cents out of a 10 cents a week allowance, for three fox-tails to tie on his bicycle. The pleasure this boy had in acquiring such an article, in his eyes, was as important socially as money spent by his mother for a new hat or a bridge prize.

"Allowances are a part of the routine income of the child, by virtue of his membership in the home," says Alice Hutchinson, specialist in child development at Michigan State college.

The amount of the allowance will depend upon the child's share and the size of the family income. It should, as it is increased, cover cost of school supplies, some savings, part of the clothing and the free spending for fun.

The allowance should never be dependent upon behavior nor used as disciplinary measure. The habit of doling out to the child at the discretion of the parent is more costly in the long run and lacks the training and dignity of a regular allowance.

Miss Hutchinson sums up some values of earning of money (1) develops initiative, (2) fosters self reliance, (3) gives child a feeling of self respect.

The new White House attitude toward business corresponds to retiring to a neutral corner while the foe gets off the floor.

Veterans

A measure, providing widows pensions of $22 a month regardless of whether the veteran suffered in the service, was reported by the Pensions Committee in spite of an adverse budget bureau report.

Estimated to cost $68,000,000 the first year if all the 188,000 eligibles applied for pension, Veterans Bureau officials said the cost would rise rapidly in the future as the death rate of veterans increases.

Under the Gasque Bill, the widow of a veteran would receive a pension of $22 a month with $6 for each child, if married to the veteran prior to July 3, 1931. The time limit would not apply to later marriages if children were born. An orphan would receive a pension of $28 a month up to 16 years of age, the pension to be continued until the orphan reached 21 if in a recognized school.

While the estimated cost is $68,000,000 the first year, the committee estimated that but about one-half the eligibles would apply and thus $36,000,000 would be the first year's cost.

Agriculture

Senate and House conferees on the Farm Bill formally reached an agreement Friday and announced they would report the revised measure to each chamber next week (Feb. 7-12).

Representing a composite of differing Senate and House approved bills, passed in the special session of Congress, the measure would continue the soil conservation program in normal times and establish price-pegging and marketing controls in years of overproduction.

Meanwhile Senators and Representatives from dairy states gathered their forces to send the bill when reported back into conference again until certain amendments protecting dairy interests are included.

Wage-Hour

A movement to unite the American Federation of Labor and the CIO on one issue—national minimum wage and maximum hours legislation—was launched yesterday by leading members of the "wage-hours" bloc of the House.

The plan to bring the two big national labor groups together grew out of fears of backers of wage-hour legislation that it will be defeated in the present session, just as it was blocked in the specion session of congress.

If this thing keeps up, we won't have anything but small businessmen.

CHAPTER I

Serra staggered. "Before God, explain those words! What I have brought?"

"Yes, you. You and your missionaries with your greed to save souls for the further glory and power of an already- too - powerful church!"

Serra was struggling for control, and when he spoke his voice was thick and trembling.

"Rash man! Godless man! I wonder heaven does not open and the fires of holy wrath descend and destroy you!" He raised his hands with spread fingers, and advanced toward the Governor.

"On your head be the blame! We men of God ask no escort of soldiery, it is forced upon us by the rapacious State, eager for dominion, swollen with the spoils of stolen empires! Leave us alone, you men of war, the cross must go alone!"

Clutching the crucifix of his rosary he held it before him.

"Alone the cruss will conquer! I ask for no soldiers, I ask for priests, Pedro Fages, men of God, strong in the strength of righteousness, not armed with steel! Men bearing the word of God, with divine love in their hearts, not the fires of lust that burn and kill!"

He sank to his knees.

"Blessed Mother of God, Holy Ghost Divine, Holy Master Jesus, here on my knees before you, I, the least of thy servants, Junipero Serra, do make a vow! Send me two strong brethren and with their help alone will I raise to thee a temple, the Mission Santa Barbara! Then will I willingly give up my soul and without one regret tread the dark valley of the shadow of death."

The boy Pio slipped fearfully into the room.

"Padre mio," he whispered awesomely, "it is the hour for vespers. Shall I ring the bell?"

He nodded, and the boy departed silently. For a few moments the two men regarded each other. Then the Governor gathered up hat and riding whip that lay on the table.

"Good night," he said abruptly. "May your prayers be answered."

The other looked at him imploringly.

"God soften your heart," said he.

As Pedro Fages and his servant rode away toward the Presidio of Monterey, they heard the plaintive notes of the vesper bells through the Carmel Valley.

CHAPTER II

A thousand cries rose from the street below and filtered through the open velvet-hung windows of a room in the upper floor of the palace of the Viceroy of Mexico, one Mayorga. Venders were hawking their wares: foodstuffs, parrots, baskets, pottery, burros and young pigs. The Viceroy, for the fifteen time that bright morning, pulled aside one of the velvet curtains and looked down into the street, his nose twitching with agitation as he did so.

A third man took a long cigar from between his bearded lips, to answer him.

"You, Felipe de Neve, are a soldier, a fighter, and should be afraid of nothing—while our friend here, Mayorga, is—if he will pardon me, only Viceroy of Mexico. He should be allowed a few qualms."

Mayorga walked from the window and joined de Neve beneath the map.

"Si, you are a soldier, Felipe, One of the conquistadores of this heathen land here on the wall that is causing me so much trouble."

"A heathen land indeed," answered de Neve. "And troublesome indeed. There is only one person who can help you. A woman."

"Yes—a woman—and that is why I tremble."

The third man, Romeu, joined them and looked up at the map.

"There is one person who will keep Don Pedro happy and contented in California," the Viceroy continued. "That is his wife, the beauteous Donu Eulalia Celis de Fages." He preened himself and smoothed the creamy lace ruffles at his wrist. "I for one do not blame him for that. She would keep any man happy, anywhere." He walked again to the window and peered out into the street. Romeu and de Neve exchanged glances.

"You are right, your Excellency," agreed Romeu. "I well remember the day the couriers met us, down on that desert of the Colorado, with dispatches that Don Pedro was to be governor. He did not give thanks that he would not have to chase Indios all over New Spain—he did not think of his rise of position—from a humble Catalan soldado de cuero to governorship—he did not think of the glory of Spain or the Church. Oh, no. He knelt in the sand and said, 'Now I can have my Eulalia with me.' And he made me promise I would persuade her to join him. And here I am."

"Yes, and you must persuade her!" exclaimed Mayorga earnestly. "Fages is the only man for California, and I fear if his wife does not join him, he will not stay."

"Fear it!" snorted de Neve. "I know it. As for persuading her, you are to open the subject, and we will amen your suggestions."

"How can I! How can any man persuade a woman against her will! Look at the desolate stretch of country—the Californias, upper and lower! Regard the distance from this, the capital of Mexico, to that little spot which is Monterey, the capital of the Californias! The leagues of sea and desert that separate them! The sand, the cacti, the savages—"

Romeu looked reflectively at the land he pointed out. "How will she reach there, by ship?" he asked.

"She will have to walk," said de Neve calmly.

"Walk!" ejaculated the others.

Just then there was a clamor in the street below. They went to the window and saw a carriage arriving up the filthy muddy street.

The three men saw the footmen leap to their feet, open the carriage door and bow low. A woman dismounted, tall and bony-looking in spite of her enswathing clothing. Then another figure appeared, draped in gauzy black, a coquettish figure, they could see, for all the swaddlings of black lace that concealed her face, hands and all, against the sun's rays. The two hurried across the pave and disappeared in the palace. The three men sighed.

"It is she," said Romeu.

"The beauty of Barcelona," said the Viceroy.

"The fiery Catalan," said de Neve.

In a moment a lackey announced, "La Senora Dona Eulalia Celis de Fages, and the Dona Angustias Moreno."

"I am most happy to see your Excellency looking so well after the ball last night," said the lady with a twinkle in her black eyes. "And to see you, Capitan Romeu, and you, General de Neve."

By this time she was seated in a high-backed chair, upholstered in crimson leather, and was swinging a small satin-shod foot and silken ankle nervously back and forth. "I have had a mysterious letter from Don Pedro, and he told me, Don Felipe, that you would have news for me. Then when his Excellency invites me here this morning, I am more mystified. You are looking wonderfully well, Don Felipe, for one who has spent such a long time in that terrible country—that California."

COMMUNICATION

Chicago, February 4, 1938

Charlevoix Courier,
Charlevoix, Michigan.

Gentlemen:

I read in your paper with much interest the account of last week's snow storm in your locality, with the snow banked up to the keyhole in your office door.

Such a storm causes great damage and hardship to all, as transportation of mails, passenger and freight service is suspended; also all highways and streets are blocked and impassable. To open up the highways of the county and the streets of your city after such a storm is a matter of large expense, and such expense must be paid by the taxpayers. If business was prosperous like in the past, it could be met with little or no difficulty at all.

While I am writing on the subject of expense, my curiosity is aroused as to what amount is contributed by the large mail order houses of Chicago that take away at least 75% of the business from your local merchants. How much money do the mail order houses carry on deposit in your local banks to offset the amounts drawn out of your banks, same to be sent out with the various orders? Do the mail order houses buy any commodity in your community? The mail order houses abuse the free service your local banks have to offer, such as issuing drafts on Chicago banks and charging the amounts to the account of depositors.

The mail order houses do not patronize local charities, share in local benefactions or patronize local institutions such as schools, churches and hospitals as do the independent local merchants; so you can realize that no part of the money sent to them will ever come back to your community.

As a friend of your locality, I ask and implore you all to patronize your own local dealers and give them a chance of putting a few more persons to work. Give your local stores a chance to do more business, and I mean the dealers in all the surrounding territory for miles around. The merchandise sold by the local stores may not be wrapped in fancy containers like the mail order houses use, but you can rest assured that you will receive equal value for your money at all times.

I am convinced that the money spent for merchandise bought out of your district would amount to more than $350,000 in a year. I know that Saint Jamos alone sent out about $40,000 in the year 1937.

A prosperous business could be done by many local dealers with sales of such amounts, and many more persons would be working, more taxes paid without borrowing the money and more improvements made.

DEPARTMENT OF STATE NEWS BULLETIN

State Guards 5,000 'Lost' Auto Titles

Nearly 5,000 automobile titles, lost by their owners in the last 12 months, are being held by the Department of State, until their owners realize their loss and ask for them—as they will shortly, when they start to buy their 1938 license plates.

If correct addresses were known, these titles would of course be sent to their owners, but the file of "lost titles" contains only those which postal authorities haven't been able to deliver because of faulty addresses given by applicants for the titles.

Leon D. Case, secretary of state, points out that thousands of people are annually frustrated for a time at least, by frantic searches for their car titles which they must present when they apply for license plates.

With well over a million motor vehicles still without their 1938 license plates and the deadline set by law at midnight, Monday, February 28, Case points to an inevitable jam at every department of state office in the state at the end of this month. He suggests that those deferring their purchases through necessity, make certain at this time that they have their titles available.

Experience indicates that the large bulk of "lost" titles now held by the department, will be claimed before the license plate deadline. It may not be possible, in every case, however, to get the titles back to their owners before the deadline, because of the volume of business created as March 1 approaches.

Dwarf cows have been added to a California zoo we are informed. So that's where this condensed milk comes from.

AT THE MOVIES

Samuel Goldwyn's "The Hurricane"
Thrilling Romance of South Seas

Samuel Goldwyn knew that he had a truly great picture in "The Hurricane", which comes to the Palace Thestre for two days on February 12 and 13 with Dorothy Lamour and Jon Hall heading a great cast which includes Mary Astor, C. Aubrey Smith, Thomas Mitchell, Raymond Massey, John Carradine and Jerome Cowan.

In this dramatic saga of the South Seas, written by Charles Nordhoff and James Norman Hall, authors of "Mutiny on the Bounty", he was confident he had a story rich in every element of cinematic entertainment. And under the virile direction of John Ford, the story has been translated into a picture which surpasses even the producer's fondest expectations.

Published first as a serial in the Saturday Evening Post, later as a novel, "The Hurricane" has a ready-made audience of millions of readers. It was Goldwyn's determination not to disappoint these old friends and to that end he entrusted the screen play adaptation to Dudley Nichols with instructions to adhere closely to the original story in shaping his drama.

"The Hurricane", with its tender romance, its powerful drama, its picturesque setting and its amazing spectacle climax, is a story ready-cut to the screen's most heroic measure.

..NOTICE..

The Charlevoix Courier is printing a list of delinquent taxes for Charlevoix County which will be offered for sale May 1st.

Due to the complications through the fact that there has been no tax sale for the past five years; the matter of a ten year payment plan, etc., a great deal of complicated bookkeeping has resulted.

The tax list was prepared and submitted by the Auditor General for publication in the Courier and not at this office, and contains many descriptions of property on which the tax has been paid. These descriptions will not be offered for sale.

We mention this, so that if you see property advertised in the tax list, on which you know you have paid the tax, you need not feel unduly alarmed, nor will you have to check again with the county treasurer. No property on which the tax has been paid, will be offered at the May tax sale.

WHAT EVERY DRIVER MUST KNOW

Pavement markings and traffic signs are for the motorists' protection. This explanation is both to coach you in preparing for the examination upon renewing your driver's license, and to help you drive safely.

PAVEMENT MARKINGS

Yellow markings are painted on highways at curves, hills, and other danger spots to keep cars in the proper lanes. Don't use the center part of three-lane highways at these points. On four-lane roads, the yellow center lines warn that you may not drive farther to the left. Single yellow lanes on four-lane roads are to direct cars into their proper lanes.

TRAFFIC CONTROL SIGNS

These notify you that certain acts are unlawful. They are erected by statutory authority, and violation of the rules they state will result in a test.

GOOD NEWS travels fast, and cheaply, when it goes by Long Distance telephone.

Year after year, your Long Distance service has increased in value . . . for it has enabled you to hear better, connect with more telephones, talk farther, and complete your calls more rapidly.

Meanwhile . . . in a period of a little over eleven years . . . your Long Distance rates have been reduced eight times.

LESS THAN WEEK LEFT TO FILE GAME REPORT

Sportsmen Must Return Questionnaires on or Before February 15

With less than a week before the deadline, hundreds of hunters have not yet complied with the state law which requires them to report on their kills for 1936 and 1937 by February 15.

At the close of January, about 210,000 hunters and trappers had sent in their reports to the department of conservation. But it is believed that about 400,000 persons bought small-game licenses for the 1936-1937 season and about 150,000, at least, purchased 1937 deer-hunting licenses.

The number of deer and bear hunting reports received up to January 26, totalled 60,320 and the number of small-game hunting reports, 102,600. For the same period, 7,350 trappers reported.

Several hundred hunters have written in to the department reporting loss of their report cards. The approximate number on January 25 was 750 and others have been received since. Those not giving complete information in their letters are being sent form letters to fill out as substitutes for the original report cards.

In addition another unexpected bookkeeping chore has been created by the receipt of approximately 1,000 small-game hunting licenses, that many hunters having failed to realize that only their report cards were wanted and that they will need their licenses if they want gun permits between now and next September when the licenses expire.

COUNTY RETIRES LAST BONDED INDEBTEDNESS

Final Payment of Road Bonds Last Week Gives County Clean Slate

Of more than ordinary public interest is the announcement by County Treasurer Lillis M. Flanders that Charlevoix county has erased its final bonded indebtedness.

A payment of $32,500 made late last week retired the final road bonds owed by the county. The original issue was $250,000, floated in 1918 for general county road constructions.

A portion of the issue was renewed in 1932 when bank reorganizations tied up county funds. Last week's payment cleaned up the issue and wiped out all bonded indebtedness of the county.

LINCOLN'S BIRTHDAY PARTY SATURDAY NITE

Plans Complete for Republican Red Cross Benefit at Boyne City

Plans for the Lincoln's Birthday party to be held by Charlevoix county Republicans at the Hotel Dilworth, Boyne City, on February 12, are being rushed to completion by the entertainment committee.

It is anticipated a large crowd will attend this benefit function, which is being sponsored for the Red Cross.

The evening's program will consist of a buffet luncheon and a special dancing party sponsored by the Young Republican Club of Charlevoix county. A special radio hook-up in the hotel lobby will bring in all the Lincoln Day addresses.

The party, which is sponsored by the Charlevoix county unit, is open to all persons who are interested in aiding the Red Cross and guests from other counties are welcomed.

The evening's festivities will begin at 8:30 o'clock and will end at 1:00.

MUST HAVE NEW AUTO PLATES BY MARCH 1ST

Positively No Extension Will Be Granted Michigan Motorists

Michigan motorists who are postponing purchase of their 1938 automobile license plates are in for a rude jolt, Secretary of State Leon D. Case warns.

"The public is going to be educated this year that the state has a definite, unextendable deadline which means something," Case said.

That deadline for securing new license plates is March 1, only 21 plate-purchasing days away. And the jolt that a last minute rush will give motorists—and Case's office—was seen in the fact that of the 1,649,000 automobiles in Michigan only 200,846 have 1938 plates.

"A lot of people think there will be an extension of the deadline," Case said. "Under the 1937 law March 1 is the unextendable deadline. You have to have a 1938 license after that."

ARRANGE BROADCAST OF TIGER 1938 GAMES

Kellogg Company and White Star Refining Co. Are Sponsors

Baseball fans in three states and western Ontario will be able to follow the campaign of the Detroit Tigers for the American League flag over their own radio sets during the coming season, it was announced here today jointly by the Kellogg Company, Battle Creek cereal manufacturer, and White Star Refining Company, local division of Socony Vacuum Oil Company, refiners of petroleum products.

All Tiger games at Briggs Stadium in Detroit will be aired over WWJ and WXYZ, local NBC outlets, and seven stations of the Michigan Radio Network, including WELL, Battle Creek; WBCM, Bay City; WJIM, Lansing; WOOD-WASH, Grand Rapids; WFDF, Flint, and WIBM, Jackson. Games away from home, except those played in New York, also will be broadcast over the same stations.

VETERANS OF FOREIGN WARS NOTES

Recruits of Charlevoix County Post 1153, Veterans of Foreign Wars, will be obligated in a coast-to-coast radio broadcast the night of February 28th.

A membership drive being conducted by the local Post will be concluded on Wednesday, February 16, in time for names to be entered for the broadcast, and it is requested that applications be submitted in time for balloting by the Post for this broadcast.

Veterans will gather at a meeting scheduled the evening of February 28th to hear the annual "Hello America" program of the Veterans of Foreign Wars, to be broadcast over a coast-to-coast network. During this program, National Commander Squires will deliver the membership obligations before the microphone for all America to hear. Other program features will include music by the U. S. Navy band, Eddie Duchin's orchestra from Los Angeles, Henry Busse orchestra from Chicago and Rudy Newman's orchestra from New York. Speakers will include National Commander Squires, National Auxiliary President Mrs. Schertle, Senator Wm. G. McAdoo and others.

$35,000.00 HOLDUP
NETS ROBBERS $20 IN CASH

Here's the Reason

Bandits forced a messenger from a large Chicago firm to hand over a satchel containing $35,000. But the net "haul" was only $20. The satchel was filled with checks for deposit with the bank. The bandits discarded the checks under the seat of a street car where they were found. When you pay by check, you are assured of protection. It is an effective insurance against loss.

..NOTICE..

The Charlevoix Courier is printing a list of delinquent taxes for Charlevoix County which will be offered for sale May 1st.

Due to the complications through the fact that there has been no tax sale for the past five years; the matter of a ten year payment plan, etc., a great deal of complicated bookkeeping has resulted.

The tax list was prepared and submitted by the Auditor General for publication in the Courier and not at this office, and contains many descriptions of property on which the tax has been paid. These descriptions will not be offered for sale.

We mention this, so that if you see property advertised in the tax list, on which you know you have paid the tax, you need not feel unduly alarmed, nor will you have to check again with the county treasurer. No property on which the tax has been paid, will be offered at the May tax sale.

STATE OF MICHIGAN
In The Circuit Court for the County of Charlevoix
In Chancery

In the matter of the petition of George T. Gundry, Auditor General of the State of Michigan, for and in behalf of said state, for the salo of certain lnnds for tnxes assessed thereon.

To the Circuit Court for the County of Charlevoix, in Chancery:

The petition of George T. Gundry, Auditor General of the State of Michigan, for and in behalf of said State, respectfully shows:

1. That the list of lands set forth in Schedule A contained in the Tax Record annexed to this petition, contains a description of all lands in said county of Charlovoix upon which tnxes were assessed for the years mentioned therein, and which were returned as dolinquent for non-payment of taxes, and which taxes have not boen paid and have remained onpaid for more than one year after thoy were returned as delinquent, together with the total amount of such taxes, with interest computed thereon to the first day of May, A. D. 1038, and a collection fee of 4% extended separately ngainst each parcel of land as provided by iaw.

2. That pursuant to Section 60 of Act 206 of the Pohlic Acts of 1893, as amended by Act 325 of the Public Acts of 1937, said Schedule A includes all of said lands delinquent for taxes for the years 1933, 1034 and 1035, and lands delinquent for any installment of taxes under Act 126 of the Public Acts of 1933, as amended, including the interest and collection fee provided by law.

3. That said lands were returned to the Auditor General under the provisions of said Act 206 of the Public Acts of 1893, as amended, as delinquent for non-payment of said taxes for said years respectively, and that said taxes remain unpaid; except that lands included in said schedules of said Tax Record for taxes of 1800 or prior years were returned to the Auditor General as delinquent for said taxes under the provisions of the general tax laws in force prior to the passage of Act 200 of the Public Acts of 1891, and which taxes remain unpaid.

4. That in all cases where lands are included in said schedule for taxes of 1890 or of any prior year, said lands have not been sold for said delinquent taxes or the sale or sales so made have been set aside by a court of competent jurisdiction, or have been cancelled as provided by law.

5. That in all cases where lands are included in said Schedule A, as aforesaid, for taxes of 1935, or any prior year, said lands have not been sold for said taxes or have been heretofore sold for said delinquent taxes and the sale, or sales, so made have heen set aside by a court of competent jurisdiction or by legislative action, or have heen cancelled as provided by law.

6. That the taxes, interest and collection fees included in the computations set forth in said Schedule A, as aforosaid, are a valid lien on the several parcels of lands described therein.

7. That the said taxes on the said described landa have remained unpaid for more than one year after they were returned as delinquent; and the said taxes not having been paid, and the same being now due and remaining onpaid as above set forth, your petitioner prays:

A. That, within the time provided by law, this court make a final decree in favor of the State of Michigan for such taxes, interest and charges as shall be valid, and as computed and extended in said Schedule A against the several parcels of land contained therein, and determine the total amount thereof chargeable against each parcel of land, and that this court order and decree that such parcels of land shall severally be sold as the law directs.

B. That pursuant to law such decree be considered as a several decree in favor of the State of Michigan against each parcel of land for each tax included therein.

C. That such final decree be entered in the chancery record for recording the decrees of this court, and be in substance and form as that provided by Section 67 of Act 206, Public Acts 1893, as amended by Act 114, Public Acts of 1037.

D. That your petitioner may have general relief in the premises.

And your petitioner will ever pray, etc.

Dated December 29, 1937.

GEORGE T. GUNDRY
Auditor General of the State of Michigan, for and in behalf of said State.

REPUBLICANS LIKED PORK AND MUSH MENU

Eat 50c Dinner and Chide Democrats on $25 Per Plata Affair

Republicans, who chided Democrats at their $25-a-plate Jackson Day dinners, pointed with customary pride to an Abraham Lincoln dinner at Plymouth, at which old fashioned cornmeal mush was the piece de resistance.

More than 500 party members, including several candidates, ate the mush, side pork and beans—all of which cost them just 50 cents—and liked it.

Among those present were Frank D. Fitzgerald, who is seeking the Republican nomination fur governor.

FIFTH FERRY BOUGHT FOR STRAITS SERVICE

Pere Marquette Carferry, 339 Foot Boat, to Be Added Fleet

Murray D. Van Wagoner, state highway commissioner, had the approval uf tho stato administrative board last week of the purchase of the "Pere Marquette No. 20," property of the railroad company of the same name. The price is $60,000.

With an overhaul length of 339 feet, the boat is 83 feet longer than the "City of Cheboygan", the largest vessel in the present fleet. It has a capacity of about 115 motor vehicles compared with about 85 for the "City of Cheboygan".

LICENSE PLATES IN 1939 WILL BE BLACK ON BUFF

Secretary of State Leon D. Case said Tuesday that automobile license plates for 1939 would he black on buff.

He said the colors were chosen at a conference with state police officials, who said the new colors would be "very contrasty" and an improvement upon the 1938 combination of black numerals on a green background.

There will be a cafeteria supper at the Congregationol church Friday, February 18.—7tt.

REPORT FINE RESULTS AT DETROIT EXHIBIT

Much Charlevoix Literatura Distributed at Ourdoor Exposition

Don Clothier, owner and operator of the Charlevoix Trolling Camp, stated this city received a fine lot of favorable advertising and publicity at the recent Detroit-Michigan Exposition in Detroit.

Mr. Clothier, with the Board of Commerce cooperating, had a space in the West Michigan Tourist and Resort Association booth. He stated that between 350,000 and 400,000 persons visited the exposition and, according to accurate count, visitors came in at the rate of 5,000 an hour. Mr. Clothier stated he passed out 3,800 uf his own folders and that a like or even larger amount of Charlevoix literature was given out to persons who visited the booth for information. He expects an increased number of visitors tu Charlevoix next season as the result of contacts made at the exposition.

WINTER VISITORS ENJOYING SPORTS HERE

Taking into consideration the distance some of Mr Knight's guests traveled to reach these northern climes, some sort of a record or other might be claimed. In the party are Mr. and Mrs. Richard Leatherman of Tunica, Miss.; Mrs. Robert Morrow of Memphis, Tenn.; Jane Morgan of Jackson, Tenn.; Joe Bohrer of Bloomington, Ill., and Mr. and Mrs. James Bayne of Romeo, Mich.

Mr. Knight stated his party has thoroughly enjoyed their winter visit, which has been much of an innovation for some of the members, and are highly appreciative of the courtesies extended by local citizens.

TOY ANNOUNCES CANDIDACY FOR GOVERNOR

Will Seek Republican Nomination at Primaries in September

Harry S. Toy, former attorney general and state Supreme Court justice, has started an open-field fight for the Republican gubernatorial nomination against former Governor Frank D. Fitzgerald.

Toy, who had the support of one former governor, the blessing of another and apparently too the endorsement of six former Fitzgerald lieutenants, made his formal announcement at a testimonial dinner attended by 2,700 persons at Detroit. Fitzgerald announced his candidacy last December.

Toy's long-expected announcement complicated the Michigan Republican political situation. Not only were opposing factions of the two 1934 running mates more clesrly defined, but the unusually early campaign already has braught out Republican gubernatorial boomlets for Melville B. McPherson, state tax commissiuner of Lowell, and for Roscoe Conkling Fitch, Ludington.

EAST JORDAN CANNERS WIN BY NARROW MARGIN

Defeated Charlevoix Resorters 32 to 30 in Overtime Contest

East Jordan maintained an unblemished record, but only by a 32 to 30 margin after two overtime periods. The Charlevoix combination, newly-organized and woefully short of practice, carried the fight to the fast-stepping East Jordan aggregation, leading throughout the contest until the final moments when the visitors tied the count at 28-all. Both teams scored in the first overtime session, but Charlevoix was unable to match the visitors' goal in the second.

"Chuck" Carey was high point man for the Resorters with 13. Radle scored 7 points, Pearl 5, Supernaw 4 and Smith 1. The Resorters have booked the Boyne City Independents for a contest here tonight (Wednesday).

CAMP CHARLEVOIX ISSUES A FINE FOLDER

Attractive 36-Page Booklet Depicts Activities and Attractions

Camp Charlevoix's 1938 folder, one of the most attractive pieces of advertising literature brought to the attention of this writer in some time, has been received and is hereby acknowledged.

The 36-page folder is photo-press work, a type of offset printing, with attractive two-color front and hack pages. Other pages carry a most complete and illustrative selection of views depicting ramp activities, scenic advantages, etc., also told in the accompanying printed matter.

The folder is a decided credit to Camp Charlevoix, one of Charlevoix's major simmer institutions, and to Lewis C. Reimann, its owner-director.

Features by J. Edgar Hoover, Percival Christopher Wren, Erle Stanley Gardner, Raymond L. Ditmare, F. Britten Austin and others appear in This Week, the rotorgravure magazine with next Sunday's Detroit News. Don't miss it!

There will be a cafeteria supper at the Congregational church Friday, February 18.—7t1.

RURAL ELECTRIC REPORT PROGRESS

ENGINEERS NOW MAKING PRELIMINARY SURVEYS

Rates and Source of Powar Will Be Determinad Within the Next Few Weeks

(By Leon W. Miller)

Efforts of the Top O' Michigan Rural Electric Company to extend the use of electricity to the counties at Emmet, Antrim, Charlevoix and Otsego, are meeting with success.

Already two engineers have been on the ground for the past several days and are now studying the density factors throughout the four counties. By the end of this week it is planned to have the material analyzed sufficiently so that the first two hundred miles of lines can be definitely laid out.

In regard to the source of power, an early decision is expected from the Rural Electrication Administration at Washington. Two plans have been developed and while it is not known definitely which plan will be used, it is definitely assured that one or the other will be approved and be satisfactory.

Officials of the company have decided to expand the field force. By the end of this week there will be at least fifteen fieldmen securing memberships and right-of-ways throughout the four counties. The membership campaign must make rapid headway during the balance of this month and during March to insure early construction.

Thos. A. Coulter, project superintendent, and Roy A. White, project engineer, are making definite plans to have construction start in April. In other words, it is planned to start staking out lines just as soon as the snow disappears.

During the next six weeks all possible speed in securing memberships will be the goal. Those who have not already been visited by a fieldman are asked to devote a little thought to this program so that it will not be necessary to take up a lot of the fieldman's time.

TEMPERANCE GROUP DISCUSS FRANCIS WILLARD

Will Participate in Memorial to Noted Leader in September, 1939

The high points of the career of Miss Frances Willard, the noted temperance leader, were interestingly told by Mrs. George Burns at a meeting of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union held at the home of Mrs. Robert Withers, Antrim street.

The local Union plans to participate in the national celebration honoring the centenary of Miss Willard's birth, which occurs September 29, 1939. Mrs. A. J. Usher, Mrs. John Burns and Mrs. Robert Withers have been named a committee on historical research to delve into the past as to any personal contacts Miss Willard may have made in the vicinity and to plan for a community memorial in her honor.

A special tea meeting will be held Friday, February 25th, at the home of Mrs. A. J. Usher.

DEPUTY COLLECTOR INTERNAL REVENUE HERE FEB. 18

A notification from the Treasury Department, Grand Rapids, gives the information that Clare H. Dean, deputy collector of internal revenue, will be at the Charlevoix Postoffice on Friday, February 18th, to assist taxpayers in making out their current income tax returns.

There will be a cafeteria supper at the Congregational church Friday, February 18.—7t1.

LANSING LETTER

By GENE ALLEMAN

Field Manager, Michigan Press Association

Michigan's liquor control problem is like the mercury in a thermometer: One day state control rises in public acceptance and favor; the next day it drops sharply as some development incurs popular criticism.

1. Figures compiled by state police show that automobile accidents due to drinking increased more than 10 per cent in 1937. In Detroit the liquor cause of accidents is declared by safety authorities as being a major factor in the 1937 auto deaths.

2. Extension of the closing time of liquor-selling establishments from 2 to 4 a. m. is favored by Police Supt Fred F. Frahm of Detroit. Frahm revealed that 1,202 Detroit blind pigs paid Uncle Sam internal revenue taxes totaling $41,826 in 1937.

"Give us a later closing time and we'll exterminate the blind pigs," declared Frahm to a legislative committee studying control abuses.

What Every Driver Must Know

TRUCKS AND BUSES

Chauffeurs applying for their new licenses may be asked about regulations covering trucks and buses before being granted the permits. This is in line with the new Michigan license law. This article summarizes the special speed restrictions so chauffeurs will be prepared if the examiner ask about them.

These special speed rules apply to trucks and buses as may be changed by the Public Utilities Commission; 25 m.p.h. for any vehicle weighing more than 18,000 pounds loaded or unloaded; 25 m.p.h. for any vehicle loaded or unloaded weighing more than 5,000 pounds but less than 18,000; 30 m.p.h. for any vehicle or combination exceeding 35 feet long over all.

Truck and bus drivers not operating under special Public Utilities Commission requirements who drive vehicles exceeding within these limits, must abide by them.

PHELPS NEWS

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Elliot are visiting their grandparents.

Mrs. George Everts has gone to Detroit to visit relatives.

Mrs. Henry Francisco has returned home after a visit to Harbor Springs.

Mr. and Mrs. James Hlock are visiting friends and relatives in Charlevoix.

The Phelps school had a valentine party Monday afternoon and invited the mothers.

Harmon Himebauch is expected home. He has spent the winter in North Carolina.

The sewing club met at Mrs. Chas. Mascho's Saturday afternoon for a valentine party. We all enjoyed ourselves.

Franklin Mascho was unlucky boy who got his face scratched up sliding down hill, because he had his sleigh in high gear.

OF INTEREST TO FARMERS
By B. C. Mellencamp

4-H Clubs Visited by Mr. Walker, District Club Leader

The 4-H Club activity in Charlevoix county, has been greatly increased this winter. The enrollment at this time, exceeds 464 project members, which is the largest enrollment ever made.

Mr. Walker, district club leader, is spending the entire week in visiting all the different groups. He is giving assistance to all club members in the progress of their project and to be of greater help, he has many articles for the purpose of indicating just how they should be made and how to properly finish them for exhibit. Of considerable interest, is the fact that there are some twenty-five rural schools that now serve a hot dish at noon. This represents a decided increase in number over last winter.

In a short time plans will be developed for the spring Achievement Day, which is scheduled for April 22nd, in Charlevoix.

Fifty-six Farm Account Co-operators Will Finish Fiscal Year March 1st

We are glad to announce that some fifty-six farm account records will be checked in on March 18, 19 and 21, by representatives of the Farm Management Department of Michigan State College. Appointments will be made for each co-operator, so that fully an hour can be spent with each co-operator in making sure that all items are included in this book.

Several farmers now will have records for nine successive years and really become more interested in the value of these records, year by year. There is no record yet developed that will accomplish as much as this Farm Account Book. It is easy to keep and carries all information that has to do with farm income and expenses. The complete summary of the book shows the labor and management wages, rate of interest earned and the profits made from each farm department.

In as much as March 1st, is the opening date for the fiscal year, we will be glad to assist new co-operators in starting farm account books. Your agent will be glad to spend as much time as necessary to start the new books for the beginners.

Mr. and Mrs. Oscar DeGroot and Jacob Siersma of Wright District called on Harry DeGroot Wednesday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert DeJong and family and Frank DeJong, visited with Mr. and Mrs. Wm. DeJong near Phelps last Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. John W. Brown of Mitchell visited with Mr. and Mrs. Jay Kilpper Friday afternoon. Harry Detroot also called there.

H. J. Timmer and family were in Charlevoix Saturday afternoon to visit their son, Ben, who is in the Charlevoix Hospital for an operation of the appendix. His condition is very favorable.

BEAVER ISLAND

Jack Boyle, Charlie Martin, Jewell Gillespie and Delbert Relfy, went to Cross Village Saturday by truck. They reported the ice good for travel.

Mrs. M. J. McCann was a passenger on the plane for Charlevoix Thursday. Mrs. McCann will visit her daughter in Two Rivers, Wis., before she returns home.

James H. Gallagher left Thursday for Kalamazoo to attend the wedding of his daughter, then on to Chicago to visit his mother, Mrs. W. J. Gallagher, who is spending the winter there.

Mr. and Mrs. James H. Gallagher wish to announce the marriage of their daughter, Edith Helen, to Robert Burhans in Kalamazoo, February 12th. The young couple will live in Kalamazoo for the present.

Thomas R. Gallagher was taken by plane to Charlevoix Monday, where he underwent an operation for appendicitis. The operation was sucessful but Mr. Gallagher developed pneumonia from which he died Friday. The body will be brought here for burial.

BARNARD

We are sorry to report that Mrs. Clarence Beattie is still quite ill.

Mrs. George Willis returned home from the hospital last Wednesday and is convalescing finely after her operation.

Only a small number of members attended the Aid meeting Thursday. They were invited to meet with Mrs. Bradford next month.

A good crowd attended the play given by the Hilton community players. Everyone liked the entertainment and also enjoyed dancing and lunch afterward. Proceeds to go to the dental fund for the school.

CENTRAL LAKE

We have had pretty mild weather, so far, for February.

Elbon and Gerald Telgenhoff were business callers at the J. W. Morse home, Saturday.

Harold and Lester Dawson of Central Lake have been cutting wood for J. W. Morse of Bay View.

James Drake and family were visiting relatives in Ellsworth last Friday. Mr. Drake is quite well again.

Torch Lake is frozen over on the north end, and several fish shanties are in evidence. Victor Morse and Bud Bruce have been doing some fishing.

Mrs. Allen Gardema has returned from Chicago where she attended her relative's funeral, and also sought medical assistance. She is quite improved in health at the present time.

Lester Brooks is now living in the Harvey Brower house at Eastport, and Mrs. Stella Brower is living in the Guy McPherson house down town, that she purchased some time ago.

Quite a good deal of the snow banks have been removed from the streets of Central Lake, and walks cleared of snow. Streets, however, are very rough on account of freezing of slush.

G. A. Morse and family, who are in Clearwater, Florida, will probably not get home in time for the funeral, Mrs. Eva Morse Peterson and two children are expected to come home from Detroit.

Ivan and J. W. Morse made a business call to Petoskey last week, and also called on Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Weaver. Mr. Weaver is enjoying fairly good health, but Mrs. Weaver is not so well. Mr. Weaver is kept pretty busy.

Miss Etta Cornett who teaches the Mapleville school north of Eastport, is stopping at Fred Romans, near the school house this winter. It is her first term of school. She graduated from Antrim County Normal at Mancelona.

James Dawson celebrated his birthday last week, Mrs. Hattie Morse from town attending the party, and Ebon Dawson's people from south of town also were there. The week before, Kurgy Arnold celebrated his birthday with a number of his relatives.

The death of Otto Ross Morse occurred at his home at Bay View, northwest of Central Lake, at 2 o'clock Sunday morning, February 13, 1938. He was 58 years, two months and 24 days of age. He was born on the same farm on January 19, 1879. Mr. Morse, though not a member of any church was a believer in the Christian religion, and practiced it in his every day life. His gifts to the poor and unfortunate were many. He will be missed very much by a host of relatives and friends. He leaves to mourn his loss, his wife, sons, Lyle, Ivan, Wilmer, Victor; daughters, Eva and Dorothy. Mr. Morse suffered a stroke of paralysis December 13, 1935, and on February 8, 1938. He was unconscious four days and four hours before passing away. Before his illness, he had been active for thirty years in the seed business, besides his farming. His work had been mostly with the Leonard Seed Company of Chicago, and J. B. Rice of Detroit. Besides these, he had bought potatoes for several years, and ran a store at Bay View. Starting in the livery business with his brother Guy back in 1903, he gave his brother a start financially that helped his brother to amass a small fortune for these days, besides leaving his brother his seed business with J. B. Rice, when Otto Morse again took up farming. Mr. Morse was preceded in death by his father, who passed away in 1915; his sister, 1898; his mother, 1920; and his brother, Alva G. Morse, in February 7, 1928.

CHAPTE

"Thank ... a Eulalia. It is a miracle that I ... for you are right, it is a terri... " Sighing lugubriously he l... the fidgeting Mayorga. "As for the mysterious news, his Excellency will tell you of it."

"Er—er—not at all—General—that is your privilege—as Don Pedro's old and valued friend, I will give you that privilege." He began to pace rapidly back and forth, looking furtively from the map of California to Dona Eulalia's cream white face, shadowed in its black lace.

De Neve rose. "Your Excellency, I defer to your higher position. Yours is the honor—the privilege."

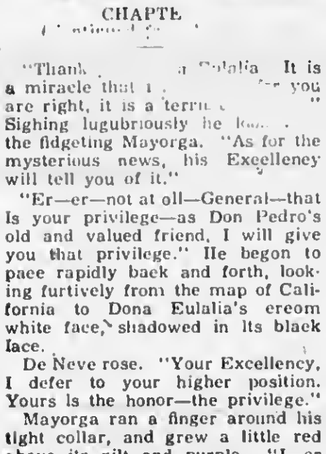
Mayorga ran a finger around his tight collar, and grew a little red above its gilt and purple. "I—er—no——"

Capitan Romeu gave a dry chuckle.

"Dona Eulalia, the honor which has befallen Don Pedro is so great, and will so affect your future, that I think I will ask permission of the General and his Excellency to break it to you myself."

"Yes!" exclaimed the two at once.

"Very well. Come, Dona, and give me your hand." In bewilderment she entrusted her fingers to



"Yes!" Exclaimed the Two at Once.

"This," he said, "is a map of California — of both Californias, Baja and Alta. Here, in Baja California we see little Loreto—the Jesuit missionaries founded this—but your ears and throat tell me you know also it produces the finest pearls in the world. Verdad?"

She smiled. This was language she understood.

"Very well. We will leave Baja California and go on to Alta California—just a jump—thus—and we find the Mission San Diego de Alcala—the first to be built in Alta California — already the soil has been blessed with a martyr's blood—then we find San Juan Capistrano, in a beautiful, beautiful spot—and so on up we find San Gabriel Arcangel. Ah, that is the busy place—everyone going into or out of California stops there—it is quite a little metropolis."

Dona Eulalia was becoming interested in spite of herself. "Your finger passed over something here," she exclaimed, "near San Gabriel—what is that?"

Romeu peered closely. "That? Oh, that is just one of the two pueblos—de Neve's pets. That is the Pueblo de Nuestrn Senora la Reina da Los Angeles de Porciuncula. Los Angeles, they call it. A filthy, tiny place—scarcely noticed beside the mission settlement of San Gabriel."

De Neve interrupted.

"Romeu, you falsify. That place will be, some day, the greatest—"

"De Neve, do you wish to complete the lady's geography lesson?"

De Neve subsided.

"Come, come, Capitan," exclaimed Donn Eulalia. "What is the meaning of all this? I tremble with anticipation—or apprehension."

"Ah, yes. Pardon my digressions But here is San Buenaventura, on the blue Pacific, San Luis Obispo, San Antonio de Padua, San Carlos Borromeo, Santa Clara and San Francisco de Asis. And here is another pueblo, San Jose. All these lovely places—and loveliest of all, the Capital of California, the Presidio of Monterey. It is not a terrible country, Dona, it is a lovely ... a joy, ... asure, such as could never ... otherwhere."

In ... und de Neve snorted. The ... came up and stood side the two gazing at the map.

"And over all that country, one man has been chosen as governor—one man out of all who have served there—one man, whom all the Indios, frailes and soldiers will honor. And the wife of that man will be received like a little queen of the land—will be a queen, in her own right. All the missions and pueblos and presidios will do her homage—it will be her queendom."

The large gloomy room was very still, except for the heavy breathing of the Viceroy, and the street noises that filtered in through the windows.

Eulalia put her hand on her breast. "You mean that Pedro—that I—that we—"

Romeu nodded.

Eulalia screamed. Angustias rushed to her side.

"I won't! I never will go there! That barbarous place! No! This Mexico City is bad enough after Barcelona—but California—Monterey! No! Angustias, take me home! I don't believe Pedro is governor—you are lying to me—deceiving me—you old—old—fools!"

"Senora, you do not realize what you are doing," interjected de Neve. "I assure you California is a marvelous land—a land that in time will be looked upon with envy by all the nations of earth—and which will attract millions from all over the world—a land of commerce and accomplishment. It is your fate, your destiny to go there."

"Ai, what do I care for its commerce—its accomplishment!"

Romeu spoke thoughtfully.

"Certainly—but it would be nice in future days to know that generations yet unborn will say when they con the history of that country you so despised, 'Lovely Dona Eulalia de Fages! The first First Lady of all the Californias!' For you will be, you know. No other lady of quality has set foot in the land. Wives of petty officers, soldier's women, yes—but none like yourself." He concluded with a sweeping bow.

"Now that is more interesting, Capiton Romeu. The first First Lady. That would be very amusing. I am sorry I can not do it."

"That is just what you will be, Senora. As for Don Pedro—what his life will be, who can say? Of course he is a devoted husband—a man of honor—but who can say where his loneliness will lead him during those years apart from your fascinating self?"

At this Eulalia rose definitely to her feet. "You are tricking me! You have just told me there were no women in California—"

"I did not say that, Senora—I said there were no ladies. Women, ah, yes—young Indian girls—quite attractive, and er—quite careless as to clothing—and in whom, alas, the holy fathers have not as yet been able to plant the seeds of decency."

"How dare you, General de Neve! You, Pedro's old friend, to speak of him this way! Slandering him!"

"Pardon, Senora. I do no such thing. I was simply pointing out the characteristics of the present population of California."

Eulalia's heart pounded, and she laid her hand on her bosom. Turning away from the window she leaned back, a black butterfly against the red velvet hanging.

"I suppose," she panted, then took a deep breath and spoke defiantly, coldly, "I supposa I may take my coach to Monterey?"

As sha left the room the three men looked at ona another.

"Why did you tell her she might take her coach?" expostulated General de Neve to Romeu.

"Um-m-m—she might," he answered slowly.

The Viceroy was looking at the map.

"I have heard,' he said, tracing a trail with his finger, "that thera are places on the road where scarcely a burro can pick its way."

"Right," agreed de Neve. "There are places where she will hava to go on foot."

CHAPTER III

Father Junipero Serra paced quietly along the dusty road, little more than a path, that led from the humble adobe church of San Carlos Borromeo to a hut where an Indian lay dying. Only an Indian, but Padre Serra wore vestments suitable to the occasion, and bore in his hands the sacred oil.

Some time later, the Indian's soul having been commended to Heaven, Father Serra started back to the mission.

Horses' hoofs suddenly shook the ground. Two horsemen rode beside him as he limped steadily on, murmuring a psalm They dismounted near him. One, as he dropped on his knees, crossed himself and threw his reins to the other with the same gesture. Padre Serra did not glance at them as they knelt beside the path. But he knew well who they were: Don Pedro Foges, Gobernador-General of the Californias, and his servant were on their knees at the passing of the sacrament.

When he had returned sacrament and pyx to the church and divested himself, Pio told him that the Gobernador was waiting to see him. He sighed deeply.

He had seen the Gobernador many times since they had parted so bitterly that autumn evening. But only at mass. They had never exchanged a word since then. As he tied the heavy cord about his robe, his fingers trembled. He prepared himself for the interview with a brief fervent prayer, and went to meet Don Pedro.

There was a slight embarrassed silence, then the Governor moved impulsively forward and knelt at the priest's feet.

"Your blessing, Father," he begged.

"With all my heart!" answered the Franciscan, lifting his hands over the broad shoulders of the kneeling man.

"Well!" he said.

"Well?"

"Ah, Padre mio, I have news for you! Great news, good news! Your prayers have been answered, and so have mine!"

"You mean—"

"Yes! Your two men of God are arriving, and we shall consider the Mission Santa Barbora. These priests are coming in the train that brings my wife and son to me, and I am—"

But the priest heard only the first words, and was stumbling toward a chair to support his trembling frame, murmuring, "Ave Maria Purisima! Ave Maria!" For a moment his head rolled against the back of the chair, and his eyes closed.

"Father, Father, what is it?" he asked as he chafed the worn trembling hands.

"It is more than I can bear. Pardon my weakness, your Excellency, but I have spent so many hours in prayer, and I have hoped, and feared, so about this matter. I should have had greater faith. Ah, praise God!"

They drank, and smiled over the cups.

"Yes, they are coming. They are even now on their way. Everything comes to pass in good time, Father."

"It is strange you should have to tell me that, my son. I will have to do many penances for my lack of faith, I am afraid."

"Ah, no. You are a saint. But think! Even now the cavalcade is on its way, with my Dona Eulalia, and Pedro the Younger, as he is called, for me."

Serra rose from his chair and limped to the Governor. "Ah, forgive me, I have not congratulated you on your happiness. How joyful you must be! What a happiness to have your family with you. And when will this cavalcade be arriving?"

Fages frowned. "The time will go so slowly I hardly dare compute it. It will be months, of course, nearly a year. But because it is spring now, they will be in Monterey before the old year passes. I am going to meet them!" he said, excitedly pacing back and forth. "Yes, I am going to meet them, and escort them here in safety. I am going at once, Father, for they have by this time departed from Loreto."

The priest smiled at his impetuous speech.

"I'm sure you should go. You would be too impatient to sit here and wait, as I must do. But I shall be here to greet you all when you return."

"Ah, yes, there was something I wanted to ask. I must have my house in order and I want to have the little Indian maid, Indizuela, in the house for my wife's servant. Will you see to that?"

Serra's face fell.

"What is the matter? Does she not do well?"

NEW DE LUXE FORD V-8

Ford gives you something really new in the De Luxe Ford V-8 that makes its bow to the motoring world this year. Back of it is a line of more than 26,000,000 Ford cars, honestly built. Ahead of it is a new public appreciation of performance and beauty in the low-price field! It sets a new high — an 85-horsepower high! The biggest and roomiest Ford V-8 ever built, offered in eight body types.

TWO FORD CARS FOR 1938

In addition to the De Luxe Ford, there's another outstanding Ford car for 1938 — the Standard Ford V-8. The two cars have many features in common, such as the 112-inch wheelbase chassis with its high quality of materials and workmanship. The Standard Ford V-8 offers a choice of V-8 engine sizes — 85 horsepower or 60 horsepower. Introduced last year, the thrifty "60" broke records for economical operation! (Many owners reported from 22 to 27 miles a gallon.) See your Ford dealer.

Remember, 1938 Ford V-8 prices are unusually low when you consider that delivered prices INCLUDE all the equipment necessary for driving comfort!

ANNOUNCES CANDIDACY FOR LIEUT. - GOVERNOR

State Senator Edward H. Fehling, St. Johns, Republican Candidate

Fehling is completing his second term as senator from the 15th district. He is the first to formally announce his intention of seeking the office now held by Lieut. Gov. Leo J. Nowicki, Detroit Democrat.

The senator has been prominent in Clinton county politics since elected to the first of three terms as county prosecutor in 1915.

Fehling, in his announcement statement, promised "a progressive and business-like administration.

STATE OIL PRODUCTION SHOWS GREAT INCREASE

Production in 1937 Nearly Million Barrels Over Previous Year

Production last year reached a total of 16,628,344 barrels compared to the previous high, recorded in 1935, of 15,776,237 barrels.

Gas production also set a new record, the total being 9,310,844,000 cubic feet in 1937 compared to 6,864,726,000 cubic feet in 1936 which was the previous high mark.

Walter Winchell, Ben Bernie, Simone Simon Hit Has "Ummph!"

Walter Winchell and Ben Bernie, those famous fendists who put puns into their punches, are back for the greatest return match in hisstory in "Love And Hisses," coming February 19-20 to the Palace Theatre. This time the reason for all the barbed wit is the tight over their new sweet-hot from Paris, the saucy and vivacious Simone Simon, who sings operatic arias and popular hallnds for the greatest surprise of the year.

Brand new hot-and-hissing songs by Gordon and Revel head the musical score, with additional hit parade leaders by Pollack and Mitchell, Raymond Scott, and Zena and Irwin.

Chan, World's Ave Detective, Wins Million-to-One Chance

Death deals a hand at the gaming tables and "Charlie Chan at Monte Carlo" gives you your best mystery bet in his most brilliant case, which comes to the Palace Theatre on February 23-24.

The world's ace detective at the world's gayest playground takes a million-to-one chance to solve a triple murder as he mingles with the millionaire playboys, jejeweled beautles and gay adventurers.

CONTINENTAL OIL EMPLOYEES WILL SHARE ANNUAL BONUS PAYMENT

Employes of Continental Oil Company will again share with stockholders in the company's annual profits, under the 1938 bonus plan announced here today by President Dan Moran.

Continental made one of the largest bonus payments in the United States during 1937, distributing more than $740,000 among 5,076 employes.

MICHIGAN CONGREGATIONAL SOCIETY IS HONORED

Congregationalists in Charlevoix received the happy word this week that Michigan has been awarded first honors in all northern states of the denomination for the greatest percentage of gain in pledges for Home and Foreign Missionary service.

The announcement was made at the Mid-winter meeting of the denomination held at Evanston, Illinois. The percentage of gain for Michigan was 12.1 per cent while that of the entire country was 4.5 per cent.

Seek Remedy to Meet Emergency Created by Employment Slump

Harold F. Lamb, administrator, and William M. Sanderson, member of the Charlevoix County Relief Commission, are in Lansing to attend a meeting called by the State Welfare Commission to discuss the present relief situation.

Because of the downward trend of employment, particularly in the metropolitan districts, the state's relief load has assumed alarming proportions, calling for emergency action.

IMPROVEMENTS MADE AT SUGAR BOWL CAFE

Additional Tables Provides Greater Seating Capacity for Patrons

Through re-arrangement of equipment and transfer of the candy case to the south side of the interior, addition of new tables has provided for seating of between 35 and 40 more people. New linoleum has been put down and the entire interior redecorated attractively.

The changes have facilitated handling patrons and improvements have added greatly to the attractiveness of the place.

In 1903 Oldsmobile — today the oldest American manufacturer of motor cars—produced more than half of the automobiles built in the United States.

Can You Afford to be Sick?

Few of us can afford the expense and loss of time that serious illness entails. Yet rarely do we take the simple precautions to forestall a "sick spell." Consider your own case. If you are not feeling quite up to par, don't delay or drift along. Go at once to a trusted physician. Get his diagnosis. Be guided by his competent and experienced counsel. Not only is delay dangerous, but it usually results in adding substantially to your bill. And then—bring his prescription to us for accurate compounding.

NOTICE TO BIDDERS

Sealed Proposals addressed to the City Clerk, City Offices, Charlevoix, Michigan, and marked "Proposal for Diesel Engine-Generator Unit" will be received by the City of Charlevoix, Michigan until 8:00 p. m. (Eastern Standard Time) on March 3rd, 1938, for manufacturing, delivering and erecting one 500 Kilowatt Diesel Engine Generator Unit with auxiliaries as specified, and at that time publicly opened and read at a meeting of the City Council.

Proposals shall be in accordance with the specifications prepared by Hamilton and Weeber, Engineers, Grand Rapids, Michigan, which are on file at the City Offices, and may be obtained from the Engineers on deposit of $10.00 per copy, all of which will be returned (less $1.00 mailing charge) on receipt of a bona fide bid.

Each bidder shall submit with his proposal detailed specifications covering materials, workmanship, sizes, details of design and construction, drawings showing general dimensions, temperatures, quantities and guarantees of equipment that will be furnished.

Proposals shall be made in triplicate upon suitable forms containing all the information asked for, and shall be sealed and filed not later than the above time and date.

Bidders are required to examine, before submitting their bids, the premises where the work is to be done, as well as the drawings, specifications, form of proposal, forms of bonds and contract.

Each bid must be accompanied by cash or a certified check on an approved bank, made payable to the City Treasurer of the City of Charlevoix, Michigan, in the amount of five (5%) per cent of the bid price, as a guarantee that a contract will be entered into and security offered within ten (10) days after notice that the contract has been awarded. No bid can be withdrawn for a period of thirty (30) days from the date of opening of bids. The cash, or check, will be returned to the unsuccessful bidder after the award; and to the successful bidder after execution of the contract and satisfactory bonds. If the successful bidder refuses to enter into a contract, the cash or check shall be forfeited and retained by the City Council of Charlevoix, Michigan as liquidated damages for such refusal or neglect.

The City Council reserves the right to accept any bid, to reject any or all bids, or to waive defects in bids in the interest of the City.

Approved by the City Council, Charlevoix, Michigan at a regular meeting held February 14, 1938. 7t2

Kroger Branch at Grand Rapids Wins Cup for Outstanding Business Record in 1937

At a colorful celebration staged in Grand Rapids recently by 1,800 Kroger employes and relatives, Albert H Morrill, of Cincinnati, president of The Kroger Grocery and Baking company, presented the President's Cup to Lawrence O Griffin, manager of the company's Grand Rapids branch which operates Kroger stores throughout western Michigan.

The truphy is awarded annually by Mr Morrill to the branch that sets up the best all-round business record for the year Twenty-three branches in 19 states compete for the trophy Last year it was won by Kroger's Kansas City branch

Mr Morrill, in speaking to the assembled employes, praised the loyalty and energy of the men and women in throwing their full strength back of Mr Griffin and thereby enabling the Grand Rapids branch to win the coveted award

The celebration also marked the twentieth anniversary with the company of Mr Griffin, who is a native of Scottville, Michigan. He was showered with congratulations from friends throughout the state

After the celebration, the guests enjoyed dancing and a buffet luncheon.

DEPARTMENT OF STATE NEWS BULLETIN

'Lost' Licenses May Be in Postoffices

Applicants for operators' licenses who have moved since making application, are advised by the Department of State to inquire at their local postoffices if their licenses do not reach them within 20 days of application.

These licenses are sent as third class mail, which is forwarded only if addressees send proper postage, on notice by postal officials. Mail is thus sometimes held for as long as two weeks before being forwarded. In absence of any forwarding address, the licenses are ultimately returned to Lansing. Chauffeurs licenses are sent first class, however.

In any event, applicants should notify their local police or sheriffs' offices of their change in address, in conformity with the motor vehicle laws. Police will then notify the Department of State.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE SOCIETY

Sunday morning service, 10:45.

Sunday school, 12 o'clock.

Meets first Wednesday evening each month at 7:45 p. m.

Reading room open Saturday, 3 to 5 p. m.

We cordially invite the public to our service and reading room.

"Mind" will be the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Christian Science churches throughout the world on Sunday, February 20.

The Golden Text, from Psalm 92:5 is: "O Lord, how great are thy works! and thy thoughts are very deep."

Among the Bible citations is this passage (Romans 11:33,34): "O the depth of the riches both of the wisdom and knowledge of God! how unsearchable are his judgments, and his ways past finding out! For who hath known the mind of the Lord? or who hath been his counsellor?"

Private Clubs

Private liquor clubs in so-called "dry areas" are permanent closing after May 1. Under the state's revised liquor law, Attorney General Raymond Starr ruled that private clubs would have to close their doors in towns whose officials or voters had limited the serving of intoxicants to beer and wine.

Unforeseen by legislators, the ruling dealt a knockout blow to the legislators' favorite drinking rendezvous, the Tally-Ho club, situated less than two blocks from the Statehouse.

Owners of private clubs, organized into a state association, demand reconsideration by the attorney general.

4. Liquor sales have declined sharply due to unemployment spread. Prices were hiked 15 per cent by the legislature to provide approximately $3,000,000 a year additional state revenue—money to be pigeon-holed for use of hospital improvements. With liquor sales falling off and the liquor stock inventory at an almost all-time peak, payment of the three millions will merely add to the certainty of a mounting state deficit for the current fiscal year.

Beer Gardens

5. When girls leave home and go wrong—in beer gardens, the press finds a familiar theme for front page news.

Detroit citizens learned of the sinful conditions existing in the motor metropolis' beer gardens where beer and dancing provide the formula for good times.

While welfare leaders demanded reform, the state liquor control commission advanced the belief that Detroit had too many licensed establishments. Maybe, prohibiting dancing in places where liquor was served would solve the whole matter, others declared.

The result was a state ruling prohibiting the admission of minors into a beer-dance establishment.

State Paternalism

The $3,000,000 legislative item for hospital improvements, previously mentioned, brings up the perplexing problem of the budget deficit at Lansing.

Whereas the administration one year ago was insistent that the budget be balanced, today it is conceding privately that a deficit appears inevitable. With unemployment relief reappearing as an urgent necessity, the state government is turning to the question of how to raise additional money for welfare needs, rather than how to spend less money.

Governor Frank Murphy has indicated repeatedly that he may call a special session to authorize expenditure of more state money for welfare purposes.

According to State Treasurer Edward Fry, "state paternalism has its limits."

Treasurer Fry recently pointed out that the legislature left the administration $18,000,000 in the red and that the public has one or two alternatives to escape this alarming deficit:

"We either must give serious thought to the desirability of increasing the sales tax rate or the adoption of some new tax, or we must make up our minds that the State Government cannot continue the support of the local communities to the munificent degree of the past and present. The books simply won't balance."

Straits Bridge

The visit of President Roosevelt to Michigan next fall on the occasion of the dedication of the new International bridge from Port Huron to Sarnia is reviving agitation to construct a bridge over the Straits at Mackinac.

As the president's yacht will visit Mackinac Island, you may expect now to hear more in 1938 about the Straits bridge than you did in 1937.

Prof. James H. Cissel, University of Michigan, believes the plan of linking the two peninsulas is feasible, practical, and sound.

"Straits traffic is increasing at the rate of over 22 per cent annually, and will before long—probably at the time the bridge is completed—reach a total of one million cars each year," Professor Cissel points out.

"That number of vehicles, paying tolls at the present ferry rates, will amortize the structure in 30 to 40 years."

The facts that the bridge would be financed by bonds paid by tolls at present ferry rates and would stimulate greatly travel to Northern Michigan are two reasons why the Straits bridge idea will continue to grow in popularity.

DISTRICT HEALTH UNIT

Many Diseases Result from Lack of Dental Hygiene

The Children's Fund of Michigan is reviving a program that was discontinued a few years ago in their dental program. That is, the health educational phase of dental hygiene in the schools. However, this program is being continued again and already we have conducted dental examinations and given health talks throughout the schools of Otsego county and Charlevoix county. In the latter county, only health talks were given in many of the schools due to the 100 per cent dental correction program that all rural schools in that county are attempting to obtain. It is interesting to observe that of the 2,628 dental examinations conducted by Dr. Nelson, our Children's Fund dentist, he found 2,440 children who needed dental attention, exclusive of having their teeth cleaned. In other words, 90 per cent of these children should see their dentist for either extractions or fillings. This is a high percentage and reveals the fact that each one should visit the dentist at least every six months.

Especially is routine dental attention important when we view the fact that many diseases have originated from defective and infected teeth. From a survey of a large group of patients at a medical clinic it was shown that in a surprisingly long list of diseases the original infection was attributed to a dental disease. The following were most commonly noted: rheumatism, arthritis, stomach trouble, weakness, chronic fatigue, heart trouble, respiratory diseases, nervousness, headache, high blood pressure, backache, skin eruptions, gall bladder disease, neuralgias, neuritis, colitis, eye trouble, sinusitis, diabetis, varicose veins, kidney trouble, cellulitis, goiter, dizziness, dullness and sciatics.

It is interesting to note that many of these diseases are of the chronic, long standing type and secondary to some primary focus of infection. Whenever diseased teeth are associated with systemic disease they should be considered only as contributing to the infection and not the primary cause.

Knowing that many ills may result from lack of mouth hygiene, we are glad to know that many of the schools are grasping and striving for the achievement of 100 per cent dental correction in their schools. Already Charlevoix county has launched this program in a full-fledged manner and next year Otsego county is planning a similar corrective program. It has been a wonderful experience in each community to see how funds could be raised and the interest that has been aroused in the homes to see that these children get 100 per cent dental attention.

Already several schools in Charlevoix county have attained their goal, and among these we list Tainter, Bay Shore, Hetrick, and Norwood. Others that we had reported to be finished by February if not earlier are: Hopyard, Clark, Advance, Marion Center and Grand View. The city schools are promoting this program in the third grade and are progressing very well.

The Charlevoix County Child Health League has sponsored this program with the aid of the teachers, the members of the County Dental Health Council, parents, and interested friends in each of these communities promoting the dental correction program, and we feel it is one of the most worthy projects in health that will harvest the best results towards future happiness.

COUNCIL PROCEEDINGS

February 10, 1938

The Common Council of the City of Charlevoix met on the above date pursuant to law, for the purpose of canvassing the vote of the Special Election held February 8, 1938, with Mayor Bergeon presiding.

Present: Aldermen Cartier, Erber, Hallett, Kibbe and Ranger.

Absent: Alderman Hooker.

The total number of votes cast in the entire city for and against the proposal of the City of Charlevoix issuing revenue bonds in the amount of $98,000.00 for alterations and improvements to the Electric Light Plant was 366 of which 285 were for the improvement and 81 were against.

Moved by Alderman Cartier, seconded by Alderman Kibbe that the proposal that the City of Charlevoix install a 500 K.W. Diesel Engine and construct an addition and extension to the present Electric Light Plant and issue Revenue Bonds in the sum of $98,000.00 to defray the cost thereof having received a three-fifths vote in favor of said proposition, that the same be declared carried. Motion carried by the following yea and nay vote

Nays: None.

On motion the Council adjourned.

RAY S. HAMILTON, City Clerk.

..NOTICE..

The Charlevoix Courier is printing a list of delinquent taxes for Charlevoix County which will be offered for sale May 1st.

Due to the complications through the fact that there has been no tax sale for the past five years; the matter of a ten year payment plan, etc., a great deal of complicated bookkeeping has resulted.

The tax list was prepared and submitted by the Auditor General for publication in the Courier and not at this office, and contains many descriptions of property on which the tax has been paid. These descriptions will not be offered for sale.

We mention this, so that if you see properly advertised in the tax list, on which you know you have paid the tax, you need not feel unduly alarmed, nor will you have to check again with the county treasurer. No property on which the tax has been paid, will be offered at the May tax sale.

ROGERS CITY MAN IN CONTEST FOR CONGRESS

Fred Bradley Republican Candidate In the 11th District

Fred Bradley, Republican, of Rogers City, has announced his candidacy for representative to Congress in the 11th Michigan district. The office now is held by John G. Luecke, Escanaba, serving his first term.

Bradley, a graduate of Cornell University, is vice-governor of the Michigan Department of the National Aeronautical Association. He resigned a position with the Michigan Limestone and Chemical Co., which his father founded, to conduct his campaign.

LOCAL COUPLE WERE UNITED IN MARRIAGE SUNDAY AT BELLEVUE

In a ceremony solemnized at 1 o'clock Sunday, Miss Geraldine Leffel, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Johnson, and Dale Bradley, son of Mr. and Mrs. Forest Bradley, both of Bellevue, were married at the home of the groom's parents.

The ceremony was conducted by Rev. Adams in the presence of relatives and close friends. Dinner was served to ten guests following the wedding.

Mr. and Mrs. Bradley will make their home in Charlevoix, where the former is employed at the Charlevoix State Savings Bank.

METHODIST CHOIR PLANS BENEFITS TO BUY CHOIR GOWNS

The Methodist church chair met Tuesday evening at the home of Mrs. George Clados for rehearsal and a pleasant social evening.

Acting on a proposal to raise funds to buy choir gowns, plans were made for a series of "Friendship Suppers" to aid this cause. Each host and hostess will invite four or more people who are asked to contribute the amount their supper would cost at home, and who are also asked to invite a like number sometime during the next week, making it possible to acquire the gowns before Easter.

10:00 a. m. Church school
11:00 a. m. Morning worship

We appreciate the fine music our large choir is giving us. Next Sunday morning four of our young people will give a special musical number. The pastor will give a review of the great Methodist Conference recently held in Chicago. This review will be of particular interest as the gathering consisted of all three Methodist Groups; namely, Methodist Protestant, Methodist South, and Methodist Episcopal. Everyone is cordially invited.

6:30 p. m. Epworth League service. We hope the young people will attend as we are making a special study of certain church dramas.

7:30 p. m. Evening service. We truly hope that the walking will be so that we can conduct the regular evening service.

Greensky Indian Mission

2:30 p. m. Preaching service.
3:30 p. m. Church school.

So far this winter the work at the Mission has been continued. The record of attendance has been fine when we consider that the members who attend come from a distance, many of them walking. We wish to publicly show our appreciation to the County Road Commission for keeping the road into the Mission open. This has not been done before and the members join the pastor in thanking all those who are making this kindness possible.

The Club will meet at the parsonage Thursday afternoon at the usual hour.

PRODUCTION CREDIT ASSN. REPORT GIVEN

A. J. Townsend Tells of Visit to Farm Credit Bank in St. Paul

A. J. Townsend, secretary-treasurer of the Gaylord Production Credit association, just back from St. Paul, Minn., says there will be closer team work between the local organization and the Federal Intermediate Credit Bank of St. Paul, as the result of a 3-day conference and visit. Townsend and four other Michigan secretaries were guests of the bank.

"Our association gets all the funds we loan to our members from the intermediate credit bank," he said, "and at the end of last year we loaned over $242,000. Our visit to St. Paul was to bring about a better understanding of the bank's procedure and to get acquainted with some of the men we knew only by correspondence. They gave us desks in the bank and a lot of work to do, including analysis of some other association's loan applications."

This analysis of loans, Townsend said, brought out the viewpoints of the secretaries and the bank also emphasized factors that are important in granting loans. Without knowing how the bank had decided the cases submitted for analysis, each secretary was asked to analyze certain loan applications and give his reasons. In the discussions that followed the bank revealed what its decision had been, and why.

The Michigan men spent their time in various departments of the bank, following the routine work of the day, including the receipt, distribution and answering of mail and the sending out of funds to associations on loans that had been discounted for them.

The Gaylord association has 710 members in 10 counties in the northern end of the lower peninsula, and reserves built up in its 4 years of operations amounting to more than $8,000. The reserves are used to protect the capital stock of the members, which at the end of December amounted to $3,085. No losses have been experienced although the association has loaned nearly half a million dollars since the early part of 1934.

UNIONVILLE FARMER FINDS BINDWEED CURE

Working of Soil After Harvest Proves Very Successful Method

Proof in the field of a control for the pesky bindweed has been found by a Michigan farmer at Unionville where four successive wheat crops have been produced while the weed evidently has been forced to yield to treatment.

In experiments and theories advanced by S. T. Dexter, crops specialist at Michigan State College, the fallow plowing and working immediately after wheat harvest has been suggested to farmers in the state.

Glenn Huggit was beginning to fear that the bindweed, also known as creeping jenny and wild morning glory was going to take over his most profitable acres on the farm he operates near Unionville. Four consecutive wheat crops and treatments in between seem to have eliminated the pest.

Haggit plowed immediately after harvest each summer and worked the land thoroughly until wheat planting time in the fall. In resowing he used a liberal application of 2-12-6 fertilizer.

Thorough tillage after harvest, crops specialists explain, is the feature that makes the bindweed "give up the ghost."

Experiments for similar control of the weed have been undertaken in South Dakota and in Minnesota. Either rye or wheat as a crop has been used successfully in Minnesota while the South Dakota fight against the bindweed used winter rye instead of wheat.

HILTON SCHOOL NEWS

The roads were good, the weather was fine, therefor a very good crowd turned out to see our play. The people enjoyed the play very much due to the "par excellance" on the part of the cast. After the play we had dancing and served hot dogs and buns at intermission. Music was furnished by "Novotny's Orchestra". We wish to take this means as personally thanking everyone who participated or came to our program.

We can now start to have our dental work done on the children.

We had a very enjoyable valentine party at our school Monday afternoon. "Cupid" came and acted as mailman. Our mail was very heavy as everyone received many valentines. We played games and had some candy and favors.

There will be a Washington Day dinner given for the members of the cast, at which we will probably reenact parts of the play, while we are eating

ANNUAL TAX SALE

STATE OF MICHIGAN, ss.
County of Charlevoix

The Circuit Court for the County of Charlevoix in Chancery.

In the matter of the petition of George T. Gundry, Auditor General of the State of Michigan, for and in behalf of said State, for the sale of certain lands for taxes assessed thereon.

On reading and filing the petition of the Auditor General of the State of Michigan praying for a decree in favor of the State of Michigan, against each parcel of land therein described, for the amounts therein specified, claimed to be due for taxes, interest and charges on each such parcel of land, and that such lands be sold for the amounts so claimed by the State of Michigan.

It is ordered that said petition will be brought on for hearing and decree at the March term of this Court, to be held at Charlevoix in the County of Charlevoix, State of Michigan, on the 7th day of March A. D. 1938, at the opening of the Court on that day, and that all persons interested in such lands or any part thereof, desiring to contest the lien claimed thereon by the State of Michigan, for such taxes, interest and charges, or any part thereof, shall appear in said Court, and file with the clerk thereof their objections thereto on or before the first day of the term of this Court above mentioned, and that in default thereof the same will be taken as confessed and a decree will be taken and entered as prayed for in said petition. And it is further ordered that in pursuance of said decree the lands described in said petition for which a decree of sale shall be made, will be sold for the several taxes, interest and charges thereon as determined by such decree, on the first Tuesday in May thereafter, beginning at 10 o'clock a. m. on said day, or on the day or days subsequent thereto as may be necessary to complete the sale of said lands and of each and every parcel thereof, at the office of the County Treasurer, or at such convenient place as shall be selected by him at the county seat of the County of Charlevoix, State of Michigan; and that the sale then and there made will be a public sale, and each parcel described in the decree shall be separately exposed for sale for the total taxes, interest and charges, and the sale shall be made to the person paying the full amount charged against such parcel, and accepting a conveyance of the smallest undivided fee simple interest therein; or, if no person will pay the taxes and charges and take a conveyance of less than the entire thereof, then the whole parcel shall be offered and sold. If any parcel of land cannot be sold for taxes, interest and charges, such parcel shall be passed over for the time being, and shall, on the succeeding day, or before the close of the sale, be reoffered, and if, on such second offer, or during such sale, the same cannot be sold for the amount aforesaid, the County Treasurer shall bid off the same in the name of the State.

Witness the Hon. Parm C. Gilbert, Circuit Judge, and the seal of said Circuit Court of Charlevoix County this 31st day of December A. D. 1937.

Countersigned, PARM C. GILBERT
Fenton R. Bulow, Clerk. Circuit Judge.

STATE OF MICHIGAN

In The Circuit Court for the County of Charlevoix
In Chancery

In the matter of the petition of George T. Gundry, Auditor General of the State of Michigan, for and in behalf of said state, for the sale of certain lands for taxes assessed thereon.

To the Circuit Court for the County of Charlevoix, in Chancery:

The petition of George T. Gundry, Auditor General of the State of Michigan, for and in behalf of said State, respectfully shows:

1. That the list of lands set forth in Schedule A contained in the Tax Record annexed to this petition, contains a description of all lands in said county of Charlevoix upon which taxes were assessed for the years mentioned therein, and which were returned as delinquent for non-payment of taxes, and which taxes have not been paid and have remained unpaid for more than one year after they were returned as delinquent, together with the total amount of such taxes, with interest computed thereon to the first day of May, A. D. 1938, and a collection fee of 4% extended separately against each parcel of land as provided by law.

2. That pursuant to Section 60 of Act 206 of the Public Acts of 1803, as amended by Act 325 of the Public Acts of 1937, said Schedule A includes all of said lands delinquent for taxes for the years 1933, 1034 and 1035, and lands delinquent for any installment of taxes under Act 126 of the Public Acts of 1033, as amended, including the interest and collection fee provided by law.

3. That said lands were returned to the Auditor General under the provisions of said Act 206 of the Public Acts of 1893, as amended, as delinquent for non-payment of said taxes for said years respectively, and that said taxes remain unpaid; except that lands included in said schedules of said Tax Record for taxes of 1800 or prior years were returned to the Auditor General as delinquent for said taxes under the provisions of the general tax laws in force prior to the passage of Act 200 of the Public Acts of 1891, and which taxes remain unpaid.

4. That in all cases where lands are included in said schedule for taxes of 1890 or of any prior year, said lands have not been sold for said delinquent taxes or the sale or sales so made have been set aside by a court of competent jurisdiction, or have been cancelled as provided by law.

5. That in all cases where lands are included in said Schedule A, as aforesaid, for taxes of 1935, or any prior year, said lands have not been sold for said taxes or have been heretofore sold for said delinquent taxes and the sale, or sales, so made have been set aside by a court of competent jurisdiction or by legislative action, or have been cancelled as provided by law.

6. That the taxes, interest and collection fees included in the computations set forth in said Schedule A, as aforesaid, are a valid lien on the several parcels of lands described therein.

7. That the said taxes on the said described lands have remained unpaid for more than one year after they were returned as delinquent; and the said taxes not having been paid, and the same being now due and remaining unpaid as above set forth, your petitioner prays:

A. That, within the time provided by law, this court make a final decree in favor of the State of Michigan for such taxes, interest and charges as shall be valid, and as computed and extended in said Schedule A against the several parcels of land contained therein, and determine the total amount thereof chargeable against each parcel of land, and that this court order and decree that such parcels of land shall severally be sold as the law directs.

B. That pursuant to law such decree be considered as a several decree in favor of the State of Michigan against each parcel of land for each tax included therein.

C. That such final decree be entered in the chancery record for recording the decrees of this court, and be in substance and form as that provided by Section 67 of Act 206, Public Acts 1893, as amended by Act 114, Public Acts of 1937.

D. That your petitioner may have general relief in the premises.

And your petitioner will ever pray, etc.

Dated December 29, 1937.

GEORGE T. GUNDRY
Auditor General of the State of Michigan, for and in behalf of said State.
